GRADUAL DECLINE

This is the fate of sufferers from kidney trouble, as the disease is so insidious that often people have serious kidney trouble without knowing the real cause of their illness, as diseased kidneys allow the impurities to stay in the system and attack the other organs. This accounts for the many different symptoms of kidney disease.

You begin to feel better at once when taking FOLEY'S KIDNEY CURE as it stimulates the heart, increases the circulation and invigorates the whole system. It strengthens the urinary organs and gives you new life and vigor.

ACTION NEEDED TO GET TRADE

Congressman William Aggressive.

Discusses Portland's Chances in Transport Business in Letter to the Board of Trade.

Congressman J. N. Williamson stands as one of Portland's champions in the battle for the transport trade started by The Journal. He counsels that immediate action of a decisive character be taken by Portland commercial organizations and unhesitatingly and without solicitation premises his assistance in every way possible. His views, stand and desires are set forth in the following letter received from Mr. Williamson by Secretary Max M. Shillcock of the Portland Board of Trade:

"In the Oregonian of today is an editorial in reference to the Government transport situation that occurs to me very timely. It occurs to me that either your Board of Trade or the Portland Chamber of Commerce, or both, should now be moving actively in this matter. I have no doubt that the Government is at the mouth of the Columbia River in case no business reason, save that of pernicious inactivity on our part, why Portland should not have that portion of the transport business which it can furnish aboard ship for the same or less money than can San Francisco or Seattle.

"If such is the case, it would appear of extreme moment to lay before the War Department the exact condition relative to the facilities that now exist for the coming into and going out of the Columbia River. If the mouth of the Columbia is in such a condition that vessels drawing 26 feet of water and less cannot enter in safety there then remains but little to be said in reference to securing for Portland its share of such transport business. If, on the other hand, the river is in such condition that ships engaged in such traffic can enter in safety, there is no legitimate reason why Portland should not receive a portion of the rewards.

"Speaking for myself, I fully appreciate the necessity of having our facilities for handling the transport business put before the War Department in the right light. If this has not already been done, so that those of our business firms who may see fit to make an effort to secure a part of this business may not be handicapped by the theory that the river is not navigable for such ocean-going craft as are engaged in the transport service. I believe that it is the duty of our delegation to render every assistance in its power to help along this important matter. I desire to state to your board that my services are at call at any time when in your opinion any word or act of mine will be of assistance."

PENDLETON'S SEWER SYSTEM

(Journal Special Service.) PENDLETON, May 9.—The City Council met in special session Thursday and authorized the committee on sewer to enter into a contract with the Denver, Colo., Sewer Pipe Co., to furnish the City of Pendleton sewer pipe for the proposed sewer system. The company agree to furnish the pipe for $17,644.16. The standard grade pipe will be used instead of the extra heavy, as was the thought of the authorities at the first meeting.

Rex Garrett was bound over to the November term of the District Court today by United States Commissioner Hailey in the sum of $250 for selling liquor to John Wilson, an Indian. He was unable to furnish the necessary bonds and was taken to Portland by Deputy A. E. Roberts, to be placed in jail. Garrett will in all probability plead guilty to the charge and serve his time, as by so doing he will gain his liberty in a couple of months before the jury meets.

The interscholastic oratorical contest was held at Pendleton last night, a which time Robert Cronin, of Pendleton won the decision and prize, consisting of a set of "Modern Eloquence," by his oration on "Devotion to Duty." The other contestants were: Bert W. Prescott, of the Baker City High School; "The Present Crisis," Miss Ola Tuttle of the Union High School; "Nothing Succeeds Like Success," The Judge, were Major J. D. Slater, of La Grande, President French, of Weston, Norma School and Colin V. Dymont of the Spokesman-Review.
