PRINCIPALS BOTH AGREE ON JIM NEIL

Smith and Walcott Met Last Evening.

Walcott Would Not Stand for a Local Man for Referee, so Smith Was Not Obdurate.

The representatives of "Mysterious" Billy Smith and Joe Walcott ("the Barbadoes Demon") met last evening at the Mikado Saloon to select a referee for their 20-round contest to be decided at the Exposition Building under the auspices of the Columbia Athletic Club next Thursday evening.

The colored boxer was decidedly opposed to the selection of a local man to fill the position of referee, while Smith, in his usual off-hand manner, declared: "He was in favor of any man as long as he was an honest and capable one."

After a lengthened discussion in which the names of many well known Pacific Coast gentlemen were discussed the name of Jim Neil, father of the prominent San Francisco featherweight boxer, and blooded stock owner, was favorably mentioned, and negotiations were opened forthwith as to securing his services.

If Neil declines to act another meeting will be held to settle the mooted question, and Joe Acton and Jimmy Geoghegan's names will probably be submitted. The latter gentleman is well known in Seattle sporting circles and has had a lengthened experience in fistfights, while Acton is a gentleman of undoubted reliability and efficiency.

Walcott is Busy. The colored welterweight champion is a busy man, and in company with Jack Johnson, the colored heavyweight, who is after a meeting with the best in his division, covers many miles every forenoon.

Walcott is rapidly getting into the best of condition, and says: "Dead, honey, I've got to bring that winning end back to Boston, sure!"

Billy Smith extends a cordial invitation to his legion of friends to visit his well-equipped training quarters, 61 Russell street, Lower Alhambra, any afternoon at 3 o'clock, when he indulges in his vigorous sensational bag punching set.

The reduced homeseekers' rates, effective February 15, apply via the Denver & Rio Grande. Have your friends come through Salt Lake City, over the scenic line of the world.

WOODLAKE WINS LATONIA DERBY

Big Crowd Witnesses the Great Event.

Talent's Choice Was Rated at 18 to 5, but the Candemas Colt, After Big Play, Captured Stake.

CINCINNATI, O., May 21.—Over a fast track and under a cloudy sky, before 18,000 people, T. C. McDowell's Candemas Colt, Woodlake, carrying 114 pounds, with Jockey Dick Crowhurst up, won the Latonia derby yesterday. The time was 2:34 3/4. The net value of the stake to the winner was $7,035.

The colored boxer was decidedly opposed to the selection of a local man to fill the position of referee, while Smith, in his usual off-hand manner, declared: "He was in favor of any man as long as he was an honest and capable one."

TACOMA REGRETS THE LOSS OF M'CAY

Clever Youngster is Playing Star Baseball for Dugdale at Spokane.

(Journal Special Service.) TACOMA, May 21.—The Tacoma baseball management now greatly regrets its hasty action in releasing Bernie McCay, the young pitcher who has won six straight games for the Seattle Nationals.

McCay is in his first season of professional baseball, and the showing he has made with Dugdale has caused that jovial old soul to beam with rapture every time he has occupied the box.

Although Bernie showed that he had speed and good control, Manager McKibben thought that he was not in the same class with the rest of Tacoma's pitchers. Dugdale grabbed him as soon as he was free, however, and is now taunting the Spokane and Tacoma clubs for letting such a good thing go.

McCay pitched part of last season with the semi-professional team at Everett and was with the Jesse Moore team of the California Mid-Winter League last winter. He is only 22 years of age and was married in the early part of the present year to a San Francisco girl, although the marriage was kept secret, owing to the opposition of the girl's family, until a few weeks ago.

Desirable Race. The race was all that could be desired from a spectacular standpoint. The field, with the exception of the last three, were fairly well bunched all the way, and it looked as if any one of the first six had a chance after they had gone half the distance. Summary: Six furlongs—Jack Rattling won, Alan A. Dale second, Bensonhurst third; time, 1:14.1-2.

One mile—Fonsoluea won, John J. Regan second, Kentucky Cardinal third; time, 1:43.

Five and a sixteenth, selling—Cast Iron won, John Bull second, King's Pet third; time, 2:07.1-4.

"YOUNG" CORBETT ROUNDLY SCORED

Yanger's Manager Hands Him Hot Roast.

(Journal Special Service.) CHICAGO, May 21.—John Hertz, manager of Benny Yanger, is out with the following scathing denunciation of Young Corbett, champion of the featherweight class:

"Young Corbett is the worst coward in the American ring. He fought Terry McGovern the first time because Terry was champion. He fought him the last time because he knew that he could whip McGovern."

"Why doesn't he fight Benny Yanger? My honest belief is that he is as afraid of Benny Yanger as a woman is of a huge sea serpent."

"Young Corbett has not forgotten the time Yanger knocked him senseless. 'If Young Corbett is not a coward I will give him $1,000 in cold cash to prove that he is not by stepping into the ring with the undefeated Chicago featherweight.'"

"This is strictly a bona fide offer. It is not made to attract attention. The offer means business."

"No matter who wins the fight, the champion will receive the $1,000 as soon as he enters the ring with Yanger. 'Young Corbett will not accept it, and if he does not I will have proven him the coward that he is.'"

"But if he should decide to accept the offer he has only to enter the ring to claim the money."

"Yanger will be ready to meet Young Corbett any time after Benny's fight with Eddie Hanlon in June. I have signed an agreement with the San Francisco club manager not to match Benny for any fight before the one with Hanlon; otherwise Benny would be willing to fight Corbett tomorrow."

"Now, I think I have put it up to Young Corbett to prove that he is not a coward."

"If he has not the heart of a chicken, as I verily believe he has, let him claim my $1,000. Let him fight Yanger, the legitimate claimant for the championship belt."

"If Corbett does not accept this offer in the future I shall ignore him entirely."

"Benny Yanger does not have to fight cowards. He likes to meet men with brave hearts—men whom it is an honor to defeat."

"If Benny defeats Eddie Hanlon and Corbett still ignores my offer Yanger will ask the public to recognize him as the legitimate lightweight champion."

"He has knocked out Corbett. Let Corbett show that he can knock out Yanger."

SAYS HE DID NOT QUIT. (Journal Special Service.) PHILADELPHIA, May 21.—"Billy" McCraney, manager of George Cole, the colored boxer, who has sued John McGulgan, manager of the National Athletic Club for $125 and interest due his entry in his recent contest with Jack O'Brien, testified that Cole did not "quit."

"Well, the punishment he received was enough to make any ordinary fighter quit," replied O'Brien. Jack was present in the box office after the bout, when McCraney came in and asked about the proceeds. McCulgan refused to hand over the $125, but offered to take and then McCulgan said: "I won't give you a cent."

The jury was out only five minutes. AFTER BIG GAME. (Journal Special Service.) PHILADELPHIA, May 21.—George Feeley of Sioux City, Iowa, is here fresh from the West, and is seeking matches with all the big men in this section. He stands all six feet in height, scales about 195 pounds, in good condition, and looks like as if he is able to take care of himself in any kind of company. He is anxious for meetings with Jim Jeffords, Jack O'Brien, Joe Butler, or any big man any of the clubs may select. Feeley offers to stop George Ester, who met O'Brien, in the same length of time as it took O'Brien to do the job. He is anxious to get busy.

BIKING ACROSS CONTINENT. (Journal Special Service.) SAN FRANCISCO, May 21.—George Wyman, the local cyclist, who is riding a wheel from this city to New York, is carrying the colors of the Bay City Wheelmen, of which club he is a member. When last heard of he had left Salt Lake City.
