

HOLD-UP NEAR OREGON CITY

Robbed Frightened Farmer of Ten Dollars.

Interesting News Items of the Metropolis of Clackamas County.

OREGON CITY, Jan. 22.—An excited man rushed into the sheriff's office this morning, stating that he had just been held up and relieved of $10 by a bold robber near Willamette. His name is Henry Kollermer, a farmer. He was walking into town and was about to cross the Tualatin River bridge, south of Willamette, when he was robbed. He was too badly scared to give a good description of the man, but he said that the hold-up artist was about 5 feet 4 inches tall, wore blue glasses and a white handkerchief was tied under his eyes. He wore blue overalls, a black coat and a black stouff hat. The hold-up took place on the county road at about 5 o'clock. Sheriff Shaver immediately detailed Harry Moody to hunt down the robber, but it is not likely that a capture will be effected, and even if it is, Kollermer says he could not identify the man. The latter was a badly frightened man.

SHOWS THEIR RECORDS.

From the reports received from the Legislature, it is learned that C. G. Huntly and Hans Paulsen, two representatives from the county, cast two of the five opposing votes that were voted when the final vote was taken on the Lewis and Clark appropriation bill. With the exception of these five votes, representing four counties, every member of the House voted for the appropriation. The two Clackamas County representatives gave as their reason for their action that the majority of the people who elected them were against the appropriation of state money for the fair, hence they felt constrained to do as they did.

MINOR MATTERS.

A lively runaway team belonging to C. N. Greenman gained complete possession of the street between Fifth and Front streets last evening at 5:30 o'clock. The big horses were making excellent headway when a telephone pole loomed up before them, and their spin was ended. They went down in a heap, breaking the harness and wagon and cutting slightly the head of one of the horses. No damage was done to the pole. Several ladies of the Congregational Church gave a tea for the members in the church parlors yesterday afternoon from 2 until 5 o'clock. A musical program was rendered during the afternoon, which was greatly enjoyed. It is the intention of the ladies of that church to give an affair of this kind at regular intervals, that the members may become better acquainted with each other.

FATAL TRAIN WRECK.

ASHLEVILLE, Jan. 22.—A collision occurred this morning between two freight trains on the Southern Railway. Two trainmen were fatally hurt and seven others seriously injured.

THIEVES GIVEN LONG SENTENCE

Pendleton Judge Makes a Clean Up of a Number of Cases.

(Journal Special Service.) PENDLETON, Jan. 22.—Ira Rose, who rode a hired horse away from Weston and forgot to return, until captured by Constable Lieut. at Thorn Hollow, several days after, has been sentenced to serve 18 months in the penitentiary. William Hess, a bartender at the Golden Rule saloon, who was arraigned yesterday evening on the charge of selling liquor to minors, entered a plea of not guilty this afternoon and his trial was set for Monday. James A. Fee is his attorney.

Pat Rabe, who was arrested on the charge of selling liquor to minors, was sentenced to pay a fine of $75, which he will serve out in jail. Dr. W. H. Leura, a dentist of Athena, pleaded guilty to practicing his profession without a license and was fined $50. W. H. Peterson conducted the case for the defendant.

Frank Morris, the Helix safe blow, was sentenced to six years in the penitentiary. He made a statement to the court before sentence was passed, asserting his innocence and claiming his ability to prove an alibi. If allowed more time in which to prove his defense, he also stated that he has been a resident of Pendleton since 1879, and that this is the first accusation that has ever been lodged against him. The court remanded him until the evidence was plainly against him in this case, and that a jury of his countrymen had found it sufficiently strong to warrant a verdict of guilty, within a very short time after the case was given into their hands. Mr. Collier, the attorney for Morris, asked for leniency in the sentence. Judge Ellis reminded the accused that it is the custom of courts, in a great many instances, to impose a more severe sentence on a man who stands trial and is found guilty of a crime, than upon those who plead guilty to the same charge. That he would not recognize custom in this instance, but would make custom in fact a punishment equal to that of his confederates, who have preceded him to the penitentiary.

WILL THROW OUT REPUBLICANS

DENVER, Jan. 22.—The situation of the Colorado Legislature is becoming very serious. Guards have been placed in the chamber of the House to resist the anticipated attempt of the Walcott men to capture it. Shotguns have been taken into the chamber and a pair of revolvers are on every desk. Thirty police in plain clothes are in the Senate chamber. Soon after the Democratic caucus this morning, Senator Teller appeared and stated that he would not withdraw unless it became necessary to harmonize the two parties. The Democrats then went into joint session. The Republicans will probably hold a joint session tomorrow. The Democratic joint session proved a failure because of the absence of a Representative, which broke the quorum. There will be no election today, but the Democrats will throw out enough Republican Senators tomorrow so as to insure the election of Teller.

KESWICK STRIKE OFF.

REDDING, Jan. 22.—The strike of the miners and smelter men at Keswick is practically ended. This morning General Manager Wright and staff returned to Keswick. Ten more men went to work today, making 129 now employed. It is given out that the smelter will resume Friday. No trouble is expected.

ANOTHER GEER MAN CHANGES

Chamberlain Urges Action

SALEM, Jan. 22.—Governor Chamberlain sent a message to the Legislature yesterday afternoon calling attention to the necessity of immediate action in reference to the water supply of state institutions at Salem. The water is supplied with water from Mill Creek but the state was recently enjoined from using this water, in a suit brought by the Salem Flouring Mills Company. This company owns a contract with the Board of Public Buildings Commissioners whereby water is being supplied to the penitentiary at an annual cost of $2,000. But this contract will expire 30 days after the adjournment of the Legislature and the Governor therefore urges immediate action for the purpose of obtaining a new source of supply.

The Governor also alluded to the fact that the contract for lighting state buildings will expire in April and suggested the appointment of a joint committee to investigate both matters. A concurrent resolution appointing such a committee has already passed the House and is now awaiting action by the Senate.

Land Agent Appointed.

J. W. Morrow of Heppner, Morrow County, was appointed State Land Agent by Governor Chamberlain yesterday afternoon. He succeeds L. B. Geer, a one effect of this measure is to grant a salary of $1,800 and the appointee holds at the pleasure of the Governor. Mr. Morrow was for eight years County Clerk of Morrow County and also served a term as State Senator. He is a life-long Democrat and his well-known ability and integrity have occasioned much favorable comment upon the Governor's selection. When asked by the press what he would do as Land Agent he replied: "My first and my last official act shall be dictated by the desire to give the Governor and the people no cause to regret my appointment."

To Abolish State Printer.

SALEM, Jan. 22.—Senate joint resolution No. 1 of the 1901 session passed the House for the second time this morning and will now go before the people at the next general election to be voted on. The effect of this measure is to submit to popular vote a constitutional amendment to abolish the office of State Printer, and have work of that class done by contract.

Bill is Rushed.

Notwithstanding the effort made by Senator Marsters to force recognition of his amendment, it was evident a majority of the Senate favored the passage of the original Lewis and Clark Fair appropriation bill, and immediately upon the convention of the House this afternoon the matter was taken up and rushed. The Multnomah delegation and friends of the Fair had consulted together during the noon recess and realizing that the success of the Exposition depended upon the outcome of today's doings, they were determined. Marsters moved the adoption of his amendment at 2 o'clock and the amendment was carried by a vote of 15 to 10. Hunt of Multnomah spoke against it, characterizing it as a filibustering move. He quoted high authority in proof that the directors were in earnest. Marsters answered by saying that he was surprised at the action of Hunt and those favoring the measure. "We want some guaranty," he said. "There should be no objection to this. If they are in earnest my measure will help them."

It Is For Oregon.

Fulton was warmly applauded when he feebly alluded to the patriotic labors of Lewis and Clark, and said: "I voted for Oregon, not for Multnomah. It is for us all."

Senators Take Full Advantage

SALEM, Jan. 22.—Despite the criticisms called forth by the action of the Senate in passing the McGinn resolution, which authorized each Senator to appoint a personal clerk, and the strong denunciation of the measure in the debate which preceded its adoption, a number of the Senators who voted against it are now eager to take advantage of its passage. Only 16 Senators voted for the resolution and 21 have already appointed clerks under the power which it conferred upon them. There has been quite a spasm of indignation which attacked the minority of the Senators when the resolution was introduced. Senator Fulton, who denounced the resolution as an attempt to perpetrate petty larceny upon the taxpayers of the state, has apparently concluded that petty larceny is not a venial sin after all. President Brownell, who ruled that the resolution was out of order because a violation of law has been the unpardonable sin of ruling. Others who voted against the resolution as a breach of the Kuykendall law and a waste of the taxpayers' money, have seen their error and have resignedly concluded to share in the fruits of transgression.

FAIR ONES PREFERRED.

In selecting their private clerks many of the grave and reverend Senators display a predilection for the gentler sex. There are others who prefer to appoint members of their own families. The list of clerks appointed up to the present time and the names of the Senators to whom they are indebted for their positions are as follows: President Caroline Bushnell, appointed by Croisan. Dorothy Copeland, appointed by McGinn. Albert Croisan, appointed by Brownell. Merle Davis, appointed by Mulkey. Clara B. Ferguson, appointed by Smith of Umatilla. Lucile Gray, appointed by Smith of Yamhill. John W. Irvine, appointed by Hobson. Horace D. Jones, appointed by Carter. D. L. Kirker, appointed by Fulton.

ATTORNEYS IN WORDY CLASH

A Verdict of Not Guilty Was Rendered Late This Afternoon.

Great bitterness has been displayed between Deputy District Attorney Arthur C. Spencer and Attorney Wilson T. Hume, all through the case of the state against John Lumley, charged with forgery, and this morning it increased until Judge George interferred. The testimony was all in last night, and arguments were heard this morning. Spencer went before the jury, and at once began to fiercely upbraid the counsel for the defense, Mr. Hume. "Gentlemen of the jury," said Spencer in a stentorian tone, "you have seen all through this trial how Mr. Hume has attempted to throw dust in the eyes of all of you; how he strived desperately to cry me down and keep me from bringing from the state's witnesses the truth, the whole truth and nothing but the truth."

White with rage, Hume jumped to his feet, and in a loud voice appealed to the court for protection from the onslaught of Mr. Spencer. "I object to this attack," said he, "and I do not propose to sit here and listen to it further. I ask your honor to instruct the District Attorney to limit his argument to the facts in this case."

Judge George, before whom the case was tried, said that Mr. Spencer must confine himself to the strict facts of the case. "I repeat," shouted Mr. Spencer, to the jury, "that not all of the truth has been gleaned from the state's witnesses, because of Mr. Hume's persistent objection, for fear we might get too much before you gentlemen. And I say that this is not the first time that the defendant has been guilty of forgery, and—"

"INSULT TO COURT."

Jumping to his feet once more, Mr. Hume drowned out the vociferous voice of Mr. Spencer, and said: "It is an insult to this court for Mr. Spencer to stand here and state that not all of the truth has been obtained in this case. I think the court ought to be respected, and I interpose an objection to this line of argument."

"I wish Mr. Hume would keep still and not interrupt me in my address," retorted Mr. Spencer. "I rather incline to believe that the court is able to care for itself, without the kind aid of Mr. Hume, whose solicitations are pathetic."

Judge George this time said he would have no more of such quarreling between the attorneys, and the matter rested until Mr. Hume went before the jury, when similar scenes occurred, and the court again interferred. Lumley was accused of forging names of Portland people to blank orders for a dictionary.

MAY CHANGE LOCATION.

W. B. Jerome, general Western passenger agent of the Michigan Central, with headquarters at Chicago, is in the city. It is rumored that he intends to establish an office on Third street. As matters now stand, W. C. Seachrest represents the New York Central Lines, which operate the Michigan Central, with an office in the Sherlock Building. The talk of Railroad Row is that Mr. Seachrest will still remain in charge, making only a change in office location.

N. P.'S NEW LINE.

The Northern Pacific is now engaged in laying its lines of survey on the north bank of the Columbia, and it is said will begin active grading work the middle of two months. Prospects are exceedingly bright for a line 200 miles long. It is believed that the Northern Pacific and the Harriman lines have agreed to disagree. If this is true, they are well as the O. R. & N. will bring in wheat over its own line to this city.

TRIED TO FIX THE OFFICER

A negro woman by the name of Flo Hamilton had Tom Conway and John Rose dressed last night for assault and battery. The men were caught by Officer N. J. Johnson as they came out of a restaurant on Third and Couch streets. Though they attempted to "square" the case, they were taken to the jail, searched and locked up. Some $10 was found on Conway.

KNOCKED "UNCONSCIOUS"

Accused by a young upholsterer named Katzgoble of beating him severely, Albert Bittner today pleaded guilty and was fined $30 or 15 days in jail. A witness to the fight testified as follows: "Do you recall the date, O. R. & N. will bring in wheat over its own line to this city. Bittner struck Hume, up, fearfully. When I peek him up he is unconscious—no sense at all. 'Orrible beat up'."

LOS! BOND IS FOUND AT LAST

Mysterious Migration of Official Document.

(Journal Special Service.) BAKER CITY, Jan. 22.—The official bond of ex-Sheriff A. H. Huntington has been found. The bond is for $10,000 and a lively scandal was created a week ago by the fact that after the bond was approved by the County Commissioners all trace of it was lost.

No record of the bond's existence is on the clerk's books. The bond was found at 9 o'clock this morning in a pigeon hole in the Sheriff's office of Deputy Sheriff W. J. Lachner. There was nothing to show how it came there. It had evidently not been in the clerk's hand, as no stamp was on the face of the bond. The bondsmen are A. L. Brown, James Fleetwood, D. Cartwright, Harry A. Duffey, J. T. Fryer and J. W. Isenhofer.

LIKES HER PAPA.

"I would rather live with mamma, but I like papa," said little 10-year-old Ada Cole, while testifying in the divorce case yesterday. The scene was very pathetic, and when the child cried she was not the only one in the room who did so. She said her father was sometimes cross to her mamma, but that he was good to her and her brother. The case was again taken up before Judge Cleland this afternoon. It will probably consume all of the day.

(Journal Special Service.) TACOMA, Jan. 22.—Miss Lillian Whittaker arrived here today from Lawrence, Mass., in search of a Western husband. LYNCH JOKED.

LONDON, Jan. 22.—At the Lynch trial this morning, a deposition was read from Handley, an American, who said that when commanded by the Boers he met Lynch, who was in command of a Boer regiment. WOULD HAVE ROAD CHANGED

McMinnville People Petition the Railroad.

(Journal Special Service.)

McMINNVILLE, Jan. 22.—This morning C. C. Murton, R. Jacobson, Charles Crispen, O. O. Hodson, John Wortman and M. B. Hendrix went to Portland to meet the Southern Pacific officials in regard to having the railroad from Whiteson to Lafayette done away with and a road built from Lafayette to St. Joe. This would bring all trains on the Yamhill division through McMinnville. The committee will present petitions from McMinnville, Newburg, Dayton, Lafayette, Dallas and other places relative to their wishes in the matter, and it is the opinion of many that the Southern Pacific will make this change, as the proposed new cut-off will not cost less to maintain than that already in operation from Whiteson to Lafayette. This proposed change will be a great advantage to McMinnville, and at the same time work no hardship to other towns along the line.

SMELT FISHING.

Smelt is arriving in Portland by the ton. More than 500 boxes were brought yesterday by the steamers from the Coward Bros. of Astoria and expected today. The Cowitz is said to be almost running over with the smelt wanderers, and a ton of them can be dipped up in a comparatively short time. Hayes Bros. of the city will put on a launch in a day or two to engage expressly in the business of transporting fish up to Portland.
