"I'll remain in this gallery until that 25 cents is returned," quoth the angry Mrs. Whitehead. "You will have to leave this place, or I'll get you out of here."

Destitute Thousands Are Being Fed and Clothed and Further Great Suffering Is Believed to Be Over--Waters Now Receding from Scene.

ST. LOUIS, June 12.—The river fell three-tenths of a foot last night, and the situation in East St. Louis is materially improved.

The scene in the flooded districts are not nearly so appalling as yesterday and the bright sun now shining gives a cheerful and hopeful aspect to the situation.

A survey of the flooded district was made today and great surprises were in store for the committee appointed by the Mayor to go over the inundated parts of the city.

It was supposed that nearly all persons had been taken from their places of danger by 10 o'clock last night, but this morning it was ascertained that fully 200 families, more or less large, had remained in their homes.

The situation was becoming desperate, and what to do was not plain. Finally Cuthbith opened the door, which had been barricaded for some time to prevent Mrs. Whitehead from entering, and informed her that if she did not go away, he would call a policeman and have her ejected.

DUGDALE'S MEN JOIN BROWNS

Pitcher Hogg Declares that Dugdale Assaulted Him Last Night on the Street and He Had Cause to Leave.

Left Fielder Hurlburt and Pitcher Hogg of Dugdale's Seattle Pacific National League team, thoroughly dissatisfied with the methods of the management, have joined the Portland Browns.

Hogg Assaulted. Hogg, who is one of the most gentlemanly players in the Coast country, was assaulted last night in front of the Imperial Hotel by Manager Dugdale of the Seattle team.

It appears that Hogg had some difficulty in securing money that was due him from the Seattle management and when he asked Dugdale for it he received a right-hand punch in the jaw in return for the asking.

Asked concerning changes to be made under instructions from the department at Washington, Senator Fulton was reticent.

"That is something I cannot discuss without the violation of a confidence imposed in me," he said. "Of course it will all be known in time, but it would not be right for me to speak of it now."

"We will work for a Lewis and Clark Fair appropriation," he said, "but in this regard we need help from the managers of the Fair. We will do our best."

FULTON FAVORS FRIEND

Openly Declares Himself the Champion of George C. Brownell to Succeed John Hall as U. S. Attorney.

Oregon's Junior Senator Says He Has no Fear His Candidate Will Be Turned Down by Delegation.

Says Senators and Congressmen Will Work to Secure Fair Appropriation and Open the Columbia River.

Charles W. Fulton, junior United States Senator from the State of Oregon, does not hesitate to openly and emphatically declare himself in favor of George C. Brownell as the next incumbent of the office of United States District Attorney, to succeed John Hall.

Senator Fulton says the Oregon delegation will work together without friction; that an appropriation for the Lewis and Clark Fair will be striven for; that the effort to open the Columbia River to navigation at the dallas will never be abandoned; that government irrigation work in this state has already been petitioned for.

In his government position as United States Marshal for the District of Oregon, "Jack" Matthews is safe from Senator Fulton's interference. Speaking of the political activity of Matthews, the Senator said: "That is something for the people of Portland to take action on if they see fit. I do not live in Portland and do not think I am concerned in the matter."

Senator Fulton, whose home is in Astoria, arrived in Portland this morning and will remain until Saturday night. This evening he will meet Senator John H. Mitchell, Congressman J. N. Williamson and Congressman Binger Hermann, the conference being to map out a policy and distribute patronage concerning Federal offices in Oregon. The meeting may continue until tomorrow. He will return to Astoria Saturday evening.

Opposing George C. Brownell for the position of United States District Attorney, Judge Moreland of Portland is considered most prominent, although several other politicians have been mentioned. It is understood John Hall, the present incumbent, is making no active campaign for retention of the office, but that he would not refuse reappointment if it were offered.

George C. Brownell, a resident of Oregon City and president of the Senate at the last session of the Oregon Legislature, was a staunch supporter of Fulton for United States Senator. Mr. Brownell was for some time cloistered with Senator Fulton at the Hotel Portland this morning.

After his election as Senator Mr. Fulton declared publicly at Salem that he owed his success to Brownell. "You may say for me," Senator Fulton said just after a departure of Brownell, "that I favor Mr. Brownell for appointment to the position of United States District Attorney. Not only do I favor him, but I feel certain he will get it. He will certainly receive my support and I believe the entire delegation will act together. Mr. Brownell is a thoroughly competent man, and I believe he deserves the place and will fill it to the satisfaction of the people."

When asked the significance of the meeting which is to be held here this evening, Senator Fulton said: "No great political importance can be attached to this gathering. The Oregon delegation has never been together and since the election of Mr. Hermann we have felt there should be a conference as regards policy and Federal appointments. There are some places to fill and some recommendations for changes have been asked for by the department. The most important positions to which appointments are to be made are the land offices at Burns, Lake View and Roseburg. There are a number of postmasters to be named also. Regarding the office of United States District Attorney I have already spoken."

Concerning the work to be done by the Oregon delegation the Senator speaks freely. "We will work for a Lewis and Clark Fair appropriation," he said, "but in this regard we need help from the managers of the Fair. We will do our best."

Managers Grim and Dugdale were seen regarding the desertion of Hurlburt and Hogg refused to talk.
