

REST OF POLICE TO BE EXAMINED

Remaining Classes of Police Come Next.

Civil Service Commission Meets Tomorrow—Will Fix Scope and Time of Examinations.

A meeting of the Civil Service Commission will be held tomorrow afternoon at 2 o'clock and if the expected program is carried out the time, general scope and principal features of the examinations for the remaining classes in the Police Department will be determined.

The secretary of the commission announced this morning that a meeting would be held tomorrow afternoon, and stated that the board probably not do more than determine the time and scope of the remaining police examinations. These examinations will cover the following classes: Captains of detectives, jallier, harbor master, deputy harbor master, special policemen and patrol drivers. The last class was recently created and the qualifications for this, like that of the jallier class, being chiefly physical, a medical certificate and former service on the force will be essential.

One question to be settled, will be concerning the physical examinations. Several of the men temporarily appointed and acting as drivers, jallier, detectives and captains have passed one to five physical examinations and many of them are objecting to again go through this test. As the board has a uniform system of rating such examinations and requires returns on regular blanks, it may be necessary for all candidates to be again examined.

The examinations for the Police Department can not be held sooner than June 5 for a two weeks notice must be given after the time of the examination is decided on by the commission, and the probable date will be from three days to a week later. No announcement will be made of the exact nature of the written examinations, nor will these be determined until the day before the examination at which they are to be given. The list of candidates for the several remaining classes in the Police Department is shown herewith. A survey of this list shows that several members of the force have not signified their intention of trying to secure a place under the Civil Service Commission, even the list of candidates for the captaincy showing at least one present officer missing. These persons may have their names placed on the list later, but up to the present time the secretary of the commission has not been flooded with applicants, as he anticipated.

The men who have signified their intention of taking the various examinations are: Captain of Detectives, S. Simmons; Captain of Patrolmen, O. P. Jackson, Charles Venable, John T. Moore, F. C. Geer, E. E. Parker, R. H. Austin; detectives, A. M. Brown, F. J. Snow, J. F. Kellogg, L. C. Hartman, James Day, Daniel Weimer, J. Haessler, H. H. Howland, J. J. Kelly; patrol drivers, J. E. Isaacs, C. S. Vaughn, R. H. Hellyer, patrolmen, August Fleming, F. K. Dolan, J. J. Byrne.

VETERANS OF SOUTH IN LINE

General W. L. Cabell, who was attended by his staff. Behind them marched the six divisions of the department, containing the veterans of Missouri, Texas, Arkansas, Indian Territory and Oklahoma, and those from the Pacific Division. Following the last division was the section assigned to the Sons of Confederate Veterans, who are holding their reunion in New Orleans. The various camps made a good showing, many of them having complete uniform in gray. A number of carriages contained disabled veterans who desired to be in the parade, but were not physically able to stand the strain of marching. They received frequent cheers along the route. When all past the reviewing stand, after having completed the line of march, the parade was dismissed at Canal street and the veterans scattered to their state headquarters.

The reunion which closes today was one of the most successful in the history of the great event. The city of Crescent City has lived up to its reputation for lavish hospitality and has well demonstrated its capability of caring for the largest gatherings. During the week there has been a round of entertainment for all. There have been escorted to all the places of interest in and about the city, and when the business sessions of the reunion have not been in progress there have been receptions, luncheons, balls and other features to meet the needs of the enjoyable. The bulk of the crowd will turn their faces homeward this evening, but many will remain days longer for the purpose of sightseeing.

HARE CANNING TO BE AN INDUSTRY

(Journal Special Service.)
PENDLETON, May 22.—H. C. Willis, secretary of the Echo American Hare Canning and Cold Storage Company, was in Pendleton yesterday making arrangements for flustering the stock of the new concern on the public market. Twelve hundred dozen hares have been contracted for with parties in the vicinity of Echo in shares of the company. ### SHAM BATTLE OFF

The committee in charge desired as much as possible to circulate the news of the postponement.

STATE COMMISSION WILL MEET FRIDAY

This Board to Make Up Budget for Lewis and Clark Cash.

Secretary of State Dunbar this morning telephoned Henry E. Reed that he would call a meeting of the Lewis and Clark Centennial Exposition Commission to assemble here next Friday, May 29.

The law provides that the call for the first meeting shall be issued by the Secretary of State. The first duty of the commission will be to take the oath of office and they will effect permanent organization by the election of one of their number president.

By the act of the recent State Legislature appropriating $500,000 for the celebration of the one hundredth anniversary of the exploration of the Oregon country by Capt. Meriwether Lewis and William Clark, the governor was authorized to appoint a board of 11 commissioners, who are to have charge of the "Commonwealth's part" of the great exposition. Governor Chamberlain named the following citizens to constitute the board:

F. G. Young of Eugene, J. H. Albert of Salem, Jefferson Myers of Salem, Frank B. Williams of Astoria, C. B. Wadsworth of Pendleton, Richard Scott of Milwaukie, and J. C. Flanders, W. E. Thomas, F. A. Spencer and G. Y. Harry, all of this city. F. G. Young is temporary chairman of the Commission and Henry E. Reed is temporary secretary.

A STRANGE FREAK CHICKEN IS THIS

Has Three Legs, One of Which Grows From Back and Overbalances.

(Journal Special Service.)
PENDLETON, May 22.—A. Ruppe, a farmer, residing about seven miles northeast of Pendleton, is the possessor of a freak chicken, fit for the public collection of a museum.

The chicken is about two weeks old and perfectly strong and healthy. It is possessed of three legs. The third sprouts from its back just at the root of the old leg and extends up and to the right. It is perfectly formed, but the toes are shrunken from lack of use. The leg is capable of movement and can be bent at the middle joint, and the toes can be worked as though the leg were normal.

The chicken is apparently strong and healthy and the owner thinks he will be able to raise it to maturity. It has a voracious appetite and is as sprightly as any ordinary two-legged chick. It has a slight peculiarity in its walk, appearing to be overbalanced by the third leg hanging out to one side. It consequently travels sidewise and with one wing slightly higher than the other. Mr. Ruppe is very proud of his pet and is taking every care of it in the hopes that he will be able to raise it to maturity as a curiosity.

TO FIGHT MORMONS.

(Journal Special Service.)
LOS ANGELES, May 22.—The polar question is coming up strongly in the Presbyterian Assembly, and there is talk of a separate Assembly for negroes. This is denounced by certain commissioners, and the matter was discussed between session today. Creed revision is to be discussed Thursday, May 28. The committee to canvass for the vote was appointed today, and will report Thursday. No doubt revision will go through. It is practically unanimous. The new Moderator, Dr. Robert Coyle, will stand for more evangelical work in the Presbyterian Church. It is known that his position on this question helped his election. He will vote for the resolutions against the Mormons. Every Senator should not have been seated; Utah has forfeited the right to state representation. He thinks Mormonism should be fought.

IN MEMORY OF THE PHILIPPINE HEROES

Second Oregon Monument to Be Dedicated at Riverside Next Sunday.

The monument erected by the surviving members of the Second Oregon Volunteers in memory of their comrades who died in the Philippine Islands, will be dedicated at Riverside next Sunday afternoon. The local camps of the Spanish-American War Veterans will be present, and it is thought that several thousand friends of the regiment will gather to do honor to "the silent guards." It is thought to be a pretty one, there will be many flowers brought to place upon the graves of the soldiers buried at the Riverside Cemetery. Addresses will be delivered by Governor Chamberlain, H. W. Scott and Chaplain W. S. Gilbert.

The monument was purchased from funds given by the Second Oregon boys, the money being a part of their last pay received from the government for valiant services in the Islands. The base is made of Rock Oolite granite, being six feet square and 9 feet 10 inches high. It is surmounted by a bronze figure of an American infantryman dressed in field uniform and standing at a position of "ready."

BUILD NEW BRIDGE ACROSS CLACKAMAS

Trestles to Be Filled in and Double Track Laid to Portland.

(Journal Special Service.)
OREGON CITY, May 22.—Workmen in the employ of the Oregon Water Power & Railway Company are now moving a pile driver up the Clackamas River to the electric bridge, that piling might be driven to strengthen that structure. The work is swift and shallow and the work of moving the pile driver is accomplished with great danger, as was demonstrated Wednesday. Three men with a 700-pound anchor, had gotten into a skiff and started around the point of the river when the current caught them and the men and boat were swept against and under the bridge. They managed to hang to the boat until rescued by fellow workmen. That one of all were not drowned is marvellous, considering the cold temperature of the water.

Piling will be driven on either side of the trestle and the trestle strengthened to allow for the passage of the engine and Roger-ballast cars that will be used in the work of filling the long trestle between the flats. Engine No. 112 will haul the eight to twelve cars that will make up the work train. It is expected that the job will be completed in about three months. Night and day shifts will work on the job.

UNIONISM WINS A SIGNAL VICTORY

MR. SCHUMANN DID THE GRAND.

Assisted the President to Lay the Corner Stone for the Lewis and Clark Monument.

Hon. Otto Schumann, who has the contract for building the Lewis and Clark Monument, was the President's right-hand man at that important event in the City Park yesterday afternoon. Mr. Schumann had all things in readiness, and when his excellency arrived at the spot where he was to spread the first mortar the contractor was all attention and not a slip or a miss marred or marked the occasion. The rain was pouring down at the time and the President looked as if he had been taking a shower bath.

"Pretty wet day, Mr. President," Mr. Schumann remarked.

"I reckon," was the response. "This is rain, ain't it? Or is this what you workfolers call 'Oregon mist'?" Then in a half whisper, "I've heard of this before."

Mr. Schumann had divested himself of his coat and covered Mr. Roosevelt's chair with it, so that it should not get wet.

"Put that coat on your back again," said the President, "and I'll help you." Suiting action to his words Mr. Roosevelt assisted Mr. Schumann to put on his coat— "Didn't you know that you might catch your death of cold?" he added, and thereupon he took the silver trowel Mr. Feldenheimer had provided and the corner stone of the Lewis and Clark Monument was placed in position.

From Mr. Schumann's marble works, adjoining the Taylor-street church, have been taken many of the conspicuous monuments that adorn the several cemeteries adjacent to Portland. He has originated and constructed monuments to the dead that would do credit to any workmen in the world. Designing is one of his strong holds, he having graduated from one of the most celebrated schools of designing in Germany—a school that has no superior on earth.

It is well that so experienced and competent a workman has the contract for the erection of this monument that will forever commemorate the explorations of the venturesome ones who found for us this great commonwealth. It will likewise serve as a monument to Mr. Schumann himself—one that will remind the generations to come that in this day and age we had among us men capable of forming into artistic shape the rocks of our state that they might forever live to tell to civilization the story of the home-gladly paid to men deservings of human love.

story does not bear out this assertion. It is as follows: He had been out riding on his wheel, and on returning dismounted in front of his own door. Kerr, who lives directly opposite, was standing at his own gate. Peacock says that Kerr asked him, "What is the matter with you?" He answered "Nothing; what's the matter with you?" Some other few words passed between them, but nothing of any consequence. Kerr then started to cross the road and came probably half way across and then turned back. Peacock walked into his house and came out with a shotgun. As Kerr reached his own gate, he turned around and faced Peacock, who threw his gun to his shoulder and blazed away. His victim staggered and fell and then tried to reach his own door.

Peacock put away his gun and went to Independence and gave himself up. Sheriff Ford went down after him and lodged him in the jail here Monday evening.

Peacock is about 35 years of age and is badly deformed. Being a hunchback, Kerr was about 45 years of age, and leaves a wife and two children. A lawyer from Portland has been engaged to defend Peacock and the preliminary trial will come off in a short time.
