SPORTING NEWS FROM SEATTLE

Racing at The Meadows Has Been Crowded Every Day Since the Opening, the Sport Fine and Winnings Large.

Buddy King of Denver Who Is to Meet Joe Gans on July Fourth Is Training Faithfully for the Event.

(Journal Special Service) SEATTLE, Wash., June 20.—The racing man has taken hold of this city in earnest and the study of the "dope" sheet has become the prevailing fashion.

Never before the present meeting has this city been given anything approaching a season of modern horse racing as the sport is known in the big Eastern and Southern cities.

The present meeting, however, is being conducted on metropolitan lines and bids fair to be the forerunner of a series of similar races meets in the Northwest that will not only make racing popular at home, but will attract to this and other tracks of the racetrack circuit the best horse flesh on the continent.

In point of patronage the meeting leaves nothing to be desired. On only one occasion since the opening day has the attendance been less than 2,000, and that day was one of wind and rain.

This is saying much when it is considered that during the first week of the meeting the races shared the sporting patronage with baseball and other sporting events of interest.

Up to the present writing the bookmakers have had far the worst of the argument with the betting public. This is due partly to the liberal odds that have been laid, and partly to the fact that the public has shown remarkable aptitude in picking the winners. It is a condition of things that makes the game popular, though it is somewhat hard on the bookies.

Boxing Gossip. Local interest in the coming battle between Joe Gans, the world's champion lightweight, and Buddy King of Denver is added to by the fact that the last named fighter is now doing his preliminary training in this city.

The fight is scheduled to take place at the Butte race track on the afternoon of July 4, the bout to be for 20 rounds and the championship.

King is in fairly good condition and only needs the finishing touches to put him in shape to step into the ring and make the fight of his life. He finds time, however, to pay a daily visit to The Meadows where he picks away a few dollars on the ponies with astonishing regularity.

DIAMOND GLISTENINGS

Hoodoo' Hoodoo' One on Hogg Empire Levy is the worst ever. If Levy were only kidnapped.

Have him enjoyed for life Van Buren continues his star work Nadeau has captured the Los Angeles fans.

Here is what the Examiner says regarding Nadeau's fine work on Wednesday. "Nearly all the baseball Los Angeles arrived in time to see the latest greatest catch ever made on any diamond.

It was achieved by Philly Nadeau and was the means of keeping the game in doubt for the benefit of those who left their homes thinking of the game to the fact that it gave the lie to the statement that he could not make a showing against any other than "dubs."

will be the largest event of its kind in the world. Crack shots from all parts of the world will be there. Seattle will be represented as follows:

E. F. Ellis, R. S. Stevens, Dr. Purcell, Iel Cooper, Edward Gavira, A. G. Brown, William Stewart and Log Robinson. This delegation will leave Seattle for Dayton next Tuesday over the Northern Pacific.

A copy of the official program of the meet has been received here, and shows that the tournament is to be the most interesting ever arranged for on the Coast. The first page of the program contains a typical and humorous poem, entitled, "When We All Go Shooting in the Good Old Summer Time."

Three well-known Western crack shots, Ware, Holahan and Waite, it is a parody on what all the cracks are expected to do when they arrive at Dayton.

All the railroad arrangements for the meeting are set forth in the program, showing that the transportation committee has secured low rates from every point of the compass.

Yachting Notes. The international yachting trophy, given by the Messrs. Mackle of Glasgow, Scotland, to the British Columbia and Seattle Yacht Clubs, has arrived at Victoria, B. C., according to advices received by local yachting organizations.

It will be placed in the hands of the Vancouver, B. C. Yacht Club, which will act as trustee of the trophy until it is raced for and won the first time.

The first race for the trophy will be held sometime this summer, probably in the latter part of August or the first week in September.

HANDBALL NOTE

NEW YORK, June 20.—Twohull, the Irish champion, who is soon to engage in a contest with Mike Egan for the championship of the world and a side bet of $750, has lost no time since he arrived on the soil of Uncle Sam a week ago.

HERRERA LAUDED AS A FIERCE FIGHTER

Biddy Bishop's Protege Put Up a Splendid Battle Against Kid Broad.

(Journal Special Service) HELENA, Mont., June 20.—Biddy Bishop, manager of Aurelio Herrera, must be given credit for being one of the shrewdest men in the business. Passed up as a "dead one" because of his severe drubbing by Terry McGovern, Bishop took Herrera in hand, and no one can with propriety dispute the Mexican's right to demand a go with Young Corbett or his old adversary, Terry McGovern.

Herrera was greatly elated over the outcome of his fight with Broad, especially from the fact that it gave the lie to the statement that he could not make a showing against any other than "dubs."

ment by saying that the Mexican had the best punch, both right and left, of any man he had ever met, and he ventured the statement that in the future should the Mexican take on any one, his money would be found on the Herrera side of the fence.

The Britt-O'Keefe fight was the most scientific contest ever pulled off in the State of Montana. Clean-cut, cool, deliberate, yet stubbornly contested every second of the time when the men occupied the stage in the center of the old baseball park.

Duncan McDonald refereed the contest and gave satisfaction. Opinion was divided as to which made the better showing. Britt was criticized for striking low, but O'Keefe admitted, now that the contest is over, that in blocking two of Britt's swings, he knocked them out of their natural course. He says he thinks Britt was fighting fair throughout and takes upon himself the blame for that which the public was disposed to believe was foul play.

Britt broke two small bones in the back of his hand in the second round and he says that but for this misfortune he would have landed the big end of the purse. He offered to bet O'Keefe $1,000 that he could whip him on the spot.

PETER MAHER'S WIT

Peter Maher, the famous Irish pugilist, is noted for his love of a good joke, but doesn't like having one told at his own expense. Wherever sporting men are wont to meet and the conversation happens to turn to pugilism, as conversations carried on by sporting men are sure to do, Maher is certain to come in as the principal actor of something humorous that has happened during his upward-down career in the American prize ring.

Johnny Eckhardt tells one that is worth repeating. Upon Maher being knocked out by Fitz at Langtry, Tex., his seconds had considerable trouble in reviving him, and when they finally brought him around his trainer, Pete Lowery, who was in his corner, began to console him.

"Never mind, Pete," Lowery is reported to have said when the boxer had sufficiently recovered to notice things. "You made a good fight and have lost no friends."

Maher looked at Lowery for a second and shouted, so everybody at the ring-side could hear him: "Arrah, will yer body ever tongue? Can't yer see O'fm insensible?"

PORTLAND DOWNED BY LOS ANGELES

Dillon's Men Found Willie Hogg for a Dozen Safe Swats and the Game Accordingly Went to the Leaders.

Nadeau and Van Buren's Brilliant Work Has Created a Sensation in the Sunny South Land.

PACIFIC COAST LEAGUE. Yesterday's Scores. Los Angeles, 5; Portland 1. Sacramento, 4; Oakland, 4. San Francisco, 1; Seattle, 1.

(Journal Special Service) LOS ANGELES, Cal., June 20.—The Browns could not hit Drinkwater when men were on bases yesterday, and therein lies the explanation of their third defeat.

The Los Angeles batters found Willie Hogg frequently, but he kept the binges pretty well scattered. Portland's two errors were costly. George Hurlbert was put out of the game for protesting one of "Rube" Levy's rank decisions.

Up to the time that Rube decided that the Browns could lose easier, without Hurlbert's services, "Spec" had played a brilliant game, and his being benched took considerable ginger out of the visitors.

The Angels took many chances on the bases, several of them being called by pretty throw by Catcher Hess. The work of Van Buren and Nadeau in the outfield is the feature of the Browns' visit, and many local "fans" take in the games merely to watch the work of these two performers. Van Buren has shown the local enthusiasts, who doubted the newspaper statements that he was leading the league in batting, how he maintained that distinction, as he is one of the cleverest men at laying down a bunt and beating the throw to first ever seen in Los Angeles, and in case of the infield playing in on him, he will drive it over their heads.

Phil Nadeau, according to the latest reports of the batsmen's standing, is pressing his teammate for the leader's position.

Sammy Vignone's outfield is undoubtedly the finest ever seen on the local diamond.

STUFFED OLIVES DOWN THE BUTTE MINERS

Dr. Drake's Grim Performers Defeat Wilmot's Aggregation.

BUTTE, Mont., June 20.—Dr. Drake's stuffed olives succeeded in winning yesterday's game from the Butte miners. The ragged work of the local team and the good pitching of Miller was responsible for the Grim performers' victory. The score was: R. H. E. Portland, 0 3 1 1 0 1 0 0 1. Butte, 4 0 0 0 0 2 0 0 0. Batteries—Miller and Shea; Thomas, Roach and Swindells; umpire, Mahaffey.

SACRAMENTO 5, Oakland 4. SACRAMENTO, June 20.—Fisher's cohorts downed Lohman's crew yesterday in a pitchers' battle. The tardiness of both pitchers lengthened the game, which consumed over two hours of time.

Seattle made a hard try for the game in the last inning, but were not equal to the task. Score: R. H. E. Seattle 1 0 0 0 0 0 4 0 1 3. San Fran. 0 1 0 1 3 5 0 1 11 13 3. LEADERS' AVERAGES. Van Buren is still in the lead in the batting average column of the Pacific Coast League. Phil Nadeau is pressing Van hard for the leadership and is only four points behind. The leading batsmen in the Coast League and their averages are as follows: Van Buren, Portland, .372; Nadeau, Portland, .347; Moskimon, Oakland, .353; Irwin, San Francisco, .347; Corbett, Los Angeles, .346; Brasher, Oakland, .332; Dillon, Los Angeles, .329; Carlos Smith, Seattle, .324; Murdoch, Oakland, .311; Townsend, Sacramento, .310; O'Hara, Oakland, .308; Meaney, San Francisco, .304; Schwartz, Seattle, .301; Anderson, Portland, .300; Reilly, Seattle, .297; Miller, San Francisco, .297; King, San Francisco, .288; Shields, Portland, .282; Hess, Portland, .282.

BASEBALL AT SALEM. SALEM, June 20.—Today and Sunday will see two fast games of baseball played in this city, when the Albany team and the Salem Raglans will meet at C. A. C. Park, near this city. Both nines have been noticeably strengthened during the past 10 days, and the Salem team has been thoroughly drilled by the new captain, first baseman Frank Haynes, and local fans do not hesitate to predict a great victory for the Salem Raglans at both the games to be played here.

AT THE MEADOWS

A good story is told at the racetrack of the prices charged at the lunch counter. One of the "gangs" at the track forgot his dinner in town several days ago and ordered a sandwich and a cup of coffee. When he paid for the lunch the bill came to 30 cents.

"I suppose it would have been a half a dollar if I had taken a sandwich," he remarked as he walked back to the betting ring. The next day he again ordered a sandwich and a cup of coffee, but when he paid for the lunch the bill came to 30 cents.

Hildebrand, the midjet jockey, who has been cast a favorite among the quads at The Meadows, did not ride yesterday, nor the day before. Several days ago he disobeyed the orders of the starter at the barrier and was set down for two days. Hildebrand usually rides four or five races a day, and there are many who think he is a real horseman, and simply because the little fellow rides him. He is a mere boy and can ride at 70 pounds. He is still in the apprentice class and is pointed out by old racehorse men as a coming jockey.

Jockeys in Mourning. The shadow of the terrible Heppner disaster cast a gloom over the quads of the jockeys at The Meadows yesterday. As a result, neither Albert nor Ivy Powell will ride for a few days. In a telegram from Heppner yesterday, Albert Powell was notified that the parents of his wife and one of her brothers had been swept away by the flood that devastated the Oregon city. The jockeys will both visit Heppner, their former home, and will probably remain there for a few days.

A Match Race. A match race was arranged for today between George Webb's gelding Boldheart and J. W. G. G. gelding, Combareres. The race will be a mile for $250 a side. A great deal of interest is being taken in the race at The Meadows, as both horses are fast ones and their owners have the greatest confidence in them.

Both have been winning numbers in the past. This was the work of the day, and Benny showed his capacity for wallops by taking all Cordell had in the easiest sort of manner. He is not pleased with an overdose of cleverness, but his strength and aggressiveness seem to balance this deficiency. In his style he is somewhat like Hanlon, putting his head down and wading into the slaughter with a confident smile, but never losing his temper, no matter how hard his opponent may hit. In his bout with Cordell the latter crossed the little Italian with a right in the second round which staggered him for a moment, but he came right back for more, telling Jack that it was a good one. After the bout with Cordell, Monte, the local amateur, was also for three rounds, but Monte is so small his blows had little or no effect on the recipient. Jack Hanley then wrestled with Yanger for a few rounds, after which he retired to his room. Jack Cordell, one local amateur, jumped on the scales Yanger tipped the beam at 130 pounds, which is the weight he is scheduled to meet Hanlon at. Manager John Hertz has accepted an offer from Butte for a go with Atlet to take place in July. He has offers from Portland and Los Angeles also, but thinks Butte the best place.

At 3 p. m. tomorrow the Monograms and the Schillers will struggle for victory on the ball grounds at Twenty-fourth and Vaughn streets in what promises to be one of the best games yet played in the Interstate League to which these teams belong.

Both teams have secured the best players in Portland for their respective clubs, and as they both are running a close race for second place in the league and there is considerable rivalry between the clubs as to which has the best team there should be a hot time when they line up for supremacy.

HORSEMAN BURNS RULED OFF TRACK

Oscar Tolle's Owner Played a Prank on the Bookies Yesterday, Cleaned Them Up and Got-Fired Himself.

Ashley on Homage, in an Exciting Race and Desperate Finish, Captured Fourth and Best Race at The Meadows.

SEATTLE, Wash., June 20.—It was not until the fourth race that the 2,500 people in attendance at The Meadows yesterday afternoon were treated to a real horserace.

A good field of fairly high-class horses faced the barrier for the event, but it was not until the head of the stretch was reached that the real race began. Then it could be seen that the struggle was to be between Homage, Geo. Dewey and Yellowstone. It was a splendid contest with the contestants' noses apart until they reached the paddock. Then Ashley, on Homage, drew his bat. Under whip and spur the horse drew ahead and won, though he was all out. All three of the horses received an ovation as they pulled up in front of the judges' stand.

After the third race Thomas Burns, the owner of Oscar Tolle, the winner of the race, was ruled off for the balance of the meeting. Last Wednesday started the horse in a cheap selling race in poor company, with a stable boy up, who rode without whip or spurs. The race will be a mile for $250 a side. A great deal of interest is being taken in the race at The Meadows, as both horses are fast ones and their owners have the greatest confidence in them.
