

A CHANGED STORE

BUT THE SAME POLICY

EASTERN OUTFITTING CO.

390 WASHINGTON STREET

YOUR CONFIDENCE

Is what we want. We want you to know us better. We want you to get acquainted with our method of doing business, and you will feel satisfied that here you can buy your goods for less money and on easier terms of credit than in any other house in the city. Our stock this season, in all our different departments, is more complete than it ever was before. We have taken the utmost painstaking care that all merchandise we offer is only the best the market can afford. We are adding new lines to our already numerous array, and shall try our very best to give our patrons a service that will equal, if not surpass, anything else. We cannot pronounce it too often, that no article sold in this store will be misrepresented, and with a little confidence in us on your part, we will try to satisfy your wants in FURNITURE, CARPETS, LADIES' and MEN'S CLOTHING at absolutely cash prices, and on easy terms. REMEMBER, WE DO NOT CHARGE INTEREST OF ANY KIND ON GOODS BOUGHT ON PAYMENTS!

WE RECEIVED ABOUT

100 Roman Chairs

Exactly as illustration, which we will sell as long as they last for $1.20 Each

Their regular value is easily seen. We have them in Oak, Mahogany and Flemish finish, and they are covered with very pretty velvets, damasks and tapestries. Made very strong and durable. Come early and get your pick; they won't last very long at that price. Bear in mind $1.20.

Again we want to call your attention to our extremely large line of

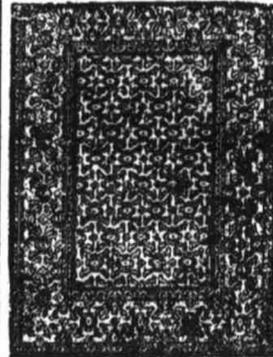

IRON BEDS

A line which is second to none in this city is carried in the store. Through your taste may run into extremes, we have the bed here that you will like and buy. The prices are very reasonable and run from $3.25 UP TO $36

Some very choice specimens are on display in our West window. But our stock comprises about 50 different styles.

EASIEST TERMS IN PORTLAND

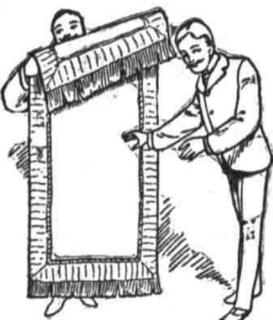

Although we carry CARPETS BY THE YARD now, we still shall make a specialty of

Room-size Rugs

And continue to carry a representative assortment of all the leading makes in Ingrain, Pro-Brussels, Tapestry, Body Brussels, Smyrna, Velvets, Axminsters, etc. Also Filling in two grades, in colors to match or harmonize with your surroundings. Come in and let's figure with you. TAP. RUG, 5x11

$21.00

SMALL RUGS

Our pride in our assortment of small Rugs is pardonable. It is almost endless, not only in qualities, but also in range of designs and colorings—Axminsters, Aubussons, Ingrains, Velvets, in different sizes.

All-wool Smyrna Rugs (the best) have been greatly reduced by us, and we sell them now—

- 36x72 $5.75
- 30x50 $3.50
- 27x54 $2.75

And other sizes in proportion.

NO INTEREST CHARGED HERE

Bed Room Suits

At very interesting prices and in a good assortment of styles, are here on display, and if you are about to purchase a Bedroom Suit you will do well to have a look at our line. It is very large and comprises everything that is desirable. Three-piece Suits, made in very good wood and well finished, a very good bargain, at

$15

DINING ROOM ESSENTIALS

EXTENSION TABLES, CHINA CLOSETS, BUFFETS, SIDEBORDS, DINING ROOM CHAIRS—everything to make your dining-room the coolest and neatest room in your home, and at the right prices, too. We will be glad to show you what we have and give you figures.

Tables from $5 to $35

We have also added a line of Dinner Sets lately, and can offer you some very good values and very pretty designs in them.

Cash Prices—Credit Terms

Our Drapery Department

Which is now in greatly enlarged quarters, has some very good bargains to offer. Among them is a lot of odd pairs of Lace Curtains, which we wish to close out, and we will make the prices correspondingly tempting. We also offer

Lace Curtains, like illustration, $1.50

3 1/2 yards long and 4 1/2 inches wide—a spread which hardly can be beat anywhere. PORTIERS, COUL-CE COVERS, TABLE COVERS, in large and varied patterns. CARPETS, LINOLEUMS, MATTINGS, in pretty shades and light patterns. We are able to figure with you now on coverings for your floor, and guarantee to give you goods that will give you good satisfaction. Come in, bring your size and we will estimate the cost and assortments and good qualities kept of everything we sell.

NO INTEREST OF ANY KIND

WE WILL SELL YOU FIFTY DOLLARS WORTH OF FURNITURE AT ONE DOLLAR PER WEEK

EAGLES MAY NOT APPEAL

Likely to Accept the Order of Grand Worthy President Smith Disbanding the Portland Aerie.

A Call Has Been Issued for Meeting Tonight, but Keys to the Hall Are in McNamee's Possession.

District Deputy Says That a New Lodge Will Be Organized, but no Plans to That End Are Under Way.

Realizing that the order for their dismissal came from Grand Worthy President Del Cary Smith, who will preside at the Grand Aerie meeting to be held in New York City next month, the members of the disbanded Portland lodge of the order of Eagles have practically decided to give up the idea of appealing to the national gathering from the President's order. No meeting has as yet been held to discuss future action by the disbanded lodge, but late today former President Watson informally asked that a session be held tonight.

Even the keys to the Portland cage are in the possession of Thomas McNamee, the only officially recognized representative of the order in this city. A letter containing explicit instructions regarding the disposition of the lodge material and property in his keeping is expected hourly by Mr. McNamee.

Another Lodge Certain. "It is not possible that a city the size of Portland can go on long without a lodge of Eagles," said Mr. McNamee today, "and there will be another organized soon. Any application for a new charter must be made through me as the only representative of the Grand Aerie in the city. No steps to form a new lodge have yet been taken."

vice-president nor secretary has the right to make an appeal in behalf of the lodge without the consent of the trustees, and whether the former trustees, having been expelled separately before disbandment of the lodge, would be recognized by the Grand Aerie, is doubtful.

R. C. Wright, Secretary of the Portland Lodge of Eagles at the time of the revocation of the charter, today denied that any steps were being taken looking to an appeal. He said that no meeting of the former members had been called for this evening and that the regular date of the assembling would be allowed to pass without action. A few of the members might get together and hold an informal discussion of what is to be done in the future, but he has not even heard that this is contemplated.

No Steps Taken. "No steps have yet been taken toward appealing from the order of charter revocation," it is said that there is a long list of transgression of lodge-law against the Portland Aerie—one of them disorderly conduct in the lodge room. Former members today said that upon several occasions the authority of Past President Watson was flagrantly defied, members openly engaging in wire-pulling and political maneuvering during a session of the lodge. It is said that knowledge of this condition influenced Grand Worthy President Del Cary Smith to make his decision disbanding the lodge.

THE APPOINTMENTS TO BE PERMANENT

The Park Board at its regular monthly meeting this morning recommended the permanent appointment of 15 employees in the park service, who have heretofore been temporarily engaged under the provisions of the Civil Service Commission. At present it is estimated that the commission's eligible list, and several have been employed since the last examination. The names and positions are as follows:

H. Morgan, park policeman; F. Kropke, head gardener; A. Kullsch, teamster; Charles Herman, animal tender; M. McDonald, night watchman; H. Haack, keeper Hawthorne Park; G. Helme, gardener; F. Austin, carpenter; J. Thorsen, H. Best, A. Lutke, H. Sexton, M. Brown and C. Owens, laborers.

KANSAS CITY AGAIN THREATENED BY FLOOD

KANSAS CITY, Aug. 7.—The Kaw River is again on a rampage, and hundreds of men are working this morning on bridges to prevent debris carrying them away. Piles at the James-street bridge are washed away.

HEMSWORTH IS A SURE MARKSMAN

Tommy Ryan, Ex-Pugilist, Tries to Escape from Policeman and Is Brought to Bay by a Bullet in His Left Leg.

Arrested With Five Others, Two of Whom Are Women, for Frequenting Opium Joint at an Early Hour This Morning.

Tommy Ryan, formerly a prize fighter of some renown and well known about the city, now has a wholesome respect for the marksmanship of Patrolman F. W. Hemsworth. While attempting to escape from frequenting an opium joint, Ryan received a slight bullet wound in the calf of his left leg. The former pugilist, who gave his name at the police station as Tom Smith, was arraigned in court under a charge of frequenting an opium joint. Jointly accused with him were Frank Lewis, Charles Banker, Frank Kirk, Louise Steele and Daisy Howard. All entered pleas of not guilty through their attorney and their hearing was set for a later date.

The six alleged opium users were arrested in a raid upon a Chinese den at 87 1/2 Second street. Patrolman Hemsworth observed the two women entering the place, and reported to Capt. Bailey, in command of the night force, and the latter officer detailed Jailor Hogeboom to assist Hemsworth in making the raid.

The officers, upon gaining admittance to the place, found Lewis and Banker. They were arrested and marched to the station, whereupon the officers hastened back to the resort to get the other inmates. The front part of the joint was thoroughly ransacked, but no opium was found. An aged Chinaman denied that there were any women in the place, but the policemen followed a "devious" hall to the rear until they reached a door. This door and Hemsworth started in to stop, but the pugilist continued to sprint. The policeman pulled his revolver and fired into the air, but the shot seemed to induce more speed on Ryan's part. Still in pursuit, Hemsworth ordered his man to halt a half-dozen times more, threatening to shoot if the order was not obeyed. Ryan failed to obey the order and the patrolman fired once again, this time striking Ryan in the leg. "I'll stop now; I'm shot," cried Ryan, as the officer caught up to him. The others speedily followed, but a hasty

A NOTED SLEUTH IS IN PORTLAND

James McPartland of the Pinkerton Agency on Inspection Trip—The Man Who Broke Up Mollie McGuire Gang.

Tells of the Passing of the Train Robbery Industry—Bad Men All Killed or Serving Time—"Yegg" Men Most Desperate.

James McPartland, the Western superintendent of the branch office of the Pinkerton National Detective Agency, arrived in Portland this morning from San Francisco, on his annual inspection trip of the agencies under his supervision. His headquarters are in Denver.

For 35 years Mr. McPartland has been identified with the detecting of crime and the running down and convicting of criminals. During this period he has had many thrilling experiences, and has worked up cases of national history. His knowledge of criminals and their methods is perhaps as thorough as that of any other man in the world.

Mr. McPartland gained a national reputation in his work of breaking up the notorious Mollie McGuire gang, which about 30 years ago terrorized the coal districts of Pennsylvania. They were an organized band of murderers that were banded together with ties of blood and solemn oaths. They defied all law and authorities, and openly carried on murder and crimes of every character. After they had killed a number of officers and driven others from the country, they were tried to fix responsibility for some of their crimes, the Pinkertons were called into the case, and it fell to the lot of Mr. McPartland to undertake the hazardous operation. He went among the criminals as a laborer, and in time secured evidence which resulted in the hanging of the ring leaders and the effective disorganizing of the fierce revolutionists that ruled by fire and sword.

Train Robbing Practically Over. In speaking of different phases of crime, Mr. McPartland said: "Train robbery, which several years ago was a well-organized industry, and of frequent occurrence, is now practically an obsolete crime. The settling up of the country, the changing of conditions, and the relentless search to capture, and the severe punishment of this desperate class of outlaws, has broken up the gangs and discouraged others from taking up this line of crime. The last bunch broken up was known as the 'Hole in the Wall' gang. They had operated in every section from Mexico to the Canadian border, and stole hundreds of thousands of dollars. The desperadoes who were prominent in this crowd were Harvey Logan, Lonny Logan, George Parker, Harry Longbaugh, Camilla Hanks, George Curry, Bob Lee and Will Carver. This gang held up the Union Pacific train in Wyoming several years ago; about a year later the First National Bank of Winnemucca was robbed by them, and recently a Great Northern train near Wagner, Mont."

Logan a Tough One. "The men are now all serving time or dead. Harvey Logan is one of the worst in the bunch. In the fall of 1901 he was captured by the Knoxville, Tenn., police. He was convicted on ten counts and sentenced to a term of 20 years. Last June Logan escaped a prison guard with a piece of wire and by threatening to choke him to death secured his revolver and made his escape, and up to this time has not been heard from. Logan murdered Pike Sandusky in Montana in 1894. He assassinated Sheriff Joseph Hazen of Converse County, Wyoming, while the officer was attempting to arrest him. In 1901 he shot fatally two police officers in Knoxville. He is known to have committed six murders and to have taken part in all the principal train and bank robberies of the last ten years."

Gang Broke Up. "Lonny Logan, a brother of Harvey, was killed while resisting arrest at Dobson, Kan. in 1900. He was being taken for helping to rob the Union Pacific train at Wilcox, Wyo. "Bob Lee, alias Bob Curry, a cousin of the Logan brothers, was captured in a gambling house at Cripple Creek, Colo., and now serves a ten year sentence at Rawlins, Wyo., for the Union Pacific robbery."

"George Curry, another leader, was killed in 1900 near Thompson's, Utah, while resisting arrest for the Wilcox robbery. "Will Carver was also killed by officers near Senora, Tex. "The convictions and killings of members of what was also known as the 'Hole in the Wall' gang, have put a stop to train holdups. This last gang was the worst since the exploits of the James boys."

"A notorious gang of sneak thieves was broken up in the Northwest several years ago. They had successfully operated over the United States. The last trick they turned, which proved their undoing, was the robbery of the First National Bank of Seattle of $5,000 during the noon hour. Kid Parker, one of the men, acted as 'stall,' and engaged the cashier in conversation while James Collins sneaked back of the counter and took the money. Parker was captured in Victoria, but acquitted of the charge, but was later sent over the road for another crime. Collins was caught in San Francisco and taken to Seattle, and tried and sentenced to Walla Walla prison for seven years. He proved himself a desperate character and while being brought north jumped from the Southern Pacific train in the Cow Creek Canyon, while shackled hand and foot. He was kept in the Portland jail over night and had broken out of his cell and was preparing to escape when he was observed by the officers. He created a mutiny in the county jail at Seattle and on several occasions came near gaining his liberty. Since his confinement at Walla Walla he has escaped twice but been recaptured both times."

"The class of criminals known as the 'yegg' men or hobo burglars are the most desperate criminals and the most difficult with which the authorities have to contend. They are great travelers, and investigation has shown that about 90 per cent of the burglary of bank safes, railroad stations and postoffices was the work of 'yegg' burglars. The professional safe crackers and burglars are fast disappearing, owing to the system of protection adopted by the banks and leading corporations. "All the principal banks in the country are in the National Protective Association which has for its object the punishment of offenders against any bank being a member. The jewelry trade has a similar organization for protection. These associations spend about $30,000 a year in the work of detecting crime and punishing offenders."

"Burrock Blood Bitters gives a man a clear head, an active brain, a strong, vigorous body—makes him fit for the battle of life."

A NOTED SLEUTH IS IN PORTLAND

James McPartland of the Pinkerton Agency on Inspection Trip—The Man Who Broke Up Mollie McGuire Gang.

Tells of the Passing of the Train Robbery Industry—Bad Men All Killed or Serving Time—"Yegg" Men Most Desperate.

James McPartland, the Western superintendent of the branch office of the Pinkerton National Detective Agency, arrived in Portland this morning from San Francisco, on his annual inspection trip of the agencies under his supervision. His headquarters are in Denver.

For 35 years Mr. McPartland has been identified with the detecting of crime and the running down and convicting of criminals. During this period he has had many thrilling experiences, and has worked up cases of national history. His knowledge of criminals and their methods is perhaps as thorough as that of any other man in the world.

Mr. McPartland gained a national reputation in his work of breaking up the notorious Mollie McGuire gang, which about 30 years ago terrorized the coal districts of Pennsylvania. They were an organized band of murderers that were banded together with ties of blood and solemn oaths. They defied all law and authorities, and openly carried on murder and crimes of every character. After they had killed a number of officers and driven others from the country, they were tried to fix responsibility for some of their crimes, the Pinkertons were called into the case, and it fell to the lot of Mr. McPartland to undertake the hazardous operation. He went among the criminals as a laborer, and in time secured evidence which resulted in the hanging of the ring leaders and the effective disorganizing of the fierce revolutionists that ruled by fire and sword.

Train Robbing Practically Over. In speaking of different phases of crime, Mr. McPartland said: "Train robbery, which several years ago was a well-organized industry, and of frequent occurrence, is now practically an obsolete crime. The settling up of the country, the changing of conditions, and the relentless search to capture, and the severe punishment of this desperate class of outlaws, has broken up the gangs and discouraged others from taking up this line of crime. The last bunch broken up was known as the 'Hole in the Wall' gang. They had operated in every section from Mexico to the Canadian border, and stole hundreds of thousands of dollars. The desperadoes who were prominent in this crowd were Harvey Logan, Lonny Logan, George Parker, Harry Longbaugh, Camilla Hanks, George Curry, Bob Lee and Will Carver. This gang held up the Union Pacific train in Wyoming several years ago; about a year later the First National Bank of Winnemucca was robbed by them, and recently a Great Northern train near Wagner, Mont."

Logan a Tough One. "The men are now all serving time or dead. Harvey Logan is one of the worst in the bunch. In the fall of 1901 he was captured by the Knoxville, Tenn., police. He was convicted on ten counts and sentenced to a term of 20 years. Last June Logan escaped a prison guard with a piece of wire and by threatening to choke him to death secured his revolver and made his escape, and up to this time has not been heard from. Logan murdered Pike Sandusky in Montana in 1894. He assassinated Sheriff Joseph Hazen of Converse County, Wyoming, while the officer was attempting to arrest him. In 1901 he shot fatally two police officers in Knoxville. He is known to have committed six murders and to have taken part in all the principal train and bank robberies of the last ten years."

Gang Broke Up. "Lonny Logan, a brother of Harvey, was killed while resisting arrest at Dobson, Kan. in 1900. He was being taken for helping to rob the Union Pacific train at Wilcox, Wyo. "Bob Lee, alias Bob Curry, a cousin of the Logan brothers, was captured in a gambling house at Cripple Creek, Colo., and now serves a ten year sentence at Rawlins, Wyo., for the Union Pacific robbery."

"George Curry, another leader, was killed in 1900 near Thompson's, Utah, while resisting arrest for the Wilcox robbery. "Will Carver was also killed by officers near Senora, Tex. "The convictions and killings of members of what was also known as the 'Hole in the Wall' gang, have put a stop to train holdups. This last gang was the worst since the exploits of the James boys."

"A notorious gang of sneak thieves was broken up in the Northwest several years ago. They had successfully operated over the United States. The last trick they turned, which proved their undoing, was the robbery of the First National Bank of Seattle of $5,000 during the noon hour. Kid Parker, one of the men, acted as 'stall,' and engaged the cashier in conversation while James Collins sneaked back of the counter and took the money. Parker was captured in Victoria, but acquitted of the charge, but was later sent over the road for another crime. Collins was caught in San Francisco and taken to Seattle, and tried and sentenced to Walla Walla prison for seven years. He proved himself a desperate character and while being brought north jumped from the Southern Pacific train in the Cow Creek Canyon, while shackled hand and foot. He was kept in the Portland jail over night and had broken out of his cell and was preparing to escape when he was observed by the officers. He created a mutiny in the county jail at Seattle and on several occasions came near gaining his liberty. Since his confinement at Walla Walla he has escaped twice but been recaptured both times."

"The class of criminals known as the 'yegg' men or hobo burglars are the most desperate criminals and the most difficult with which the authorities have to contend. They are great travelers, and investigation has shown that about 90 per cent of the burglary of bank safes, railroad stations and postoffices was the work of 'yegg' burglars. The professional safe crackers and burglars are fast disappearing, owing to the system of protection adopted by the banks and leading corporations. "All the principal banks in the country are in the National Protective Association which has for its object the punishment of offenders against any bank being a member. The jewelry trade has a similar organization for protection. These associations spend about $30,000 a year in the work of detecting crime and punishing offenders."

"Burrock Blood Bitters gives a man a clear head, an active brain, a strong, vigorous body—makes him fit for the battle of life."

A UNION LABOR LEADER COMING

Henry Meyer, Chairman of the Executive Board of the Carpenters' Union, Will Arrive Tomorrow.

Returning to His Home in San Francisco from Indianapolis—Visit Has No Particular Significance.

Henry Meyer, chairman of the executive board of the Brotherhood of Carpenters and Joiners of America, will arrive in Portland tomorrow. A telegram to this effect has been received by C. Bombberger, secretary of the Portland Carpenters' Union.

Mr. Meyer resides in San Francisco, and is on his way home from Indianapolis, where he has been attending the quarterly convention of the executive board. A reception of some character will probably be arranged for him by the local union during his stay here. It is not known just how long he intends to remain. He spent several days here a year ago last June, and is fairly well acquainted with local labor leaders.

It is given out that Mr. Meyer's visit has no particular significance at this time, and that he is merely stopping off to exchange common courtesies with some of his former acquaintances.

The Union Growing. During the recent labor difficulties the Carpenters' Union sustained heavy losses in membership by some of the best mechanics leaving the city, but those in a position to know say the organization is rapidly regaining its former numerical strength. At present it is estimated that the union has 800 members, and it is acting upon from 15 to 20 applications every week. In the course of two or three months it is believed that all the carpenters in the city will belong to the union, if the present rate of increase continues.

The card system has been largely dispensed with, and on many of the buildings union and non-union men are working side by side in perfect harmony. At the same time the principles of unionism, it is said, are being persistently taught and dwelt upon with such force as to make many converts of those who in time past, have been foremost in fighting organized labor. In this manner the workers in the Carpenters' Union expect to build up their organization to a greater strength than it has shown in the past.

LAST TEST OF THE SHAMROCK TODAY

(Journal Special Service.) HIGHLANDS, Aug. 7.—Today witnesses what is probably the last of the Shamrock's trials. The weather is ideal. The boats left their anchorage at 10 this morning. It is held by those who have watched the tests thus far that the Shamrock is by far the fastest challenger yet constructed and even Sir Thomas Lipton, her owner, expressed himself as pleased with her showing.