BEAUTIFUL JAMAICA DEVASTATED BY HURRICANES

A CHILD ADRIFT AT SEA

For Days a Tiny Spanish Boy Is Tossed About on a Lonely Ocean Without Food to Eat or Water.

NEW YORK, Aug. 13.—Seldom in the history of marine trials and sufferings has so vivid a picture been presented as that displayed when the big Morgan liner arrived from Galveston today with a tiny Spanish boy aboard who had been picked up at sea after floating many days without food and water.

The child was nude, helpless and exhausted when rescued, and could do nothing more than murmur between parched lips the name of his mother. After being partially revived, the boy, who is nine years of age, said that he, with a few others of a few years older, were fishing outside the Harbor of Havana. The boat broke adrift and his companions swam ashore, but he, being unable to swim, stayed in the boat. He had been adrift five days.

Captain Logal says it would be impossible for a boat to drift so far in five days, as he was discovered 530 miles from Havana. The captain thinks the boy was adrift at least 10 days without food or water. The little fellow is too feeble to talk, and is a mere skeleton. His skin is peeled off and salt-water boils line his limbs. Physicians say he will survive.

BELIEVES VESSEL WAS A POACHER

State Department Not Officially Notified of Silver Spray Affair.

WASHINGTON, Aug. 13.—The State Department has not yet been officially informed of the Silver Spray affair, and declines to make a statement. It admits, if the vessel was in American waters when fishing, the matter is serious, but it is inclined to believe it was poaching on the Canadian side and should have been when hailed by the revenue-cutter patrol.

LONDON FIRM GOES OUT OF BUSINESS

Inflated Condition of American Stocks Caused Failure Across the Atlantic.

LONDON, Aug. 13.—The recent panic in Wall street found an echo on this side of the Atlantic this morning when the firm of F. W. Hemmant, stockbroker, closed its doors and went into the hands of a receiver. No definite information regarding the conditions can as yet be given, but it is known that the corporation came to grief as a result of the inflated condition of American stocks.

STUDY RUSSIAN ARTS

NOJY NOVGOROD, Russia, Aug. 13.—A party representing the American government arrived here today to study internal waterways and manufacturing plants. They are visiting the palaces along the Volga.

MOSQUITO WHOSE BITE IS DEADLY

PHILADELPHIA, Pa., Aug. 13.—A new mosquito has come to town which is causing great excitement here and great dead, and, in some instances, death. In appearance it is much like its posthumous brothers, but after a bite the victim suffers great pain, the part bitten swells and becomes greatly inflamed. John Columbus of Gloucester, N. J., scratched a wound made by one of these numerous pests and blood came. It was impossible to save his life, as blood-poisoning set in. Physicians think the reason the bites are so serious, they feed on garbage and rotten fruit.

JAMAICA TORNADO HORROR

Nearly 50 Lives Reported Lost, $10,000,000 in Property Destroyed and Thousands Rendered Destitute.

(Journal Special Service.) KINGSTON, Jamaica, Aug. 13.—As the sun broke for a moment through the black skies this morning, for the first time since the terrible tornado of Tuesday night, a scene of disaster and devastation was presented on the island that beggars description. Great fear yet lingers that the storm is not over, for the wind is high and the air is filled with ominous signs.

Many lives are lost, whole plantations laid waste, villages swept away, thousands and thousands made homeless and natives panic-stricken is the fearful story today.

It is estimated that the property loss alone will amount to more than $10,000,000 on the island of Jamaica.

This vast sum does not include the wrecks that are strewn along the coast of vessels that were swept as corals from their moorings to be battered upon the rocks of the beaches.

Already 41 fatalities have been reported from the sea. On the shores of Annetta Bay are a dozen local sailing vessels washed high and dry, and among the wreckage the bodies of 11 unfortunate seamen were found today.

Doom of the Vessel.
A big Norwegian steamship was driven ashore on this bay, and now lies in a dangerous position. A wind is rising from the northwest, and should it continue, the doom of the vessel is sealed.

In this usually prosperous and quiet city a thousand houses were damaged, half of them beyond possible repair. Wharves are battered down to the shore line and scores of local trading vessels lie sunken in the harbor. The drift and debris upon the bay is immense.

A partial story of the horror of the terrific storm is told when the roofs of dwellings are seen floating in the harbor. Even household furniture was carried from wrecked houses which stood near the raging waters of the bay, and dead domestic animals by the hundreds are strewn upon the beach.

Two dead bodies were washed up by the sea this morning. One was that of a man. In his death grasp he held the arm of a young girl. The dead proved to be father and daughter, who had lived a mile from this city. They were caught in a little skiff while fishing, and no earthly power could save them.

TIRADE AGAINST UNIONS

D. M. Parry, President of the National Association of Manufacturers, Makes Bitter Speech Against Labor.

Calls Up All the Invectives that Are Known to English Tongue—Much Comment Made on His Address.

Severe Criticism Is Made by Some Who Say that Such Talks Do More to Create Feeling Than Anything Else.

(Journal Special Service.) CHICAGO, Aug. 13.—Excitement is being caused throughout the country by the address made this morning by D. M. Parry, president of the National Association of Manufacturers, which is being telegraphed broadcast and posted on newspaper bulletins here today.

Parry's address was made at the Chautauqua convention, and is entitled "Mob Spirit in America," in which he again bitterly assailed organized labor.

He said that in this country, during the past year, mobs of different kinds had assembled, but that the most dangerous of all is the mob of organized labor.

Continuing, he said: "No man can object to any kind of an association of labor or other organization for lawful and beneficent purposes, but organized labor, as conducted today, stands convicted by its own leaders as a lawless organization, which seeks by physical force to override individual rights. It is continually railing against laws and is denouncing courts and public officials, and it fulfills all the requirements of the definition of mobocracy."

"Unlike lynching bees and vigilance committees, it is a standing mob, under fair discipline by its officers, and ready upon an occasion to commit overt acts of outrage and destruction, which are the true outward manifestations of mob spirit."

"It declares in effect that its will is superior to customs and traditions of government regulations, and even the Constitution of the country."

"It asserts that no individual has no inherent rights that cannot be taken from him, and therefore has the right to say that no man shall work and no industry shall run without its consent."

VILE MURDERER APES RELIGION

Peter Mortensen, the Erstwhile Sunday School Superintendent, Will Be Shot Under the Laws of Utah.

(Journal Special Service.) SALT LAKE, Aug. 13.—What revives interest in one of the most sensational murder trials ever taking place in this state was the decision of the Supreme Court this morning sustaining the sentence of Peter Mortensen for the murder of James Hay in December, 1891.

The murderer is sentenced to be shot, and the ordeal will be carried out. One cold morning in December, 1891, Mortensen, who was at that time a zealous Sunday-school superintendent, lured James Hay, a popular lumber-dealer, to a lonely pasture near this city, and there, under some pretense, shot him through the back, killing him. The murderer then secured $2,800 in notes from his victim which he owed Hay from a lumber firm.

Mortensen returned to his home and business, and that same night, it is said, he led a prayer meeting in the church to which he belonged.

Suspicion was directed to him by his bold display of the notes of which he had robbed the murdered man.

During his confinement the murderer has been very religious, praying morning, noon and night, and incidentally telling people that the Divine Power will punish any who seeks to take his life.

Physicians say that the man has not the least semblance of insanity, but is one of the disgusting characters who makes religion a cloak to hide gross iniquities.

FEARFUL BLOODSHED EXPECTED IN TURKEY

Insurgents Have Now Become Fearless and Attack Troops of the Sultan Wherever They Are Found.

(Journal Special Service.) SOFIA, Aug. 13.—The insurgents are now fearless and seem to be courting publicity. The newspaper known as the official organ of the discontented faction boldly prints the names of the leaders of the uprising, including Etilotta, this morning.

There is a feeling that the movement has gone so far that it cannot now be controlled, and that the time for public announcement has arrived.

RIOT AT A NEGRO MEETING

Attempt to Mob Special Policeman Smith at a Religious Gathering on the East Side Last Night.

Officer Accused of Striking a Boy Who Created a Disturbance—Lad's Friends Rush to the Rescue.

"Lynch Him" the Cry—Release of Prisoner, "Shorty" Walker, an Amateur Pitcher, Pacifies the Belligerents.

A small riot occurred last night at the negro campmeeting in a tent at East Eleventh and Division streets. The worshippers were transformed into a howling mob, threatening to lynch Special Policeman Smith, who, it is said, struck a boy.

Rev. John Glasgow and his wife have been conducting the meetings for the past two weeks, and some of the neighbors have complained about the noise. Patrolman Isakson, on this beat, reported that the speakers made more disturbance than the gang of boys who attended to see the fun.

The crowd was large last night. Patrolman Sloan of the regular force has been detailed to the meeting, and Smith was there as a special policeman.

Struck a Disturber.
"Shorty" Walker, known as an amateur pitcher of some note, is said to have created a disturbance while the services were in progress, and Smith, who was standing by, took him by the collar for the purpose of ejecting him. Walker, it is said, reached for a club. In the excitement Smith is alleged to have struck Walker over the head with a cane, cutting open the scalp. Then Walker was hustled to the outside.

Walker's friends and other young men to the number of 100 or more left their seats and followed Smith to the corner. By this time Patrolman Sloan had gone to Smith's assistance. Sloan is an old officer. He admonished the crowd to keep cool.

"Lynch Him!"
Cries of "Lynch him!" "Get a rope!" rose from the mob about Smith. To pacify the mob, Walker was released.

A friend of Smith's made the following statement: "I did not see what Walker was doing; neither did I see Smith strike him. The special policeman is a friend of mine, and I know he struck the boy on the impulse of the moment. He afterward admitted that he did wrong. There was plenty of excitement, and it wouldn't have taken much to have induced the crowd to handle the officer without gloves. It was a narrow escape from a good-sized riot."

PASSENGER TRAIN WENT INTO DITCH

TOPEKA, Aug. 13.—The fireman was drowned and many others on the Chicago, Rock Island & Pacific passenger train narrowly escaped a like fate this morning at a point two miles west of McFarland. A trestle crossing a small gulch had been washed away by a cloudburst during the night, and the train, running at high speed, crashed into the gap. The locomotive, malleo and one coach went into the river. There was no time for warning and no one could jump. Both engineer and fireman stuck to their posts, but the former escaped.

HUNT CLUB WILL RIDE TO THE COAST

Across the mountains to the coast and up the beach to Astoria, a distance of 200 miles, is the trip 10 enthusiastic members of the Portland Hunt Club will start out upon tomorrow night. The party expects to be absent about 10 days, and the itinerary has been planned with the precision of that of a presidential journey.

Because of the dust between Portland and Forest Grove, the mounts will be sent on ahead tomorrow morning to that place, the riders following by train.

Saturday morning the horsemen will leave Forest Grove for the Harris ranch. This will be the longest day's journey—45 miles. The party will rest over Sunday at the Harris ranch, and Monday will proceed to Tillamook, 15 miles away. Tuesday the ride to Nehalem, a distance of 20 miles, will be made, where the party will again rest for a day. The next jaunt will carry them to Elk Creek, and Seaside will be but a short day's ride. A day will be spent at Seaside, and then the riders will go to Astoria, the end of the journey on horseback. The party will return to Portland from Astoria by boat.

The horsemen expect no difficulty in their long ride, as the roads are said to be in excellent condition and there are plenty of farmhouses along the way, so that in case of accident stopping-places can be easily secured.

Those who will make up the party are: Mrs. F. G. Buffum, Mr. and Mrs. A. M. Cronin, Mr. and Mrs. Eldredge, Miss Anne Shogren, Miss Mahel Lawrence, James Nicol, Ralph Jenkins and E. T. Chase.
