Fourth Annual Exhibition of Kennel Club.

Largest Show in the Circuit and Greatest in the History of the Club.

The fourth around bench show of the Portland Kennel Club was opened under the most auspicious circumstances, at 10 o'clock this morning. Exposition Building was occupied with the dogies'" booths and the strange environments was the cause for a universal bark from the entered canines.

There are over four hundred dogs entered, making the present show the largest in the circuit and also the greatest in the history of the local kennel club. There are dogs of every color, degree, pedigree and "growl" on exhibition. The owners of former prize winners smiled sweetly in the eyes of their favorite dogs and the dogs returned the grin. The show is made up of men, women and dogs, the latter predomi-nating. It is once in a dog's career when he is forced to the front and ad-

Secretary W. W. Penslee said this morning that the prospects for a suc-cessful show are decidedly bright, and that he was pleased to note the great in-terest everybody is displaying in the exhibition. George Raper, of England, who has been appointed judge, arrived yesterday, and at 2:30 this afternoon be gan his difficult task of selecting the

Two Law Violators Run Against Game Warden Alisky.

(Journal Special Service.) SALEM, April 15 .- Chas. and John French, young farmers living about four miles from this city, were arrested this morning upon complaint of Deputy Game Warden Charles Alisky, of Portland. The men are charged with killing Chinese pheasants, grouse, quail and song The warrant was issued from Justice of the Peace E. D. Horgan. The men were arraigned today, and their trial is to take place tomorrow. These young men are accused of having persistently killed birds, in violation of the law, and the Game Warden's office is determined to put a stop to the ruthless Violations of this character are growing more plentiful, and only

Britt and Fitzgerald Are Training Hard.

There Is a Possibility That Boxing Will Soon Be Permitted Again at Oakland.

SAN FRANCISCO, April 15.—The contest between Jimmy Britt and Willie Fitzgerald has been postponed from the 24th to the 28th inst. The latter is will let up in his training for a few days so as not to be overtained when he enters the ring. Fitzgerald can scale 128 pounds with little work and will enter the ring lighter than J. Edward. The latter cannot possibly go under 130 at 3 o'clock and be strong.

Britt is working like a beaver at Larkspur and is reported in great shape. He has Dave Barry, the big middle-weight, boxing with him and bustles him around with ease. Several lightweight boxers will visit Jimmy's training quarters from now until the fight to of the Olympic Club of this city is well thought of by the members of that institution, who always get together and root long and loud for him at all his fights.

Tim McGrath, the premier trainer, has jumped from Britt's camp to the quarters of Willie Fitzgerald and there a bitter feeling against him among ritt's friends. McGrath has conditioned him for all his fights in this city and it seems funny that he should shift to the other side at this time. Tim is loud in his praise of Fitzgerald's tryouts and looks for him to defeat the fast Britt.

The Yosemite club has decided to wait until the Britt-Fitzgerald contest is decided before signing a match for its show next month. If the Eastern lightweight is successful he will be matched to fight Joe Gans for the lightweight championship of the world. Should the local boy win they will have to look for some other card, as in refuses to consider a match with a colored man.

Young Corbett has decided that week's rest at the springs would be of great benefit to him before starting on his tour of the Northwest with a theatrical company. He left for Bartlett Springs, accompanied by Harry Corbett and a couple of local sporting men. He will do nothing but drink mineral water while away. Abe Attel is now well on his way

East. He will probably meet Terry McGovern at Fort Erie in May. The matchmaker of that club is looking for a good feather to put against the Brooklyn iad, and it looks as if Attel will be the pick.
