of these bills was the Lewis and Clark appropriation, which is now almost through the mill.
Naturally, with the future course of the Multnomah members so uncertain, they are much sought after by the candidates. Both Fulton and Geer claim to have friends among the Multnomah men, but they are certainly not in evidence yet. Fulton held a conference of his supporters yesterday afternoon, immediately after the taking of the first ballot for Senator. Webster of Clackamas was present though he had voted for Geer, all the others at the conference being men whose ballots had been cast for the Clatsop candidate.
It was, of course an easy tip that Webster would go over to Fulton as soon as wanted.

Will Not Raise Salary.
Though the Multnomah delegation has been unable to agree upon the Senatorial bills, it is agreed upon many bills now pending before the Legislature. One which came up for consideration is the bill raising the salary of the Multnomah County Clerk from $2,500 to $4,000. The delegation agreed to shelve the bill and this will probably effectually dispose of this attempt to impose one more burden upon the county.
Grateful to Chamberlain.
Governor Chamberlain's inaugural message has called forth many expressions of warm commendation. Among them is the following:
"To His Excellency, the Honorable George E. Chamberlain, Governor of the State of Oregon.
The undersigned, masters of foreign vessels now lying in the Port of Portland, desire to place on record their high appreciation of the recommendations contained in your inaugural message to the Legislature of the State of Oregon in the matter of extending and bettering the harbor house keepers. We trust that they may be carried out and have the effect of relieving us from a situation, irritating in the extreme, highly expensive to our owners, and prejudicial to the good name and interests of this port, and of all seamen frequenting the same.
We desire to thank Your Excellency for the interest you have shown in seeking a remedy for these grave abuses which affect us so deeply.
Portland, Or., Jan. 15, 1903.
The letter was signed by the masters of the German, British and French ships now in Portland.
Governor Chamberlain has also received a letter similar in its tenor, from the British vice consul at Portland.
To Stop Adulteration.
Nottingham of Multnomah has a bill to prevent the manufacture and sale of adulterated lard. The Dairy and Food Commissioner is to be charged with the enforcement of the act and he is empowered to enter and search any premises where lard is stored or sold. Violation of the provisions of the act is declared a public nuisance and may be enjoined as such. The penalty for violation of the act is a fine of not less than $50 nor more than $500.

Freight Cars Break Loose From Engine.

Thrilling Run of Locomotive to Keep Ahead of Train Results Fatally.

(Journal Special Service.)
SAN BERNARDINO, Cal., Jan. 21.—A freight train of 69 cars, while going down the steep grade of El Cajon Pass this morning, broke loose from the locomotive.
The engine, under full steam, ran down the grade to avoid the wild train, the engineer making desperate efforts to keep in the lead. It was a thrilling race. At Keen's Brook, 19 miles below the pass, the engine jumped the track. A second later the runaway train struck the wreckage and jumped the embankment.
Fireman C. W. Beck and Conductor P. H. Stewart are dead.
Stewart hurt—Trainman E. C. Clark and Engineer Walter Reed.

MUCH BUSINESS BEFORE CONGRESS

WASHINGTON, D. C., Jan. 21.—The day of Senator Platt, Gallinger and Kitchin were heaped high with choice flowers today by their friends in honor of their re-election. Senator Vest offered a resolution, which was referred to the committee on finance. This resolution provided that anthracite coal should be kept on the free list. Senator Spooner stated that he will speak on the constitutional phase of this resolution, as he did not think that the Senate had the legal right to originate tariff measures. There being no objection, by motion of Senator Quay, the omnibus statehood bill was taken up. Senator Ekins today made a report regarding the anti-trust bill, as prepared by the sub-committee of the Interstate Commerce Commission. The provisions in this bill are principally directed against giving or accepting rebates on rates by railroads to shippers. It also provides against rate discriminations in favor of special corporations or individuals.
DISCUSS GOLD STANDARD.
The House today resumed consideration of the Philippine gold standard. Chairman Grosvenor of the committee on Merchant marine announced that a sub-committee will go to Boston to begin the investigation of coal transportation.

BRIBE STORY DISCREDITED

WASHINGTON, Jan. 21.—The investigation of the charge made by Lester that he had been offered a bribe to vote for the appropriation bill again this morning, by the Vice-President Frost of the Holland Company, who is here, emphatically denies ever having paid or offered money for lobbying of any kind. In view of the fact that the Holland Company is practically without competition Congressmen generally are inclined to believe Lester's charges absurd.

THIRTY YEARS FOR WILCOX.

HARTFORD, Jan. 21.—Thirty years in prison is the sentence that has been fixed by the jury in the case of Wilcox, charged with the murder of his sweetheart, Nell Croysey. Murder in the second degree was the verdict of the jurors. At the conclusion of his first trial Wilcox was sentenced to death, but a new trial was secured.

MORE COAL INDICTMENTS

(Journal Special Service.)
TOLEDO, O., Jan. 21.—The grand jury today returned indictments against all officers of the Coal Exchange, which is charged with being an association of dealers connected with the conspiracy to raise the prices of coal.

PROTECTION MONEY PAID BY GAMBLERS

there was a frame-up to pass it hurriedly. In fact, the committee to which it was referred, reported the resolution favorably. The following Monday night the resolution came up for passage. Everybody expected it would go through without a hitch. When the roll had been called the measure was defeated by two votes. Three members of the Council who promised faithfully two days before they would vote in the affirmative, deliberately cast their votes on the negative side.
Then all kinds of stories of a "bar-ref" were started. Finally it was openly charged in the newspapers that the retail liquor dealers of Seattle had raised a fund of $5,000 to defeat the measure; that the $5,000 was equally distributed among the three councilmen who changed their votes; and that the whole transaction took place in the office of one of the councilmen. The suspected members did not raise their voices to affirm or deny the charge. It passed by and temporarily was forgotten. Now the grand jury has these stories in tow and Mr. Navin was asked to tell of his knowledge of the affair. He was also asked about the granting of certain franchises in which the infamous "sold seven" was figured so prominently. The jury is not yet through with Navin. He will be called at a later date.
Councilman on the Rack.
The next witness was Councilman Hiram C. Gill. He was questioned mainly concerning the paying by Tex Rickard, a gambler, of $1,000 into the Republican campaign fund. But Gill was also asked about other matters of the City Council since he became a member of it. More especially was the official interrogated about the granting of certain franchises to the Citizens Light Company, the giving of privileges to that company when the Snoqualmie Power Company was refused like concessions; the attempt of the City Council to turn down the application of the Citizens Light Company for a gas franchise in order that there might be competition against Sam Hill's Seattle Gas & Electric Company that for many years has been charging exorbitant prices to its local customers; and whether or not if this deal is ever gone to the bottom with that some of the most sensational things heard in Seattle for many years will be sprung.

IS BOASTFUL OVER HIS DEED

The Slayer of Gonzales Issues a Statement.

(Journal Special Service.)
COLUMBIA, S. C., Jan. 21.—Lieutenant-Governor Tillman, slayer of Editor Gonzales, today broke his silence concerning the shooting.
In a statement given out this afternoon Tillman declared that he believed that Gonzales was armed when the men met on the street.
In a boastful manner Tillman said it was a good thing that no one attempted to lynch him, as it would have been a Waterloo for the would-be lynchers. He said he had no fear of harm, as he has many friends throughout the state. Tillman said he hoped that Gonzales had corrected his ante-mortem statement before he died, as the first statement by the editor was untrue. Gonzales, declared Tillman, said something, almost inaudible, about a message and that was the direct cause of the shooting.
Tillman says he is ready to give bail for $150,000 as soon as the coroner's jury returns a verdict tomorrow. He has decided not to resign, as this would, in his opinion, cast a shadow upon his honor. He said that he offered to resign last summer, provided Gonzales would stand next him face to face and call him a liar.

ANKENY LEADS IN WASHINGTON

(Journal Special Service.)
OLYMPIA, Wash., Jan. 21.—The first ballot for United States Senator for Washington in joint session today resulted as follows:
Ankeny, 50; Preston, 42; Wilson, 12; and Turner, 23. The latter is a Democrat. The scattering vote was 10, divided between John B. Allen, H. D. Crow and C. E. Graves.
The Ankeny men made a determined effort to force the balloting today, introducing a resolution that at least four ballots be taken at every meeting of the joint session. The motion was lost. In the debate the Ankeny men said they wanted a caucus immediately, but the Wilson and Preston men are opposed to it.
The Legislature meets in an old frame building originally designed as a department store. The former capitol building is a decayed wreck and the new structure will not be finished for a year. The quarters are too small and the air at the joint session is stifling and poisonous. Members are threatening to adjourn to meet at Seattle or Tacoma pending the completion of the capitol.

SHIRK MEANS BUSINESS.

"I shall have the sheriff go to Maine for them if it is necessary," said Prosecuting Attorney Scott today. "We want those men badly."
The penalty, if convicted of the charge against Dunbar, Faxon and Huff, may be five years in the penitentiary.
It is said that in connection with the Rainer Grand Hotel cases one of the best known business men of Seattle, an electrical dealer and manufacturer, may be indicted on the charge of "fixing" the roulette wheel and faro bank, which the grand jury charges the three defendants with conducting. His arrest would cause a decided sensation and those on the inside say that it may come at any hour.

MINERS' WAGE SCALE.

INDIANAPOLIS, Jan. 21.—At the miners' convention today the delegates are working on the wage schedules. Workers in Ohio and West Virginia want a 25 per cent increase in pay and the Illinois and Pennsylvania men want a 45 per cent raise. It has not yet been determined just what will be done in this respect, but the matter will be adjusted.

MEETING OF COMMITTEE.

A meeting of the legislation committee of the Lewis and Clark Fair will probably be held either tomorrow or Friday, when the fate of the Fair appropriation bill now before the Senate will be known.

WOUNDED WHILE BEING ARRESTED

Pitiful Plight of Insane Man at Oregon City.

OREGON CITY, Jan. 21.—An insane man giving his name as Hawkins and claiming to have been run out of Portland last week by that city's officers, was brought to town this morning by the Russell brothers of Dickie's Prairie. The man's left forearm was badly shattered as the result of a gunshot wound, having been inflicted during the arrest. The man first made his appearance in the Dickie Prairie vicinity last Saturday, claiming to have been driven out of Portland. His peculiar actions soon terrorized the women of the neighborhood, who were afraid that he would kill them. After talking to the man long enough to see that he was crazy, one of the farmers telephoned Sheriff Shaver, who instructed Ernest Russell to take the man. An effort was made to follow instructions, but Watkins grabbed a knife and an axe and started to carve his captor. Russell backed away, trying to talk the man into submission, but when Watkins made a lunge at him, Russell fired his shotgun, the charge striking the man in the fore arm, above the wrist. He then gave up and went with his captor, who put him in a rational state. He was taken to the Good Samaritan Hospital in Portland for treatment this morning, but after he recovers, will be sent to the asylum.
Ernest Russell, the man who did the shooting, is one of the coolest men in the county, and is kind hearted, as is shown by his action in shooting at the arm instead of the body. He said that it was either he or the crazy man to go unharmed, so he shot to protect himself. The officers are satisfied that Russell was perfectly justified in the shooting, claiming that some men would have shot to kill.
MAYOR'S COMMITTEES.
Mayor Dimick has made up his list of committee appointments in the Council for the following year. It will be seen that the new members have been placed on good committees and that the old members are placed about as they were last year. The personnel of the several committees gives general satisfaction. They are as follows:
Finance—Koerner, Powell and Pleister.
Streets and Public Property—Sheehan, Story, Huntley.
Fire and Water—Story, Kelly, Mason, Health and Police—Powell, Huntley, Kelly.
Cemetery—Scott, Mason, Pleister.

FOR DEFENSE OF COAST CITIES

Regarding the resolution adopted by the Board of Trade of this city some time ago, providing for a recommendation to the government that submarine torpedo boats be detailed for the defense of various cities on the coast, the following letter was received from Senator Mitchell this morning:
"I beg to acknowledge receipt of yours of January 13, transmitting for my consideration and that of the Secretary of the Navy, a resolution of the board praying the Secretary of the Navy to have a suitable number of submarine torpedo boats detailed for the defense of Astoria and other cities located between the mouth of the Columbia and Portland. I will bring this matter to the attention of the Secretary of the Navy with my earnest endorsement."

THE FRATERNAL BROTHERHOOD

Work of a Beneficiary Order in Portland.

There is now a lodge of this order in Portland with a small membership, and the "faithful few" have persuaded the supreme lodge at Los Angeles, Cal., to send organizers here and build up a lodge worthy of the order.
Supreme Representative C. W. Stone is already here with a good force of organizers and has established an office in room 322, Chamber of Commerce. This order and the management are endorsed by a membership of over $500 in Los Angeles—the home office—and by over 13,000 members in the State of California.
The plan combines accident insurance and life insurance in one certificate. With each $1,000 of life insurance there is $5 per week accident indemnity.
Men and women become members of the same lodge on equal terms and benefits. The order is seven years old and has over 7,000 members, carrying over $22,000,000 insurance. The surplus funds of the order are equal to that of any similar institution of the same size and age.
Social features are made prominent and special entertainments are given monthly.
No order or company is more particular in the selection of its membership, both socially and physically, and the best people of the community are to be found in its parlors.
The monthly rate per $1,000, at the age of 20, is 60 cents; age 25, is 65 cents; age 30, is 70 cents; age 35, is 80 cents; age 40, is 91 cents; age 45, is $1.25; age 50, is $1.70; age 55, is $2.25.
The order is a member of the National Fraternal Congress and stands "at the head" in the prompt payment of claims and general management of Portland Lodge, No. 209, will not be allowed to "stand still" until it has 400 beneficiary members.
