

WHIRL OF THE ## SOCIAL WORLD

Ever since the writer assumed the chair of society in this bit of the journalistic world, she has "wanted to know" about the origin of the different clubs and how they received their names. From various sources and always from high authority, much information has been gained.

Cinderella.
No one seems just certain about the origin of the Cinderella parties. Ten years or so back the men and maids were giving assembly dances. But the maidens branched out with a club of their own, and left the assemblies to their comrades. They called their new venture "Cinderella" because that abused lassie shared their views of early going and coming.

Those first dances were modest affairs. The decorations were few and the supper simple. Some teasing friend dubbed them the "third times parties." These days customs have changed. The guests are just beginning to come when the old crowd were half through with their dances. Old ways or new ways, it is all the same so long as the social spirit persists.

Shun Hi.
To the 80 members of the Shun Hi Club, things Chinese did appeal. They quizzed their Celestial friends to find some characters suggesting what they meant to have—a very jolly time. The heathen symbols looked so well on programs and invitations, the scope for decoration was so limitless that the first choice has remained the last. They are content to go down through history as the hospitable Shun Hi men.

Quel-Que Soit.
The patronesses of the Quel-Que Soit Club are responsible for the name.

When Messrs. Walter M. Gadsby, Roy R. Wamberg, Ernest R. Allen and Edmund L. DeKater were ready to head the invitations for their first dance, the phrase was suggested. The members never commit themselves as to its meaning, but they do hold that the name is French in the face of the most determined opposition of the friends who remain the "amo-amas-amat" of their school days and think the club name smacks of those Latin lines. Given a French dictionary and sufficient patience and the meaning is the world's.

Carpe Diem.
The Carpe Diem, or enjoy the present club, was organized September 1, 1901. The time members gathered the names they liked best and met in convalescence to talk them over. There is a mighty lot of uncertainty about giving parties, so the Carpe Diem chosen seemed appropriate. Not that such a thought found its way into the council room. It needed time to see how the name would be received. The name was chosen at such times. They cleverly solved the difficulty by stringing the initials of their last names along in a row and calling themselves the Z. B. R. S.

Z. B. R. S.
When Emil Zeitfuchs, Lewellyn F. Buck, Frank L. Buck, William E. Rueppell, William Sandercock, Jr., and Frank E. Smith were planning their club last winter, the name question was as puzzling as it always is at such times. They cleverly solved the difficulty by stringing the initials of their last names along in a row and calling themselves the Z. B. R. S.

Wisteria.
The ladies of the Wisteria Whist Club chose their appellation from their fondness for the name and color of the flower. When the season makes it possible the fragrant vine is used in brightening their hall, but winter or summer a touch of the lavender is not wanting.

Monday Night Assembly.
The Monday night assemblies were begun this year. The choice of that name was simple. The dancers were to dance on Monday night, so a clever head suggested "Assembly." A party every two weeks until June 5 will make a very fair record.

New Century Dancing Club.
The New Century Dancing Club was in existence some time before it was organized or given a name. It came dangerously near carrying the title of Twentieth, rather than New Century. Indeed the members hardly remember how the choice was made. Every other week Parsons' is lighted for them, and Mrs. E. S. Jackson, Mrs. G. H. Nutter, Mrs. S. B. Forbes are this year's popular patronesses.

Junior Bachelors.
Three, perhaps four, years ago a club of chums calling themselves the Kinks, became very popular as entertainers. Every little while there was sure to be a party of some kind on hand that owed its existence to their efforts. Last year they organized upon a broader scale and gave some delightful hops at Parsons'. This winter they have given two others as popular as the first. The name of the club came from New York in an indirect way. The Junior Cotillon and the Bachelor and Spinster Club each gave the first word of their names. The members have been woefully teased for being young bachelors, but Harry Chatterton, Parsons' is lighted for them, and Fred Durbin, Morton Wisdom and H. McIntosh are quite capable of holding their own when it comes to a display of wit.

Tres Joli Club.
The Tres Joli Club was an outcome of a summer by the sea—a sojourn in France as might be suspected. Thirty members are enrolled and each is allowed invitations for two friends at each party. Pink is the club color, the Western Academy of Music the meeting place. The name and the club are popular for they truly are a very jolly company.

Cavaliers.
The account given of the Cavaliers' history was short and to the point. A club was talked of, a date for meeting chosen, the date kept, a name "Cavaliers" chosen and the meeting adjourned. Cavalier is the club color. Some very clever invitations and programs have come out in that vivid shade this winter.

The Centennial.
Misses Grayce A. Baldwin, Myrtle Long, Gertrude K. Wetzer, Hattie Gruss and Margaret V. Stoelcher chose the Centennial as the title of their club, in honor of the Lewis and Clark Exposition. Possibly that may account in part at least for the crowds that have attended.

Week in Society.
Mrs. W. L. Ladd entertained at luncheon Thursday. Later whist was enjoyed. The guests were: Mrs. Wilson, Mrs. Lewis, Mrs. Beems, Mrs. Meers, Mrs. Ayer, Mrs. Jones, Mrs. Bowne, Mrs. McClintock, Mrs. Gilman, Mrs. Langitt, Mrs. Beebe and Miss Wilson.

The Centennial Party.
The Centennial Club gathered their friends together Tuesday evening at Parsons' Hall for another of their "C. C. dances." The catchy music would have tempted the most indifferent dancer. "In the Good Old Summer Time," "Hiawatha," "Mollie Shannon," "Ha Le, Ha Le" were all played and all enjoyed.

At the Home of Mrs. Hathaway.
Of this year's pleasant informal clubs is one devoted to the game of chess, from which it takes its name. Gatherings are held every other week at the home of one of the members. Mr. and Mrs. W. A. Hathaway made the affair very pleasant last Tuesday evening. Mrs. Forbes and Mr. F. A. Jones won prizes. The membership includes: Mr. and Mrs. Winslow Bradford, Mrs. and Mrs. Charles E. Rumelin, Mr. and Mrs. Ashley, Mr. and Mrs. A. McCully, Mr. and Mrs. E. Shidley Morgan, Mr. and Mrs. William Knighton, Mr. and Mrs. H. Varwig, Mr. and Mrs. F. A. Jones, Mr. and Mrs. E. S. Jackson, Mrs. Forbes, Mr. and Mrs. W. A. Hathaway.

Mr. and Mrs. E. S. Jackson will entertain the second week of February at their West Park home.

Shun Hi Party.
The Shun Hi Party at Woodmen Hall Monday night was well attended and "altogether jolly." The background of handsome palms threw out the pretty dances to advantage as their wearers danced or sat chatting about. The program had quaint Chinese coins attached. The club is making good preparations for their party, which will be the last before Lent.

Members of the Shun Hi Club are: Hiram Stipe, Edward Warnock, Alex. Oliver, Ben Fleckenstein, R. J. Gordon, Howard Haskell, Bert Allen, Denise Drewery, Harvey Wells, W. Kaser, M. D. Alger, H. E. Alger, E. C. Alger, H. E. Clemens, J. J. Clemens, Tom West, James Lyons, E. J. Brown, Frank MacMahon, James Mackie, William Goodwin, Arthur Kerron, A. R. Draper, Clyde Zeller, Walter Dustin, Hal Rasch, John Mackie, P. G. Le Banet, L. Smith, Harry Kaps, Harry Draper, George Cadwell, John Holden, Ben Gaby, Fred Ray, Ed Blackwood, Don Ross, Henry Mackenzie, W. Badsby, Ben Treknman, John Kidd, Ed. Stemmie, Jay Upton, Charles Rybke, Geo. Henriot, R. S. Serle, Roy Doble, H. W. McBeth, Durr Strubbe, W. C. Creighton, Robert Lamberson, Bert Long, Gus Castledine, Chauncey Bishop, Harrison, Jack Ralston, F. Rasch, H. Copeland, T. Alexander, Will Crane, M. Ziegler, George Miter, Roy Durham, Will Carlyle, Bert Stipe, M. Smith, O. Hall, Thad. Sweek, Fred Weber, Roland Jackson, R. Warmen, J. Copeland, Guy Holman, R. H. Thomas, Sam Holbrook, Ralph Stipe, Edward Stipe, D. Balf and W. J. Lyons.

Saturday Night Club.
The Saturday Night Club had a most enjoyable evening with Mr. and Mrs. F. C. Austin last week. Twenty hands of club were played, resulting in prizes for Mrs. Robert Wilson and H. C. Schulte. At the games' close there was still enough of the evening left to enjoy the hostess' tempting refreshments and the music furnished by the guests.

Mrs. Nichola Entertains.
Mrs. Clarence Nichols gave a heart party Friday afternoon. The guests played at ten tables. Miss Ainsley won first honors and Mrs. Lunders the second prize. Miss Lucy Sutton received the consolation remembrance.

At the B. S. A.
A very enjoyable party was given at the Bishop Scott Academy last Saturday night by Mr. and Mrs. A. C. Newell. The dancing room was hung with flags and B. S. A. pennants. The students assisted in receiving and entertaining the guests in their merrily polished way. A program of 24 dances was carried through to the satisfaction of all. Dainty refreshments were served from 9:30 until the closing hour. Those sharing the good times were Mr. and Mrs. A. A. Moore, Miss Tellebitt, Mrs. Carroll, Mr. and Mrs. Ramsdell, Mr. and Mrs. Van Waters, Major and Mrs. Waterbury, Misses Evelyn Wilson, Edna Bailey, Lezer, Ruth Aulbach, Margaret Drake, Ann Horn, Hamilton, Dennis Powell, Winona, Kuhn, L. Hudson, Holl Morrison, Gaffney, Hazel Bean, June Stirling, Irene Higgins, Helen Bates, Caroline Wilson, Eva Taylor, Sarah Girdner, Anna Dittmar, Ethel Jones, Anna Walker, Harriet Ankeny, Louise Tanner, Edith Lewis, Lulu Curman, Margaret Palmer, Lucile Palmer, Burnes, Ketchum, Louise Gilman, Lottie Hordell, Ethel Russell, Ramsdell, Van Waters, Morrison, Armstrong, Margaret Walker, Nan Robertson, Josephine Smith, Barbara Crocker, Alta Smith, Frances Wilson, Smith, Hesse, Dot Ramsdell, Helen Thayer, Winifred Turner, Lanyon, Hurd, Moevers, Clifford, Nicole, Ralph Knight, Lester Hudson, Ladd, Harold Bates, Will Hare, John Seed, Oscar Kerrigan, Kenneth Fenton, Page, Elbert, Corbett, Robert Rountree, John Palmer, which were decorated with evergreens for the occasion. The orchestra played a program of 19 numbers. About 150 guests were present.

Gilbert Camp.
Gilbert Camp No. 1, Spanish War Veterans, gave another of its dances this week at Woodmen Hall. The affair was a very pleasant one to all who attended.

Wisteria Party.
The Wisteria Club substituted a hop this week for the usual whist party. Burkhard Hall was filled with appreciative guests who enjoyed the decorations and music.

With Mrs. T. B. Wilcox.
The luncheon given by Mrs. T. B. Wilcox Friday afternoon was given and white in all its appointments. In the center of the table was a bowl of fragrant lilies of the valley. The hand-painted name cards had quaint Kate

Miss Marion Walsh, Leading Lady in "My Friend From India."

Farwell to the Cadets.
When the German training ship Herzsogen, escorted by the cadets, had on board as their guests a few of the friends who had made their stay in this port so pleasant. There was dancing and merry making all the way down the river until the parting came. Then tears were shed on both sides, as the cadet band played sad farewell music. The deck was alive with flying caps and ribbons as the Spencer and the Harvest Queen turned back with the hosts of reluctant girls loaded down with pictures, brass buttons and cap ribbons. Those in the party were: Mr. and Mrs. Frank Bottefuer, Misses Bottefuer, Captain and Mrs. Patterson, Mrs. Cramer and the Misses Cramer, Mrs. F. Zimmerman, Miss Schacht, Miss Emily Liebe, Miss Anna Diamond, Miss Stephan, Miss Rossmann, Mr. Fred Biekle, Captain Spencer and Mr. Osterhaus.

The Thursday Night Club.
The Thursday Night Club gave another of its pleasant open meetings last Thursday evening in its cozy little hall in the G. A. R. Building. The evening was pleasantly devoted to whist, instrumental and vocal music games, refreshments and amateur theatricals. The delightful little farce entitled "Hedberg Maloney's Bad Husband" was enjoyably received. Mr. O. L. Smith and Mr. H. Robinson taking the leading characters. It was not until the wee hours of morning that the gathering dispersed. The club is in a prosperous condition and Treasurer Stevens reports all debts paid and money in the treasury. Very appropriate suggestions for the good of the order were made by M. E. Kuhn, Miss S. A. Stevens, A. W. Kline, Stella Cooper, H. Robinson, Mrs. M. Gentis, Walter G. Hayn and John Donosky. The society is rapidly growing in membership as at the last meeting the following applicant were elected: Mrs. V. L. Beckert, Miss Clara Hogan, Ethel McFarland, Pearl White, Ruby Evans, Charles J. Sager, Minnie White, Marie Leasure, Joseph Schultz, Alfred Larson, Andrew Erdoff and Charles Hansen.

Rachel Bean's Party.
Miss Rachel Bean gave a party recently to some 50 guests. The concert of the evening was a musical one. Pictures representing songs were used on the walls. While Mary McArthur and Clifford Nichols may not have been the most musical of the guests, they certainly were clever at guessing. For the rest of the game found in a good season of the prizes. The couple's outfits were in pink and green. Tempting refreshments were served during the evening.

Portasia Dance.
The Portasia Club gave a dance Wednesday evening at the Western Academy of Music, which was prettily decorated with evergreens for the occasion. The orchestra played a program of 19 numbers. About 150 guests were present.

Gilbert Camp.
Gilbert Camp No. 1, Spanish War Veterans, gave another of its dances this week at Woodmen Hall. The affair was a very pleasant one to all who attended.

Wisteria Party.
The Wisteria Club substituted a hop this week for the usual whist party. Burkhard Hall was filled with appreciative guests who enjoyed the decorations and music.

With Mrs. T. B. Wilcox.
The luncheon given by Mrs. T. B. Wilcox Friday afternoon was given and white in all its appointments. In the center of the table was a bowl of fragrant lilies of the valley. The hand-painted name cards had quaint Kate

Scott. That evening friends gathered at the home on Portland Heights to extend congratulations. A choice china chocolate set, was presented in their name by Rev. William S. Gilbert. The gift was a complete surprise to Mr. and Mrs. Scott, who deeply felt the loving thought that prompted the remembrance.

TILL DEATH US DO PART.
The event in the Jewish social world this week was the wedding of Herbert A. Schoenfeld of Seattle and Miss Besa Barman of this city. The ceremony was solemnized Wednesday at 6 p. m. in the reception rooms of the Hotel Portland.

The exquisite taste, the rare skill always shown in the Portland decorations characterized them on this occasion. They were faultless from the dainty bower of palms, amylax and ribbon, where the solemn service was read, to the glorious wealth of bud and bloom that perfumed the air of the banquet hall. Here the two long tables were most hidden by a mass of ferns and flowers. Vases of pink carnations and clusters of lilies of the valley were in profusion, while tiny points of light gleamed here and there among the green. At the appointed hour the soft strains of Wilder's Orchestra announced the coming of the bride party. They took their places in the East Room, where the ceremony was performed by Rabbi Stephen S. Wilder. The bride was attended by Miss Fay Rosenstein as maid of honor, Miss Becky Schoenfeld, sister of the groom, and Miss Emily Barman, the bride's sister, were maids. Mr. Mayo, chosen of Seattle, acted as best man. The bride looked very lovely in her wedding gown of white tulle, with its costly trimmings of Duchess lace. She carried the white prayer-book from which the service was read. Her flowers were lilies of the valley. Miss Fay Rosenstein wore a robe of cream her over white tulle and carried a bouquet of bride roses. Miss Schoenfeld and Miss Barman were dressed in delectable gowns of pink and blue de chine, with trimmings of "clung" lace.

Many handsome gowns were worn. Mrs. I. Kaufman, aunt of the bride, appeared in an embroidered gown of white chiffon, handsomely trimmed with Spanish lace. Mr. Mayo, chosen of Seattle, also an aunt of the bride, wore a rich robe of black crepe de chine and black lace. Mrs. Carl Dilsheimer, the bride's aunt, had on an imported lace gown. Mrs. Lowergren looked attractive in a costume of black lace. Mrs. Schoenfeld, the groom's mother, appeared in a rare gown of gray silk with touches of Duchess lace. Mrs. Ralph Schoenfeld wore a handsome delectable gown of lace.

After hearty congratulations the guests sat down to an elaborate wedding feast. Toasts were drunk and telegrams read from hosts of absent friends. Mr. and Mrs. Schoenfeld will spend the next two months visiting points of interest in the East before settling in their Seattle home.

The guests present were: Mr. and Mrs. I. Kaufman, Mr. and Mrs. S. Lowengart, Mr. and Mrs. J. Langner, Mr. and Mrs. J. Rosenblatt, Mr. and Mrs. F. Langerman, Mr. and Mrs. G. Mann, Mr. and Mrs. Carl Dilsheimer, Mr. and Mrs. L. Schoenfeld, Mr. and Mrs. R. A. Schorff, Mr. and Mrs. Max Weil, Mrs. Lem Short, Mr. and Mrs. E. Friedenthal, Mrs. and Miss Friedly, Mr. and Mrs. Schurman, Miss Judith Lowengart, Miss Gus Lowengart, Mr. Harry Lowengart, Mr. Wm. Joe Jesse, Mr. and Mrs. Moore, Mr. and Mrs. Leonard Kaufman, Mr. and Mrs. C. B. Harman, Miss J. Harman, Mr. Edgar Weil, Miss Fay Rosenstein, Mr. S. Dilsheimer, Mr. David Barman, Miss Barman, Miss Becky Schoenfeld, Mr. Jacob Cohen, Mr. Dave Levy, Miss Sam Barman, Mrs. May, Mr. Otto Kerner, Mr. Joe Heilner and Mr. A. Fortiours.

Double Wedding.
A double wedding took place last Tuesday evening at the home of the bride's mother, Mrs. A. M. Clayton, of 393 Williams avenue. The contracting parties were William Campbell Blanchard of Skagway and Miss Annie M. Clayton, and John Wilson Snooks of Alaska and Miss Charlotte Louise Clayton. The decorations used in brightening the house were Oregon grape, pussy willows and cut flowers. In the dining-room white crepe paper was used effectively. Mrs. Sarah A. Evans received the guests and assisted in their entertainment.

The economy was performed in the East Parlor by Rev. J. A. Leas. The brides, who were unattended, wore gowns of white crepe de chine; the one with handsome applique trimmings, and the other ornamented with lace medallions. In each hand the brides carried bouquets of white carnations. A wedding supper was served, the table decorations of pink carnations contrasting very prettily with the snowy azaleas at the brides' table. The guests remained until a late hour, admiring the many handsome presents and contributing to an informal musical. Alice Blanchard and James Forest of Seattle both have exceptionally good voices, and Mrs. Pettenger gave some of her best readings. Miss Frances Cottingham served punch during the evening.

Among the guests were Mrs. Blanchard, mother of the groom, and Marshall Snook of Alaska.

Flyte-Saen.
Jacob Flyte of Aberdeen, Wash., and Miss Agnes Saul of Berks County, Pa., were married at the English Lutheran parsonage on Monday, January 13, by Rev. J. A. Leas. They left immediately for their home in Aberdeen, where Mr. Flyte has considerable property interests.

ENGAGEMENTS.
Mr. and Mrs. H. Goldstaub announce the engagement of their daughter, Jennet, to Mr. Martin Cohen. The wedding is set for February 18.

THIS AND THAT.
The June class of the High School has issued 300 invitations for a reception in honor of the graduating February class at Arion Hall next Friday evening. There are to be addresses of welcome, responses and a musical program of some length, but the event above all others is to be the two-act farce, "Mr. Bobb."

NATHAN BERENSON has been cast in the part of the butler, Arthur Rosenfeld in the new comedy, "Friday Night," Dr. Edgar P. Hill gave the address of the evening. President Lee of Albany accompanied him.

Mr. Hiram E. Mitchell of the Artillery Corps U. S. A., is in the city.
Rev. Mr. Dunlap of British Columbia is a guest at the B. S. A. He has exchanged with Rev. Simpson of St. Marks for a few weeks.

Mr. and Mrs. Buckley of Grass Valley, Ore., are visiting their son at the B. S. A.
Mr. and Mrs. Ralph Hoyt are expected home next month from their trip abroad.

Dr. and Mrs. J. F. Dickson are expected to return from Europe early in the spring.
Commander Farenholt, retired, who has been in San Francisco for the past five or six months, will be a guest of Mrs. N. D. Rountree in February.

Mr. Peter Outcalt, a former resident of Portland and most popular in insurance circles, passed through the city

Monday on his way to San Francisco to visit his people. He was most cordially welcomed by his old friends.

Dr. Arthur Bowen has returned from San Francisco. After a few days' visit with his parents, Mr. Taber, he leaves for New York City.
Miss Edna Ruffell of The Dalles is in the city at the home of Mrs. Rountree. James O. Rountree, formerly of Portland but now of Baker City, has gone East. In the interest of his mine, leaving Miss Florence Mayer.

Miss Blanche Brown, daughter of A. L. Brown of the Salem Water Company, is at St. Vincent's Hospital. She recently submitted to an operation for aneurism, a difficulty that has made her lame for some time.
E. W. Mulkey and Blair T. Scott were in Salem this week, interested visitors at the Legislature.

TUESDAY EVENING POPS.
Under the direction of Mr. Elmore Rice, violinist formerly of Minneapolis, a series of popular concerts are now being arranged to be given in the auditorium of the First Baptist Church, commencing on Tuesday evening, February 10th. There are to be five concerts in the series, dating three weeks apart, excepting Tuesday evenings, and some delightful programs are promised. The Hidden-Coursen string quartet give the first, third and fifth concerts in the series, the soloists for the first evening being the well known soprano, Mrs. Rose Bloch Bauer, and Mr. Reginald Hidden, violinist, both artists being too well known to need further comment.

At the second concert of the series, a mixed program will be rendered in which several of the best known soloists of the city will participate. A large subscription list has been already secured, and all music-lovers are looking eagerly forward to the series.
On the first evening the Hayden quartet in C Major will be rendered, also the celebrated Beethoven quartet op. 12.

She Was Independent.
(New York Sun.)
On a Tremont avenue car bound for West Chester last night at 8 o'clock there were three passengers. One was a young woman with a suit, case on the floor beside her.

A quarter of a mile from West Chester she pulled out a pack of cigarettes, struck a match on the sole of her shoe and began to smoke. The conductor, Thomas Quinn, told her she would have to stop and was told to mind his own business.
It was the car that stopped first. It stopped in front of the West Chester police station. Quinn pointed out to the young woman the light and asked her if she didn't think it could be a good plan to stop smoking. She walked out to the rear platform, lit a fresh cigarette and said:

"You conductors can smoke wherever you please, especially out here in the woods."
Quinn let it go at that and rang two bells. The young woman remained on the car until it reached the end of the line. She consumed half a dozen cigarettes in the meantime. The last seen of her she was walking down the Fort Schuyler road still smoking. On her suit case was "C. A. L. New York."
