WIFE ACCUSES;

HELL ROARING JAKE KIDNAPED CARRIERS

EVEN FOR A MONTE'S PAY A DAY, BO GEN. SMITH MADE THEM PACE BAGGAGE ON MARCH FOR

Battery Officer Thrashes His Men for Breaking Rules Instead of Reporting Their Steps-The Won-Com" and the Artilleryman Discuss the Why and Wherefore of Popular Officers-Stories from Vancouver Barracks.

One of the problems that troubles the new army officer is how to secure the respect and confidence of his men. Those who have been admitted into the confidence of the young lieutenant or captain, who for the first time is facing the responsibility of caring for the military education and directing the lives of 65 men, say that the average officer wonders just how his older brother, who has seen years of service, manages to obtain the result he does. Older army officers, however, are not free from this bugaboo and majors and officers of every rank have been heard to express their wonder at the popularity and success of some other officer who had the knack of handling men Old soldiers who have campaigned through Cuba, China and the Philippines say that the firing line shows the difference in officers better than any other ordeal.

Among the soldiers stationed at Vancouver barracks are a number of Nineteenth infantry men who have been through the various experiences of repeated enlistments and have decided lefinitely on the sort of an officer they like to follow.

"Old Gen. Hughes," said a "non-com, was the sort of a man I like to meet. a dinky little river in a launch that was are you doing with that brush there? or four of us in the craft and were dig- neck of the other rookle and the lad ging right into the enemy's country. Along up the dirty little stream we ran horizon looked cloudy. Pat fished up a into a lot of heathen bolo men and the smile and with a grunt said: worst of it was that the niggers had sather close about the launch and once ting." in a while a bullet would tear the canfor about three miles and if he missed again I will anyway." a puff on that long cigar it was when I was ducking for cover.

A Shining Mark.

"Talking about Hughes," broke in another "non-com" standing by, "I saw him back of the firing line when we were up against the Goo-Goos good and can follow.'
proper. We had about 500 men and the "It's not little black devils were thicker than drinks in Honolulu. We all of us were dat against the ground and the way the Mauser bullets were coming out of the up on that big cream colored horse of bushes wasn't slow. Hughes was perched with a white helmet on and he never dodged once. I saw a bullet knock his but over on one ear and all the old man said was, "They can't shoot today,

"Hell Boaring Jake."

'Now, there was old 'Jake' Smith. 'He could roast us, he could swear and he could say all manner of mean things about us. He could also start us on a 66-mile march through the woods and we would never whimper. Why? 'Cause we knew he was a man and we savied almost two days late of her schedule that he would bring us through in spite of all the niggers between Cape Engano and Sarangan island.

"There was another thing that made the fellows love old Smith. He hated a nigger and he thought his men were a little bit better than the savages. There prise, as she is very seldom longer than her home in Weston, Mrs. Mary L. Grawere a lot of nigger lovers a layin' second Manila and they sometimes happened to be officers that had something to say about the running of things, but you can bet 'Jakey' was not that kind.

One time we had an order to hike up into the woods for about 400 miles. We and that means about 50 pounds more in this manner more than usual. than a man can well lug. Besides we had all kinds of extra drugs, ammunition, provisions and shelter tents to pack and nary a wagon or a mule in the whole regiment. For weeks before we were to start 'Jakey' advertised for carriers and offered to pay them a peso a day, more than they had been making for a month. But though they said they loved the Americanos they all refused to work. They even dug out into the woods and the presidente said to the officers that asked him for carriers: 'Americano work like mule; me no likee make people work."

Kidnaping Carriers. the night prore the regiment was to start 'Jakey' ordered the band to play in the Presidio. The music started the niggers and in half an hour there were about 600 lazy coons around the band. The fellows kept on playing rag-The fellows kept on playing ragtime, like their souls were in it, and 'Jakey' ordered two companies to surround the niggers. As we spread out in the dark streets we heard Smith say: lay hands on and bring him up to DAYS OF quarters.

"I laid violent hands on three and drove them into the corral by the quar-termaster's shack. The other fellows did about as well and when we started out next morning we traveled light, for there were about 500 bucks strapped up with packs that weighed about 100 pounds each. Smith made a litle speech to the bunch before we started out: You were too lazy to work for twice what you were worth and you were too mean to help out your friends. Next time you had better take a job when you have the chance.' That trip was no picnic, but it would have killed us all if we had toted those packs, and the men that went through the jaunt never dreamed of cussing 'Jakey' Smith again."

Thrashes His Own Men. A batteryman had been an interested listener to the last incident and when the speaker finished he said:

"You don't need to go 5,000 miles to find the sort of an officer that we like. We have one in our battery. The other day there were a couple of recruits doing stable duty. They were both drunk as owis and this officer same along. One of the fellows was called Pat' and he was weaving back and forth trying to hit the horse with a curry-comb and looking sober as an ape. The other lad was hanging to a post and making jabs at a little mule with a brush. The old man stopped and looked over the two for a minute and then he roared out: "In the name of Heaven, what are you two doing?" Shure, your hanner, said the Irishman 'we are doin' stable jooty.'

"Ah are you? Well, tell me, you mendy legged salamander, what you are trying to do, jabbing that comb into

(Journal Special Service.)

Watertown, N. Y., Sept. 19 .- A banquet will be given to Grand Commander Bingham of the Knights Templar next week. No more popular man lives in the Empire state, and guests to the function will represent a score of cities.

BRIDE OF 77-BOTE REGARD

THEIR CHILDROOD DAYS AS IN-

While These Young Oregon Patriarchs

Are Enjoying Their Marriage, the News Comes of the Birthday of Grandma Moorehouse, Who Spryly Manages

the Celebration of Her Minety-Second

That nobody grows old in Oregon is William S. Thompson, aged 90, mar-tive state, New York, as though these happy times were but a year away, and regard the future with all the buoyancy of youth. The groom, a veteran of the Mexican war, has resided at Tillamook father was a sturdy young man when American colonies, and did not die un-

As the couple began their honeymoon

The only surviv-news came of the celebration of the milepost of life, Grandma Moorehouse is active, and gave her personal direction to the preparation of dinner and the serving of the meal. Mrs. Moorehouse has resided in Oregon for many years, though a native of New England. Many of her stories of early days are now

Growth of the South.

From the Southern Field.

The Wall-Street Journal, in commenting on the fact that the South has finally overhauled the rest of the country in its rate of development and growth, quotes some very substantial figures relating to production of certain farm staples which are not especially distinctive southern corn crop is stated at $233,-445,652, that of wheat at $47,482,730, that of oats $15,764,739, that of hay and forage $54.577.055, and that of potatoes at $11,006,952. As the Journal remarks, this is significant as indicating something of the diversity of southern agricultural products, "though what has been accomplished is but the smallest beginning of the potentialities in this di-

Pure, Pale and Sparkling. Bottled Only at the Brewery in St. Louis.

Order from Fleekenstein Mayer Company

HENRY WEINHARD

Bottled Beer a Specialty

THESPEONE No. 72.

Office 13th and Burnside Str. PORTLAND, OREGON.

City for many years. He is of a fam-ily of long-lived people. His grand-exemplified by a romance of a McMinn-ville couple, both of whom had passed three-score-and-ten:

to celebrate the event.

CIDENTS OF JESTERDAY.

I was with the general when he went up that mare. Say, you wobbly fool, what no bigger than a skiff. There were three The old man almost jumped astride the was most scared to death. While the " Shure, captain, dear, the mon is not some Mausers and were more than wise drunk at all at all. We had only three as to their use. The lead began to nip small beers, three on my honar, cap-

"The old man walked up to Pat and vas top. We all ducked for cover but looked him in the eye good and square, the general, who sat perched up in an "If you wasn't Irish I would take wicker chair in the bow of the boat you out into the corral and beat the as cool as if he never had dreamed of everlasting breath out of you, my man, The old man rode through bullets and if you ever get drunk on duty

> "When you get an officer that stands up and fights it out with the last man in the rear rank before he will preach to the court-martial, and get some poor devil hauled over the coals, then you get hold of a man that we dough boys

"It's not only being a darn good fightin' man," concluded the philosophic 'non-com, "but it's being one of the company instead of a high and mighty imitation of a man, that makes an of ficer popular, and son, if you ever happen to get hold of a civilian lieutenant that passed on his pull and his shape, don't loose no time huntin' a discharge. You'd better do time on the island than monkey with that dub. Mind what I ried Mrs. M. S. Wiles, aged 77. They tell you."

says as what he does," remarked one INDRAPURA ARRIVES the flag of King George waved over the The Oriental liner Indrapura arrived at Astoria this morning at 8 o'clock, til he was 110 years old. His father time. She sailed from Yokohama on from a long-lived family. She had been September 1, and was expected to reach a widow since 1892. the mouth of the Columbia river on Thursday. birthday of Grandma Moorehouse, who

Her long passage causes some sur-17 days in crossing the Pacific. Her ham, who is a friend of the old lady, had made preparations for a birthday party sister steamer, the Indrasamha, holds the record, having made the run in 16 days. It is believed that the long wife, with their son and his family, ing son of Mrs. Moorehouse and his passage this trip is due to contrary were among the guests. All afternoon winds and perhaps fogs. Of late the friends and neighbors congratulated had to travel in heavy marching orders San Francisco liners have been bothered their hostess. While close to the 100th

On this voyage the Indrapura did not call at Victoria, but sailed direct for the Columbia river. She is bringing ,125 tons of cargo, consisting of the ordinary line of goods shipped from of her stories of early days are not the far East, tea being one of the heavy being compiled and will be published. consignments. There are also some Japanese and Chinese passengers.

TO PAGE ACCUSERS IN EAST.

Robert Louden, who is wanted in Minnesota for alleged timber land frauds, had an examination before United States Commissioner McKee this morning and was remanded to the custody of the marshal, to be taken back to answer the of the South, but which are rapidly asaccusation. Louden gave bonds in the suming colossal proportions in point of sum of $2,000, with Finley Morrison output. For instance, the value of the and John Finley as sureties and was re-leased. He intends to leave for Minnesota some time next week.

DIZZINESS

Come to Hundreds of Portland People.

There are days of dizziness; Spells of headache, sideache, back-

Sometimes rheumatic pains; Often urinary disorders. All tell you plainly the kidneys are

Doan's Kidney Pills cure all kidney ills.

Here is proof in Postland.

Mrs. A. Canavan of 733 Northrup street, wife of A. Canavan, who is employed at the city waterworks, says:

For two or three years, owing to kidney complaint and backache, I was some days unable to attend to my household duties at all. What I did do was under great strain and misery. When, owing to a weak, lame and aching back, you are unable to sit, stand or lie when dizzy spells are common and you are you are unable to sit, stand or lie when dizzy spells are common and you are annoyed with headaches, despite the use of ordinary household remedies, and more than one medicine guaranteed to be a cure for such troubles, you naturally think a good deal of the means at last employed which gave relief. I used Doan's Kidney Pills, getting them at the Laue-Davis Drug Co.'s store, corness of Yambill and Third streets, taking them according to directions, and I found more relief from them than from all other remedies I ever took put together. When in conversation with any one annoyed with symptoms of kidney complaint I never fail to get in a good word for Doan's Kidney Pills."

For sale by all dealers. Price 50 cents. Foster-Milburn Co., Buffalo, N. Y., sole agents for the United States.

Remember the name — Doan's — and take no substitute.

ERS. J. H. LUTES WEITES MAYOR WILLIAMS TO "EXPOSE" HEE MUSBAND, WHOM SHE SAYS SHE MAS JUST LOCATED IN FORTLAND THEOUGH THE POLICE.

E Is in a Morrison Street Pactory—Denies That He Fled From Mer, Saying That He Loft Because of His Motherin-Law, and Shows Letters to Prove That His Wife Enew All Along Whore He Was.

Representing that her husband, J. H. Lutes, had eloped from Denver with Miss Rose Greenaway, Mrs. Florence L. Lutes of 360 South Grant street, that city, writes a letter to Mayor Williams, which he received today.

Mrs. Lutes says that while she was ill in a Denver hospital Mr. Lutes became enamored of a Mrs. Rose Greenaway, whom he employed as a stenog-rapher, sold the business which he owned ointly with his wife, cashed a check for $1,000, then fied.

This Mr. Lutes emphatically denied today. He is now employed with the Portland Artificial Limb Co. 127 1-2 First street, and has been there for a year or more. He says Mrs. Greenway was in Denver when he left; that he has stubs in a check book to show that every ent of the alleged $1,000 was disposed of lawfully; that his wife knew several weeks before that he was going to leave, and in short, represents every statement she makes to be false.

Mrs. Lutes' Story.

Mrs. Lutes' letter follows.
"Mayor of Portland, Or.-Dear Sir. Through the chief of police of Seattle I have succeeded in locating Mr. J. Lutes, my runaway husband, at 1271/2 First street, Portland, Or., and my purpose in addressing you is to expose him as the manager of the Portland Artificial Limb Company, and the company with him.

"Being without means I am powerless to do anything except to expose him. I ask your assistance in the matter as far as possible. Mrs. Greenway is passing as his wife, so I am correctly As the matter is becoming generally known in Portland it would

OLD, LOVES AND CHERISHES A not take much effort on your part. have addressed also every artificial limb company on the Pacific coast, several surgeons and physicians in Portand, informing them of the true state of affairs and warning all to have no dealings with said firm.

"I am Mr. Lutes' wife, and until his location in Portland we were doing bus-iness in Denver as the J. H. Lutes' Artificial Limb Company, 1129 Seventeenth street. It was my money and means, belonging to me before our marriage, that brought us here to Denver for my health and started the business. We had a successful business, I was his legal partner and acted as stenographer. During my illness he met one Mrs. Rose Greenway. He employed her and was sued by Mr. Greenway. Our home and half the business being in my name he did not get much. Mr. Greenway then left Denver. "In the meantime my husband abused three months and Mrs. Greenway and two months ago. The proprietor of the Mr. Lutes finally left the city. He first building knew nothing about them. collected all the accounts possible, cashed a check on the bank for $1,000. GUILTY OF ASSAULT AND BOSSEST old off all the furniture and of the business, taking the tools, etc. now on the road to recovery.

depending upon an elderly father's small | tence will be passed Monday.

wages and have not the means to prosecute Mr. Lutes. I do not consider him worth spending anything upon. It has been only recently that I have been able to take steps towards finding out if he really had Mrs. Greenway with him and his exact location, "If I had time to tell you all I sm sure you would agree with me that he deserves to be given a short shrift. If you have any doubts in regard to my statement I refer you to the Columbia Artificial Limb Company, 291 1/2 Morrison street, in your city. Also you may address any business firm you know of in Denver, as the facts in the case are well known here.

"Yours very sincerely,

"MRS. FLORENCE L. LUTES, " 360 South Grand avenue,

"P. S.—Mr. Lutes was a prominent Woodmen of the World in this city, but resigned before leaving." Lutes Denies It All.

When shown a copy of his wife's letter Mr. Lutes appeared to be absolutely dumfounded. "It is every word false," he declared, "and the only explanation can find is that my wife has been influenced to take these steps by several of her friends, who are my enemies.
"In the first place, it was simply family troubles which separated us. My wife's mother was stopping at our house and during Mrs. Lutes' illness she heard tales from several of the neighbors to the effect that I was intimate with Mrs. Greenway. This was false, but my wife was sick and in low spirits and believed the statements. It finally reached the point where I could not live with my mother-in-law and I left the house,

"My wife was feeling sick and I told her that we had better sep-She knew several weeks before I arate. Denver that I was going and I made no secret of my intentions to anyone. I left as an honest man would, in the daytime, and without any attempt to hide my movements.

Says He Has Written Her. "Before coming to the coast I settled up all my business affairs in Denver, left my personal property with my wife and have done nothing to be ashamed of. The check she speaks of as being cashed by me was the expenditures which were incurred by the business I then operated, the J. H. Lutes Artificial Limb Company, at 1129 Seventeenth street, and I still have the check books with the stubs showing where every cent of it went to. "I did not abuse my wife. I always treated her with the greatest respect and wanted to give her a home. I could not stand the continual nagging of her mother, however, and that is the only reason we separated.

'My wife represents that she only learned of my whereabouts through the ten her a number of letters," and he showed a copy of one letter dated from this city on October 2, 1902, in which he told Mrs. Lutes if she would come out here he would give her a good home.

"I do not see that there is much to be said in the matter. I did not leave with Mrs. Greenway and have not been with her since I left Denver. My wife has known of my whereabouts all the time," and he displayed several letters signed by her and addressed to him in this city. "What her motives are I cannot guess.' All of my letters she answered by abusing me. We probably have both made mistakes, everyone is apt to, but at all times I have been willing to give my wife a good home and help her all in my power."

In her letters Mrs. Lutes referred to the Columbia Artificial Limb Company of 2911/2 Morrison street, this city, and an inquiry at the address developed the fact that the company had engaged rooms there for some time, but that the proprietors had left for California with him and left me without means, robbed J. W. Putney at the point of a Since his departure I have been in the rifle a short time ago, was tried before hospital for another operation and am State Circuit Judge Cleland this morning and found guilty of the charge. The pleted loading a corgo of plling at the Victoria dolphins. Her destination is "All this time (a year) I have been jury was out less than one hour,

20th Century Fibre

Carpets and Rugs

Today we particularly want to talk to you about Fibre Carpets and Rugs. Hodge's 20th Century Fibre Carpet is the particular fabric we want to talk about. Probably you already know all about it. If you do you'll agree with our opinion of its

Do you know how it's made? It comes from Boston — the home of art; the Athens of America. Wood pulp is the basis from which the thread is spun. After careful preparation it is dyed in soft and brilliant tints, then woven into the beautiful patterns we are showing.

These carpets and the fibre rugs are well adapted to bed rooms where you desire to carry out any bright color scheme. Our prices on the carpets are just what they cost you, sewed and laid on the floor.

Carpets, per yd., 50c to 75c Rugs, all sizes, $6.50 to $12

TULL @ GIBBS SUCCESSORS TO H. C. BREEDEN CO.

STILL HANGS FIRE.

settlement of the plumbers' strike is still hanging fire. The union meets Monday night, and it is believed that the men will agree to return to work Tuesday morning. The only difference between the employers and men now are the shop rules. The strikers have offered to accept the old rate of $4.50 for an eight-hour day. They struck fo an increase of 50 cents a day.

JURORS' WIVES AWAY.

The trial of the case of the Pacific Mill Company against Inman, Poulsen & Co. was postponed until Monday by Judge Sears yesterday on account of th desire of some of the jurars to meet their wives, who returned from the coast this morning, at the trains and never be said again. Dr. Miles' Antiassaulted and steamers.

The schooner J. H. Lunsman has com-

China, and she is being dispatched by the Pacific Export Lumber Company. Astoria, Or., Sept. 18 .- Sailed at 10:30 m.-Barkentine Knappton, for San Francisco. Condition of the bar at 8 a. m .- Obgured; wind south; weather foggy.

The barke defender, belonging to the Oregon Round Lumber Company, sup-plied the steamship Yeddo yesterday with 250 tons of coal.

"I Can't Go

Pain Pills quickly cure and positively prevent headache and all bodily pain No opiates, non-laxative, never sold in bulk. Guaranteed. All druggists. 25 doses 25 cents.

DR. MILES MEDICAL CO.,
Elkhart, Ind.

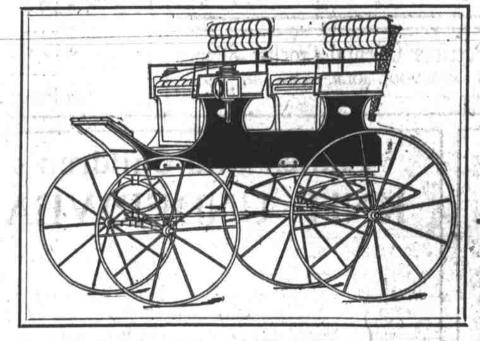

Tudebaker

See Our Exhibit at the Carnival

HARNESS ROBES WHIPS

CARRIAGES BUGGIES WAGONS

Visit Our Booth at the Carnival

WE CAN SHOW YOU THE FINEST LINE OF VEHICLES EVER MANUFACTURED.

