TERRY McGOVERN, AND A FEW COMICS FROM HIS TRAINING QUARTERS.

BOTH FIGHTERS IN FINE TRIM

"Terrible" Teddy Still Favorite in Betting.

Young Corbett Experienced Great Difficulty in Reaching Required Weight, but Is Confident.

(Journal Special Service.) FRANCISCO, pion, and ex-Champion Terry McGovern are all ready for the tap of the gong tonight at Mechanics' Pavilion. The fight will not be a championship battle, as both men are matched to box at 127 unds at 4 o'clock which is three pounds over the featherweight limit.

So far McGovern has been the favorite at 10 to 8. The fact that Corbett has experienced the greatest difficulty reaching the required weight has worked against him in the pools. Govern did not have any trouble whatever in making weight, taking training an easy fashion. Corbett worked like a beaver every day, never letting up on the hard grind.

In Pine Fettle.

The men are matched to box 20 If present arrangements are carried out the boxers will face one another about 9 p. m. According to reports from their respective training rters, McGovern and "Young" Corbett are both in first class physical Curiously enough, from the hour the match was made McGovern has been a favorite in the betting over the lad who defeated him so decisively on the occasion of their former battle. Those who have staked their money on the exmpion have had in mind his remarkable record as a fighter, his wonderful hitting ability and his power to stand With the single exception punishment. of the fight in which he lost his title the little Brooklynite has never been in danger of defeat at the hands of an opponent. For a fighter of his weight it is generally conceded that he has the dest blow of anyone who was ever in the fighting game.

The fact that the betting is in favor of McGovern does not prove conclusively, however, that there are not ring critics and quite a number of them who are of the opinion that when the two little fighters face in the squared circle tonight "Young" Corbett will repeat the dose he administered to "Terrible Terry" at the Hartford meeting. These persons base their belief on the idea that the Denverite is the one fighter who is thoroughly acquainted with McGovern's style of fighting and capable of getting in the knockout blow at the first opportunity. They argue further that a fighter once defeated is always at a disadwantage when he faces his conquerer a The champion, full of the knowledge that he had defeated his opponent before, gains courage in the belief that he can do the trick a second time, while the vanquished is more than apt to lose confidence in himself when he faces the man who has once defeated

Pight on Same Lines.

To compare the tactics of the two fighters is an easy matter. It may be said that their style of fighting is much the same. McGovern may have a slight advantage over his opponent when it comes to the scientific points of the came, but on the other hand the champlon is considered less likely to lose his head when things get lively. As to hard hitting and gameness the two little fighters are about as evenly matched as ever were two antagonists in the ring In whichever corner of the ring the bird of victory alights, the fight is certain to be a lively contest from gong to gong. The general opinion in sporting circles in that the battle will not go half the Fitzsimmons and Jeffries, as dual stars of a traveling company, have not had the easiest kind of salling since they began their tour. Last week the pair were enjoined from giving their exhibition at Pittsburg. It was alleged that the show would be in the nature of a nuisance, and bring to the certain where they were billed was located lot of undesirable persons, and damage might result.

At other points the matter never got as far as the courts, with the same results, the fighters being notified that they would not be allowed to go on. the combine got anything but a boost by the Jack Munroe episode at Butte. It is no wonder that both are now ready to take on somebody for a Lanky Bob called the O'Brien defi in a hurry, but he placed O'Brien dell in a marty, acceptance by a stumbling block in his acceptance by stipulating that the fight must take place in California. That does not suft the Philadelphia fighter, and he is holding out for Fort Erie, and Jack Herman's offer of a $10,000 purse. Many think that Jack has overreached himself in challenging Fitz and that the latter would make a chopping-block of him, but as Dan Boutelle says: "You can never tell." Tommy Ryan, who was supposed have retired from the reped arena, is out with his little bluff, and that is to fight at the middleweight limit, 154 It is about time that Tommy should take to the woods with his limit as all other fighters are not so particular as to a few pounds, and that, too, in classes where a few pounds make a vast difference in the strength of the fighter. There is just this about it. Ryan will never place the middle weight title in jeopardy.

Wife of the Ex-Champion Resents a Remark With Uppercuts.

NEW YORK, March 31.-Mrs. Terry McGovern vindicated her right to her husband's name in the wee sma' hours of the morning during the progress of the Hesper Club's ball at Tammany Hall, when she uppercutted, labbed, hooked and swung on a woman who applied to her an opprobious epithet.

Mrs. McGovern occupied a box at the ball with Jack Rose and a woman whose identity has not been revealed. In course of conversation some triffing argument arose between Mrs. Mc-Govern and the other woman. In order to strengthen her logic with a bit of local color the other woman called the little fighter's better half a name that would read as badly in print as it sounded upon a woman's lips.

In the traditional phrase, "The scene that followed beggars description." Mrs. rushes which have been material factors in the ring career of her husband, the result of which was most disheartening to the other woman. Four men finally pried Mrs. McGovern from the form of

LAFAYETTE GETS

Great Football Player to Direct Athletics for Maroon and Whites.

Dr. Alfred Bull, the former University of Pennsylvania player, has been chosen head coach for the Lafayette football candidates next fall. Dr. Bull played center on the strong Pennsylvania team of '94 and was one of the best centers the college game has produced. Not as big as the usual run of centers, he made up for lack of beef by head work and activity. Perhaps no center ever equaled him in getting down the field under kicks. Dr. Bull played center on the University of Pennsylvania, with Charles Gilbert halfback and end, of fadeless re barre, Pa., and is one of the most popular athletes that old Penn has ever sent forth. He will take the position held by Dr. Newton for several years prior to his going to Lehigh University last season. Dr. Newton's leaving La-fayette to coach Lehigh was not relshed by Lafayette's students. During the years that Dr. Newton directed football at Lafayette, Lehigh never scored a victory, but the very first year that the doctor took charge of Lehigh Browns turned around and walloped the Maroon and White eleven. Dr. Newton was at Pennsylvania during Dr. Bull's time, and they were close friends. Both were star players and are excellent coaches. Dr. Bull is a member of Sigma Nu fraternity, and Dr. Newton is a mem-ber of Phi Delta Theta.

Large Gathering at Memphis Track --- Three Favorites Win Honors at Oakland.

MEMPHIS, Tenn., March $1.-The Montgomery handicap, the first big allaged stake of the year, was won yester day afternoon by John W. Schoor's aged chestnut gelding, Orhnung, in a driving finish, with Harry New second and Witful, the New Orleans Derby winner, third, two lengths away.

The 14 starters lined up in perfect order, and were sent away at the first attempt. Ordnung jumped to the front and, followed by Harry New and Mc-Chesney, passed the stand at a merry clip. Odom used the whip freely the favorite at the start, but he did not respond, and nowhere through the journey did he appear prominent. Ordnung, well handled by Bullman, made all the running and led into the stretch by half a length. Here he was challenged by Harry New, and in a spirited finish Ordnung won by a head. Re-
