

LOUD WILL NOT ACCEPT OFFICE

Former California Congressman Says Position of Fourth Assistant Postmaster-General Not Offered.

But He Will Not Deny that Other Proffer Has Been Made, Although He Claims He Cannot Take It.

Retired Republican politician, retired business man, but active capitalist, Eugene F. Loud, former congressman from the Fifth District of California, is at the Hotel Portland today on his way to his home in San Francisco, after a prolonged visit in the East.

Although he positively denies the truth of the persistent rumor that he has been offered appointment as fourth assistant postmaster-general, Mr. Loud negatively admits that some place in the general postal department has been tendered to him.

"I am out of public life," Mr. Loud said. "I have not been offered the post of fourth assistant postmaster-general and would not accept it if the rumor to that effect were the truth. I am out of public life and intend to remain out of it. My visit to Portland has no political significance, being merely a stop-over to get my breath—a break in the long journey across the continent."

Could Not Deny in Toto. "Will you say positively that no place in the general postal department has been offered you?" was asked. To this question Mr. Loud replied most conservatively.

"On that point I would prefer not to make any statement," he said. "That is a matter in which the general public is not concerned. I do not intend to accept any position in the Postoffice Department."

Being gently urged, Mr. Loud reiterated this statement and clinched it with the assertion that he positively would not enter into any other branch of the government service.

"I have often, within the past few years, heard the rumor that I had been tendered the fourth assistant postmaster-generalship," he said. "This statement is wholly and entirely without foundation. I believe it to be inspired by the enemies of Mr. Bristow, who is now filling that office with perfect satisfaction. I assure you I would never think of displacing so competent a man."

Just from New York. Mr. Loud arrived in Portland this morning from New York City, and will leave this evening for San Francisco. He spent the greater part of the day asleep in his rooms at the Portland.

Mr. Loud is widely known as the opponent of the letter carriers in their efforts to secure increased pay, this fact alone causing his defeat when he sought to perpetuate himself in office.

Loud served as chairman of the Congressional Committee on Postoffice Affairs and Post Roads and was one of the first to advocate the rural free delivery of mail. He was also instrumental in reducing the population limit upon which free distribution of mail might be secured in cities.

Loud is looked upon by labor organizations as an enemy of labor and wage-earners.

TWENTY-FOUR WANT TO BE PHYSICIANS

Applicants for Certificates Being Examined by Medical Examiners.

The annual examination of applicants for state medical certificates was begun in the rooms of the Portland Business College this morning, and will continue tomorrow and Thursday.

Thursday night the results will be made known by the State Board of Medical Examiners. There are in all 24 applicants for licenses, and 23 are graduates of medical colleges. One, Miss Ella Rawlings, is a woman. Of the others one, J. A. Merriam, is a colored man.

The examination this morning was conducted by Dr. W. H. Saylor, whose subjects were anatomy, surgery and the nervous system. This afternoon Dr. W. E. Carril of Oregon City is in charge and his subjects are medical jurisprudence and the practice of medicine.

Dr. A. B. Gillis of Salem will examine the applicants in the practice of medicine, materia medica, therapeutics and diseases of the eye and ear; in the afternoon Dr. Curry of Baker City will be in charge. His subjects will be chemistry, obstetrics and diseases of children. The examinations in diseases of women, pathology and diagnosis.

THE LOCO WEED AGAIN. It is reported by the Greeley Republican that loco weed is usually abundant on the prairies this year. Loco weed is a plant which sets animals crazy, and eventually causes their death if its use is continued.

But the peculiar thing about it is the manner in which it attracts the popular idea that animals have an unerring instinct which causes them to avoid all foods which are harmful. When a horse or cow has once tasted loco it will wander over the prairies hunting for more of it and refusing to eat grass or any other food.

INQUIRE INTO PORTAGE ROAD

Chamber of Commerce Committee Directs Letter of Inquiry to State Board and Seeks Information

Working to secure completion of the portage railroad about the dikes of the Columbia River the special committee from the Portland Chamber of Commerce has addressed a letter to the State Portage Road Board at Salem.

The letter contains a number of pertinent questions concerning the proposed work in which not only Portland, but the entire Northwest is interested. The letter follows:

PORTLAND, Or., July 6, 1903.—The Portage Road Board, Salem, Or.—Gentlemen: The Chamber of Commerce is receiving numerous inquiries relative to the status of the proposed state portage road around the rapids of the Columbia east of The Dalles, and, in order to reply intelligently to these inquiries, this committee will thank you for the following information:

First: Has actual survey begun? Second: What steps, if any, have been taken to secure the right of way across the government location of the proposed and recently abandoned ship railway?

Third: Has the board considered the advisability of building a road by contract? If not, how will the work be done? Fourth: What is the earliest date, in the board's opinion, that actual construction will be possible?

This committee has been informed that responsible parties are desirous of building steamers for the upper river, and a railroad route from the Columbia River at or near Arlington to the interior of Gilliam County, and other lines in the State of Washington; and, as considerable time and money is necessary to perfect their arrangements and be ready to move the crop of 1904, they are naturally anxious for definite information.

This committee will be pleased to discuss some of the more important side issues depending upon the early construction, if the board will be kind enough to set a time and place for such meeting.

Thanking you in advance, we are very respectfully yours, HENRY HAHN, Chairman.

IS CHARGED WITH SERIOUS OFFENSE

Peninsula Station Dairyman Said to Be Selling Milk from Diseased Cow.

A dairyman of Peninsula Station, whose name is withheld by the officials, is charged by Mrs. Blaney of that place with selling milk obtained from a diseased cow. The complaint was brought to the attention of the police last evening and was then referred to Dr. Biersdorf, health commissioner, who in turn notified State Veterinary Surgeon Dr. McLean, who after a short stay in the city went out on another case this morning.

The officials decline to talk about the charges, but it is known that Mrs. Blaney claimed the dairyman in question had been selling milk from a sick cow for some time past, which is one of the worst violations of the statutes covering the milk business possible and makes the guilty person liable to a heavy fine or imprisonment, or both. If the facts are as represented an active prosecution will be instituted by the officials.

MISTAKE OF TWO QUEENS. Marie Antoinette, escaping from the Tuilleries, turned to the right instead of to the left after passing the inner arch. She lost her way, lost time and by this means lost her crown and the crown of Louis XVI. So the story of Carlyle runs. Queen Draga of Servia, according to the cable news of the hour, meant to leave Belgrade, but waited for a going-away gown, being advised that the train for Paris would appear in becoming attire. It was a fatal delay. The Queen and Alexander fell in the palace, victims of "nothing to wear." There are many gaps in the hedge which the divinity of tradition spreads between royalty and the small circumstance slips easily through with fateful large results. Besides which, it appears that he must be a wise king who can forereckon with the false step or folly of his queen.

A SOCIETY NOTE. The following is a society note from the Atchison Globe: "A number of years ago a rich uncle visited with an Atchison family, and the first evening he was there he opened a bottle of champagne. The bottle has been standing on the sidewalk ever since, and to all guests the woman apologizes that her husband doesn't put his champagne bottles away."

VOTE IS DRAWING TO A FINAL CLOSE

Saturday Will Result in the Election of the W. O. W. Carnival Queen.

ELSIE C. MORGAN, Candidate for Carnival Queen.

Saturday night will see the final end of the vote for carnival queen in Portland. Miss Elsie C. Morgan, who has been second on the list, takes the lead this afternoon in the vote, which is as follows: Elsie Morgan ..... 4,017 Emma Jackson ..... 3,809 Fula Bennett ..... 1,809 Helen Sauerman ..... 1,161 Vera Steinsager ..... 853 Anna Phillips ..... 809 Bertha Williams ..... 325 Martha Leutcheuger ..... 310

Elsie C. Morgan, who stands first on the list of candidates for carnival queen, is a member of Oregon Circle 171, Women of Woodcraft, and is very popular with her lodge members. Miss Morgan resides in Albina, where she has hosts of friends who are casting their ballots for her. They contend that Miss Morgan is driving the ideal queen, for she is as pretty as her picture proclaims her, and her ways are winning and attractive.

A regular campaign has been inaugurated in her behalf, and her friends say she will be elected queen if her votes can bring it about. Her popularity is demonstrated by the fact that she has been endorsed by Webfoot, Albina, Sunnyside and Prospect Camps, and all the Woodmen from those "Neighborhoods" are driving their wedges for Miss Morgan and chopping for new votes for every swing of their axes.

MAKES WORK EASIER

Portland People Are Pleased to Learn How It Is Done.

It's pretty hard to attend to duties with a constantly aching back; with annoying urinary disorders; Doan's Kidney Pills make work easier. They cure every kidney ill. George Rutter, who is employed with the Oregon Railroad & Navigation Co., and resides at 291 Second street, says: "I had more or less trouble with my kidneys for a year or more. My back bothered me with sore, irritating pain. Doan's Kidney Pills were recommended to me and I got a box at the Laue-Davis Drug Co.'s store, corner of Yamhill and Third streets. I commenced to use them as directed and to my surprise when I had taken about half the box the pain left my back. Every kidney sufferer should know about Doan's Kidney Pills."

For sale by all dealers, price 50c. Mailed by Foster-Milburn Co., Buffalo, N. Y., sole agents for the United States. Remember the name, Doan's, and take no substitute.

STUDY OF HOBOES A COLLEGE CHAIR

This Unique Fellowship Was Originated by a Woman--Professor Marsch Travels Country Studying Tramp Life.

A university fellowship for the study of hoboism, a unique office originated by a woman, has been in successful existence in Pennsylvania for six months.

The tramp fellow in Benjamin C. Marsch, a brilliant young Cornell graduate, and his work is done for the University of Pennsylvania. He is the first and only "Professor of Trampology," as the students have nicknamed him.

Mr. Marsch's stipend from the university is $500 a year, but his expenses are small, for nearly all his time is spent "in the field" among the real tramps.

Sometimes he is a blind beggar and again a destitute mechanic. He made the acquaintance of 125 tramps on his six months' journeyings, studied and classified them. The result is an amount of accurate knowledge concerning this class that is considered of the greatest value in solving one of the most important sociological problems of the times.

But Mr. Marsch's investigations will go much further. He will spend the coming summer in Europe, where he will study the foreign tramps and the way he is handled. For next winter further plans are being made.

The way in which the "Special Fellowship for the Study of Homeless Men" was created is as follows:

The secretary of the Philadelphia Society for Organizing Charity is Miss Mary Richmond, a young woman with a singularly brilliant and original mind. The Society for Organizing Charity completed, about nine months ago, a very large, complete and costly "Way-farers' Lodge." In this big building in the heart of Philadelphia any destitute man may obtain a night's lodging with supper and breakfast, in return for three or four hours of not very onerous work at wood-chopping.

Even more striking was the fact that the lodge was completed, sent to Charles Curtis Harrison, the provost of the University of Pennsylvania, and proposed that the university organize a tramp fellowship.

If the university will establish such a fellowship," she said, "the Society of Organizing Charity will join in its conduct."

Provost Harrison thought well of Miss Richmond's proposition, and Benjamin C. Marsch was appointed to the fellowship.

Mr. Marsch, the Tramp Fellow, is robust and tall. He has a hearty, frank manner, which makes it easy for him to make friends.

Twenty years ago he was born in Bulgaria. His father, the Rev. G. D. Marsch, is a Congregationalist missionary. He himself is a graduate of the arts course at Cornell, and he took a post-graduate course of one year at the University of Chicago.

Since his appointment to the Pennsylvania fellowship he has made a study of the tramp beggar. He has found that the tramp beggar can collect, in Philadelphia, a great deal of money.

At which Mr. Marsch collected, no less than $11.50 in one 10-hour day.

BEAUTY OF A FOREST FIRE

Beauty of a Forest Fire. In spite of the fact that thousands of dollars' worth of timber was being destroyed, the people of Blaine say that the forest fires on Mars Hill Mountain last week furnished a glorious and awful spectacle. It was in reality a mountain of fire, flames roaring in all the fury of a demon. Here and there some monarch of the forest, all aflame, would be silhouetted against an instant against the sky, its branches aglow as with rows of tiny lights. Then a gust of wind would cause the flames to leap and roar from limb to limb. Instead of a burning tree, it looked like a huge bonfire, with nothing definite and distinct except the wild sheet of flame. A leap from this charred, naked tree to another, and then the spectacle would be repeated with a new victim. On the other side of the mountain the fire seemed to envelop everything, transforming the forest into a monster of destruction, against which man was powerless.

CAPTURE OF A MONKEY

Ring tail monkeys, one of the most valuable and expensive of the smaller animals, are caught in this way. A cocoon is split in two, and a banana with a piece of wood running through it placed lengthwise through the nut, the two halves of which are drawn together by wires. Then a hole is cut just large enough for the monkey's paw to enter. The monkey spies the tempting nut from his tree. He hops down, looks it over, sees the hole and smells the banana inside. He is fond of bananas. Putting his paw in, he grasps it, but the wood prevents it from coming out. Then the catchers appear and the monkey runs for a tree. But he cannot climb because of the cocoon on his paw, and he will not let go of that, so he is captured pawing wildly at the tree trunk.

BOARDING HOUSE IS LONELY DWELLING

The Single Woman Finds It Usually Their Effect Is Beneficial Particularly the Scent of the Rose.

"I've heard of the wives of farmers in the remote country regions who go giddy with pure loneliness," said the woman boarding house dweller, "and I have come to realize perfectly well how that might happen. Many women who live alone sometimes declare that life in a boarding house is less homesome than life in a flat or an apartment hotel unless a woman can afford to entertain frequently and have her friends around her. But life in the boarding house may be dreary enough to the woman who is entirely alone.

"If she doesn't happen to want to make friends with anybody in the house, there is only one thing left for her to do after dinner. She must either go to her own room or out of the house. And there will be many evenings, popular as she may be, when there will be no occasion for going out. Besides, boarding house women are not likely to be asked out very much. If they're young or of the bachelor type, they can make up parties and go out together. But, left to the window stare and the bareness of the streets, the woman is going to be very much alone.

"I have sat in the parlor at night and talked with idiots just because I hated to go up to my room, as I had done for three nights before. I sit alone until bed time comes. I have played whist with such blunders that I could scarcely hold my tongue, rather than leave behind the only society available.

"It is all very well to talk about self-control and reading. Try two or three years of boarding house life with the endless evenings in one's own room and the delight of reading has begun to pall, even if one's eyes have held out.

"If the New York boarding house is lonesome, think what existence must be in the country. When I go to a boarding house in the South nowadays I never ask about the food or the beds or the comfort of the house. All I ask is: 'Who is there? Are there any old women in the house with trained nurses who go to bed every night at 9 o'clock?' If the boarders are of that kind it makes no difference how the house may be kept. I wouldn't go there if there was a chef famous as any condor in the world.

"The rose is not only by you but by every other woman. Have you not among your acquaintances some dear, good, kind soul who reveals in her window garden? In the winter it is filled with roses, when all other windows stare and the bareness of the streets. In the summer it is twice as gay, and the woman who attends the garden spot is found perpetually hovering over the beds.

By what has always been considered a happy chance the woman who reveals in the garden is a creature of gentle soul, always cheerful, always kind hearted.

And now the beauty specialist comes along and declares that it is the influence of the flowers that brings all this about. The rose also always nervousness, for its odor is very penetrating, and, having cured the nerves of the head so that it no longer aches, it gets in its good work upon the other nerves of the body. Gradually one becomes soothed and tranquilized.—Chicago Record-Herald.

ELECTRIC AND STEAM

It will perhaps surprise some persons to learn that electric railways carry eight times as many passengers as steam railways carry. There are 987 electric railway companies, against 2,057 steam railway companies. The electric roads have 126,648 miles of line, against 197,237 miles of steam line. The former have 67,199 cars against 1,550,833 cars on steam railways. The total capitalization of electric roads is $3,145,606,645, against $11,688,147,921 for the steam roads. The earnings are $241,584,927, against $1,588,526,037, and the net income, $309,955,233, against $241,511,318. The electric roads are ahead also in the number killed and injured. The killed numbering 1,216 and the injured 47,428, against a record of but 282 killed and 4,988 injured on the steam roads. The latter have over 10 times the mileage of the electric roads, but the electric roads run chiefly through the crowded streets of cities.

WOMAN AS OVERSEER

A young woman has been appointed road overseer for a prominent road in Shelby County, the road being known as the County Court for her particular road district, and is to work the roads just as well as the members of the stronger sex who were appointed to similar positions.

Many members of the court who are responsible for the young lady's appointment are confident she will make a record for herself, and that the roads in her particular district will be the best specimens in the whole county. It is also predicted that she will have no difficulty in securing hands to work the roads, as most men will not object to being "bossed" by a woman.

The young lady who has thus achieved distinction as the only road overseer in the United States is Miss Bessie Shipley, who lives with a Miss Helms, formerly of Chicago, on a farm near Millington. Miss Shipley has her eyes on the business of farming for themselves. They own the property and conduct its affairs.

Miss Shipley was appointed road overseer by the County Court for road district No. 12, the road being known as Shipley Road in the Second Civil District. By a special arrangement the magistrates of the various districts were permitted to submit lists of those whom they desired appointed as road overseers.
