The suit in admiralty of Charles Frederick Axen against Smith & White Bros., sailor boarding-house proprietors, which was dismissed by United States District Judge Bellinger for want of jurisdiction, was refiled in the same court this morning as a civil suit. Axen, a seaman on board of the British ship Duncan, alleges that the defendants withheld his clothing which he values at $100.

Tomorrow! Tomorrow! Tomorrow! Today is the day that the White Corner allows a double discount to persons presenting a coupon cut from its last Saturday's page advertisement in The Journal. Find the coupon, present it to the sales person, and on every purchase make an extra discount of 10 per cent will be allowed. On a $5 purchase this would amount to 50 cents—besides getting the goods at the mid-summer slaughter sale.

After entering a plea of guilty to the charge of frequenting an opium joint, Tommy Ryan, who gave his name as Smith when arrested, was fined $15 by Judge Hogue in the Municipal Court. Ryan was formerly a pugilist and was arrested by Patrolman Hemsworth last Friday morning. He attempted to escape and the officer winged him with a well-aimed shot. The wound was very slight. Ryan threatened to sue the patrolman but the papers have not been filed.

FOUR MINNESOTANS AND ALL COLONELS

Distinguished Jurists from Gopher State Entertained by Colonel Judson.

Four colonels of the Civil War, all Minnesotans, and, familiar friends of the late Governor, were entertained by Colonel Judson at the Imperial Hotel last evening to renew acquaintance and rehearse happenings of war times. The party was composed of:

Colonel William Crooks of the Sixth Minnesota Regiment of Volunteers, now a resident of Portland, private secretary to the president of the O. R. & N. Company.

Colonel L. W. Collins of the Seventh Minnesota Regiment of Volunteers, now Judge of the Minnesota Supreme Court.

Colonel E. L. Torrence of the Pennsylvania Ninth Reserves now a Judge and resident of Minneapolis.

Colonel R. C. Judson of the Third Regiment of Cavalry, regular, now industrial agent for the O. R. & N. Company.

Judge Collins and Judge Torrence are en route to San Francisco to attend the Grand Army encampment. They remained in Portland today and will depart on the evening train. Both are delighted with the city, and marvel at the perfection of Oregon's summer climate, the beauty of the scenery and the evidences of growth and prosperity.

NO SUPPLIES TO BE TAKEN TO THE JAIL

Instead, Money for Extras Must Be Given to Jailer Jackson.

Owing to charges which have been made by some prisoners that they had not received supplies sent them by friends, County Jailer Jackson issued an order yesterday morning that no tobacco, meals or any other sort of gifts would be allowed taken to any of the inmates of the jail. "Money for such supplies," the order read, "may be left with the jailer, who will attend to the purchases."

In speaking of the order, Mr. Jackson said that several of the prisoners had told him that friends had promised to send them tobacco and delicacies that were not obtainable in the jail, and they had declared the promise had been kept. To avoid a repetition of the charges, he issued the order. The money for all supplies must be placed in his hands, for he said, he will not allow other tobacco or meals to be carried to the prisoners.

WOULD VOTE ON LAWS

Machinists' Lodge Passes a Resolution Demanding Steps to Secure the Initiative and Referendum. Demand for the assembling of a constitutional convention to incorporate the initiative and referendum into a new State Constitution is made in a resolution passed at the last meeting of Willamette Lodge, No. 25, International Association of Machinists. The demand is conditional on the State Supreme Court's sustaining the Multnomah County Circuit Court in declaring invalid the amendment adopted in 1902 which has this to say of the lower court's decision:

"Judges J. B. Cleland, M. C. George, Alfred F. Sears, Jr. and Arthur Fraser, constituting the Circuit Court of Multnomah County, have decided on a trivial technicality and contrary to the Declaration of Independence and to the Bill of Rights of Oregon, that said amendment (embodying the initiative and referendum) is invalid."

DR. J. L. KELLETT IN TOWN

Dr. J. L. Kellett of Eureka, Cal., was in this city today. He is the founder of the California Co-operative Medical Co., which has the foundation for the largest organization in the known world. It is under the protection of the initiative and referendum. The organization has over 1,200 members—800 in Eureka—400 in Oakland, 250 in Placerville, Cal., 75 in Coquille City, Or.

GRANGE FAIR OCT. 3

A fair will be held by Evening Star Grange, No. 27, Patrons of Husbandry, October 3. This decision was announced by the fair committee—C. N. Miam, Mrs. E. A. Eaton, Mrs. Anna Lehman, Mrs. H. L. Vail, C. H. Welch—at last night's session of the Grange. The best exhibits at this and other grange fairs will be shown in the Oregon exhibit at the St. Louis Exposition. Oswego, Milwaukie and Pleasant Home Granges also will hold fairs in October.

IN SOCIETY

Miss Jessie May Woodward, daughter of F. H. Woodward, married Dr. R. S. Stryker of Everett, Wash., at 8 o'clock last night. The wedding took place at the residence of the bride's parents, Mr. and Mrs. F. H. Woodward, No. 766 East Davis street. The service was performed by the Rev. Mr. J. F. Gormley, pastor of the First Christian Church.

It was a quiet home wedding, and there were no attendants. Only members of the families of bride and groom were present. In all there were 35 guests. The bride was with her mother, the city is Miss Mabel Jewell of Terre Haute, Ind., the home of the bride's family, before their recent removal to Portland. Miss Jewell is Mrs. Woodward's niece. The house was decorated with roses and carnations, in pink and white.

The bride wore a gown of white silk organdie and carried a shower bouquet of white carnations.

Dr. Stryker, the groom is a brother of Dr. Stanton Stryker of this city. Both are practicing dentists.

After the wedding the bridal pair left for their home in Everett, Wash.

Mrs. W. McMurray of Eugene has been the guest of her daughter, Mrs. Baird, the past week.

Mrs. Dewey Hand and her son are visiting in Pendleton at the home of Mrs. Hand's parents, Mr. and Mrs. Daniel Dutton.

Collector of Customs Patterson of Portland, accompanied by Mrs. Patterson, have been visiting in the Sound cities and were the guests of Collector and Mrs. Ide of Port Townsend last week.

George F. Roberts of Portland and his brother Jay of Seattle, Wash., are spending 10 days at Seaview. Mr. and Mrs. T. J. Bryant are at Seaview Cottage for the season.

Mrs. Ella Van der Werth is a guest of Mrs. Benedict at Seaview.

Mrs. James A. Howard and her daughter Helen of Sumpter, Or., are guests at the Imperial Hotel. They will remain some time. Possibly they will go to the seaside for a week.

Mrs. T. G. Halley and her daughters, Genevieve and Elizabeth, of Pendleton, passed through Portland en route to Seaside, Wednesday. Mayor Halley of Pendleton will join them later.

LABORERS SCARCE

Plenty of Work for the Men, But Not Plenty of Men for the Work. Throughout Southern Oregon and Northern California there is great shortage of all kinds of farm and railroad laborers, says Superintendent L. R. Fields of the Southern Pacific lines in Oregon, who has returned from a week's trip over the road.

"The large volume of farm work on just at the present time," he said, "accounts in a large measure for the shortage of men, and then, too, improvements on the Southern Pacific gives places to a large number of laborers."

"Harvesting is in full blast and the crop outlook is very bright. The country in general appears prosperous."

"Within the next 10 days the line over the Siskiyou Mountains from Ashland, Or., to a mile below Dunsmuir, Cal., will be relaid with new 80-pound steel rails. The new steel is now down as far as Montague, Cal."

GLASSES ABSOLUTELY FREE

When Phillips Bros. advertised that on last Monday they would give away absolutely free a pair of lenses to all persons calling at their optical rooms in the White Sewing Machine apartments, Sixth and Alder, between the hours of 9 and 10 a. m., they had not counted on the wide circulation of The Journal, in which the announcement was exclusively made. When the hour arrived the place was packed so that there was not even standing-room, and consequently many were compelled to go away greatly disappointed.

Those persons and others are invited to call at the same place on next Monday morning at the same hour, and those who cannot be waited upon will be given a numbered card so that they may call at any time during the week, when their eyes will be fitted with the same care and with the same glasses that would be given them were they to pay over so high a price. The Phillips Bros. are honest and their word is true, and will never be found in the list of those who deceive by promises not intended to be kept. They are first-class opticians, and this offer of free glasses is merely to bring themselves before the public. Recipients of these glasses, when they find them the best that's made, will be an advertisement for the brothers that will be worth the cost.

WITH THE RAILROADERS

J. C. Clock, Pacific Coast agent for the Wisconsin Central, has gone to Eastern Oregon on business.

H. S. Collins, general agent for the Northwestern Lines, who has been visiting in Portland for the past week, will return home tonight.

Charles S. Fee, of St. Paul, general passenger and ticket agent for the Northern Pacific, accompanied by Assistant General Passenger Agent A. B. Charlton, of Portland, will arrive in this city tonight.

B. H. Trumbull, commercial agent for the Illinois Central, with offices in Portland, accompanied by Mrs. Trumbull and Miss Brown, have gone to Victoria and Vancouver, B. C., to be absent a week.

Judge C. H. Holcomb, formerly a resident of Portland, but now practicing law at Hong Kong, departed today for Vancouver, B. C., where he will sail for China on the Canadian Pacific Royal Mail steamer, Empress of Japan. Holcomb has been visiting friends in this city.

...$18.75...

A positive ironclad guarantee goes with each and every one for ten years to give entire satisfaction or your money back. Our extremely low selling price has always been $27.50, but to make way for an immense shipment of the same reliable makes, we will sell the few remaining while they last for $18.75. Such a chance will not come again, as we will have plenty of room upon the completion of our new building this fall. See them in the Fifth-street window, or take elevator to Fourth floor—see them working—they speak for themselves.

DO NOT WANT A NEW LODGE HERE

The Portland Eagles Prefer to Fight Against President Smith for Return of the Local Charter.

Money to Prosecute Their Claims Before Grand Aerie Will Be Asked for at Tomorrow's Meeting.

Unless something not now expected comes up at the meeting of the Portland Eagles which is billed to be held at the old hall, First and Taylor streets, tomorrow evening, there will be no effort made to form a new Aerie in this city until the question of the right and justice of Grand Worthy President Del Cary Smith's action in revoking the Portland charter has been decided upon by the national convention which is to meet in New York City next month.

It is claimed by those who are determined to force an issue in this matter, that attempts have been made by friends of the President to inaugurate a movement for a new lodge in Portland, hoping in this way to crush the proceedings which are to be taken against the head of the order of Eagles by the expelled Portland members. But the dissenters are by far in the majority and will not listen to anything but a complete and thorough investigation of the constitutional right entertained by the President to bar them from the privileges of Eaglehood.

One Patterson of The Dalles is the only one mentioned to represent the disowned Portland lodge before the Grand Aerie and those who are to bring his name before the meeting tomorrow evening say they have made a canvass of the membership and find there will be no opposition to his selection.

The fee Patterson will charge is unknown but important and therefore the question of funds is vital. It is probable that a subscription list will be presented at the meeting tomorrow night and those interested in the pressing home of the charges will be asked to contribute as much as they can afford toward the cost of prosecution.

Nothing has as yet been heard from President Smith, in reply to the demands made upon him for explanation of his order withdrawing the charter of the local lodge and peremptorily expelling several prominent members of the fraternity in this city.

S. M. MARTIN, M. D. Of the American Journal of Health of New York, says: "Well entitled to a place among genuine specifics is Oil of Eden, offered by John L. Kellett's Oil of Eden Medicine Co., of Oakland, Cal., for the cure of rheumatism, neuralgia and kindred complaints. This we are willing to endorse in very distinct terms, because we have secured abundant evidence justifying us in doing so. Having referred the question of the efficacy of this remedy to medical men of extensive experience, and at the same time having thoroughly looked up the record it has made for itself among the people who have used it, we secured a mass of positive evidence in its favor."

THEATRICAL OFFERINGS

At the Empire. "You like it?" queried Julian Rose at the Empire Theatre last night. "Well, I make you another one."

And while the big audience roared with laughter, "Our Hebrew Friend" responded to his fourth encore by singing his ludicrous parody on "Under the Bamboo Tree."

There is no impersonator of the Jew on the stage today who excels Rose, and when this can truthfully be said of a performer, he must be worth going to see.

Moreover, the rest of the program is also well worth going to see. It is far and away the best bill ever presented at this home of vaudeville.

Empire Next Week. To the exceptionally strong bill now running at the Empire Theatre, will be added next week a number of new features, which will make the present silly season gayer than ever. Beginning on Monday, August 17, Van Fossen and McCaskey, singers, dancers and comedians, will appear in their entertaining act, Olson Brothers, the banjo kings, are also on the bill, and another novelty will be offered by Zano, the illusionist. Julian Rose, who has made the whole Pacific Coast talk by his clever work, has been re-engaged for another week, and will present an entirely new turn.

Amateurs and Fight Returns at Shields'. There will be about six rounds of amateurs for the regular performance at Shields' Park tomorrow night, and those interested in the Jeffries-Corbett "mill" full and complete returns will be given. Neither of these additions will interfere with the regular performance, which is a good one.

Baseball Pictures at Shields' Next Week. Six, 5,000 people came within the focus of the moving picture camera at the baseball game a week ago last Sunday. By going to Shields' Park next week the fans can see how nice they look in a moving picture. The new show starts Sunday night and will consist of ten of the best acts ever presented in Portland. There will be an entire change of program, with all new faces.

Ringling Circus. Ringling Bros. will bring their great circus to Portland Monday and Tuesday, August 24 and 25. The Ringlings this year have added greatly to their equipment. Twenty-two additional cars have been placed in their train service, in order to transport the new outfit.

"Jerusalem at the Crusades," a spectacle employing the services of over 1,000 people, is the principal novelty this year, and 300 dancing-girls, over 600 horses and 200 chariots are utilized during this presentation, which opens the ideal circus performance.

Amelia Bingham at Marquam. The advance sale of seats will open tomorrow (Friday) morning at 10 o'clock for Amelia Bingham, who will present a special comedy in Clyde Fitch's new comedy "The Climbers" at the Marquam Grand Theatre next Monday and Tuesday nights, August 17 and 18. The play promises to score a success in this city equal to that won by it last season at the Bijou Theatre, New York, where it was admirably presented by Miss Amelia Bingham and her company for 200 nights. The play treats of the social life of today. It begins with the return of a frivolous widow and her three daughters from the fashionable funeral of the husband and father. The real grief of the two daughters, the thoughtlessness of the widow and younger daughter forms a contrastingly telling picture. It is soon found out that the husband had died bankrupt, and that the son-in-law, the husband of the heroine, is dishonest. The actress-manager has enrolled in the presentation of "The Climbers" the following American players: Wilton Lackaye, W. L. Abington, James Carew, Ernest Lawford, George Spink, James Kearney, Carl St. Aubyn, Bijou Fernandez, Francis Ring, Adelyn Wesley, Maud Turner Gordon, Georgia Cross, Helene Lackaye and Lillian Wright.
