After the adjournment of the Geodetic Congress, Prof. Tittman will go to Lon-Washington. Prof. Tittman is one of near the Ohio River, the best-posted men in the United States on the Alaskan boundary dispute. For years he has made a special study of this subject, and he has secured for the Coast and Geodetic Survey a valuable collection of old British, and other maps, some of which, it is said, show that the British geographers admit the American contention and that the territory in dispute belongs to the United States. Prof. Tittman has made an impartial study of the question, and as a result of his investigation, extended over a number of years, he is firmly convinced that if an agreement is reached by the commission it will be favorable to the United States. He was one of the commissioners who two years ago studied original maps in Canada and examined boundary posts in the Northwest country as a preliminary to the work of fixing the true boundary line. While Prof. Tittman is not a member of the commission, he will have great influence with its members by giving them the benefit of his technical knowledge and experience, . In connection with the departure of Prof. Tittman, it is reported that the Boundary Commission, consisting of Secretary Root and Senators Lodge and Turner, will go to London with instructions to yield nothing in view of the belief that the claim of the United States is well authenticated. Unless the British yield, it is said, there is sure to be a disagreement, and this will practically decide the case in favor of the United States, for in the event of the fallure of the negotiations this government will stand by its claim, retain control of the territory in dispute, and in all probability will decline to enter into further negotiations.
