NEW PAPER PLANNED FOR IN SEATTLE High School Directors at Oregon

George U. Piper Ready to Enter the Field.

Denies Grand Jury Indictment and Teils Story of His Woes.

George U. Piper, once managing edifor of the Seattle Post-Intelligencer and one of the most prominent politicians of the State of Washington, is in this city today and denounces as libel the statement recently published by several Northwest papers to the effect that he had been indicted by the grand jury now in session at Scattle. Perjury was the charge on which it was claimed a true bill had been found against Mr. Piper, who is here paying a visit to his brother, E. B. Piper, city editor of the Oregonian

When seen this morning by a reportoer for The Journal Mr. Piper would not seuss the work of the Seattle grand fury further than to say it had taken no action to indict him-

"Some of my personal enemies," he mid, "after having fought me in other ways and failed, attempted to trump up a charge of perjury and secure my ment by the grand jury. But nothing of the kind has been brought about and their efforts have failed. Publica-Rion of the statement that I had been indicted was nothing less than libel, and I may have something to say about

Mantioned No Hames. When asked who was personally reensible for the attack upon his character Mr. Piper declined to make personal charges, saying:

have no wish to mention names. The old libel flaw of Washington, which was a vicious one, has been repealed, and statements made against a person by the public press may now be treated as slander. I should like to see a man make an untrue charge against me now. Mr. Piper would not discuss the purities or impurities of Seattle. On poli-tics he was more communicative. "While it would appear that in the ection of Levi Ankeny and the defeat of the railroad commission bill the railroads had gained a complete victory in the recent political battle in Washing-ton, it must be taken into consideration that this is only what has happened every time that an attempt has been made in the past to free the people from railroad domination. The only difference is that this time the margin of victory to the railroad people was much smaller than ever before. It has demonstrated that if the people keep on in their fight they will finally win There can be no doubt of this. time will come when the people will be in power.

New Seattle Daily. Mr. Piper announces his intention of starting a newspaper in the City of Seattle. "Another newspaper" was the by he spoke of it, which leaves little om for doubt that it will be in addition to the three dailles already in operation there and not the purchasing of a sheet already established. In answer to the question of when his paper would begin business, Mr. Piper said:
"I cannot tell just at present, but I am all ready and will enter the field when the proper time arrives. The paper will be in Seattle; there is plenty field there for another paper. "And the paper that I run will tell the truth," he continued, significantly. The paper that tells the truth is the best paper. It need have no fear and can stand for what it says."

ENDEAVORS IN ANNUAL MEETING

Grants Pass the Scene of a Great Gathering.

(Journal Special Service.)
GRANTS PASS. March 7.—The annual convention of the Christian Endeavor Society for the Southern Oregon district is bein; held in the Bethany Presbyterian Church in this city. The first meeting of the session was held last night. The convention will close tomorrow night. The convention is proving to be the most successful in the history of the Christian Endeavor Society of this section of the State. Delegates are present by the score from all Southern Oregon towns.

Last night was an enthusiastic one The auditorium of Bethany Church was filled to overflowing. The principal speaker was Rev. Clarence E. Eberman, field secretary of the united society of Christian Endeavor. Excellent music was furnished by the "Convention Chorus," a large choir of singers trained for the occasion. The subject of Rev. Eberman's address was "What Christian Endeavor Offers Young Peo-

Business sessions were held this morning and are in progress this afternoon. At these meetings papers are read and discussions had on topics of interest to the society. At the public meeting this evening the principal address will be delivered by Rev. F. W. Phelps of Ashland, and the one of tomorrow night will be given by Rev. G. W. Connell of Pipestone, Minn. Rev. Connell was recently elected to the pastorate of Bethany Presbyterian Church, this city.

City Issue Ultimatum.

OREGON CITY, March 7,-In accordance with their avowal made Thursday evening that they would not return to school until their boy class mates did. five girls failed to answer to their names when the roll was called in the lith grade of the High School yesterday

As stated a few days ago, five of the boys of that grade left the room on "a sympathetic strike" when Ralph Miller was suspended for not obeying rules, Since Superintendent Kaulk took charge the High School grades, substituting instead kind treatment.

It has long been known by the directors that the pupils were taking ad vantage of such discipline, but the matter was not noticed until a few days ago when it became necessary for Superintendent Faulk to use harsh measures.

The directors have taken no action on the matter and would not were it not that the matter has become so serious. When interviewed by a reporter every member of the board expressed like views concerning the trouble.

Directors Issue Ultimatum In speaking this morning one of them voiced the opinions of the body when he "Unless the boys and girls who have showed such gross insubordination report promptly on next Monday morning and make such amends as Superin tendent Faulk shall demand they will have probably lost their last chance to continue as students of the High School

this year. Such high-handed proceed surprising and it must be understood that it will not be tolerated. "Mr. Faulk, as their teacher, did right and the board is behind him in his action in suspending Miller and in demanding an apology from each one. At first it thought that it would be enough to make each rebellious student apologize to their teacher, but now the matter has gone too far.

Will Take Official Action. While the board has taken no official notice of the trouble, it will probably do so unless the matter is ended immediately by the students. If they do not the least punishment they can hope to escape will be for them to make public apology before the assembled pupils of the school. If these boys thought they had a grievance they should have reported it to the directors, when their claims would have been looked into. Such an action as they took is insubordination in the extreme and they will re-ceive punishment in accordance."

FRANCE IS FRIENDLY

(Journal Special Service.) PARIS, March 7 .- The banquet given by the French exhibitors at the St. Louis Exposition this morning to President Francis resolved itself into a great Franco-American demonstration. nost the entire French cabinet was present, also members of the American embassy and 500 prominent French and American business men. It was announced that $120,000 had already been appropriated for this exhibit. Minister Commerce Troulliot made a speech which he said France and America were irrevocably united through the descendants of Washington and LaFayette. He said, for example, that America causes France's prosperity, because she taught the lesson of how to found as well as to preserve a Republican form

WOMAN IN MURDER CASE RELEASED

(Journal Special Service.) BUFFALO, March 7.—A woman has been taken into custody in connection with the Bundick murder mystery. She was brought to headquarters at 6 o'clock and every possible means was used to conceal her identity.

For several hours it was impossible to learn who the mysterious woman was. Later, however, it became known that she was Miss Marion Hutchinson, beautiful girl, who formerly knew Burdick very well. The police released her later in the day and declared that she had never been suspected of the crime, but had been taken into custody because she had said that she knew something about the murder.

SANKEY BLIND. SAYS HIS SON

(Journal Special Service.) NEW YORK, March 7 .- Allen Sankey, on of the famous evangelist, today ad mitted that his father has been stricken with blindness. He stated that the fam ily had hope that the sight of one eye might be restored.

When asked for an explanation of the many details that have been given out from the Sankey home, the young man replied that they did not wish to alarm his father's friends.

Nebraska will appropriate $10,000 for the Lewis and Clark Fair. This is di-rectly due to the efforts of ex-Governor T. T. Geer, special commissioner of the Fair, who is at present at Lincoln. Previous to his coming no appropria-tion was contemplated. The following is the message received from Mr. Geer

Walla Walla Health Officer Faces Grave Charges.

(Journal Special Service.) WALLA WALLA, March 7.-Old, half blind, nearly deaf and with a charge of incompetence hanging over his head, Dr. W. G. Alban, City Health officer of Walla Walla, has been called before a secret meeting of the Council and may be deposed. There is a scheme on foot to reorganize the health department of the city and establish a board of the schools last September he has instead of leaving the entire manage-tried to eliminate all punishment from ment in the hands of one man, as heretofore. Just what action was taken at the secret session of the Council last night, cannot be ascertained, but that charges of a sensational nature have been filed and that a thorough investigation of the conduct of Health Officer

Alban will be made, is certain. The trouble is the outgrowth of the epidemic of smallpox which recent spread through the Valley from end to end, and which was never even checked although the health officer declared time and again that he was doing everything in his power. Quarantine regulations were repeatedly broken and nobody brought to book for scattering ontagion

Frequently there were whole droves of patients in the city pest house. It is claimed by those who seek a reformation of present conditions that Alban has not been sufficiently careful of those detained in quarantine and that frequent carousals have occurred in the pestings on the part of these pupils is very house, liquor and tobacco having been delivered to patients and charged in bills against the city as "provisions."

Indiscreet conduct on the part of both patients and attendants is also alleged. It is not thought that Dr. Alban permitted these things to go on after having become aware of them, but it is claimed he is too slow and easy-going to occupy so important a post as health officer of the city.

For several years Dr. Alban has been city health officer, being retained bemake his own way as a physician. It is now claimed that a city physician given outright world be more in the interest of the general public.

TO WAGE WAR ON UNFAIR FIRMS

The Federated Trades Council In Earnest.

A determined and systematic fight is to be waged against the unfair firms in Portland. This was one of the imporant things that was taken up for disussion last evening by the Federated Trades Council, and many plans were proposed as to what would be the best method to pursue to make the work nost effective.

It was finally decided to have a list of the unfair firms printed upon the union cards of every workingman in the city just as fast as the new cards are issued. New ones are being printed alweek to take t those which expire, and before a great while it is stated every union card held in Portland will bear the full names and addresses of the houses that are unfair to organized labor,

Union Cards. All the locals affiliated with the Building Trades Council and the Waterfront Federation have their own cards printed, and as soon as the stock now on hand is exhausted the new plan will be carried into execution. The face of the card will contain the name of the union and other matter relative to the holder, while on the opposite side will appear the unfair firms. Some of the international unions, for example, the Typographical, provide the locals with printed cards, but the back of these is vacant. This space will be taken up with stickers on which the unfair firms will have been printed. Heretofore a good many union men have patronized unfair houses because they did not know them to be unfair. Now they will be kept thoroughly posted in this particular, and it is believed that in a short time the move will have a telling effect upon all enemies of organized labor

The Beferendum.

The council will also take action regarding some of the labor bills which failed of passage at the late State Legislature. These will include the Associated Press, the eight-hour and other measures. According to the new law a petition signed by 5 per cent of the voters of the state is all that is necessary in order to bring a bill to a referendum vote.

This matter will be taken up more fully by the State labor convention, which meets at La Grande on May 5.

road that has in the past been hauled by team to other railroads operating inland from the river. Much grain which has in the past been hauled by river steamers, with the attendant ex-pense of being three times handled be-fore reaching its final destination, will then be loaded directly upon Canadian Pacific cars and taken straight through to Portland, where it will either be placed in cargo carrying steamers or delivered to millers.

The Canadian Northwest has already egun developing and settlers are expected within a few months to literally overrun the country. Great prosperity is to follow this settlement and it is to make a way to take full advantage of this increase in business that the railroad is preparing.

The Canadian Pacific now has surveying parties at work in different parts of Washington, one having been running lines along the north bank of the Columbia between Pasco and Vancouver, It is possible the river will be bridged at the latter place in order that Portland may be reached.

Local Men Knew of It.

A number of Portland railroad of cials have for some time been cognizant of the intentions of the Canadian Pacific Railroad to invade American territory. To a reporter for The Journal they would not admit knowledge of the truth of the above dispatch, alleging Portland as the final base of the Canadian road, but one prominent railroad official made the following states ment:

There are no mills to amount to anything in Manitoba or British Columbia and it is necessary for the Canadian line either to find a place where it can get its wheat ground in the West or haul that same wheat clear across the continent to the Eastern mills. The latter plan would necessitate great waste in traction and fuel, and so it seems wise for the road to seek an outlet below the line."

A number of residents of Victoria and Vancouver, B. C., who have visited Portland during the past year have complained strenuously because of lack of dock facilities at those points. It was this, they said, which caused the Grand Trunk to seek farther along the coast for its terminal.

IS COMING TO THE FAIR

But Would Have Stayed Away If Midway Were Omitted.

"I saw by the papers some time ago that a resolution had been offered in the Oregon Legislature that the famous Midway be eliminated from the Lewis and Clark Fair and that the sale of alcoholic liquors be prohibited on the Ex-position grounds. What was done with

The speaker was A. K. Nesbit, who had just arrived from Illinois, and he asked the question yesterday afternoon at the Union Depot. "Ob, that resolution, after having passed the House, was smothered in one of the Senate committees," some one volunteered in reply.

"Well, that is just what ought to have happened to it," said Nesbit. "As a matter of fact, the thing should never have been discussed at all. Talk of prohibiting such things is absurd. I am going, to bring my family out here to see the big Fair, but if that resolution had gone through and been acted upon I never would have done so.

"I'll tell you what it is,' he went "this thing of prohibition will not work unless the prohibition is general. Prevent liquor selling on the grounds and there would be a dozen dives just off the reservation for the Fair and booze would be sold where those who dispensed it were under no restrictions or regulations from the Fair authorities. The result would be disastrous. "And as for the Midway-a Fair without a Midway would be like a ship with-
