western Men. SPOKANE, Wash., Jan. 30 .- Unless all signs go astray the convention of the Northwestern Fruit Growers' Assoclation, which is to be held in this city during the coming week, will be the largest and most representative gathering of horticulturists and others interested in the fruit-growing industry that has ever been held in the Pacific Northwest. Advices received by those in charge of the arrangements for the gathering show that prominent fruit growers will be here from many sections of Washington, Oregon and Idaho. An interesting and instructive program is being arranged, calling for papers and addresses on timely topics by horticultural experts of widest prominence. PASSENGERS TO TAILORS TO MEET Meldrum Making Fight National Association to Convene at Cincinnati.

(Journal Special Service.) CINCINNATI, Ohio, Jan. 30,-The local committee of arrangements is mak-ing extensive preparations for entertaining the visiting delegates who will come from all parts of the United States next week to attend the annual meeting of the Merchant Tailors' National Exchange. The convention promises to be the most successful ever held, the organization having developed a healthy growth during the past year. One of the matters to be discussed by the convention is the proposed establishment of a national home for infirm. disabled or dependent tallors. The pro-ject was first suggested ten years ago. since which time funds have been raised until the aggregate now approaches $50.-000. It is believed that another year will see the realization of the project. Colorado and several other localities have been mentioned as the site for the institution, but no definite selection has and will soon be summarily dismissed from the government service are lieved to be the principal cause of his frequent trips to the state capital. Mr. Meldrum talks differently, however. When he returned from a visit to Salem the first of the week he informed a Journal reporter that he had gone up there for the purpose of ascertaining whether or not certain homestead settiers had been complying with the law in proving up on their claims. When it was subsequently learned that it is not within the province of a surveyor-gen-eral to go about the country making inquiries along this gine, and that he has no official tomake investigations of such a character, a more substantial
