FRESH MEAT IS

Larger Supplies of Beef Cause and Lower Quotations Prevail on Street.

Packed Flesh of Local Manu--Salmon Arriving More Lively-Potatoes Bad.

MEATS ARE LOWER.

Changes in the quotations of both packed and fresh meats will be noted today. Warmer weather and a smaller demand is the principal cause.

On Front street today the prices on the various grades of fresh meats are lower on account of the larger receipts and the smaller demand. Fresh beef is arriving in too large a supply and demand is not steady enough to keep prices from goins; down. Hogs are coming in larger lots, but the demand may be called fair with the call, especfally for the block stock, firmer. is scarce and dealers are clamoring for supplies at the top quotations. Mutton and lambs are also lower in price. The same cut in quotations is made by the inspected meat concerns.

Packed Meats Are Lower. In the local packed meat market our tations are lowered today on account of the increased run of hogs and the reduced ruling quotation on that commodity. No change was made in the quotations of Eastern product. Lard is unchanged. Plenty of Watermelons

Nearly half a dozen cars of wateralons arrived in the city for localnmission men today and the market seems to be overstocked. Prices have consequently taken a drop and ruling quotations today range from 85 to 90 ents per 100 pounds. Cantaloupes are in larger supply and on the street prices are lower. Peaches are more plentiful, a small shipment of Early Hales being received from Ashfand yesterday.

Wild blackberries are playing out and supplies are hardly seen on the street

One car of fancy lemons arrived from the South today. A small shipment of Honolulu bananas arrived yesterday afternoon-the first shipment of the sea-The fruit was in fine condition and sold at higher quotations than the ordinary stock.

Oregon pears are arriving in small supply from The Dalles and are quoted on the street at 75 cents a box. Appricots, both dried and fresh, are coming in fair supply. The fresh variety are quoted at 90 cents. Grapes are plentiful and quotations are down to $1.30 per crate. Some very fair apples, both from this state and the south, arrived today. Prices range from $1 to stantly growing larger and the local markets are getting overstocked with A cut in the price to the fishermen on the lower river yesterday was followed by a similar cut in local quotations today. Halibut is coming in fair supply but the Wish is of smaller size than usual. Other fish are unchanged in either supply or price.

Potatoes Drug the Market.

Potato men on the street are being burdened with extra heavy receipts of Oregon new potatoes. The stocks are arriving in a much more lively manner than the demand will warrant, and prices are going a-begging. Some in-quiries are being received from Dawson City for supplies and if these orders are secured the market will show a slight improvement. The call is solely for Prices as a result have advanced on tha grade of stock and the local varietie are likewise showing every indicatio of an early advance.

New Wheat Arrives. The first car of new crop wheat ar rived in the city yesterday and wa listed as No. 2 bluestem. Harvestin operations are being pushed vigorously in Eastern Oregon and the work in th Valley will be begun within the weel Harvest returns show a large shortag in the yield from that of former years Eggs are growing weaker and th same is true of small spring chickens which are flooding the street. Old hens are as active as ever with quotations unchanged. There is a slightly firmer demand for ducks, but no changes apmear in quotations. Geese and turkeys are arriving but the stock is not wanted

The cats crowd is a good deal inter ested in the present situation. Something, however, seems to have reas sured everybody as to the handling of the cash stock of oats. The Howe crowd seems to be willing to buy oats at figures again and some of the others who were right early in the season are taking either December or May.

Rich people are being talked of the ones who are interested in the July, and the recent handling of a big stock of standard oats indicates that whoever does own them proposes to make no sacrifices and is not in a position to be compelled to.

The crop advices yesterday on oats, both from Washington and from Springfield told of yields lighter than antici-

Unable to Destroy Corn.

There is this unusual feature of the corn situation this year that an early frost might almost wipe the crop out and probably would create a scare that would entirely wipe out any stubborn short sellers. If frosts are escaped there may prove to be crop enough to make the present price look high. the market is kept nervous and sellers are timid with the feeling that the extraordinary developments that might follow an early freeze makes the selling price extra hazardous. The bear season is expecting only moderate profits. The bull is hoping a frost will make him a killing.

NEW ORDINANCE IS BEING CONSIDERED

Heavy Rains in Kansas Blamed Authorities Want a Law Compelling Contractors to Clear Away Debris.

Mayor Williams is contemplating drawing up an ordinance for the con sideration of the City Council, requiring all contractors or street workers to clear the rubbish out of the thoroughtwo days. The heavy Kansas rains of fares after the improvements are finished. He says considerable complaint has been made to him lately that the contractors were generally in the habit have felt the effect of this dropping of depositing the rubbish, old boards, etc., on the streets and leaving it there for a period of weeks and months before it was cleared away.

Sidewalk Inspector Caswell has succeeded in compelling a number of contractors to haul away the rubbish they leave after completing a street or side-walk improvement, but the neglect has become so general it is thought an ordinance making such a custom a violation of the law would prove far more effective.

Cases of this character are not isolated ones, the Mayor claims, but are noticeable from one portion of the city to the other. On Sixteenth and Nineteenth streets, near where the Mayor lives, the contractors piled the debris along by the gutter and it required considerable talk and threats before claim that "some one else" was responsible, and should have been compelled to do the work.

The feature of the new ordinance will probably be the clause requiring all street contractors to clear away debris from the thoroughfares where they have worked, within five days after the job itself it completed. An quate punishment will be provided for, to insure the carrying out of the stat-

JEWELRY IS CLAIMED

The watches, rings and lockets dissidewalk at Second and Madison streets Monday morning, have been claimed and returned to their rightful owners by the police. The last article claimed is the watch belonging to Miss Nida Brisbine, from whom it was taken three years ago. Miss Brisbine's father, who formerly traveled for the Blumauer-Frank Company, and at one time owned a drug store at Forest Grove, gave her the timepiece at Christmas, in 1899, and the owner was much pleased to get The jewelry is thought to have been stolen by Reuben Neer, an ex-convict, who was sent from Portland to the Salem penitentiary, where he is now an inmate.

DISPUTE OVER LICENSE

L. Shank, of the second-hand firm of Shank & Noodleman, 405 Front street, was very indignant this morning when License Inspector McEachern arrested him for collecting junk without a license. Shank excitedly displayed a license which he claimed covered his business, but the officer asserts that it is a second-hand permit and does not cover the junk business. Shank objected to being locked up, but the nounce that the crusade will continue.

POOL SELLS HOPS

(Journal Special Service.) SALEM, August 5 -M. H. Durst, o. San Francisco, has secured a portion of the pool of the Oregon Hopgrowers' Association, amounting to from 1,000 to 2,000 bales of hops, the larger portion of the stocks left in this state. It is not announced what advance Mr. Durst will pay, and rumor has it that it will be 16 to 17% cents a pound, without re-course, but this is denied by knowing ones-men themselves interested in the pool-and the price secured may be less than 151/2 cents. Mr. Durst will take the hops consigned from the pool to 13.93 per cent. There is a good demand to trested, probably John Winstanley, of for Atchison, New York Central and Salem, the secretary of the association. London, and one of the local growers interested, probably John Winstanley, of will accompany him and look after the interests of the growers,

SENATOR TURNER AND HIS CHANCES

Political Situation in Washington Surrounded-Good Arguments Why Democratic Party May Succeed.

General Mix-Up in Matters East the Cascades-Turner Could Have Governorship If He To Desired.

(Journal Special Service.) SPOKANE, Wash., Aug 5,-Discussion Washington Democratic politics. lately carried on in various Washington and Oregon newspapers, has raised the question as to the desire of George Turner, whose service as United States Senator was ended when Levi Ankeny was sworn in, to be nominated on the Democratic ticket for Governor next year. The cool-blooded truth is contained in these two brief assertions:

If George Turner wants to be nomi-nated for Governor he will be nominated. He does not want the nomination, but prefers to preserve his claim upon the support of Democrats for return to the Senate, in the event it be possible for any Democrat to be elected to that office.

Par excellence, beyond doubt, it is said, George Turner stands first in the political estimation of all Eastern Wash ington Democrats. His strength with Western Washington Democrats also is greater than any other Democrat in the they cleaned it out, and then only to state, in spite of sectional considerations. So soon as the Democrats of Eastern Washington ascertained that George Turner wanted anything they would proceed to take off their coats and strive to get it for him. Dr. Byrne's Good Joke.

The suggestion that Dr. Byrne, Mayor of Spokane, could wrest from ex-Senator Turner the control of Spokane County Democratic politics, is regarded as merely a good joke. Dr. Byrne would not be a straw obstacle in the way of the ex-Senator's ambitions. Dr. Byrne, besides being recognized as a weak executive officer, opposed the regular nominee-Huber Rasher-who was on the Democratic ticket for Mayor of Spokane, covered in a thief's "plant" under a Byrne running independent, and there-sidewalk at Second and Madison streets fore electing Mr. Boyd, the incumbent, who was the Republican candidate.

Even with Turner refusing to run for Governor, it is said that Dr. Byrne's request for the nomination would be turned down in a good-natured manner and some one else would be selected. If it were an Eastern Washington nomination for Governor, it would be some one like Charles Voorhees of Spokane, but it would not be Dr. Byrne.

Democratic Candidate From West. The fact is, according to wise ones, the candidate for Governor would be conceded to Western Washington. Eastern Washington Democrats would desire to protect the chances of Turner to go to the United States Senate to resume what were conspicuously able services for his state, and would therefore give the Governorship nomination to some one from west of the Cascades. As to who that person would be, it is impossible yet to say. The matter is now in process of incubation, and will not assum definite shape until much later in the game. But, anyone posted upon the conditions here will not question the supremacy of George Turner in the Democratic councils

It is conceded here that he is far and spector was obdurate, claiming that he beyond the ablest citizen of Washinghad notified Shank a number of times ton. His services in the Federal Senate to make his payments. The officers anwas high. He received recognition from the President by appointment on the Alaska Boundary Commission, involving ssues that go into international politics and that require such knowledge of the law as few men in the United States possess If McBride Be Defeated. Furthermore, if Henry McBride be de-

The methods employed at the last Legislature are dubbed as "coarse," coarse to a degree, high-handed overriding of all considerations excepting the conservation of the railroad interests. The gentlemen who carried out the railroad program were instructed to exhibit no mercy. McBride was humili-ated. He was thrown down into the mire of political defeat, and his prostrate political form was trampled upon brutally. It is believed that he can never work harmoniously with any of those sho now are in the saddle and controlling the Republican organization.
Again, McBride will be defeated for the nomination. He cannot overthrow the machine. And, if he be defeated, the chances are 10 to 1 that he will be in the Democratic party before the next Presidential election has ended. His apostasy would be not for personal pique, but because of rejection of railway domination of Washington politics. Anti-Bailroaders May Win.

Although the railroad interests appear to have obtained absolute and perma nent control of Washington state pelitics, the truth is that they may very easily be reversed in the next election There is a large body of independents in the state who believe that the commo wealth has debased itself by delivering over to the corporate interests the management of public affairs. Reasonable people hold that the railways should be protected against radical measures based upon prejudices against corporations They also hold that the desires of the railroads should not be paramount to everything else, and that it is wise statesmanship for the Government to be retained within the control of the Under present domination, the

Hence, Democrats Might Win.

Hence it is that well-informed poliicians see many possibilities of the Democrats winning out next year. That cBride will be unable to regain control of the state Republican machine is probably a political verity. And his defeat for renomination is one of the almost certainties. The railroad people do not compromise. They do not political business upon any such considerations. They will never make terms with McBride.

Defeating McBride, then, will cause the bolting of numerous Republicans who will support the Democratic program, if that program be arranged in-telligently and honestly. It was Republican votes that elected John R. Rogers the second time. It will be Republican votes that will elect a Democrat next time, if such a thing should occur.

And George Turner's chances for the United States Senate are, therefore, by no means extinguished. He may yet be returned. He cherishes such an ambination of Governor it is believed that a permocrat might easily be elected by the will be done for Dr. Byrne or anyone else that will interfere with those declared that the permocrat might easily be elected by the will be done for Dr. Byrne or anyone else that will interfere with those declared that the permocrat might easily be else that will interfere with those declared that will never be named for Governor, no matter what else may happen in a political way.
