

WAREHOUSE LAW

ACTIVE JULY 1

Licenses Must Be Taken Out and Bonds Filed by the Men Who Accept Grain for Storage Purposes.

There Is Little Expense Attached to the Carrying Out of the Provisions of the Act of Protection.

SALEM, June 30.—On July 1 an act passed at the last session of the Legislature regulating and licensing warehousemen, goes into effect, and the clerks of the several counties of the state are now or ought to be—preparing themselves to dispose of this work, so as to be ready to put into full force the provisions of the statute, which is designed for the protection of farmers and others storing grain and other products in the warehouses throughout the state. The law was passed in response to a popular demand from every part of the state for better protection for the storers of grain against dishonest warehousemen, prosecutions of this class of operators, when caught red-handed having almost universally failed—only one conviction was ever secured, and that in Marion County. So great had the evil become that many farmers were at a loss as to the course to pursue in order to protect themselves from loss, and they were clamoring for legislation that would protect them from this class of offenders, even as they are protected by adequate laws in other respects. In response a bill was framed and enacted into law that will, if properly enforced by the authorities, give some measure of protection against sharpers in the warehouse business and will not embarrass the honest man in the business and will not be expensive to the warehousemen as a class.

The Law's Provisions.
The Act (Sess. Laws 1929, p. 253) provides that "it shall be unlawful for any bailee or warehouseman, after July 1, 1930, to solicit or receive any kind of grain in storage belonging to any other person or persons, whether for compensation or otherwise," until the provisions of the act in question have been complied with. The act then prescribes the licensing of warehousemen by the county courts upon the filing of a satisfactory undertaking, the amount of which bond to be fixed by the county court in any sum not less than $1,000, and the faithful performance of their duties as bailees or warehousemen. The sureties to the bond may be three or more residents of the county, in which the warehouse is to be operated, and who shall have the qualifications of bail upon any surety company designated by law as competent bondsmen on any official bond required by the state or any county. The court is given the right if at any time the bond becomes insufficient to require additional or new security, and if the same is not given within the time fixed by the court, the sheriff shall be ordered to take possession of the warehouse and the grain on storage, and hold the same until the business of the warehouseman has been settled up. The operators of warehouses are required to file, on June 15 of each year, a statement showing the quantity of grain in store and the quantity of grain represented by outstanding receipts, which receipts, this statement to be filed by the county clerk and safely kept for public inspection. A fine of $50 a day is imposed for the operation of a warehouse in violation of the provisions of this act.

The Expense Attached.
The only expense the warehouse operators will be put to in complying with this law is the cost of securing a bond or undertaking, as the law makes absolutely no provisions for the payment of fees to the county or its clerk for the work of examining the bonds or issuing the licenses, the framers of the act in question having evidently had in mind the fact that all county officers in the state are on salary, and the act is not intended to "bleed" warehousemen, but is designed solely for the protection of the storers of grain.

Farmers Are Gratiified.
The enactment of this law and putting it into effect meets with a great deal of satisfaction here, where many farmers have lost heavily at the hands of a certain class of warehouse operators, several men engaged in the business having gone to the wall and their patrons lost heavily, having no recourse except criminal prosecutions, the result of which almost invariably being favorable to the warehousemen.

DROWNED AT HOOD RIVER

While Scuttling Above the Dalles City One Man Falls Into River and Loses Life.

HOOD RIVER, Or., June 30.—"Man overboard," was the cry on board The Dalles City as she was steaming past Rinken, three miles above Hood River, yesterday morning, when her crew, on excursion from The Dalles to Hood River.

Fred Foster, employed as a deck hand on The Dalles City, and a companion were scuttling and Foster, speaking away, started round the boat on the guard, a space about 16 inches between the outer guard and the house, and in some manner unknown fell into the river and was drowned.

As soon as the news was given the wheels of the steamer were stopped, a boat lowered and sent to the assistance of the unfortunate man, but before his rescuers reached him he ceased his struggles and was out of sight. The body was not recovered.

From information gathered from the crew it was learned that Foster was a sober and industrious young man, about 24 years of age, and lived somewhere in Portland. He had been a member of the boat crew about two months.

The Columbia has reached a stage so that the boats, beginning Monday, will pass through the locks, much to the convenience of the traveling public, as well as the boats themselves.

A spiritless game of baseball was played today between Hood River and a Dufur team, resulting in a score of 8 to 13 in favor of Hood River. A large crowd came from The Dalles and Lytle to witness the game.

Berry picking continues in the upper valley, prices being $2 per crate.

JUNCTION CITY NOTES

JUNCTION CITY, Or., June 30.—The case of the State of Oregon vs. M. N. N. Ferman will be called this afternoon in Justice Clark's Court. Hon. L. T. Harris will conduct the prosecution.

FATAL ACCIDENT IN AN 85-FOOT WELL

Young Man Is Overcome While Being Drawn to Surface—Falls to the Bottom.

(Journal Special Service.)
PENDLETON, Or., June 30.—Carl Hoeft, a young man 18 years of age and a resident of the vicinity of Pilot Rock, lost his life Saturday afternoon by falling down the shaft of a well that was being dug on the ranch of his brother, Robert Hoeft, who lives one and a half miles from Pilot Rock.

Robert Hoeft was having a well dug on his place and it had been sunk to a depth of 85 feet. The contractor was exhausted by the work at so great a depth and by the foul air and had come to the surface. Here he asked the young man, who was watching the work, to go down in the hole and dig a little while. Carl went down and had sent up five buckets of earth when he suddenly called for the rope to be sent down to him and started to haul him to the top, but when he had covered about half of the distance he let go his hold and fell to the bottom, breaking his neck and crushing in the side of his head. Death was instantaneous. Life being entirely extinct by the time the men reached the body.

The reason of the accident is not clear, but it is attributed to one of two causes. Either the man was overcome by the foul air and, becoming dizzy, lost his hold on the rope, or the ropes revolving made him sick and he became powerless to hold on long enough to reach the top of the shaft.

Hoeft was a young man well known throughout Malheur County and was a member of the Umatilla Indian reservation, died at her home on the agency Sunday evening after an illness of six weeks.

Mrs. Wilkins has been a resident of Pendleton for the last 23 years and is a member of one of the oldest and best known families in the state. She was born on the Willamette River below Harrisburg, May 28, 1856. Her parents, Mr. and Mrs. John Willy, crossed the plains from Pennsylvania in 1849 and settled in the Willamette Valley. Mrs. Wilkins grew to womanhood in the City of Harrisburg and was married to Charles Wilkins in Pendleton on January 23, 1887. Besides her husband, she leaves four children, two brothers and two sisters, to mourn her loss.

Her elder sister, Mrs. W. C. Yoran, of Eugene; the younger sister, Mrs. Frank C. Winther, is a resident of Seattle. Both of her sisters have been at the bedside during the last days of her illness, as has a brother, George Willy, of Palouse. The other brother, John Willy, is in British Columbia, and cannot be reached in time for the funeral.

Mrs. Wilkins was a prominent member of the Lady Macbees, and also of the tribe of Ben Hur.

The funeral services will be held at the agency Tuesday morning at 11 o'clock.

The deceased has been a prominent woman in this section for many years, both in social and church circles, and her death will be keenly felt by a great number of those who have known her in the past years for the good that she has done. Her work among the Indians in the reservation will long be remembered for its practical kindness and the tact and graciousness with which she met the many calls upon her made by the wards of the government.

Her elder sister, Mrs. W. C. Yoran, of Eugene; the younger sister, Mrs. Frank C. Winther, is a resident of Seattle.

Both of her sisters have been at the bedside during the last days of her illness, as has a brother, George Willy, of Palouse. The other brother, John Willy, is in British Columbia, and cannot be reached in time for the funeral.

Mrs. Wilkins was a prominent member of the Lady Macbees, and also of the tribe of Ben Hur.

The funeral services will be held at the agency Tuesday morning at 11 o'clock.

The deceased has been a prominent woman in this section for many years, both in social and church circles, and her death will be keenly felt by a great number of those who have known her in the past years for the good that she has done. Her work among the Indians in the reservation will long be remembered for its practical kindness and the tact and graciousness with which she met the many calls upon her made by the wards of the government.

Her elder sister, Mrs. W. C. Yoran, of Eugene; the younger sister, Mrs. Frank C. Winther, is a resident of Seattle.

Both of her sisters have been at the bedside during the last days of her illness, as has a brother, George Willy, of Palouse. The other brother, John Willy, is in British Columbia, and cannot be reached in time for the funeral.

Mrs. Wilkins was a prominent member of the Lady Macbees, and also of the tribe of Ben Hur.

The funeral services will be held at the agency Tuesday morning at 11 o'clock.

The deceased has been a prominent woman in this section for many years, both in social and church circles, and her death will be keenly felt by a great number of those who have known her in the past years for the good that she has done. Her work among the Indians in the reservation will long be remembered for its practical kindness and the tact and graciousness with which she met the many calls upon her made by the wards of the government.

Her elder sister, Mrs. W. C. Yoran, of Eugene; the younger sister, Mrs. Frank C. Winther, is a resident of Seattle.

Both of her sisters have been at the bedside during the last days of her illness, as has a brother, George Willy, of Palouse. The other brother, John Willy, is in British Columbia, and cannot be reached in time for the funeral.

Mrs. Wilkins was a prominent member of the Lady Macbees, and also of the tribe of Ben Hur.

The funeral services will be held at the agency Tuesday morning at 11 o'clock.

The deceased has been a prominent woman in this section for many years, both in social and church circles, and her death will be keenly felt by a great number of those who have known her in the past years for the good that she has done. Her work among the Indians in the reservation will long be remembered for its practical kindness and the tact and graciousness with which she met the many calls upon her made by the wards of the government.

Her elder sister, Mrs. W. C. Yoran, of Eugene; the younger sister, Mrs. Frank C. Winther, is a resident of Seattle.

Both of her sisters have been at the bedside during the last days of her illness, as has a brother, George Willy, of Palouse. The other brother, John Willy, is in British Columbia, and cannot be reached in time for the funeral.

Mrs. Wilkins was a prominent member of the Lady Macbees, and also of the tribe of Ben Hur.

The funeral services will be held at the agency Tuesday morning at 11 o'clock.

The deceased has been a prominent woman in this section for many years, both in social and church circles, and her death will be keenly felt by a great number of those who have known her in the past years for the good that she has done. Her work among the Indians in the reservation will long be remembered for its practical kindness and the tact and graciousness with which she met the many calls upon her made by the wards of the government.

Her elder sister, Mrs. W. C. Yoran, of Eugene; the younger sister, Mrs. Frank C. Winther, is a resident of Seattle.

ENGINEER HAS A NARROW ESCAPE

While Assisting in the Repair of a Bridge William Happersett Plunges 35 Feet into the Clackamas.

Other Newsy Items of Interest of Matters in and About Oregon City—Voting for the Carnival Queen.

OREGON CITY, June 30.—William Happersett met with a narrow escape from death last yesterday. Happersett is in the employ of the Southern Pacific Railroad in the capacity of donkey engineer. His engine is stationed on the Clackamas bridge, where a large force of men are employed in repairing the structure. Yesterday he stepped over to assist some of the men in moving a stick of timber at the edge of the bridge. One end of an 8 by 10 timber protruded over the edge of the bridge and he stepped on the protruding end, not thinking that his weight would tilt it over. In an instant Happersett and the stick of timber were plunging downward into the cold waters of the Clackamas, 35 feet below. The water is from 20 to 30 feet deep under the bridge and man and timber sunk almost to the bottom of the river, and then both came up together, Happersett clasping the timber in his arms. Had the man fallen a foot to the right or to the left he would have been instantly killed, as a raft of logs lay on one side and he missed a bent of the bridge in his fall on the other side by only a few inches. As it was he held up for a few days with a badly sprained forearm. Several of his injuries and pronounced them not serious.

Sues for Divorce.

OREGON CITY, June 30.—Stella Loudon filed suit in the Clackamas County Circuit Court this morning for divorce from her husband, James Loudon, on the grounds of desertion. The parties were married at Hubbard, in Marion County, October 3, 1894. She alleges that the defendant deserted and abandoned the plaintiff without cause or reason, and against her will and without her consent. She asks for a decree from the court dissolving the bands of matrimony now existing and asks the custody of the minor child and for such further relief as the court may deem equitable. Black & Story are attorneys for the plaintiff.

Surprise Party.

OREGON CITY, June 30.—Mr. and Mrs. E. A. Chapman, who returned from their wedding trip to the Sound country Sunday, were pleasantly surprised by a large number of their friends last evening. Early in the evening friends began dropping in, each one bringing a present of some description, until in all about 80 acquaintances were present. The number of presents was large and the assortment varied. Many of them were costly and all were useful. The guests were entertained by music and games until a late hour. Company A. O. N. G. went to the "rush" in a body. The porch was tastefully decorated by the National Guard. The occasion was a very pleasant one.

Oregon City Notes.

OREGON CITY, June 30.—The race for queen of the W. O. W. Carnival, which will be held in Portland in July, is on in earnest in Oregon City. Several hundred votes have been deposited for the two candidates, Misses Grace Marshall and Echo Sampson. As yet neither one has much the advantage in the race. "Billy" Rhodes, operator for the Portland Telegram Company, trimmed up a wooden window in the postoffice, one of the voting places, which is a very attractive affair.

There will be a lawn social at the home of Mrs. Elizabeth Warner at 15 cent. This evening singing, vocal and instrumental music is on the program. Nash's full band will give a concert, while recitations and fortune-telling will help to fill out the bill. Ice cream, cake and sandwiches will be served at 15 cent. The proceeds will be given for a sidewalk fund.

A Spiritualist campmeeting will begin at New Era Saturday evening, the night of the Fourth. The meeting will hold 10 days. The spiritists hold an annual campmeeting at New Era, which is attended by large crowds from many parts of the state.

E. E. Taylor, who was injured in a ball game by being struck with a ball last Sunday week, is once more at his place of business at Holman's cigar store.

The Oregon City Academy Debating Society has been reorganized and will hold its first debate this evening at 8 o'clock. The subject will be "The Academy's rooms." Will Shivers, a student of the Pacific University at Forest Grove, will take an active part in the debates this summer.

OREGON CITY TO HOLD CELEBRATION

Program for July Fourth Has Been Announced—Parade, Contests and Fireworks.

OREGON CITY, June 30.—The committee on arrangements for the Fourth of July celebration met last evening and reported the following program which will be carried out to the letter:

At 10 o'clock a grand parade with citizens on foot, in carriages, on horseback, to wind up with speaking at City Park by Hon. B. F. Eddy, of Tillamook.

There will be an intermission between 12 and 1 o'clock, after which water sports will be engaged in, such as boat races, swimming, etc.

At 2 o'clock there will be a horse race on Main street.

At 3 o'clock a game of baseball at Canham Park between Oregon City and the Monograms.

At 5 o'clock there will be foot races on Main street for which a number of cash prizes have been offered. There will also be a number of wheel-barrow races and other races of a like character, to wind up with water sports on the river, boat racing, swimming, etc.

At 9 o'clock in the evening there will be a grand fireworks display.

Chief of Police Burns will be grand marshal of the day.

The parade committee cordially invites all fraternal organizations of the city to participate in the parade on the Fourth. All organizations desiring to accept the invitation will notify Charles E. Burns, Jr., of their acceptance on or before July 1.

Parties desiring to enter in the races will report to Charles Pope at Pope's Hardware store.

FOREST FIRES ARE TO BE PREVENTED

Governor Chamberlain Will Issue His Annual Proclamation for Public Safety.

(Journal Special Service.)
SALEM, June 30.—Governor Chamberlain has prepared his annual proclamation for the protection of timber and other property from fire, and the same will be issued tomorrow. The proclamation quotes sections 1787, 1788, 1789, 1790, 1791 and 1792 of Ballinger and Cotton's annotated codes and statutes of Oregon, relative to fires, and goes on to say:

"Now, therefore, I George E. Chamberlain, Governor of the State of Oregon, do hereby direct the attention of the public to the provisions of the statutes herein above referred to, and warn all persons against violation thereof."

DON'T WANT GIRLS TO MIX IN STRIKE

Local Linemen Say They Can Win Without Them—Reports From San Francisco.

"Hurrah for Spokane!" rent the air at the linemen's headquarters this morning when the men were informed that the telephone girls in the metropolis of Eastern Washington had inaugurated an "Empathetic strike." According to W. R. Healey, chairman of the local executive board, there is no likelihood of the Portland girls going out.

"I do not believe in discommoding them in the least," he said. "We can win without their assistance. No steps have been taken here to organize the girls and I do not think there will be."

The men state that the local, as well as general situation, could not be better than at present. They report that the pickets are doing good work. The following information was received this morning from F. A. Holden, secretary of the Western Conference at San Francisco:

"Reports from Los Angeles and the Southern country state that the boys are standing firm and holding the members all in line. At Tacoma everything is tied up. Chico is the same as the last report. Sacramento reports the initiation of a large number of members. Portland all in. Every one is confident. All the country men came out as soon as we could reach them, bringing a great many non-union men with them. At Santa Fe only the manager is working. San Rafael reports all men out, only manager working. Fresno reports that the men are holding their own. All reports show confidence and progress, with an ever-increasing membership. San Francisco is gaining in strength every day. Keep your detailed reports coming in; we want them."

No Time to Strike.

S. R. Haworth, a prominent labor union man from La Grande, is in the city. He reports that organized labor is in a flourishing condition in his town, and that there is no likelihood of any strikes or lockouts.

"We are too busy there to indulge in such pastimes," is the way he expressed it. Among the unions at La Grande are the federal, the machinists, the painters, the carpenters, the bricklayers and the retail clerks.

IOWANS WANT TO COME

Secretary Shillock Receives Letter from Firm Wishing to Establish Hat and Cap Wholesale House.

Secretary Max M. Shillock of the Board of Trade this morning received a letter from Kennedy Brothers, merchants of New Hampton, Iowa, stating that they expected to move to some Pacific Coast city and open a men's hat and cap wholesale house.

The gentlemen of Iowa also said that they had heard a great deal about the commercial advantages of this city, and that they would like to locate their new establishment here if there was an opening.

The Hawkeye state men will be sent several bundles of literature, from which they may learn of the rich and vast territory tributary to the Portland wholesalers. They may also gain from it that the city of Portland is a beautiful city on the far Western Coast and a metropolis that is growing with mighty strides.

OF NATIVE STONE

Second Oregon Regiment Monument Is to Be Made of Granite from This State.

At a meeting of the Second Oregon Regiment Memorial Monument Committee, held yesterday afternoon, it was decided to have the shaft built of granite from this state's quarries. There was some discussion as to whether the monument should be made of one or three pieces of granite. The memorial is to cost $15,000.

An expert quarryman will be sent to examine the Granite Mountain quarry, 80 miles east of Albany, to see the stone and ascertain if it is suitable for the monument.

FIGHT COST HIM $20

It cost Edward Burke $20, a night in jail, two large black eyes and a bad beating to engage in a free-for-all fight in the Model Lodging House last night. Judge Hogue assessed the fine this morning. Patrolmen Bailey and Gibson furnished the fight in jail, and F. M. Bean, proprietor of the lodging house, contributed the black eyes. It all came about by Burke consuming too large a quantity of North End whisky. Burke started the telephone wires to working in an endeavor to call a doctor, but to the extent of his fine, but at a late hour he had not met with success.

COTTON IS LOWER

LIVERPOOL, June 30.—1:30 p. m. Spot cotton is 24 points down; futures, 14 to 16 points down on near, and 7 to 9 points down on far options.

KANSAS CROP REPORT

CHICAGO, June 30.—The Kansas state report gives 90,000,000 bushels of wheat and reports that corn is late, but other crops are good.

"Strength and vigor come of good food, duly digested. Force, a ready-to-serve wheat and barley food, adds no burden, but sustains, nourishes, invigorates."

The most delightful trip across the continent is via the Denver & Rio Grande, the scenic line of the world. Apply at 124 Third St., Portland, for rates.

SALEM CARNIVAL IN ALL SPLENDOR

Festival and Celebration Opens with All the Encouragement that Could Be Desired—Mid-Summer Event.

Queen Agnes I Is Crowned and Great Crowds Throng Streets of the Capital City—A Whole Week of It.

(Journal Special Service.)
SALEM, Or., June 30.—The Greater Salem Midsummer Carnival opened last night under the most auspicious circumstances for a week's run, and the Capital City turned out en masse to view the beauties of the carnival, to see the queen of the carnival crowned and to enjoy a season of mirth and merry-making such as Salem has not seen in many days. The weather was perfect, the arrangements superb, and the week promises to be a red-letter one in the history of Salem.

At 2 p. m. a grand parade from the carnival grounds through the principal streets of the city, led by carriages containing the queen and her retinue, brought out a large crowd, but this was greatly increased at the formal opening at 7 p. m. At 8:30 o'clock Queen Agnes I (Miss Agnes Gilbert) was given a reception in the main pavilion of the Arnold shows, when Mayor C. P. Bishop delivered an address to the queen, followed by a brief inaugural address by Gov. George E. Chamberlain, delivered in his happiest vein. This was followed by the queen song, "May Morning," by Mrs. Halile Parrish-Kinges, Salem's sweet singer, who was compelled to respond to an encore, so well did she please the large audience.

Queen Agnes I. of Greater Salem, then delivered her throne speech, congratulating the citizens on the happy event, and she formally declared the carnival opened.

During the program General Manager N. J. Judah, of the carnival, announced that Queen Anna II, of the Dallas Carnival, was present, and he called for a salute to the visiting queen, which was given with a will by the delighted crowd. The audience then began to enjoy the beauties of the carnival—a miniature world's fair—to the full, the Streets of Cairo especially proving very attractive, and Salem revelled in pleasures until the midnight hour.

All connected with the carnival are highly pleased with the auspicious opening, and the venture promises to be a great and unqualified success.

CARE OF INSANE

Only Three Out of Thirty-seven Persons Paid For Under New Law.

(Journal Special Service.)
SALEM, June 30.—At the next session of the Legislature an act was passed providing that when any person is committed to the Insane Asylum, the county judge shall determine whether the said person, his or her parents, children or guardians, are able to pay the state for the maintenance of such person during the time he or she is an inmate of the asylum; and if it is found that such person or relatives are able to pay, an order shall be made that $10 per month be paid to the State Treasurer for such maintenance, and such charge shall be collected by process of law, the District Attorney in the district where such creditor resides to represent the state in any suit instituted for the collection of such amount due and remaining unpaid.

This law went into effect on May 21, last, and since that time three persons have been committed to the asylum where it was found that payment could be made, and in two cases ordered, while 34 were committed without such order being made.

As compared to previous years the cost of bringing insane patients to the asylum for the first six months of the year has been decreased, but little less than 10 per cent showing that commitments average nearly the same as in the years when no such charge for maintenance menaced the people who desired to send persons to the asylum, but a less, or longer period may disclose more favorable conditions.

The cases disclosed by the commitments filed, in which payment will be exacted, are as follows:

Wasco County—Frank Allen, Mrs. F. D. Bayless of Spokane, Wash., to pay $10 per month.

Marion County—Mrs. Grace E. Withrow, the husband, P. L. Withrow, of Corvallis, to pay $10 per month.

Union County—J. A. Myers, to be paid out of the estate of his wife, Mrs. Myers.

The other commitments filed with the Secretary of State and made since May 21, last, without judgment for the cost of maintenance are by counties as follows:

Multnomah—Cornellie Guehe, Maggie Myers, John McDonald, Ole Erickson, George Clinger, John Hunter, Charles Stillman, Stephen Costello, John Malone, Lane—Eugene Leager, Adeline Sackett, James West, Ida Heinrich, Hans Hansen.

Marion—John Hendricks, Louise Brewer, Julia Mack.

Jackson—Florence I. Kinney, Jennie Riddie.

Douglas—Charles Groenke, Amelia Alderson.

Wasco—Alfred De Foy, Silas Baken, Benton—Alfred C. Purdy.

Cosco—Phillip S. Wilson, Clatsop—John Kirby.

Harney—Thomas Whittemore, Josephine—Frank Klose.

Linn—John Horkey, Sherman—F. C. St. Clair.

Tillamook—Catherine Potter, Umatilla—Eliza A. Terwiller, Washington—Ralph Goff.

Sues a Guard.
SALEM, June 30.—A suit has been filed in the Circuit Court here by F. J. Strayer against W. Hayden, a guard at the Penitentiary, for the collection of a note for $41 and interest at 10 per cent from June 18, 1899, the date of the note, and money in the hands of Secretary of State F. I. Dunbar has been garnished by the plaintiff. Attorney-General A. M. Crawford yesterday filed a motion in the court on behalf of the Secretary of State, moving that the latter be discharged, as he is not amenable to garnishment.

At the last session of the Legislature the section of the Code exempting public officers from answering as garnishees was repealed, and it is held by some attorneys that, after the repeal of that statute public officers can be garnished and salaries of public officers attached by creditors. The Attorney-General holds, however, that it is against public policy to garnish public officers and that they are not amenable to garnishment; that the repeal of the statute in question does not necessitate the carrying out of that statute by public officers, or that salaries

Greatest Spectacular Event of the Century

SHAM BATTLE BENEFIT HEPPNER SUFFERERS

3rd Regt. and Battery "A" OREGON NATIONAL GUARD

ARTILLERY DRILL

BATTERIES FIELD ARTILLERY U. S. ARMY

GRAND CONCERT BY THE FAMOUS 19th U. S. INFANTRY BAND

Irvington Race Track, Commencing 1 p. m. JULY 4th

GENERAL ADMISSION, 25c.

WHEN YOU SEE THIS LABEL

IN GREEN AND GOLD ON A BOX OF CIGARS, IT IS A GUARANTEE THAT YOU ARE GETTING