Out of a total of $302 collected for the improvement of St. Mary's Cemetery, on the Base Line Road, $268.15 has been expended according to the report that has been rendered to the St. Mary's Cemetery Improvement Association by George H. Jackson, who had charge of the work of beautifying and improving the grounds. The association was formed a year ago and at its recent annual meeting the following officers were re-elected: E. B. Hill, president; Mrs. M. Zan, treasurer; George H. Jackson, secretary.

Mrs. Henrietta Mansfield of Nampa has been appointed by the Governor of Idaho as a member of the St. Louis and Portland Fair Commissioners for that state. Mrs. Mansfield is well known throughout Oregon, and her many friends are very much delighted over the honor shown her. The Boise News, in a recent editorial, voices the sentiment of Idaho people when it says: "Idaho club women will have their cause ably represented and advanced by having so genuine and competent a club woman on the commission from this state."

The Royal Bakery and Confectionery, Park and Washington streets, is the product of gentlemen who came to Portland equipped with long experience in that sort of catering, and it is a fact that it has already forged its way to the front rank of such delightful places in this city. The light luncheons served at the Royal are said by epicures to surpass anything that has comforted their palates in many moons. Its confections, from the Aldon Candy Factory, are surpassingly palatable, and its ice cream tables are the joy of, at least, the gentler sex.

The trustees of Trinity Episcopal Church are negotiating for property belonging to the Bishop Scott Academy located at Nineteenth and Everett streets and if it can be secured a new church building will be erected at that place. The plan being followed in the transaction is to exchange a block of church property between Washington, Couch, Seventeenth and Eighteenth streets for the Bishop Scott tract. It is believed the matter of the transfer will be arranged at a meeting of the trustees of the academy this afternoon and of the vestry of Trinity Church this evening.

To climb Castle Rock.—M. M. Ringler, physical director, and a party of Y. M. C. A. boys, now camping at the Cascades, will ascend Castle Rock next Tuesday. Steamers Bailey Gatzert, Regulator and Dallas City will approach as near as possible to the huge rock on that day, and give the boys the regulation salute. Passengers on the steamers will do well to bring their cameras along and take advantage of the opportunity to get an interesting snapshot of the rock and daring adventurers. Steamer Bailey Gatzert will leave Alder street wharf 8:30 a. m.

The White Corner's warfare on high prices is still at fever heat. The management says that the campaign shall continue to be waged until every Journal reader is aware that: First, the White Corner is the largest general merchandise store in Oregon, and, second, that its prices are positively the smallest. Since it began its campaign through the columns of The Journal, the business of the house has almost, if not quite, doubled. Strangers attending the carnival will do well for themselves to take advantage of its offerings. It is located at Third, Yamhill and Second streets. There are entrances on each of these.

This increase, tabulated by months, is as follows:

	1903 over 1902.
January	$ 3,674.27
February	4,323.41
March	3,560.07
April	4,608.19
May	4,646.98
June	5,409.59
Total	$26,222.51

TO BRING THEIR GOODS BACK HOME

Many American Families Who Moved to Canada Now Want to Return.

Many of the families who left their happy homes in various states of this country during the past few years and moved to the well advertised lands in Canada are becoming weary of their new habitations and long to return to the United States.

This fact is brought out most strongly in a letter received this morning by Max M. Shillock, Secretary of the Portland Board of Trade, from J. G. Armstrong & Co., bankers, of Ponoka, Alberta, Canada. Even the bankers themselves seem weary of living in King Edward's great colony, for in the epistle they ask if there is "a chance for settlement in Oregon." They will be sent a large bundle of literature in which they may see that there are opportunities without number in the webfoot state.

That portion of the letter which tells the tale of disappointment is: "Several people here from the United States are thinking of moving there (meaning Oregon), so wish to know something more about the state."

And a little further along in the letter, the bankers state, "We are considering the same thing ourselves."

CHAUTAUQUANS' GREAT MEETING

Gathering of the Willamette Association Bids Fair to Eclipse Any Effort of Previous Years.

Speakers of National Reputation Will Be In Attendance—For 13 Days the Camping Will Continue.

(Journal Special Service.)

OREGON CITY, July 13.—The Willamette Valley Chautauqua Association, which meets at Gladstone Park tomorrow and continues until July 25, bids fair to eclipse any meeting of that association which has been held.

In the securing of talent no expense has been spared, and the very best speakers that the country affords have been secured for the occasion. Among them are such eminent orators as Robert J. Burdette, Congressman Champ Clark and Senator J. P. Dolliver. Everything possible will be done to make the meeting a success and to make a 10-days' outing for the many campers who are expected pleasant. The program for tomorrow, the opening day, is as follows:

10:30 a. m.—Music, Chemawa Indian Band. Address of welcome, President W. C. Hawley of Salem. Response, Col. Robert A. Miller of Oregon City. Organization of classes and announcements by instructors.

1:30 p. m.—Band concert.

2 p. m.—Reading, Mrs. Harriet Colburn Saunderson of Seattle. Lecture, "The Merchant Marine of America," President W. C. Hawley.

3:30 p. m.—Baseball.

7:30 p. m.—Band concert. Introductory address, United States Senator John H. Mitchell of Oregon.

8 p. m.—Lecture, "A Poor Man's Government and a Poor Boy's Country," United State Senator Jonathan P. Dolliver of Iowa.

MINISTERS TO MEET BEFORE CHAUTAUQUA

Portland Pastors Will Present Papers Each Day at Gladstone Park.

In connection with the Willamette Valley Chautauqua, which will begin its annual meeting at Gladstone Park, near Oregon City, tomorrow, the Portland Ministerial Association is to hold a series of lectures and public discussions, one hour each day being devoted to this work. The ministers who will participate include those of all denominations except the Episcopal, Catholic, Unitarian and Universalist.

The ministerial exercises will begin July 15 and will be continued daily until July 24, with the exception of the 19th. The hour from 11 to 12 each morning has been set apart for the ministers, and papers will be read by them and then discussed in open debate. One paper a day will be presented, occupying about 30 minutes, and the remaining half-hour will be devoted to discussion. The following program has been arranged for:

July 15—Leader, Rev. J. H. Gibson, D. D., president Portland Ministerial Association; address, "Prometheus Bound and Unbound," Rev. J. R. T. Lathrop, D. D.

July 16—Leader, Rev. P. J. Green; address, "Does the Church Fulfill Her Mission With the Laboring Classes?" Rev. Alexander Blackburn, D. D.

July 17—Leader, Rev. Albyn Esson; address, "The Present Status of the Temperance Problem," Rev. M. D. McClelland.

July 18—Leader, Rev. H. J. Talbott, D. D.; address, Professor J. H. Coleman, D. D., president.

July 20—Leader, Rev. C. E. Cline, D. D.; address, "Is Christianity a Success in Saving Man and Society?" Rev. J. J. Staub.

July 21—Leader, Rev. S. C. Lapham; address, "Prison Reform," Rev. E. W. St. Pierre, Salem, Or.

July 22—Leader, Rev. G. W. Plummer; address, "Sixteen," Rev. W. S. Gilbert.

July 23—Leader, Rev. J. F. Ghormley, D. D.; address, Secretary H. W. Stone, Portland Y. M. C. A.

July 24—Leader, Rev. D. B. Gray; address, "Church Finances," Hon. W. W. Cotton.

BENEFIT SOCIAL

The First Christian Church Will Have Illustrated Lecture on "Ben Hur" Tonight.

The members of the First Christian Church have prepared a benefit social tonight to be given for Rev. J. F. Ghormley, the pastor. There will be a stereopticon lecture on "Ben Hur," which will be preceded by a well-arranged literary and musical program prepared by Mrs. M. V. Crawford and Mrs. C. M. Kiggins as follows:

Contralto Solo—Miss Emma Wigle.
Violin Solo—M. C. Walden.
Reading—Hazel Hoopingarner.
Mandolin and Guitar Duet — Hulin sisters.
Soprano Solo—Miss Ella Hobey.
Reading—Miss Matlock.
Selection—Weber Banjo Club.
Cornet Solo—Mr. P. Caldwell.
Reading—Miss Lucy Ball.
Bass Solo—Dr. Dufur.

The pictures which will be shown during the lecture are said to be the best ever presented in Portland. The program is billed to begin at 8 o'clock tonight.

UP TO CASTLE ROCK

Excursionists Will Be Able to See the Boys Climb the High Bluff.

A splendid opportunity will be given amateur photographers to get some very pretty scenes along the Columbia tomorrow. The boys of the Y. M. C. A. who are now camping out in charge of M. M. Ringler, physical director of the association, will climb Castle Rock. The steamers Regulator, Bailey Gatzert and Dalles City will make special trips and approach the hugh rock as closely as possible during the time that the climb is being made.

Other points along the river will be viewed from the decks of the steamers and all the beauties of the scenery can be enjoyed. Trips up the Columbia on these popular steamers are one of the best features of Portland excursions. The Bailey Gatzert will leave Alder-street dock at 8:30 tomorrow morning.

"I suffered for months from sore throat. Electric Oil cured me in twenty-four hours." M. S. Gist, Hawesville, Ky.

MISSIONARIES DO EXTRA GOOD WORK

Dr. J. Hunter Wells, Recently from Corea, Tells of Hospitals and Christian Love.

Working among the 12,000,000 Corean people is a little handful of foreign missionaries who strive in every way they can to bring home the teachings of the Christian religion with conviction to the minds of worshippers of Buddah and Confucius. Not only in a religious sense, but to elevate those with whom they associate along moral, mental and physical lines is the labor of these missionaries. Dr. J. Hunter Wells, who spoke yesterday at the First Presbyterian Church of Portland, was one of these. "Foreign Missions" formed his topic.

Rev. Dr. Wells prefaced his remarks with a statement that the banner of the cross had found its way to almost every nook and corner of the world, and that so-called foreign missions very much resembled the missionary work at home because of the recent inventions which enable rapid communication and quick travel.

Speaking of the work of missionaries, he said it was not only to better the religious conditions of residents of foreign lands, but to dispel disease, to bring about education and to promote the general welfare of the people.

In 1895 Rev. Dr. Wells went to Corea as a missionary, making his headquarters at Pyengyang, a city of 70,000 people. At this place there were 24 Americans, 50 Chinese and 200 Japanese. The rest were Coreans. Pestilence and disease ran rampant. Great good was done as a result of modern medical and surgical treatment instituted through the efforts of Dr. Wells. In a hospital costing only $1,500 more than 75,000 people were treated for eye trouble alone in eight years. Not only have the afflicted been healed, but a class in medicine and surgery is under training and will increase this good work through dissemination of the knowledge thus gained.

The Christian religion is preached by the missionaries carrying on this work and is being readily received. Dr. Wells says that those who speak of the heathen's religion being "good enough" have never witnessed a pagan country and really witnessed terrors of its faith.

A DARING BURGLAR ALMOST CAPTURED

F. S. Hall Awakes to Find a Stranger in Room but Could Not Land Him.

A daring burglar narrowly escaped capture at the hands of F. S. Hall, whose room at 15 Tenth street north, the night prowler had the temerity to enter.

While sleeping soundly at 3:30 o'clock this morning, Mr. Hall awoke with a start to find a stranger in his room and in the act of departing with his suit of clothes. Mr. Hall objected to this proceeding and at once evidenced his disapproval by leaping from his bed and seizing the thief.

The burglar fought for his liberty and for a few minutes the two men wrestled for victory. The intruder, however, was the stronger of the two and he finally broke away from his would-be captor and made his escape in the darkness.

Investigation showed that the man had gained entrance by raising a window of the first floor. He had ransacked every room on this floor, but nothing was missing. In making his hurried exit he dropped Mr. Hall's clothes.

The burglar was about 35 years of age and of medium size. He wore a black hat which covered his face so that Mr. Hall did not get a look at his countenance.

TO ADVERTISE FAIR

Chief of Press and Publicity Bureau Outlining Systematic Program for Booming Purposes.

N. J. Levinson, the newly-elected chief of the Lewis and Clark Fair Press and Publicity Bureau, has taken hold of his work and is outlining a systematic program to be followed from now until the opening of the Fair.

The daily press east of the Rocky Mountains will be reached through the mails and the press associations and no opportunity will be neglected, so it is said, to keep the Lewis and Clark Centennial before the public. The amount of money to be spent for advertising has not been determined, and, until the appropriation for that purpose has been made, no expenditures in that direction will be incurred.

The railroads are certain to do their full duty in the matter of advertising the Fair. The closest relations between the Fair management and the railroads will be cultivated.

HERE TO VISIT

Mr. and Mrs. L. C. Stanley of Chippewa Falls, Wis., arrived in the city Saturday on a visit to their children, Mr. and Mrs. Fred Stanley, at their residence on Twenty-third street. Shields' Excellent Bill.

To fully 3,000 people assembled at Shields' Park last night, a most pleasing entertainment was given. The best lot of artists so far brought together by the management of the Park is on the program this week, and it can be said with truth that one of the most worthy vaudeville shows ever witnessed in Portland is the product of their efforts.

Probably the greatest winner on the bill presented last night was the sketch by Kelly and Kelly. The members of this duo are Mr. Kelly, the young father of Miss Kelly, one of the brightest 6-year-old tots that has appeared in this city. The little miss can hardly be called a tot, for she is as clever a dancer as hundreds of grown persons who make their living with their feet. The great beauty of the entertainment given by this pleasing pair is the new and welcome conversation indulged in by them. There is nothing tiresome about their talk, which is such a common fault with half the vaudeville artists. The little girl is no prodigy either, for what she does is done with "grown-up" ability.

Dan McGreevy, the black-face monologuist, is very clever, and he dances well. He gives the old Bob Slavin style of work, which is gratifying to a high degree. Frank Bowman, in sleight-of-hand art, is as capable as any one who has happened this way at any time. His palming feats are the best seen so far, no one excepted, and the new trick of placing the live canary bird in the paper sack and with the discharge of a pistol transferring the little warbler back into its cage is very pleasing. Mr. Bowman's trick is also very well done, and while others have displayed the same feature, it cannot be remembered that any one did it quite so well, unless it was Hermann or Keller.

One of the best cards on the program is Miss Eva Thatcher, the "Irish Lady." She has returned to Mr. Shields' house for a week and when she appeared last night a royal welcome was accorded her. Miss Thatcher gained many friends here a few weeks ago, and this time she has new features which are well received. In fact, the "Irish Lady" is a great favorite. Dacey, Chase and Ward, in their sketch, "Fun in a Gymnasium," make it a mighty good thing. It is one of those acts that is really funny from the word go. It is not too long and one thing that can be said about it is, there is no tiresome conversation put in as a time killer. The sketch is different from anything seen here for many a day, if ever before. Dacey is a splendid Irish character and a clever humorist, and Chase and Ward give an excellent exhibition with the gloves; the former punches the bag in a manner that would make many a professional, high-class fighter green with envy. Wise and Milton, the comedians, are very good, and make a hit. However, it might be suggested that Mr. Wise attempts too much. He overdoes his comedy part to such an extent that he becomes objectionable many times. His descriptive talk on "woman's styles" is very laughable and it takes well, but he would leave a better impression were he to cut out barroom guffaws in falsetto. Kehoe and Rainer are real comedy artists, and some of the exchanges of wit they essay are very fetching. Miss Rainer is a very pleasing and modest vaudevillian, and if she continues in the way she began last night she will make many friends in Portland. Charles H. Chenoweth, the cornetist, is excellent. This virtuoso won the people when he was here a few weeks ago, and all remembered him last night. The moving pictures of Multnomah Falls are the best that have been exhibited by Mr. Shields at any time. They excel in merit the pictures of President Roosevelt and the human flag. In fact, no superior polyscope work, or moving pictures, have been thrown on canvas in a local house, and not a more pleasing subject has been taken up than the reproduction of the grandeur of nature such as surround the natural scenery of the falls. Finally, it's a very fine show that Mr. Shields is giving all this week, and with pleasant weather great crowds may be expected at the park. The following is the program:

Frank Bowman, illusionist.
The Leonis, horizontal bars.
Eva Thatcher, refined Irish comedy.
Charles Chenoweth, cornet virtuoso.
Dacey, Chase and Ward, "Fun in a Gymnasium."
Wise and Milton, comedians.
Dan McGreevy, monologuist.
Kehoe and Rainer, comedy dispensers.
Kelly and Kelly, singers and dancers.
Polyscope.

The Empire.

Tonight is "first night" at the Empire and for this week Manager Baker has prepared a program that should add to Portland's gayety. In the place of honor on the new bill are the mirthful minstrels, McIntyre and Primrose. Equally as good in another line of work is Marsh Craig, the marvelous equilibrist, whose feats of balancing are truly amazing. Christy and Willis, as a tramp juggler and saucy soubrette, keep an audience amused every instant of their act, while World and Kingston appear in similar characters, but do a different line of work. Conroy and Pearl are two black-face jesters who sing, talk and dance, while Haywood and Haywood, the novelty entertainers, promise to finish in front. Many other attractive acts are on the bill which will doubtless attract large houses all week.

The most delightful trip across the continent is via the Denver & Rio Grande, the scenic line of the world. Apply at 124 Third st., Portland, for rates.
