

SOLDIERS IN DANGER

Men in Philippines Write of General Tribal Discontent in Samar.

DESERT TO THE ENEMY

Shipments of Arms and Munitions to Natives Said to Be Constant-- A General Revolt Prophesied for January.

(Journal Special Service.)
Vancouver, Wash., Aug. 28.—From letters just received by soldiers of the Seventeenth Infantry it would appear that a serious condition exists in several districts of the Philippines and one that has not been spoken of in official dispatches.
According to men in the service in Samar there have been general desertions among the American soldiers, and one soldier writes that recently 40 men escaped to the hills with hundreds of rounds of ammunition and their rifles. These men are supposed to have joined the hill tribes, who have so long harassed the infantry with their sudden and fierce attacks.
Another soldier has written that 40-600 of the alleged pacified natives are believed to be discontented, and that it is generally rumored among the army scouts that there have been in the field, that arms and munitions are being shipped secretly to the malcontents. The writer closes by saying that the outbreak is expected at the time of the next election, which occurs early in January, and that in his opinion the danger is vital and the position of many isolated companies of American soldiers is positively deadly.
"Sitting on a black volcano" is the way a Philippine veteran characterized the present situation there, and men of the Seventeenth who have not been long from the islands assert that peaceful conditions have never been really secured, and that all promises of good behavior are received with too much faith by the civil and military officials.

NO WATER IN BOILER AND FIREMAN ASLEEP

Boy of 17 Falls to Keep Awake—Turns Water in a Dry Engine—Result Was Explosion and One Killed.

Tucson, Ariz., Aug. 28.—Last night O. C. Mayfield, a boy 17 years of age, and a fireman on a mountain engine at the Southern Pacific shops, fell asleep and the water in the boiler ran low. Waking up he turned cold water on the hot plates resulting in a terrific explosion, which hurled the boy 300 feet in the air and killed him instantly. The shops were badly wrecked and the yards for a considerable distance were covered with debris. The big boiler of the engine was thrown through the roof of the engine house and landed in the car shops 200 feet distant.

WILL FIGHT SIGN ORDINANCE.

Ignoring his recent experience in the police court, where he was fined $50 for violating ordinance 7,130, which prohibits advertising on sidewalks, August Erickson, proprietor of a saloon at Second and Burnside streets, placed three more signs on the walk and two on the building.
The result was that Erickson was again arrested on complaint of Inspector Lillis of the city engineer's office. Attorney Hume appeared for Erickson, entering a plea of not guilty. The case will be tried Tuesday.

SAN FRANCISCO IN THE HANDS OF THUGS

(Journal Special Service.)
San Francisco, Aug. 27.—That this city is in the hands of a gang of desperate thugs is what is believed by the police. The men of the central office are almost certain that at least two of the Police prison escapes are the ones who are doing the dastardly work.
The Tuesday night saloon holdup was repeated Wednesday night in the saloon of John Sore, on Seventh street. At about 1 o'clock two men entered the

AFFAIRS OF TURKEY AROUSE EUROPE

London, Aug. 28.—Grave apprehension is expressed here today by continuance of the gruesome reports from European and Asiatic Turkey.
The Times published a dispatch from Uskub in which it is stated that the bitterest hatred for Europeans is expressed by Turkish soldiers, who believe that the powers seek to wipe their government from the maps of political Europe.
In the dispatch it is stated that horrible massacres are daily occurrences and there is no holding within bounds the terrible ferocity of the soldiers. Rape, murder and pillage are encouraged by the officers, and no man, woman or child is exempt from tortures of the greatest atrocity.
Where the trouble will stop cannot be foretold. The Sofia correspondent of the Times says that the war between Turkey and Bulgaria is not the only

HIS HYMNS WERE ALL OUT OF TUNE

Henry Christ was convicted in the police court this morning of using language unfit for print in the presence of a number of women holding a Salvation Army meeting at Third and Burnside streets last night.
Christ told the court that he lived anywhere he could find something to eat.
"I never did it, Judge," he said emphatically. "I only went there for fun and to hear them sing. Then the police came and grabbed me and almost broke my arm in hustling me to the station."
"What hymns did you sing?" asked City Attorney Fitzgerald, with a smile.
"Well, I can't tell exactly. I sang just like the Salvation Army. I never called them names."
"Were you drunk?" continued the attorney.
"I had two beers."
Judge Hogue fined him $25. He paid the fine.

BLIND MAN FALLS INTO CELLARWAY

George Houghton, an aged blind man, while walking along Washington street in front of the Washington building on Fourth street.
The plight of the sightless man attracted a large crowd, and because of his cries it was feared that he had been seriously hurt by his fall of 12 or 15 feet. The police soon arrived and took Houghton to the station. He complained of pains in his back, but the injuries are not believed to be serious. The old man was allowed to rest at the station for a time, after which he was assisted to his home on Portland heights.

MISSOURI EDITORS TALK SHOP.

(Journal Special Service.)
St. Louis, Mo., Aug. 28.—The annual meeting of the Missouri Press association resumed its sessions today with an increased attendance of members. Some of the interesting papers presented at the session this afternoon were as follows: "Responsibilities of a Country Editor," Ovid Bell, Fulton; "Up-to-Date Advertising," B. F. Wood, Iaredo; "Postal Laws Concerning Newspapers," W. L. Reid, post-office inspector, St. Louis; "Advertising from the Standpoint of a Country Merchant and Editor," J. S. Morton, Smithville; "What the Publisher owes the Advertiser," J. P. Tucker, Parkville. Other papers were presented at the afternoon session. This evening the annual election of officers will be followed by the departure of the editors and their families on an excursion to Chicago.

SERBIA'S DARK OUTLOOK.

Vienna, Aug. 28.—A dispatch from Belgrade says that the elections in Serbia today will undoubtedly result in an overwhelming victory for the Radicals, and the conflict between them and the army will then become acute, rendering King Peter's position all the more unenviable. His recent threat to leave the country, it is believed, may soon be translated into reality. The outlook for Serbia is indeed dark. The country seems to be drifting into anarchy. The result of the ministerial crisis shows that the king is completely in the hands of the military Camrilla which placed him in power.

FIRST BLOOD FOR LA GRANDE

JUDGE SEARS SUSTAINS THAT TOWN'S CONTENTION IN ITS FIGHT TO WREST THE COUNTY SEAT FROM UNION—APPEAL IS CERTAIN.

Majority of the people of the County said to favor the change, but Union blocked attempt to decide the matter by Popular Vote and now Attacks by Constitutionalality of the Act Authorizing the Election.
(Journal Special Service.)
Union, Or., Aug. 28.—Under the order handed down by State Circuit Judge Sears, Portland, La Grande has practically won the county-seat fight. The order, which sustains the demurrer to the amended complaint, was received by County Clerk Minnaugh by express this morning, and it was read in open court. Under the order of Union, the county seat is by an appeal to the supreme court, and attorneys here believe that that tribunal will sustain the ruling of the Portland judge. However, there is no doubt that an appeal will be taken, and if the papers are filed and the case advanced on the docket, as will certainly be done by the supreme court in such an urgent matter, a hearing will be had before November 4, the day set for the election.
Points in Dispute.
The case was argued on the demurrer a week ago Thursday. Circuit Judge Eakin, of the eighth district, who is a citizen of Union, considered himself an interested party and asked Judge Sears to sit for him. Briefly stated, the arguments before Judge Sears showed that a majority of the voters desired a change of the county seat from Union to La Grande, that the last legislature passed a law leaving the question to the voters on a declaration at an election to be held on November 4. At first the people of Union thought there would be no doubt as to the result, but when they found that popular feeling was in favor of La Grande they secured an order of the court restraining the county clerk from issuing notices of the election. The complaint was filed by A. E. Eaton, S. A. Prusel, Fred Gall, F. E. Foster, G. F. Hall and W. H. Ewin, and was directed against County Clerk J. H. Minnaugh. It alleged that the act of the legislature is unconstitutional in that it authorizes the county to incur a debt exceeding $5,000, the constitutional limit. The debt alleged was the future expenditure of more than $5,000 for the erection of a courthouse at La Grande, if that city should win the county-seat fight. The defense contended that the expense to be incurred was really one of necessity, as the present courthouse, even if Union should win the fight, would have to be repaired.
In some respects the legal fight resembled one that took place in Multnomah county about 10 years ago. The court had designated a $3,000,000 courthouse for Portland, but a permanent injunction against such an expenditure was obtained on the ground of its unconstitutionality. Attorneys T. H. Crawford and C. E. Cochran, for the plaintiffs, and J. B. Grant, who has relied on the Portland ruling, while Deputy District Attorney C. H. Finn, appearing for the county clerk, took the opposite view.

KANSAS CITY IS IN POOR KIND OF LUCK

Again the Kaw River Is on the March—Bridges Are Swept Away for the Third Time This Summer.

(Journal Special Service.)
Kansas City, Aug. 28.—The Kaw river is rising rapidly. A three-foot rise was the record for last night, while it is now two inches per hour. All temporary bridges are again endangered and two are swept away. The work of replacing those swept away twice this summer has just been stopped.
Big Rise at Topeka.
Topeka, Kan., Aug. 28.—The Kaw river rose 19 inches last night. Today it stands eight inches above the eight-foot mark. The highest rise since the big flood of the Smoky Hill. The Blue and the Vermillion rivers' banks are full and a great acreage of farming land is submerged for the third time this year.

MRS. HAYNIE MAY RETURN.

ting in a buggy and holding the horse while her husband absent himself for a few minutes, ostensibly to find the right road, but in reality to rob a passerby.
As the only evidence against Mrs. Haynie is found in the statements made by herself and her husband, and as the latter could not be used as evidence against her, the police have decided to give the young woman her liberty.
She is now with her mother, who arrived yesterday from Portland, accompanied by Detective Day and Captain Simmons of that city, who come for the purpose of making an effort to identify Haynie with some of the criminal work in Portland prior to the time he left that city.
Ordered Out of Aberdeen.
The Portland officers refused to reveal the exact nature of their suspicions, but declaring that they have sufficient proof to warrant the statement that Haynie was partly or wholly responsible for several bold crimes before he left the Oregon metropolis. The belief of the Portland officers is strengthened by the fact that immediately after leaving Portland Haynie and his bride went to Aberdeen and almost immediately after arrival in that town two men were sandbagged and robbed, one of them being severely injured by being struck over the head with a slungshot.
The evidence pointed so strongly to Haynie as the perpetrator of the robbery that the Aberdeen authorities, in absence of proof sufficient to form the basis of criminal prosecution, ordered Haynie and his wife to leave town. The order they obeyed without protest. The police believe that the young couple stopped at Tacoma several days before coming to this city and that there Haynie committed several highway robberies.
Will Plead Guilty.
Haynie now declares that it is his present intention to plead guilty to the charge of robbery that has been placed against him in the hope that he will escape with the minimum sentence, five years' imprisonment.
Mrs. Haynie says that the reason she at first denied having been with her husband on any of his expeditions of robbery was that she did not know just how his case stood and did not wish to say anything that might prove prejudicial to him.
The young woman will probably go to Portland with her mother this evening or tomorrow and there await the time of her husband's trial.

STEAMER PORTLAND HAS BEEN CHARTERED

Engaged by Kerr, Gifford & Co. to Carry Wheat to San Francisco
—Charter Market Quiet.
Wheat and flour are still in active demand at San Francisco. Yesterday the steamer South Portland was chartered by Kerr, Gifford & Co. to carry a shipment of wheat to that city at $2.50 a ton. This is almost as high as the present freight rates for carrying grain to Europe.
Recently ships have been engaged for as little as 14 shillings, and one or two French barkers have been reported chartered at 12 shillings 6 pence. Compared with these figures the coast rates seem out of proportion.
An explanation for the great disparity is that when a shipment is to be made to a certain coast point it is wanted by the buyer with a little delay as possible, and he is willing to pay for quick despatch. With the foreign exporters the matter of quick delivery is not important.
Locally no charters for foreign trade have been effected, and shippers state there is no likelihood of an immediate change in the situation. All the tonnage for present requirements is engaged, and a sufficient amount is available at any time that a change should occur.

MORE CARGO SHIPS REACH THE COLUMBIA

The British bark Windsor Park arrived at Astoria Wednesday afternoon at 5 o'clock after a passage of 27 days from Port Los Angeles. To the California port she came from Newcastle-on-Tyne, bringing a general cargo, a portion of which was discharged at that place. The balance is consigned to Girvin & Eyre of this city.
The schooners Zampa and R. W. Bartlett left up the river this morning in tow of the Hercules. The former will load lumber at Vancouver and the latter at Carroll's Point.

CRAMPS COST HIM JUST $10

W. ALLARD, TAKEN ILL, HURTS A SALOON INSTEAD OF THE HOSPITAL IN WHICH HE WORKS AND GETS INTO JAIL—AN ORDERLY AT THE GOOD SAMARITAN.

Albina Saloon Man Is Let Off With a Fine for Keeping Open After Hours, Explaining That He Was Merely Sitting Up with a Friend with $75 on His Person Who Was Afraid to Go Home Alone.
It was a costly attack of cramps that W. Allard experienced early this morning when he was found roaming the streets a few blocks from the Good Samaritan hospital, paid $10 to secure his liberty, after Judge Hogue had heard his story.
A policeman told him he had found Allard wandering about. Allard explained that he had the cramps and wanted a drink of whiskey.
"Well, Judge," said the witness, "I came down town yesterday afternoon to get my watch fixed and to see some friends. I staid at a friend's house and at 3 o'clock this morning I got sick and went out to get a drink of liquor.
"Where do you live?" Inquired the court.
"At Good Samaritan hospital," he replied.
"Well, if you were sick that was the place to go," the judge said. "Ten dollars."
Although he asserted that he was simply doing a service for an intoxicated friend, Michael Bradley, who keeps a saloon at Russell street and Albina avenue, was arrested for keeping his place open after hours. Patrolman J. F. Johnson had Bradley in court this morning. The prisoner was fined $25.
Bradley said that he was in his saloon all of Tuesday night, but after the hour of closing sold no liquor. About 9 o'clock in the evening a resident of Upper Albina, who has a business on the West Side, appeared at Bradley's bar intoxicated. He remained until the last case had gone and as he had over a mile to walk up the hill and carried about $75 in money with him he was afraid to walk home.
"I was in the saloon all night," said Bradley, "but after hours my friend and I simply sat and talked. At 5 o'clock the next morning my bartender came on watch and I turned my friend over to him. When he sobered up he went home. The policeman saw us sitting in the saloon and thought I was doing business."
