In the best-played game of the entire season yesterday the Portland Browns defeated the Sacramento Senators by the score of 2 to 0. It was one of those brilliant, nerve-racking contests that kept the spectators on the anxious seat every moment, and the game was not won until the last man died by sword.

Fine Support. All this time the support of both pitchers was good, only three errors marring the work of the day. Van Buren was fooled on a deceptive bounding scorcher, and Hurlburt suffered likewise, but neither error was costly. Casey was the only Senator to soil the bottom of the visitors, but his misplay came on a very difficult chance.

Francis played a splendid game, having two put-outs and two assists to his credit, besides starting the run-getting in the seventh inning by smacking out a pretty two-bagger. His work yesterday was above par. Blake's fielding was also perfect, the short-legged fielder covering several acres of ground in spirited fashion, besides connecting with Thomas on a two-bagger. He was caught at the plate, however, on a throw from Hildebrand because he didn't slide. Had he gone in head or feet first he would have made it by about two yards.

Credit must be given to the Fishermen for their brilliant work, the exhibition which they gave being the best of the two series. Eagan and Casey ate up grounders that looked like cat balls, and favored ones, and the runners on the field and Hildebrand ran home from second base, but Levy refused to allow the score and sent Hildy back to second, whereupon Graham gave notice that he played the game under protest.

The game was fast and snappy at all stages and was in doubt all through. Up to the sixth inning not a Portland man reached first base, but in this session the Browns bunched three hits and scored two runs, winning the game.

A double play cut off Blake from scoring in the seventh. He had hit for two bases and went to third on a balk, and attempted to score on the throw of Francis, but Hildy, who was watching him, and would have been there had he slid.

DIAMOND GLISTENINGS

The great interest manifested by the ladies of this city in baseball is the best proof that the game will always receive the patronage of the entire community. Beginning tomorrow, The Journal will publish a list of the familiar faces at every game. Among those mentioned were: Judge E. D. L., W. G., P. G., S. G., H. Z., J. P., J. B., J. M., M. R., K. S., N. O., J. T., L. F., M. P., F. S., A. D., J. P. M., L. C., A. K. P. V., S. V., O. K. H. O., O. U., M. H., G. W., Q. E. D., et al.

The recent success of Sam Morris recalls to the fans the achievements of several other Indians who have been stars of the diamond. The following notes may be appropriate to the occasion: Little is ever heard of Sockalexis, the first Indian ballplayer in the National League, who several years ago was a great attraction with the Cleveland bunch. After the brief period in which he shone among the stars "Sox" was for several seasons all in vain, it is said to be running a ferryboat somewhere up in Maine, a stunt that one member or another of his family has been doing for many years. He might have been a pitcher, as he is now said to be after working hours with the limit and put him out of it just like he has other good ones. When he first attracted attention "Sox" was attending college and playing remarkably well, and being the best pitcher in the country.

The Baltimore club has released outfielder Thomas Dowd. Hildy leads the Southern League in batting with an average of .418. Eustace of Concord, formerly of Louisville, leads the New England League in baserunning. Graham, the Nashua left fielder, is rated as the fastest runner of the New England League. Charlie Frank, of Memphis, is said to have paid Milwaukee $2,500 for the release of Dungan, Phyle and Lucie. The ex-league pitcher, Con Lucie, has been appointed manager of the Beaumont club of the South Texas League. Frank Ward, of the Butte team, has been called to his home in Altoona, Pa., by the mortal illness of his father.

Mike Fisher, of Shreveport, is the hard-luck pitcher of the Southern League. He has been beaten by one run more than any other man. Washburn, the Brown University man with Philadelphia, has yet to win a game. He appears to be another hard-luck pitcher a la Sparks. Applegate, the pitcher recently purchased by New Orleans from Worcester, appears to be about the biggest and strongest pitcher ever batted. Every team he has pitched against has slaughtered him. Manager Armour, of Cleveland, took a run to Fall River, last week to see pitcher Currier, of that club, work. It would not be surprising if that player, as well as Morgan, were in faster company in another season. Sam Morris made good with a capital "G." He is a wonder.

Mike Fisher says he is trying to sign a nigger or a Chinaman to pitch for him today. Harry Blake's two chances in center were both difficult and were well handled. The Francis is laid up with an injured hand and may not be able to play for a day or two.

MIKE MEMSIC WON A Chicago exchange of a recent date has the following to state regarding a fight which was held there recently which may be of interest to local fight followers: "Mike Memsic knocked out Jack Galligan in a bloody prize-ring encounter last night before a South Side political club. Two hundred members of the club saw the fight. The plans for the bout were kept quiet and the word to attend was given only to those who would keep the plans for the police. "About 9 o'clock the crowd gathered in a room of a building on South Clark street, near Polk street. Although all fights are barred and none of more than six rounds have not been permitted in Chicago for years, Memsic and Galligan were scheduled to go 10 rounds. Galligan was badly beaten by his opponent. In the sixth round Galligan was almost defenseless and Memsic knocked him out with a right to the jaw. Both men were covered with blood. Pat O'Malley refereed the fight. The men met in a 14-foot ring. "Mike Memsic will be remembered by local sports fans who had knocked out Tommy Shalham of Frisco in a preliminary in this city on the night of the Walcott-Tracy fight.

FERGUSON AND JOHNSON (Journal Special Service.) PHILADELPHIA, Aug. 7.—Sandy Ferguson of Boston met Jack Johnson, the colored heavyweight champion, at the Penn Art Athletic Club recently, and while Johnson was the better at the milling, Ferguson deserves great credit, having entered the battle with two broken knuckles received during his training. The spectators agreed that it was a draw. Tom Johnson was by far the cleverer boxer, but Ferguson's style is awkward and dangerous and through the bout he bothered the colored champion a great deal. Ferguson was anxious to mix it up, but Johnson would not permit this through to figure. It was pretty even through out, with Johnson having a shade the better of the milling. At the end of the fifth round Ferguson caught Johnson off his guard and sent him to the floor with a right-hander. Johnson retaliated in the sixth and the battle wound up in a mix-up. The contest was promoted by ex-Councilman Leo Meyers, and despite the fact that he was compelled to dig deep down in his pocket he ran the show as advertised.

BANTAM CHAMPS A dispatch from San Francisco says: A permit has been issued for a 20-round boxing bout between Harry Forbes of Chicago and Frankie Nell of San Francisco, for August 13, the night before the big battle for the heavyweight championship. The fight will take place at the Mechanics' Pavilion and will be for the bantamweight championship.

THIRTEEN INNINGS AT OAKLAND. SAN FRANCISCO, Aug. 7.—Yesterday's contest between the leaders and the tail-enders was a 13-inning pitchers' battle between Cooper and Corbett. Oakland 0 0 0 0 0 1 0 0 0 0 1 2 3 5 2 San Fran 0 0 0 0 0 0 0 0 0 0 2 1 3 3 Batteries—Cooper and Lohman; Corbett and Spies. Umpire—Mr. O'Connell.

Among the visitors yesterday was a Mike Lyons, of Ireland. The latter was born and raised where the ex-champion's father and mother resided before coming to the States. He is now a priest, it is known, but Jim was named after an uncle who is now a priest in Ireland. When Jim journeyed the old country he appeared at a benefit given by the church. It was here that he met Lyons. "Your uncle always speaks of you in the highest of terms," said Lyons to the champion. "He also showed me several pictures of you in your fighting togs. I'll bet that he is as much interested in the fight as any of your relatives here." Corbett had a slight touch of rheumatism, but it did not stop him from doing his work. The attack was in the shoulder, but it did not appear to trouble him to any great extent. The ex-champion remarked that it would not bother him in the least, and that things would go along smoothly.

Jeffries Works Hard. The champion's work is still of high order, and he goes at it with a vim. Yesterday he worked about two hours with the rowing machine, punching-bag and the flying machine. He also put on the gloves with his brother Jack and Bob Fitzsimmons. He sparred nine rounds with each. He does not take any rest, but takes them on until each of them tired. He then lets them rest, and he keeps on working. He will turn most of his attention to boxing until the day of the fight. His speed is increasing every day, and his footwork is good. His condition is now splendid, and all talk about his leg has been buried. "Kid" Eagan, who looks after the champion's theatrical interests, has given it out that the big fellow will tour Europe after his fight with Corbett, providing he is not beaten. "The trip will be one of business and pleasure combined," said the little manager today. "He ought to make the trip, as it will be of great benefit to him. He can also make quite a sum of money, as the European tour has never had a chance of seeing him. He might take one of the English heavies while he is across the pond."

READY FOR BIG REGATTA (Journal Special Service.) MILWAUKEE, Wis., Aug. 7.—This morning more yachts are gathered in Milwaukee harbor than ever before on Lake Michigan, if not on the chair of lakes. The occasion is the annual regatta of the Lake Michigan Yachting Association, which began today and continues with important contests tomorrow. The gathering includes several scores of the fastest boats on the lake. Yesterday the course for the regatta was accurately measured and buoyed, and all arrangements completed to the minutest detail. All that is now needed to make the regatta the most notable contest ever held on the lakes is favorable winds.

CRACK OARSMEN COMPETE ST. CATERINES, Ont., Aug. 7.—The twenty-fourth annual regatta of the Canadian Association of Amateur Oarsmen, which began here today, has attracted crack oarsmen from many parts of the United States and Canada. The participation of both Titus and Scholes in the singles causes great interest to be manifested in this event. In the senior class the Argonaut Rowing Club of Toronto will compete with the crack crews of Winnipeg and others. The loss of Dudley Oliver has weakened the Argonaut crew, as it is felt that some of the other contestants may carry off the honors of the Royal Canadian Henley.

BIG WRESTLING TOURNEY SARATOGA, N. Y., Aug. 7.—Beginning tonight and continuing through a large part of next week Convention Hall, this city, is to be the scene of the most notable wrestling tournament ever introduced in this country. No fewer than 15 well known "knights of the mat" have been engaged to appear in the contests, among the number being Tom Jenkins, Carl Pons, Ed Atherton, Leo Fardello, Jim Parr, George Bothner and Max Lutberg.

IMPURE WATER FOR TACOMA RESIDENTS

Health Officer Has Objected and City Council Will Probably Act. (Journal Special Service.) TACOMA, Aug. 7.—The health and hospital committee of the City Council is investigating the condition of the water supply in the northern end of the city, where Health Commissioner, E. H. Schug, declares patrons of the North End Water Works are receiving filthy and unsanitary water because of the poor arrangement of the water pipes. The complaint of some of the residents in that vicinity led to an investigation by a sanitary inspector and he backed up his report with a pint jar two thirds full of water drawn from faucets in the kitchens of two houses on the branch line which is said to be furnishing the impure water. The jar was one third full of sediment, moss and decayed matter gathered in the pipes. Residents along the line are obliged to wrap cloths about the faucets in order to drain off their drinking water. According to the Health Commissioner the supply pipes leading to these houses are 20 feet lower than the main pipe and act as a "catch-all" for the use in the larger pipe. He requested the Superintendent of the North End Water Works to remedy the matter, but the latter neglected to do so, and it is probable that the Council will take immediate action.
