

BLUESTEM AND VALLEY ARE UP

Scarcity Causes Another Advance.

Eastern Lard Down an Eighth—Large Shipment of Potatoes to California.

Local wheat conditions are somewhat firmer today and several small advances have been made by Valley millers in order to get a supply to tide them over until the spring crop is on the market. Bluestem variety is up a cent and Valley one-half a cent; Walla Walla is unchanged. Today's quotations are: Walla Walla, 75c and 76c; Bluestem, 87c and 88c; Valley, 77c and 80c.

Flour is Not Changed.
Flour quotations are not changed, today, but the Portland City Mills say they will certainly go up if the price of wheat makes any further advance.

Food and grain prices, other than wheat, are unchanged.

Potatoes to San Francisco.
The steamer Columbia, which left this city last evening, took about 10,000 sacks of Oregon Burbanks to the Bay City.

The markets in that city are considerably weaker, according to McKinley Mitchell, a local dealer, and the large shipment of last evening will have a tendency to cause further weakness and a probable drop in prices.

Hops Are Quiet.
"Hops are quiet at present," says Mr. Mitchell, "but I have every cause to make me believe that quotations will soon make advances. Eastern brewers are again invading the market, and it is taking the utmost endeavors of the local growers to keep the market down until they can fill some of their shorts."

Eastern Lard Down an Eighth.
According to Manager Conway of the Hammond Packing Company, Eastern lard is down one-eighth of a cent today. Local lard is unchanged. Both local and Eastern packed meats are firm at present quotations.

The Egg Situation.
Turner & Co. announce the past week to have been rather lively in the egg market. Receipts have been plentiful and retailers are holding off their large buyers until the market becomes settled. The opening price of eggs on Monday is expected to be about 23 cents. No change is made in today's quotations.

Poultry has been in light receipt during the week and the top quotations have been received for all stock that arrived. Large hens are in special demand.

"Plenty of Pork," Says Toft.
"There has been plenty of pork arriving in the local market the past week," says John Toft, of Toft, Hime & Co. The demand has been about up to the supply and all receipts were cleaned up from day to day. Beef, mutton and veal are wanted. Prices are unchanged.

Sugar Weaker in New York.
Sugar stocks were weaker in New York this morning, and the knowing ones predict a decline in a few days in the local market. No change appears in the grocery market since the advance on both rice and package coffees yesterday.

Talk of Mush Advance.
Local manufacturers of mush have decided to advance the price on the various brands of mushes. They claim that the price of wheat is too high at present to admit of any profit being made with mush at the present quotations.

Today's quotations, as revised, are as follows:
