RIGHT OF PARENTS DEFINED

They Are Not Privileged Under the Oregon Law to Work Their Children in Factories or Shops.

Labor Commissioner O. P. Hoff Has Announced His Intention of Making Investigation in Portland.

State Senator Henry McGinn, Author of the Child Labor Act, Declares Its Provisions to Be Clear.

The employment of children under the legal working age of 14 years—not directly but under the seeming protection of cards issued to their parents—is a means of law evasion not recognized as legal by those who drafted and secured the passage of the child labor act now one of the statutes of Oregon.

State Labor Commissioner O. P. Hoff will make an investigation of the violation of the child labor law in Portland and will take steps to prevent the employment of children under 14 years of age in factories, workshops or the messenger service.

Labor Commissioner Hoff came in from Salem this morning and immediately upon being made acquainted with the fact that children of less than lawful age were at work in the Portland plant of the Oregon Packing Company, he announced his intention to investigate.

"The law is very plain on this point," Commissioner Hoff said, "and I intend to see that it is not disobeyed. I will not undertake this duty alone, but shall call to my aid the members of the Child Labor Commission, acting jointly with them."

Author of Law Speaks.

State Senator Henry McGinn, author of the child labor law now on the Oregon statute books, is emphatic in his statement that the act as passed by the recent session of the Oregon Legislature prohibits the employment of children under 14 years of age in factories. He also says that the fact that these children only work there to aid their parents does not constitute ground for exemption.

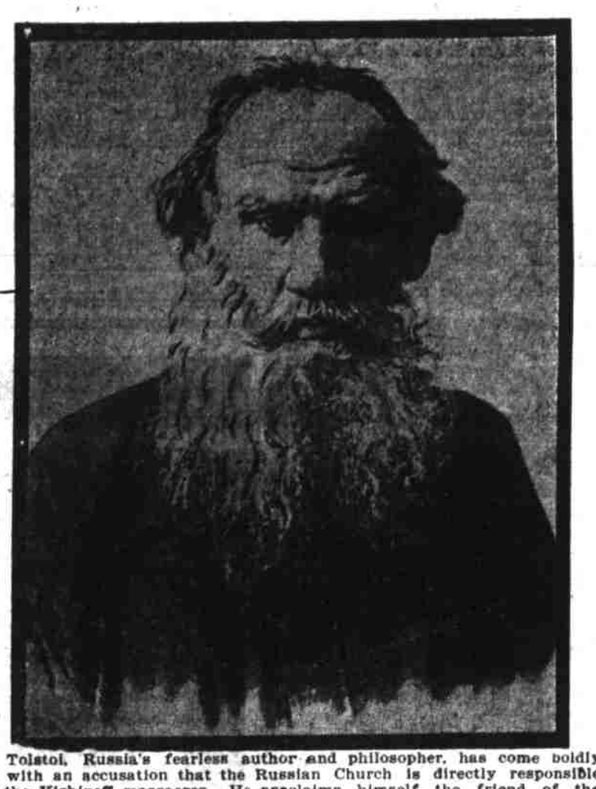
"The law means exactly what it says," said Mr. McGinn, when seen today. "It prohibits the employment of children under 14 years of age in factories and is a legal barrier to the working of youths of such tender age in shops or manufactories, even if those concerns were the property of the parents of the children so employed.

"As the author of that law, I know what it was intended to restrict, and I believe it has been so drawn that it cannot be otherwise construed. Its language is plain and direct. If there is any question it will be a matter for the courts to determine, but I cannot see where there is a possibility of doubt as to the meaning of the law. It simply but clearly says that children under the age of 14 years are not to be employed."

BARBER ARRESTED.

Edmund Sequane, a barber of 368 Twenty-third street, was arrested last night upon complaint of President Weis, of the State Board of Barbers' Examiners, for refusing to take out an annual renewal card. The case was set for hearing before Judge Hogue this morning, but was continued until tomorrow.

Blames Russian Church For Kishineff Massacres



Tolstoi, Russia's fearless author and philosopher, has come boldly out with an accusation that the Russian Church is directly responsible for the Kishineff massacres. He proclaims himself the friend of the Hebrews and says they are an inoffensive people. His remarks have caused intense indignation in Russian ecclesiastical circles. Above is the latest photograph of the famous sage.

COUNTRY LINEMEN JOIN THE STRIKERS

Five Men Come in from Scio Where They Were Working on Construction.

Five linemen came in from Scio last night and immediately joined the striking workmen at this place. They are known as a country gang, and have been engaged at construction work and stringing wires. Representatives of the union say that more men are expected in from the country shortly. A telegram received this morning at union headquarters from The Dalles states that Wyman, at that place, is all right, and Jackson has signed up. The dispatch was signed by Walt Lancaster. The men referred to are linemen who evidently are non-unionists, but who stand ready to go out when called upon to do so.

Local officers of the union do not know whether any negotiations are under way for a setlement or not. They state that all business of that nature will be transacted at the central headquarters at San Francisco.

The telephone girls at Portland, they assert, have not been asked to walk out in sympathy with them by any authorized representative of the union, and the matter has never been under consideration. They state, however, it is possible that some irresponsible members of the union have asked the girls to take such action, but if so they proceed without official sanction. Asked if there is a move on foot to organize the telephone girls, W. R. Healis, chairman of the Executive Board, said:

"No, the matter has never been discussed more than in an informal way. There are 300 telephone girls in Portland, and I believe that if we would ask them to go out on a sympathetic strike there would not be 50 of them who would refuse. If such would prove to be the case it would be unnecessary to get them to organize a union. However, nothing will be done along this line unless we are otherwise advised by the Western Conference."

Tacoma's Grievance.

TACOMA, June 25.—The striking linemen in Tacoma are playing the waiting game. They say that their strike is not altogether a sympathetic one, but that they have personal grievances against the company aside from the trouble at San Francisco. The uniform scale, which is being paid in Seattle, is $3.50, while Tacoma telephone linemen are receiving from $2 to $3 per day. The men assert in behalf of their claim that these wages are less than are paid common laborers, while their work is dangerous and injurious to the health. Linemen must also serve a three-year apprenticeship before they are entitled to journeymen wages.

The headquarters in San Francisco have all that they can attend to without assisting the branches of the company in the north. The head of the Northern division is in Portland, although the division manager has been residing in Seattle for several months. In case of determined opposition it is said to be the plan of the company to put as many men as possible to work in either Tacoma or Portland and then move them to the other city in order to do enough work to keep things running until the strike is settled. The carrying out of this plan will depend entirely upon orders from San Francisco.

There are several non-union linemen in the city, but it is claimed that they are working and receiving better wages than paid by the Sunset, so that it is not likely that they will quit work to take the place of the strikers.

Mrs. Sarah Snook of St. Joseph is Missouri's oldest inhabitant. She is 103 years old. She eats pie, ice cream and other things; walks a mile every day for exercise; can see as far and read as well without glasses as many young people and remembers well many great characters of this country almost a century ago. She celebrated the 103d anniversary of her birth at the home of her daughter, Mrs. Agnes Jacquay. Mrs. Snook is a native of Louisville, Ky., and spent many years or her life in Kansas.

CARPENTERS' UNION GROWING RAPIDLY

Non-Unionists Joining Each Week—Big Meeting Is Planned for Tonight.

Business agents of the Carpenters' Union believe that it will be a matter of only a short time until all carpenters in the city will be members of their organization. This conclusion is based upon the fact that they are taking into the union all the way from 15 to 20 new members each week. J. E. Lewton, corresponding secretary, says fully 20 applications for membership will be received at the meeting tonight, and that if the non-unionists continue to come in at this rate for the next three or four weeks there will be no non-union carpenters left in the city. At present it is estimated that there are 100 of them, a great many of whom are said to be very competent mechanics.

Mr. Lewton says that a special effort will be made tonight at the regular meeting of the union to induce all the non-union men to join the organization. All of them are invited to attend and, he says, many of them, when seen personally about the matter, have expressed their intention of doing so. Speeches will be made by some of the prominent members and refreshments will be served. It is expected that the meeting will result in strengthening the organization.

While Portland labor men seem confident that the midsummer convention of the executive board of the American Federation of Labor will be held at Portland, they have not yet received official notice to that effect. Grant McDonald, secretary of the Federated Trades Council, wired Samuel Gompers last Saturday morning inviting the board to meet here this summer, but as yet he has received no reply from the famous labor leader. He is expecting to hear from him, however, every day.

SARAH BERNHARDT.

Just now Paris is ringing with the praises of Sarah Bernhardt, or, as the Parisians call their idol, La Grande Sarah.

Every new production of this wonderful woman of 57 summers is impatiently awaited by a crowd of expectant admirers, who, though knowing her full well, are yet full of that curiosity which wants to know how once again she will manage to make herself fairer to the eye, more thrilling to the soul, and invent something more perfect than the last.

Days before the opening night of a new Bernhardt performance, on all sides may be heard gossip and chit-chat news, rumors from behind the scenes, and echoes from the rehearsals, of the mysterious doings of the greatest actress of modern times.

Here is a remark of Mme. Bernhardt which applies equally to herself as to those of whom she was speaking:

"What a number of historical figures would sleep the gentle sleep of forgetfulness amidst the dust of past ages had they not been raised up again, as by a miracle, and brought back to life and to the light of day by the talent and genius of great playwrights!"
