EVENTS OF THE WEEK.

Mrs. G. F. Wells and Mrs. C. Lewis Mead pleasantly entertained a few friends Wednesday evening at their home, 125 Fourteenth street. The little gathering was in honor of Mrs. J. P. Hill and her niece, Miss Josie Pilkington and Gertrude Shelton of California. The rooms were prettily decorated. Music and games were participated in and dainty refreshments were served during the evening.

The reception to Rev. and Mrs. Alexander Blackburn at the First Baptist Church last Monday evening was the leading social feature in church circles during the week and amply illustrated the fact that all disensions which may have existed in the First Baptist Church had been relegated to the past, and apparently forgotten.

No effort was spared to make the reception to the pastor and his wife, previous to their departure, one long to be remembered. The vestibule of the massive church and the gallery were festooned with ivy. Throughout the auditorium plants were scattered, including white palms, huckleberry and Indian arrow wood blossoms were intermingled. This charming combination resulted in a very pretty effect and gave to the room an air of fragrant summer. Standing in front of a solid bank of ferns, palms and drooping arrow wood, Mr. and Mrs. Blackburn were presented to each stranger, and heartily received the members of the congregation and their personal friends. After over 100 persons had paid their respects all formally was dispensed with and the enjoyment of the evening continued.

The following program was rendered and added greatly to the pleasure of the reception:

Invocation, Rev. Dr. Agar; song, "Come, All Ye Lads and Lassies," Mrs. Walter Reed, Mrs. A. Sheldon, Mr. Wm. Belcher and Mr. Nick Zan; address, Rev. E. M. Bliss, Third Baptist Church; song, "Thank You, God," Mrs. Helen Vanseekey, Dr. Lathrop of Grace Methodist Church; address, Dr. House of First Congregational Church; song (duet), "Merry, Merry are We," by Mrs. Walter Reed and Mrs. A. Sheldon; address, Rev. Dr. Boardman of McMinnville College; song, tenor solo, "Among the Lillies," Mr. Wm. Belcher; address, Dr. E. P. Hill of First Presbyterian Church; response by Dr. Alexander Blackburn; song, quartet, "Thank You, God," Mrs. Helen Vanseekey, Walter Reed, Mrs. A. Sheldon, Mr. Belcher and Mr. Zan.

At the conclusion of the program the Sunday School rooms were thrown open and those present requested to participate in the refreshments served at 11 different tables. Each one of them were decorated in different colors by the harmonious blending of flowers. Even the ices, which were daintily served by 24 young ladies, powdered in white and were decorated with the colors of their respective stations, carried the colors of their tables. Eleven ladies presided in the distribution of refreshments.

Mrs. Blackburn was ably assisted in the serving of refreshments by Mrs. W. H. Selkner, Mrs. Ida M. Helitz, Mrs. G. Kennedy, Mrs. C. J. Millis, Mrs. Lucinda Gay, Mrs. Lucille Johnson, Mrs. S. Magner, Mrs. Katie M. Brown, Mrs. Mary Stille and Mrs. Grant Phoebe. Miss Emma Blagen had charge of the decorations and was assisted by Miss Fannie Barber, Miss Kate Felling, Miss Nellie Kennedy, T. A. Olsen and Alvin B. Barber.

Those who had charge of the formal reception were Mr. and Mrs. N. J. Blagon, Captain and Mrs. Sladon, Mr. and Mrs. O. P. M. Johnson and Mrs. Ella Clinton.

Mrs. Edward Failing tendered a reception at her beautiful home Wednesday evening in honor of her daughters, Katherine and Rhoda, and Miss Knowlton of Proport, Ill. The Misses Failing have been attending Bryn Mawr, Pennsylvania College for the past four years and Miss Knowlton was one of their classmates.

As a social feature the gathering was one of the most successful in Portland during the year. The handsome rooms were arranged with artistic skill, the dining room being decorated in green and white with sweet peas and carnations in profusion. The parlors were adorned with yellow, cosmos and Iceland poppies being the leading floral effect. In the library dainty pink was produced by pretty arrangements of Mareschal Niel roses backed by drooping ferns.

Refreshments were served by the ladies assisting. Those who attended to the ices being Mrs. Wesley Ladd, Mrs. Harrison Corbett, Miss May Failing and Miss Lanthorn. The coffee was served by Mrs. William Alvord; Mrs. William MacMaster, Mrs. Helen Ladd Corbett, Mrs. Beebe and Miss McCamant.
