

NOTHING BUT HORROR

The Anti-Semite Epidemic Grows in Eastern Europe.

Tale of the Awful Cruelty Against Jews in Roumania.

Husband's Eyes Put Out in Defending Young Wife's Honor -- Her Baby Girl Thrown From Window.

(Journal Special Service.)
BERLIN, May 21.—Dispatches received by all papers here today show that a violent anti-Semitic epidemic has resulted throughout Eastern Europe from the Kishineff massacre. In Roumania, Prince Mourouzi, formerly Governor of Bucharest, is reported to be inciting the populace against all Jews. The government has been informed of the situation and it causes grave anxiety in the district of Putna, where women are reported to have taken the matter up and are preaching bloody crusades against the Jews.

Many other districts in Roumania are similarly disturbed. The Bucharest correspondent of the Vossische Zeitung writes his paper that a general massacre of Jews in Roumania has been planned for today and that the government is encouraging the feeling against the Jews. The Minister of the Interior has announced that other massacres have been planned to take place on White Sunday.

One letter tells of a Jewish hunchback school teacher was taken from his home and nails were driven six inches deep into his hump and caused a fatal injury.

Another report states that a Jewish husband in trying to protect his young wife from a brutal and criminal assault by a Russian, was totally blinded by the police, who struck his eyes out with swords. The young woman died two hours later, but not before she saw her little four-year-old girl thrown from a window and killed.

NEW YORK, May 21.—The total received for Kishineff sufferers up to date is $36,000. Letters giving details of these horrors continue to arrive. They make simply a uniform story of the atrocities, confirming all previous reports. The report is confirmed here that there are 1,000 Russian spies in this city alone who watch every detail of movements in the district. It is believed that trouble will eventually come with the Czar's government because of the presence of his secret agents.

CHAMPIONSHIP QUITS

(Journal Special Service.)
GRANTS, Ore., May 21.—A sporting event of note for the citizens that is to be held in Grants, Ore. during the month of June will be a contest for the world's championship of quiet pitching. B. Tichenor of this city, present world champion, will defend his title against R. L. Bell of San Francisco. Tichenor has defeated every man he has met since 1876. He won the world's championship cup in 1879, while Bell never lost a game in all his contests and has been trying for over two years to pitch a game with Tichenor, who feels sure he will regain his title. In speaking of the coming contest he said: "I wanted to pitch Bell's first, but Harrier challenged me first, and as I only have to pitch one game a year to keep the cup, I did not care to meet Bell after doing Harrier." Bell will be a hard man to win from. He has a long, steady arm and is good at rigging.

Three-pound brass quits will be used at the coming contest.

TWENTY THOUSAND ACRES DISPOSED OF

Big Day's Work in the State Land Office at Old Rates.

(Journal Special Service.)
SALEM, May 21.—At 5 o'clock last evening the State Land Office ceased selling school land at $1.25 per acre, and today the same land is worth $2.50, or double the former price under the act of the Legislature Assembly, passed last winter. Yesterday's sales aggregated 20,000 acres, a large part of it in Eastern Oregon. The State Land Office was crowded with eager purchasers, and the office, for a week, was worked before the day closed. The receipts of the day reached a total of $24,981.81. Since May 1, 1885 certificates have been issued by the office, the aggregate of that time aggregating 125,250 acres.

WALLA WALLA HAS PROGRAM PREPARED

(Journal Special Service.)
WALLA WALLA, Wash., May 21.—"Roosevelt Day," next Monday, will be the greatest event in the history of Walla Walla, provided the weather is pleasant. The crowds that will gather will exceed in numbers and enthusiasm any gathering in Southeastern Washington in all of the past years. The celebration of the President's visit will surpass any demonstration ever undertaken.

President Roosevelt and party, consisting of Governor McBride, Senators Ankeny and Foster, and other prominent personalities, will arrive in the city at 4:30 in the afternoon, over the Oregon Railway, and at the depot will be met by an escort from the Ninth Cavalry, thousands of citizens and several bands.

A Presidential salute of 21 guns will be fired by the Tenth Battery Field Artillery. From the depot the line of march will be to Whitman College, where President Roosevelt will address the people from an elevated platform on the campus. From the college the line of march will be down Main street to the courthouse, where 2,000 school children will be formed in line to greet the national chief. A brief address will be made to the children by the President.

The march will be continued to Fort Walla Walla, where the troops of the Ninth Cavalry will be reviewed, together with the battymen of the Tenth Battery. This will close the public demonstration, and the party will retire to the residence of Senator and Mrs. Ankeny for dinner. The party will be the guests of Senator Ankeny until the special train leaves at 9:30 o'clock for the return to Spokane.

An immense arch has been erected at Main and Second streets, and patriotic decorations will flutter from every house and business place in the city, when the President arrives. The city is making every preparation to entertain an immense crowd. Nearly a dozen special trains will be run to Walla Walla from all parts of the valley and Eastern Oregon.

MISSING RANCHER IS FOUND HANGING

He Dropped Out of Sight From Astoria About Six Weeks Ago.

(Journal Special Service.)
ASTORIA, May 21.—The body of Anders Nelson, a rancher who resided near Seaside and who had disappeared mysteriously, was today found hanging yesterday afternoon from a tree on the hills back of the city by George Coffeyberry, who was looking for cattle.

There is no question but that it was a case of suicide, as the body was fastened to a small tree by a belt around the dead man's neck and from the position of the body death must have resulted from suffocation.

The deceased was identified by papers found in his clothing, though the body was badly decomposed. He was a native of Sweden about 45 years of age and has no known relatives in this country.

Nelson left his ranch about two months ago, telling his neighbors that he intended to go to San Francisco. He came here and left his baggage with a local cigar store, after which he was heard of him again until the body was found by Coffeyberry.

OHIO'S CENTENNIAL IS NOW CONCLUDED

(Journal Special Service.)
CHILLICOTHE, Ohio, May 20.—The celebration of Ohio's 100th birthday was brought to a successful conclusion today. General R. Brinkerhoff of Mansfield presided over the ceremonies this morning and Rev. Joseph Reinecke delivered the invocation. The speakers of the day included S. K. Knabenshue of Toledo, Thomas Ewing, Jr., of New York, Professor H. Venable of Cincinnati and Bishop C. C. McCabe of Omaha. This afternoon there was a grand parade of visiting and home military and civic bodies, reviewed by the Governor and other distinguished visitors.

SOUTHERN PRESBYTERIANS

LEXINGTON, Va., May 21.—The 43d annual session of the General Assembly of the Southern Presbyterian Church was called to order today in the Lexington Presbyterian Church by the retiring moderator, Rev. W. T. Hall, D. D., of Columbia, S. C. About 80 presbyteries, scattered variously over the states of Maryland, Virginia, West Virginia, North Carolina, South Carolina, Kentucky, Georgia, Florida, Alabama, Louisiana, Mississippi, Texas, Arkansas and Missouri, and Indian Territory, were represented by the 200 commissioners in attendance. The session was begun with devotional exercises, and an eloquent sermon was preached by Dr. Hall.

PROGRAM FOR WASHINGTON

Olympia Will Have Over an Hour and Then Tacoma the Day.

(Journal Special Service.)
TACOMA, May 21.—Elaborate preparations have been made in Tacoma for the reception of President Roosevelt and party tomorrow afternoon. The schedule of the train upon which the President will be carried to this city on May 23 is as follows:

Leave Portland 8 a. m., arrive Chehalis 11:30 a. m., leave Chehalis 11:45 a. m., arrive Central 1:15 p. m., leave Central 1:30 p. m., arrive Olympia 2:30 p. m., arrive Tacoma 4 p. m.

Immediately after reaching this city the President and party will be driven through the Main streets, between standing lines of organized bodies, including militia, Grand Army veterans, lodges, etc., and escorted by a troop of cavalry, will be taken to Wright Park, where he will address the representatives gathered here for the State Sunday School convention. The park covers 12 blocks and forms a splendid amphitheatre for a large crowd.

After this address he will be driven about the city and then take part in laying the cornerstone of the new Masonic Temple, where he will make another short address.

At the Tacoma Hotel he will be entertained in the evening at a dinner given by Senator A. G. Foster. Saturday morning he will be escorted to the wharf, where his party will board the splendid steamer Spokane for a trip down the Sound and a visit to the Puget Sound navy yard at Bremerton, under the direction of the Tacoma committee.

Owing to the disagreement which arose between the Tacoma reception committee and Congressman Humphries of Seattle regarding the right to entertain the President and party, the Spokane on this trip, it is probable that there will be no Seattle representatives aboard the boat. Seattle demanded more invitations than the five which were given, and the committee upon being refused these five gentlemen, including Mayor Humes of Seattle, are understood to have refused to accept the invitation.

THEATRICAL OFFERINGS

A Wonderful Play.

Few, if any, plays now before the public have met with the success, both financially and artistically, that "Monte Cristo" has. James O'Neill, who became famous as one of America's greatest actors, won fame in the above play. O'Neill was unheard of until he made his appearance in "Monte Cristo." Aside from having one of the longest runs in New York, Chicago and all cities of any importance in the East, he has, season after season, toured the country and met with phenomenal success. Ralph Stuart's presentation of the play at the Baker this week is far above the rest of the city in acting sense, but as to scenic embellishments and details. It is safe to say that as Edmund Dantes, afterward Count Monte Cristo, Mr. Stuart can be placed on the same footing with the actor that made the part famous, James O'Neill. Frank Camp as Fortier does his same good work in this play that he has done in the others that have preceded. Helen MacGregor, as beautiful as ever, gives a very correct interpretation of Mercedes, and the other characters are also good, while Edward Poland, the comedian of the company, gives a different conception of Cadroux than has heretofore been seen.

"Monte Cristo" will delight the Baker patrons of the remainder of the week with a matinee Saturday.

Presidential Vaudeville.

Tonight will be presidential night at Cordray's and to the crowds of visitors who are in the city, Mr. Shields announces that special care will be taken to give a vaudeville entertainment which in point of excellence has not been approached in Portland. The program this week is unusually attractive and big audiences have endorsed it at matinees and evening performances. Four character sketch teams are on the bill and it is only necessary to mention such people as Eva Thelander and Charles H. Chenoweth, the DeLonges, the Bronsons, and the Bernards to prove the quality of the vaudeville which is now the popular attraction of the city.

For next week has been arranged a complete change of program, and among those booked by Mr. Shields are De Ruiz and Granville the operatic travesty and character change artists. Both play important parts in comic opera and have appeared in the most notable houses in the East. There are seven other distinct features on the program for next week beginning Sunday afternoon. Matinees will continue to be given every day at which children under eight years of age accompanied by older persons will be admitted free except those of Saturday and Sunday.

But tonight is presidential night and the admission of boys of 10 and 50 cents will be charged as usual.

WILL MANUFACTURE WOODEN PULLEYS

New Company is Organized in Portland -- Capital Stock $20,000.

A company has been incorporated by Martin W. Farrell, C. A. Vogt and O. P. Paxton for the purpose of engaging in the manufacture of wooden and metal pulleys. The company has acquired a site on the southeast corner of East First and East Yamhill streets. The company is now in the process of erecting a new corporation taking the place of the old one whose place of business was destroyed by fire about five months ago.

RAILROAD OFFICES CLOSED AT NOON

In accordance with the suggestion of Mayor Williams that all places of business in the downtown district close their doors at noon, the railroad offices of the Southern Pacific, O. R. & N., and Northwest were notified that all work would cease at noon.

It was decided yesterday by local agents for the various companies that they would close at noon. It is probable that the city ticket offices of lines entering Portland will open late in the afternoon to accommodate those who wish to leave the city tonight.

TO STUDY AMERICAN RAILROADS.

(BIRMINGHAM, Eng., May 21.—The Post says the Indian Government has arranged to send a delegation of officers to America to study railway methods with a view of adopting the best systems in vogue and applying them under the reforms in traffic management now being contemplated.

TRIED TO END HIS WIFE WITH A KNIFE

Washington Seligman, New York Broker, Cuts Throat but Will Recover.

(Journal Special Service.)
NEW YORK, May 21.—Washington Seligman, a prominent Wall street operator, and a son of James Seligman and brother of Jefferson Seligman, attempted suicide last night in his room in the Rossmore Hotel by cutting his throat. He was taken to Roosevelt Hospital and was sent to Roosevelt Hospital under arrest.

The wound was inflicted with a pocket knife but was not sufficient to cause death. The doctor, Dr. J. H. Street, after the operation, said that Seligman was resting easily and the doctors say he will recover.

When asked as to the cause of this act Seligman said he had been having a fight with a rival broker, and had become so shattered that he decided to end it all by suicide. Owing to his prominence it is not at all likely that he will be held by the police when he is able to leave the hospital.

Seligman has been engaged in the stock brokerage business for a number of years and is said to have lost heavily on deals of his own account. Seligman was the principal cause of his rash act.

HOW THE VISITORS ARE TAKEN CARE OF

The Portland hotels, restaurants, lodgings, boarding houses and, in fact, places of every nature where accommodations are obtainable, are crowded to the limit today.

The city has been gradually filling up for several days past but it was not until yesterday afternoon and last night that the bulk of the crowd arrived. Long after midnight the streets leading to the larger hotels were crowded with a jostling, good-natured crowd of visitors, each eager to get a peep at the president.

In accordance with a plan agreed to by proprietors of the several hotels of the city, no mail requests for the reservation of rooms in advance were honored. This has given all an equal opportunity and the rule has been, first come first served.

Several thousand outsiders arrived in Portland on the morning trains today. As soon as they passed through the gates at the Union Depot there was a wild scramble for hotel busses and cabs to hurry them to their hotels. Cabs have been placed in the halls of many of the hotels, where a large number of the late comers can be accommodated.

The railroads running into Portland have been doing an office business all week. In addition to the regular spring travel there are about 1,500 Odd Fellows and Rebekahs in the city, brought here from all parts of the state to attend the annual meeting of the grand lodge.

On all regular passenger trains, especially over the Southern Pacific and O. R. & N. lines, it was found necessary yesterday to add several extra coaches and even to turn out the regular standing room to spare. The southern counties of Washington are well represented in the city's crowd today, though as the President will pass through that section over the line of the Northern Pacific tomorrow, many preferred to remain at home and watch the train fly through with the prospect of catching a glimpse of the President than to making a trip to Portland not even that certain.

A special section of the regular morning train from Astoria over the Astoria & Columbia River Railroad brought in several hundred from down river points. This train arrived just before noon and many were waiting at the depot in the afternoon to accompany the President party had arrived ahead of time.

It is estimated that there are from 15,000 to 20,000 visitors in the city this afternoon. Probably a third of this number are staying in the city and have secured rooms in the residence districts. The balance are registered at the various hotels and lodging houses.

To have this large number of strangers in the city is a seeking in good-natured rivalry for all they can get has given local hotel men a problem they have not had to face since the Elks' carnival of three years ago.

INDIGENT ELKS' NATIONAL HOME

(Journal Special Service.)
BEDFORD CITY, Va., May 21.—The eyes of all good Elks throughout the length and breadth of the land were turned toward this picturesque section of the Blue Mountain country today, while thousands of members of the order made the pilgrimage in person to attend the dedication of the National Home for Indigent Elks—the realization of a project that has been a dream of the order for years past. The dedicatory program was in keeping with the importance of the occasion. The speakers included Governor Montague, Senator Daniel and Mayor J. L. Campbell, speaking on behalf of the State of Virginia, and Joseph T. Fanning of Indianapolis, Michigan, grand master of the grand exalted ruler, and chairman of the National Home Committee.

The structure which in future is to be the home for indigent members of the order was formerly Hotel Bedford, and is a large, commodious building. The building, which originally cost $100,000, was purchased by the Elks for $15,000, and they have spent over $40,000 in improvements.

KREEL MURDER TESTIMONY.

(Journal Special Service.)
HELENA, Mont., May 21.—Good progress is being made in the Kreel murder case. The chief witness yesterday was Thomas H. Duffy of Duluth, who was with Kreel the afternoon he killed Thomas Crystal, a bartender in the Milwaukee Saloon. Duffy told how Crystal entered the place and ordered beer. Kreel told him to get down his pistol for having insulted him, and then pulled a revolver and fired five times at him. He would not admit that Kreel exhibited any symptoms of insanity. There was a long argument over the admissibility of an insanity-morose statement made by Crystal to one of the proprietors of the saloon. The court took the matter under advisement.

EX-BUNCO ARTISTS JAILED.

James Ryan and Frank Thayer were arrested yesterday and are now incarcerated in the city jail. Neither of the men, the detectives state, are now engaged in bunco work, but their past records are against them, and it was thought best to detain them until after the Presidential visit. Ryan was not recognized when first arrested, but Detective Bay and Captain Simons, who had known him in years past, informed the arresting officers of his identity. Ryan is an uncle of J. L. Post, the young man recently sent up to Salem penitentiary for robbery.

TRAIN TURNED OVER IN WRECK

One Hundred Passengers Escape, But Trainmen Injured.

(Journal Special Service.)
OLDFELLS, May 21.—With over 100 passengers on board a train on the Norfolk Western Road, this morning, an engine struck a switch and jumped the track, followed by every coach. The entire train was turned over, landing the cars on their sides. Not one of the passengers were seriously injured, though several were badly bruised. The engineer and fireman leaped from the cab and both are seriously if not fatally hurt.

The train was running at the rate of 40 miles an hour when the accident happened, and before turning over the cars plowed their way into a field quite a distance from the point of leaving the track and went over in succession.

Two postal clerks who were at work preparing the incoming mail for distribution were the most badly injured of those on the train. It is feared they may both die.

THE STARS AND THE STRIPES FOREVER

Perhaps the prettiest feature of this afternoon's parade was the large American flag formed by the girls of the various public schools of the city. Twenty-five lassies from 13 schools were dressed in the hues of Old Glory matched in such order as to form perfectly the Stars and Stripes. These girls were from 5 feet to 6 feet 5 inches tall and each was clad in a solid color.

The schools which furnished the living ensign were as follows: Park, Thompson, Chapman, Sunnyside, Atkinson, North Central, Irving, Central, Harrison, Stephens, Williams Avenue, Holliday and Couch. The children from the first named school were clad in red, those from the second in white and the colors alternating as given in the above order. Two white stars and the blue field were made up a part of the decorations from the Central, Harrison, Stephens, Williams Avenue, Holliday and Couch schools.

The flag was represented by 50 boys, dressed in white caps and waists, and black knickerbockers, stockings and shoes. The members of the staff were of the uniform height of 5 feet. About half of them were from the Park School, the remainder being from the various other schools represented in the flag.

This flag, the greatest of all flags in the procession, joined the parade at Sixth and Alder streets, where they were drawn up awaiting the arrival of the President from the depot. At the depot on Monday, when clubs were at right angles with the street, the union being at the front. When the procession reached Salmon street the marchers turned by a flank movement so as to make the stripes run parallel with the street.

The waving of the "red, white and blue" occurred in front of the reviewing stand, and was witnessed by the Presidential party and thousands of visitors. The fluttering of the human ensign began by those representing the red stripes bending forward, while the others remained standing; then the white bent and the red stood upright. Other exercises followed. This very pleasing feature of the parade program closed by a hurricane movement, all of the children moving their bodies at will, which gave the effect of the gentle fluttering of a large flag in a soft summer breeze. The applause that followed the movements of this flag was led by Mr. Roosevelt.

Great credit is reflected upon the children and their instructor, Robert Krohn, physical director of the city public schools, in the manner in which they moved. The children had been drilling but ten days.

THREE HUNDRED HAVE TO BE CLUBBED IN ORDER TO QUEL.

NEW YORK, May 21.—Another conflict with the Italian strikers and the police occurred this morning, making the fourth scene of violence around Lafayette Place during the past week. The lesson given the rioters by the police on Monday, when clubs were freely used, did not have the expected effect, for this morning over 300 of the strikers assembled along the subway way and tried to break a large water main in Lafayette Place with heavy rods.

The police charged the mob, clubbing every one in reach, but were met with a determined stand. It finally became necessary to call out the reserve force and put a little more strength into the clubs before the mob was quelled and the strikers dispersed.

COMMITTED TO REFORM SCHOOL.

SALEM, May 21.—Harry Westcott, Willie King and Jacob Bauer, the three boys who had been arrested for stealing bicycles, were yesterday committed to the Reform School. King has been an inmate of the school before and was out on parole. Westcott has previously served a term in the Iowa Reform School. The boys confessed to Chief of Police Gibson that they had for some time systematically stolen and sold bicycles. Their method of procedure was to steal several wheels, exchange parts, repaint and re-name them and sell them as second-hand wheels for whatever they would bring. Several bicycles stolen and sold by them have already been located.

President's Excursion Trains.

The Southern Pacific Company announces that in order to accommodate people coming to Portland to attend the reception of President Roosevelt, the following trains will leave Portland at 6 p. m. May 21, instead of their usual schedule:

- Train No. 4, Portland to Sheridan, on West Side Division; train No. 6, Portland to Dallas, on Yamhill Division; and train No. 13, Portland to Albany, on East Side Division.
