Journalism in Siam.

Siamese reporters are not quite so deft as our own half-penny specimens, but they have a fine impressionistic touch which charms the jaded fancy. Here is an account of a murder from that happy land:

"Shooting Outrage. Oh, Fearful Agony! Khoon Tong, one of Phya Song's staff, was on a mission to Lampoon, and on his return instantly shot dead by some miscreants, scoundrels. Oh, untimely death. Oh, fearful. All friends expressed their morne. The cowardice dog is still at large. 6 soldiers and six policemen were at once dispatched."

NEWS NOTES OF THE RAILROADS

Working for Oregon Creameries—Other Brief Items.

W. E. Coman, the general freight and passenger agent of the Southern Pacific, attended the meeting of a number of dairymen and farmers held at Medford, Or., Saturday. The object of the meeting was the initiatory move looking toward the establishment of a creamery at that point. Dr. Withycombe of the college at Corvallis, who is a well-known authority on the subject, was present and made an address along practical lines. Harvey Lounsbury, "the young man eloquent" of the Southern Pacific, also made some pertinent remarks. The establishment of creameries has, for a number of years, been the policy of the Southern Pacific at various points along its lines.

J. A. Clock, the Pacific Coast agent of the Wisconsin Central, will arrive in Portland January 15, after a three weeks' trip in the East in connection with company affairs. Before returning here he will install F. W. Boldrick as the company's freight and passenger agent at Spokane, a position to which he was appointed January 5.

Since January 4 the Chicago, Milwaukee & St. Paul has had in service two trains to Portland daily. One known as No. 5 leaves Chicago at 9:30 every morning and makes the run through to Portland in three days and 55 minutes. The other, No. 1, leaves Chicago at 6 p. m., daily. The two Eastbound trains leave Portland at 9:20 a. m. and 8:15 p. m., daily. The Milwaukee also has a service of three trains daily in and out of San Francisco.

Chief Clerk Donaldson of the freight department of the Northern Pacific left Saturday for a hurried trip to Southern Oregon. He returned today.

Superintendent Fields and Manager Kiehler of the Southern Pacific left yesterday morning on a tour of line inspection. They will proceed as far as Dunsmuir, and will return the latter part of the week.

Advance copies of supplement No. 5 to Westbound traffic, No. 4-A reached the local freight officials yesterday from the East. Among the more important changes in rates may be noted the following: The rates on brick, common and pressed, as well as ornamental and figured brick are reduced. The rate from Chicago is reduced from 70 cents to 50 cents, in minimum carload lots of 40,000 pounds. On carborundum, a rate of $1.50 per 100 less than carload lots is named from all Eastern points to Pacific Coast terminals. The minimum on stamped ware has been raised from 20,000 to 24,000 pounds.

Typhoid and Oysters.

That the oyster can carry the germ of typhoid fever is a fact recognized by bacteriologists. It is not so popularly conceded, however. Polluted water has come to be known as a source of the disease, and the fact is so generally recognized that many are able to guard against it. But thousands of the more intelligent people continue to eat the oyster raw, either from ignorance or heedlessness. An illustration was given of the danger of eating the oyster raw, a few years ago, in Connecticut. A short time after the banquet of Wesleyan University students, where a plentiful supply of oysters was consumed, a number of typhoid cases developed among those present. An investigation followed and it was found that the oysters had been taken from a bed into which a stream of water emptied which ran through a neighborhood where typhoid had for some time been prevalent. It was shown, also, that some of the excreta of the typhoid patients had been washed into the stream and undoubtedly conveyed to the bed where the oysters were bred. It was not, of course, proved that the typhoid germs had got into the very oysters these students ate. But as typhoid excreta was known to have been washed into the stream which ran into the oyster bed, and typhoid followed the eating of the oysters, the latter event was naturally looked upon as a sequel of the former event.

The conclusion is that too much care cannot be taken in choosing and preparing food for the table. Householders cannot trace the source and surroundings of every article of food they consume. Nearly everything they eat must be taken on trust. But where any doubt exists, it is always advisable to subject food to a thorough cooking. This is a ready and safe course, and is as applicable to other articles as to oysters.

Breaking a Balky Horse.

(Philadelphia Record.)

A balky horse was blocking travel at Tenth and Callowhill streets the other morning. He stood stock still. His chin looked obstinate. He was no more to be budged than a mountain.

They tried everything with him. They even built a fire under him. But he stepped hastily out of range of the heat and resumed his balking again.

At last a horse doctor appeared. He stepped out of the crowd and held his hand up to the driver for silence. The driver thereupon ceased his loud oaths.

"I am a horse doctor," said the newcomer, "and in less than a minute I'll have your horse on the move."

He took out of his pocket a penknife and a little whistle. He opened the horse's mouth and scratched its gums with the knife, while at the same time he blew a shrill blast into its large ear.

"Now, then," he said, quietly, "git-ap, thar. Git-ap! You hear me!"

The horse departed at a brisk trot, and the doctor said to the crowd:

"You can always break up a fit of the balk, gents, by working on two senses at once. I worked, as you saw, on the hearing and the feeling. I shocked the horse's ear with a sudden noise, and I shocked his feeling with a sharp scratch. Off he started, then, at once, his balkiness all forgotten."

MEAT MEN MEET

Two East Side Butchers Come to Blows Over Smallpox Report.

A meet between two meat men at the corner of Union avenue and East Pine street last evening caused a large crowd to congregate and lusty cheers were heard as each favorite got in his blow.

The trouble arose over a report spread that one of the meat men had contracted the smallpox. He alleged that the information was sent broadcast by his competitor who keeps a shop on the next corner. The meeting last evening will probably settle the matter for some time to come.

One of the combatants is named Lehman and the other Gelinsky. In the melee, Gelinsky was down one minute and the next his opponent hit the mud. Taken altogether, Lehman had the best of the encounter and after landing a few on Gelinsky's body he proceeded to roll him over an empty cider barrel which was stored near by. After undergoing the rolling process for some time, both of the meat men decided to call it off and meet hereafter as friends.

ANOTHER SAWMILL

St. Johns to Have the Largest Institution in the City.

Negotiations have been going on for some time toward the establishment of another sawmill at St. Johns.

The deal for the purchase of a site has about been closed and there is very little doubt that the mill will be built. The new institution will be one of the largest on the Coast and will employ more men than any mill now running in this city. The work of erection will be begun in a few months.

The Doernbecher Manufacturing Company, which recently purchased a site on the Beyers estate, northwest of St. Johns, will probably begin the erection work of their new mill during the early spring. Work on the mill would have been started several months ago, but for a small difference between the mill people and the O. R. & N. Co. as to the amount of switching charges.

IMPROVE EAST OAK

Work Started on Replacing Old Roadway Today.

Work was begun today on the rebuilding of East Oak street, from East Water to East Third street. The old roadway will be torn away and an entirely new one constructed. A pile driver will be placed in position in a few days, and new piles to support the roadway will be placed.

In a short time the entire elevated section of the street from East Water to Seventh street will be rebuilt, and it is the intention to improve the street its entire distance. Gravel will be used on the solid road.

FINISH SANITARIUM

Mt. Tabor Institution Will Soon Be Completed—Cost $40,000.

Work is being rushed in the construction work for the new sanitarium on West avenue, Mt. Tabor.

A company composed of local capital is back of the institution, and they have constructed a four-story frame building at a cost of about $40,000.

The company has just completed the erection of a health food factory. The building is situated directly north of the sanitarium. It is two stories high and about 50 feet in length. It is expected that both institutions will be ready for occupancy about February 1.

TRAINS RUN

Oregon Water Power & Railway Co.'s Line in Operation.

The Oregon Water Power & Railway Company is now running its trains regularly into Gresham. The old steam motor formerly used in the operation of the Lents line is now pulling the Gresham trains.

The company is rushing the work of electrifying the line, and expects to have it ready for the running of the electric cars in about a month. A better time schedule will then be put into effect. The trains are now being operated each day.

Woodstock Couple Marries.

Edward Hanley and Miss Elizabeth Reese were married yesterday at the home of the bride's parents, Mr. and Mrs. K. D. Reese, at Woodstock, a large number of the friends and relatives of the couple witnessing the ceremony. Mr. and Mrs. Hanley left on the afternoon train for Olympia on their wedding tour. They will make their home in San Francisco.

Levy Two-Mill Tax.

At the special annual meeting last evening of the directors of the Mt. Tabor School District, a two-mill tax was levied. As reported in The Journal yesterday, the reports of the directors showed a small decrease in the number of pupils enrolled. The attendance of those present was much improved. The bonded indebtedness of the district is $15,150.
