

POWER OF MAFIA AND CAMORRA

Terrorism and blackmail are the favorite methods by means of which the Mafia and the Camorra, the nihilists and most of those other kindred secret societies of the Old World organized under the mantle of politics for crime, obtain the funds with which the leaders seem to be always so amply supplied. But counterfeiting, fraud, robbery, arson, and murder are likewise employed to fill the exchequer when necessary, and no considerations of life or property are permitted to stand in the way of the provision of revenue. These various associations to exist in comfort and luxury without any visible means of support. The murder last week of Benedetto Maduena, in New York, and the capture of a gang of Sicilian Mafiaists, as responsible for the crime, have served to call once more the attention of the American public to the ways in which the members of these politico-criminal secret societies of Europe manage to obtain their supplies. It was because Maduena, himself a member of the Mafia, had objected to its appropriation of a sum of $25,000 belonging to his convict brother-in-law, and of $150,000 which he had furnished to the chief of his lodge in order to secure the transfer of his relative from Sing Sing to the Erie State Penitentiary, that he was murdered. It is not clear how he had been under lock and key, a fund of many thousand dollars has already been collected from the Italian residents in New York, in order to provide for the release of the prisoners.

Money Extorted by Threats. It is hardly necessary to say that money has not been voluntarily subscribed, but has been furnished in response to those threats and menaces, which will likewise render it well-nigh impossible for the authorities to secure any kind of Italian testimony against Maduena and his confederates. It is difficult to convince any Italian, especially if he falls from those portions of King Victor Emmanuel's dominions which lie to the south of Rome, that there is any agency of the law, either in the land of his birth or in this country, that is powerful enough to protect him from the anger of the Mafia, if for one reason or another he incurs its wrath. And it is only fair to add that this belief on his part is confirmed to a great extent by experience. In Central Italy the Camorra and in Northern Italy the secret anarchist associations exercise a similar degree of terrorism, and a curious illustration thereof was furnished in the case of King Umberto's assassin, Bresci. Previous to his coming to America he was earning good wages as head waiter at the great Mitchell Silk Mills at Lucca.

The chief proprietor of these mills was the Financier, Max Martinelli, and Bresci, who made no attempt to conceal his devotion to the anarchist cause, held the banker in such a state of terrorization concerning the safety of the mills and of his own life that when Bresci found it necessary to proceed to the United States in the interest of the movement it was the banker himself who paid for the man's passage to America by first-class, and furnished him not only with money, but also with a costly photographic outfit, Bresci having, among his belongings, a camera which he had developed on for amateur photography.

TROUBLES OF AN EX U. S. ADMIRAL

(Journal Special Service.) SAN FRANCISCO, May 13.—Rear-Admiral F. P. Gilmore of the United States Navy, who was yesterday in a suit brought against him in Judge Trout's court yesterday, Julian E. Carey, the stepfather of Admiral Gilmore's former wife, sued him to recover $1,100 which he claimed he had expended in supporting the Admiral's wife from 1894 until 1900. Carey claimed that Gilmore had abandoned Mrs. Gilmore in this city and that he was forced to depend upon her parents for maintenance until her death in 1900. On motion of Attorney Charles W. Slaok for the defendant, however, Judge Trout entered an order of nonsuit, because the plaintiff failed to prove any abandonment on the part of the naval officer or that he had failed to contribute to her support.

The Rear-Admiral married Carey's stepdaughter, Miss Julia Ward, in New York City in 1892 while he was a Lieutenant-Commander in the American Navy. Subsequently she removed with her parents to San Francisco and the Gilmore residence was reduced to a mere tenement house. But in 1894 the domestic troubles of the Careys drove the naval officer from their home and he asked his bride to go with him. Mrs. Gilmore refused to leave her mother and go to the couple's new home. The woman proved obedient to the sea and for five years was absent. He never saw his wife again. However, he gave her an allowance of $75 per month for some years, and then by agreement this amount was reduced to $50 per month. Meanwhile Mrs. Carey left her husband and, with her daughter, the naval officer's wife, went to live in the Eastern States. She procured a divorce from Carey at Philadelphia in 1897, and thereafter mother and daughter resided in New Jersey until the latter's death three years later.

In his complaint Carey stated that during the five years his wife was in his care for her, but on the witness stand he was obliged to admit that he never saw her after 1896. It is a matter of record in the courts of Philadelphia that Mrs. Carey secured her divorce from him on the ground of his failure to provide and more, that during their married life, which began in 1876, Carey had never contributed a penny toward the support of his wife and daughter. Judge Trout, therefore, decided that Carey was not entitled to any money from Gilmore on account of supporting an abandoned wife.

F. P. Gilmore survived forty years in the American Navy and was captain of the monitor Monadnock when he was retired in 1892 with the rank of Rear-Admiral. His distinguished services in the Philippines during the Spanish-American War brought a completion of disease upon him which forced his retirement before he reached the age limit. A year after the death of his wife he married a wealthy widow in New York City and that municipality is his permanent home. He came to San Francisco a few days ago to defend himself against Carey's suit, and now that he has won a civil victory as overwhelming as his naval victories, he will return to the Eastern States.

New Overland Service. Fast time to Chicago and the East via the Union Pacific and Chicago, Milwaukee & St. Paul Railway. That is the route of the new overland service. FOUND NUGGET WORTH $3,000

(Journal Special Service.) BAKER CITY, Ore., May 13.—John Peters found a $3,000 gold nugget in John Day River. He brought the nugget and deposited it in the Citizens' National Bank. The nugget weighs 80 pounds. This will probably cause a rush of placer miners to the ground along the John Day River.

LANE COUNTY WOODMEN.

(Journal Special Service.) EUGENE, Ore., May 13.—The Lane County Woodmen of the World are making elaborate preparations for a "log-rolling," which will be held in this city Friday, May 15. Business has already commenced to decorate, and Eugene promises to wear the most elaborate holiday attire ever seen in the valley metropolis. The exercises will consist of a ball game in the morning, between Springfield and Eugene Camps, W. O. W., followed in the afternoon by various games and sports, an immense parade, public drills by companies of the Uniform Rank of the Woodmen of the World, ten floats and nearly a thousand Woodmen. The Woodmen will in large measure be dressed alike, and the parade will be a grand affair with rich colors. The railroad company has made special rates from Portland and Ashland, and the attendance promises to double the population of the city, for the time being.

FANS ARE GLAD.

OREGON CITY, May 13.—The hearts of the local fans will be glad to learn that the Oregon City team, together with the Vancouver Maroons, the Schillers and Monarchs of Portland, have organized an inter-state league for the season. A cup will be played for, and will be put up by the Portland team. Games will be played every Sunday during the summer.

KING EDWARD IN EDINBURGH.

(Journal Special Service.) EDINBURGH, May 13.—The second day of King Edward's visit to the Scottish metropolis was a busy one, beginning at 10 o'clock this morning with an inspection of the Black Watch in Dalrymple Park and ending at a late hour in the afternoon with the formal opening of a new hospital at Colinton. After the inspection of the Black Watch and the presentation of South African medals to the officers and men of that regiment the King and Queen left for Dalrymple House, where they took lunch. The decorated streets of the capital were crowded with spectators and their majesties met with joyous acclaim.

HELP BUILT UP THE WEST.

The low rates from the East to the North Pacific Coast to June 15th, will undoubtedly bring out thousands of settlers. Where they will go is largely a question of inclination. If you are interested in securing any Eastern people for your section of the country, send their names and addresses to the undersigned. All the facts and figures about the trip will be promptly sent them. H. S. Rowe, general agent, Chicago. Milwaukee & St. Paul Railway, 124 Third street, Portland, Ore.

Late Sporting

PACIFIC NATIONAL LEAGUE. Yesterday's Score. Seattle 11, Butte 7, Helena 11, Spokane 7. Standing of the Clubs. Seattle 11, Los Angeles 10, Butte 9, Spokane 8, San Francisco 8, Helena 8, Portland 8.

Seattle, May 13.—Duggan's men won yesterday's game on a fluke. With the score tied in the tenth, Hogman, the first man for Seattle, hit one backstop, who fielded the ball cleverly, but threw it into the bleachers and Hog made the circuit. Score: Seattle 11, Butte 7. Batteries—Hog and Stanley; Dowling and Smith.

Arrives With Horses.

(Journal Special Service.) NEW YORK, May 13.—Monroe Salisbury has arrived here with the biggest stable of harness horses that will be campaigned in the East this season by any Californian. Salisbury this year will pin his faith to a great extent in Monte Carlo and Mush. Monte Carlo was one of the sensations of last season. He took a record of 2:09 1/4 and is therefore eligible to start in the 2:10 class. He is the reluctant favorite for fast classes at pacing. He is an enormous horse and has shown wonderful speed in his workouts. Whether he possesses stamina yet to be determined. Mush was sired by Lottery Ticket, was also Dick, who goes along in the same car. A green trotter that will figure in several of the rich events of the year is Monroe, son of Seymour Wilkes, who was a fast pacer in his day. Judge Green, by Director, is also expected to make a good showing in the East. Salisbury also brings the young harness horses which Tom Butler purchased at the Palo Alto sale several months ago.

Jack O'Brien's Liberality.

Jack O'Brien, who recently met Marvin Hart of Louisville at Philadelphia in a six-round bout, treated the latter very liberally in the way of money after the fight. According to the agreement made before the men went into the ring, Hart was to deposit his deposit of $250, which he had posted to make weight and lose his end of the gate receipts if he did not knock out O'Brien in the six rounds. After failing to do the trick for O'Brien, Hart found himself shy of money and a long way from home. O'Brien, like a heart, and he cleared that O'Brien and he had posted to make weight and lose his end of the gate receipts if he did not knock out O'Brien in the six rounds. After failing to do the trick for O'Brien, Hart found himself shy of money and a long way from home. O'Brien, like a heart, and he cleared that O'Brien and he had posted to make weight and lose his end of the gate receipts if he did not knock out O'Brien in the six rounds.

Wrestling Go Tonight.

(Journal Special Service.) SEATTLE, May 13.—James Carroll of this city and Chris Pearson of Tacoma meet tonight in a wrestling bout at Germania Hall. As this is the first contest of its kind that has been pulled off in this city for some little time, it should arouse a good deal of interest among the sportively inclined. Carroll is fully 10 pounds lighter than his opponent, but he has all the confidence in the world in his ability to fetch home the long end of the money.

"Young" Gibbs Lost.

(Journal Special Service.) SALT LAKE, May 13.—A large crowd was on hand last night when "Young" Gibbs (colored) of Ohio, and Jerry McCarthy met in a 20-round contest at the waterweight limit. The colored man broke his left hand in the eighth round, and in the tenth round the decision was awarded to the sturdy Celt, who hails from Montana.

King and Freeman.

(Journal Special Service.) OREGON CITY, May 13.—The sport followers of this city intend turning out in large numbers on Saturday night, May 26, when Andy King of Montana and Frank Freeman of this city meet in a 20-round contest at 125 pounds in the Armory's commodious auditorium.

Sports Are Coming.

(Journal Special Service.) OREGON CITY, May 13.—A car load of sports will go to Portland tonight to witness the Carl and Dan Dalton test. Both men have many admirers in this city. The late car will be held until the evening's events are over, so that all may return home tonight.

No Decision Given.

(Journal Special Service.) PHILADELPHIA, May 13.—Jack Johnson, the California colored heavyweight, and Joe Butler, the local colored boxer, met in a lively six-round, no decision contest before the Washington Sporting Club the 11th inst.
