$2.10 in every fellow's pocket traveling beyond The Dalles—if he rides on the Spencer and not on the railroad. The Spencer leaves Oak-street dock at 7 o'clock every Tuesday, Thursday and Saturday morning, calling at all landings on the way, and the fare on the boat is only 50 cents to anywhere, by rail $2.60 to The Dalles. Telephone Main 2960.

The first fall meeting of the Methodist Ministers' association was held yesterday at the Y. M. C. A. building. Officers were elected and Bishop Earl Cranston addressed the gathering. The officers elected follow: Rev. W. B. Hollingshead, president; Rev. W. J. Waltz, vice-president; Rev. O. O. Swede, secretary-treasurer; Rev. J. R. T. Lathrop, chairman of program committee, and Rev. W. H. Selleck, chairman of press committee.

The Regulator line's steamer Dalles City, the popular boat that has been on the upper Columbia run for many years, sells excursion tickets good for return passage to any point on the river, Portland to The Dalles, at 50 cents. This establishes a rate of 25 cents each way, except that all tickets are for roundtrips. The boat leaves Alder-street dock at 6:30 a. m. Tuesdays, Thursdays and Saturdays, returning on alternate days. It affords a most charming outing at almost no cost at all. Telephone 914.

The sombre hue of the river foliage lends a romantic aspect to the otherwise sublimely grand scenery seen from the deck of the big steamer Bailey Gatzert these autumn days, as she sails along between the mighty mountains that stand as sentinels to guard the waters of the majestic Columbia. A ride up this wonderful stream is always most glorious, but especially at this fascinating season of the year. The Gatzert leaves Alder-street dock at 7 a. m. on Tuesdays, Thursdays and Saturdays, and sells roundtrip tickets to Vancouver, Cascade Locks, Stevenson, White Salmon, Hood River, Lyle and The Dalles at the low excursion rate of 50 cents. Telephone 914.

Harley Ennes, the 9-year-old son of Isaac Ennes, a lineman for the Portland General Electric company, living at 308½ First street, was drowned in the river near the Pennoyer sawmill yesterday afternoon. While playing in the backwater slough he accidentally fell in. Two hours later his body was found in the river at the foot of Lincoln street and it was recovered and taken to the morgue. Coroner Finley is investigating the circumstances of the accident today, but there will be no inquest.

Scarcely were the new flats at Sixth and Madison streets ready for occupancy before sneak thieves paid them a visit. Burglars broke into 248 Sixth street Sunday evening while the family was at church and stole a watch belonging to Miss Florence Warriner and a pocketbook containing a small sum of money. Entrance was effected by raising a window in the rear and on the freshly painted sill could be seen the foot marks of the intruder. The family residing in the upper story did not hear the thieves at work.

The Charles E. Spencer is the frisky steamer that tans the jackets of its opponents. The Spencer slipped into the harbor again yesterday, with its cargo of passengers and freight, so far ahead of the "ox team" propellers that the scent of the latter could not even be discovered in the same atmosphere. The Spencer's departure this morning was the signal for a big load of persons on board bound for the up-river country. The fare on this boat is only 50 cents to any landing, and travelers beyond The Dalles save $2.10 in fare by this steamer. Dock foot of Oak street, telephone Main 2960.

Many ladies have called to see Mrs. O'Donnell, the woman from whose smallpox-pitted, freckled and wrinkled face Madam Vaughn quickly removed every vestige of blemishes, and who is now on exhibition at Madam Vaughn's parlors, 301-302 McKay building. Mrs. O'Donnell had no thought of ever being freed from the awful torment she had borne for from 20 to 30 years, until she saw the madam's announcements in The Journal. She called upon her and today her face is as a child's—so smooth and clear of all disfigurements has it been made. She tells the story of the transformation to any one who calls. It was a wonderful piece of work.

The bargain sales at the White Corner this week comprise satin damask towels at 7 cents, India silk, 39 cents; tremendous reductions in shoes, hosiery, knit underwear, millinery goods, waistings, jackets, capes, cloaks and skirts, waists and corsets, wrappers and underskirts, lace curtains, domestics, blankets and comforts, men's furnishing goods and groceries. In some of these lines there are notable slaughters which it will pay housewives to investigate. Economical buyers—and it is presumed that most people are of that class—will do well to preserve the page advertisement appearing in The Journal each Saturday. It always contains a great program of superior bargains.

TEACHERS CHOSEN FOR NIGHT SCHOOL

The board of education met last night, elected the teachers and principals for the public night schools and arranged to open that branch of elementary instruction on the evening of October 19.

The night schools will be held here in the high school building, the Central Avenue school and the Williams Avenue school. The hours are arranged as usual, from 7 o'clock in the evening until 9 o'clock. The term lasts five months.

The corps of teachers elected follows:

High school building: Principal, E. A. Miller; assistants, W. C. Alderson, Mrs. W. C. Alderson and Julia Comstock.

Central Avenue, Frank Carll. Williams Avenue, J. H. Stanley.

The grading, course of studies and general system in use heretofore will not be deviated from to any extent.

Only one change was made in the existing corps of day teachers, in the appointment of Miss A. Johnson to the first grade at the Woodlawn school.

The officials received reports from schools originally overcrowded to the effect that the scholars were being arranged for satisfactorily. Work is progressing rapidly on the annexes, which will entirely do away with any congestion.

Nothing was done about the proposed issue of bonds to replace a former issue. A committee is still at work on the problem and is not ready to report.

FOR ENTERTAINING STOCKMEN NEXT YEAR

The local board of trade and the chamber of commerce will hold a joint session Friday afternoon, October 16, for the purpose of arranging for the entertainment of the visitors at the national live stock convention, which meets here next January. Several thousand delegates, many of whom will be accompanied by their wives, are expected to attend the convention, and plans will be made to entertain them in a manner most royal. It is thought that a larger part of the stockmen will come from the Middle West, although the states of the Southwest are expected to send large delegations.

DOLLAR VERDICT AGAINST HUNT

WHILE THE CHIEF OF POLICE MUST PAY $1, LOUIS TAHN HA WHO SUED HIM FOR FALSE IMPRISONMENT MUST PAY ABOUT $40 IN COSTS.

Policeman Nelson, Who Made the Arrest, Exonerated by the Jury—Chief Takes a Shot at Capt. Gritzmacher in the Course of His Testimony—Charge Made Because of a Mistaken Arrest in a Search for a Thief.

A smile crossed the face of Judge Sears and was reflected from the jury-box when a verdict of $1 damages was announced this morning against Chief Hunt in the suit for false imprisonment brought by Louis Tahn Ha, the Chinaman who was arrested and held in custody for 13 hours under a charge of which he was innocent. As the price of this legal salve for his wounded feelings and his damaged reputation Louis will have to pay costs amounting to $40 or $50. Police Officer Nelson, who made the arrest, and who was also sued by the aggrieved Chinaman, was exonerated by the jury.

The case was tried yesterday afternoon. The testimony showed that the Chinaman was arrested July 15 last on the supposition that he had stolen a valuable purse and $5 in money from the house of Harry A. Dillon, 198 King street. Mr. Dillon had reported the theft to the police and said that he believed it to have been committed by a Chinaman whom he had employed to cut his lawn. The description which he gave seemed to Officer Nelson to fit Louis Tahn Ha, who was accordingly taken to the station and placed in a cell. About 9 o'clock the next morning it was discovered that the wrong Chinaman had been arrested. C. E. S. Wood, Louis Tahn Ha's attorney, called at the station about 10 o'clock and demanded the Chinaman's release, but despite his protests Louis remained in his cell until 1 o'clock. Chief Hunt was not at the station when Mr. Wood called, and Captain of Detectives Simmons and Captain Gritzmacher, upon whom demand was made for the prisoner's release, said they had no authority to let him go, despite conclusive proofs of his innocence.

Chief Hunt was one of the witnesses examined yesterday, and in the course of his testimony he declared that Captain Gritzmacher had the requisite authority to have released the Chinaman and the chief said he did not know why it was not exercised.

The jury was out three hours, reaching a verdict about 6 o'clock yesterday afternoon.

REPLY TO THE "NO FUNDS" EDICT

Executive Committee of the Crittenton Home Calls Attention to Founder's Promise that He Would Be Responsible.

As a counter to the latest edict of the state commission of the Florence Crittenton home, in which that body has refused to honor any more bills until such time as Superintendent Anna R. Riggs is removed, the executive committee of the board of managers has issued the following:

"To the Editor of The Journal: At the instance of the advisory board and by unanimous resolution of the board of managers of the Florence Crittenton Refuge home of Portland, Oregon, the property of said society has been transferred to the National Florence Crittenton Mission, and the work of the institution will hereafter be conducted under the supervision of the national organization, and will be subject to its rules and regulations. This action was taken for the purpose of increasing the efficiency of the home, and after receiving assurance from Mr. Charles Crittenton that if the local society conveyed its property to the national mission he 'would be responsible,' we make this statement to the general public, and especially for the information of those with whom the home has been dealing.

"ANNA R. RIGGS, President.
"MRS. I. H. AMOS, Vice-President.
"R. T. RANKIN, Secretary.
"S. M. KERN, Treasurer.
"Executive Committee."

The members of the advisory board mentioned in the foregoing consist of William Wadhams, M. J. Kinney, Charles Ladd and I. H. Amos, prominent Portland merchants, bankers and business men.

INVITES THE T. P. A.

The chamber of commerce this morning sent a formal invitation to the national officers of the Traveling Passenger Agents' association, requesting them to hold their next annual convention, which will take place next year, in Portland, Or. The other commercial organizations of this city will also make the same request, and it is thought that with "a long pull and a strong pull" the Lewis and Clark city will land next year's meeting.

MAY TRADE ASYLUM FOR COUNTY JAIL

Archie Ray and Bill Daly, Morphine Eaters and Jail Habitues, Will Be Examined as to Their Sanity By County Court.

Sheriff Storey is likely to lose two of his most regular boarders, for whose maintenance in the county jail the taxpayers have paid almost continuously for a long time past. Archie Ray and Bill Daly, two morphine eaters, whose time is spent almost wholly in the sheriff's custody, are to be examined tomorrow by the county court to determine whether they are sane. If the court concludes that they are mentally unsound they will be sent to the state asylum at Salem.

For several years Archie Ray has been a familiar figure in the police court and about the county jail. He is a confirmed victim of the morphine habit, though it is said that he was at one time a prosperous citizen and a property-owner. Until the county board established the rock pile, his life at the jail was an easy one. He was always treated as a trusty, and was allowed to come and go almost at will, so that a sentence of imprisonment never interfered very seriously with his liberty nor with his opportunities to get "dope."

Daly was one of the prisoners who escaped not long ago from the rock pile, but he was quickly recaptured. Like Archie Ray, he has been a habitual inmate of the jail, and apaprently found the accommodations to his liking until the rock pile changed a life of ease to one of hard labor.

VOLUNTEERS SEND A NEW LEADER

Order has once more come out of chaos in the local corps of the Volunteers of America and in spite of the fact that the Captains Kilgore have left their post and Acting Lieutenant "Sir Ed" Beals has gone to work for a saloon-keeper, the work of the army continues in Portland. Capt. John Anderson, twice before stationed in this city, has been returned to command the corps and is holding nightly meetings on the streets in the North End for lack of a hall.

Capt. Anderson left Portland June 15 last for Oakland on account of the serious illness of his wife's mother. He took charge of the San Jose post until after the regimental council, which closed last Friday. The Kilgores were sent to this city to relieve Anderson.

Capt. Anderson will be assisted by Lieut. Peterson of St. Paul, and Lieut. and Mrs. E. C. Fields of Spokane.

"I will secure a hall just as soon as possible," said Anderson.

CIVIL SERVICE TESTS.

The civil service commission has arranged for another examination of applicants for positions on the police force October 31. Those intending to try for the service must file their applications at least 10 days before that date. Another feature of these examinations is the penalties imposed because of failure to come up to some of the physical requirements. If a man is penalized 25 per cent he must be perfect in his written examination to become eligible.

The chainmen in the city engineer's department will perform their "stunts" on next Saturday.

Soon following that examination will be the tests of the employes in the water department, the city auditor's office and then the miscellaneous, in which there are 70 or 80 people on the list.

Large Stock of Wines and Liquors.
The Full Measure House, 108 Sixth street, between Washington and Stark, has the largest and finest stock of wines and liquors in town. All the well known brands of whiskies and wines, both domestic and imported. Another thing very desirable is that you get a little more for your money here than anywhere else, and the quality is always the very best.

CHIEFLY PERSONAL

Mr. and Mrs. Charles A. Gray of Salem are visitors in the city.

L. B. Huston of Hillsboro is in Portland for a short stay.

G. W. Waterbury returned home today on the overland Southern Pacific from a short stay in Woodburn, Or.

Mrs. Robert A. Crichton of California is visiting in Portland at the home of her mother, Mrs. Emma E. Fishburn.

Eugene D. White left yesterday by the Northern Pacific for Vancouver, B. C., where he will embark by the Canadian Pacific steamer Tees for Port Simpson, B. C.

Mr. and Mrs. R. L. Duvall and Miss Anna Duvall left this morning for Salt Lake City, Utah, where Miss Duvall is to be married tomorrow evening to Mr. Edward White, of Ely, Nev.

Mrs. Iost Held left yesterday for a few days' outing at Sandy.

Dr. G. W. Tape is in the city from Hot Lake, Or.

George K. Burton left this morning for Gray's Harbor to remain until Thursday.

THEATRES

"BRING THE BABY."

Manager Russell announces in his advertisement of Cordray's theatre—"Yes, you can bring the baby." A great many mothers that cannot leave their young babies at home frequently have to remain away from places of amusement. Intelligent mothers never allow their babies to annoy other people. Although there were about 20 babies, all under 1 year of age, at the performance of "Over Niagara Falls" at Cordray's theatre last Sunday night, there was no disturbance from Baby Land, and the mothers thoroughly enjoyed the scenic play, "Over Niagara Falls." It will be the attraction during the entire week, including a Saturday matinee and a special matinee on Sunday.

THE PERRY LECTURES.

"The Making of Books" was the subject of Preston A. Perry's lecture at the Y. M. C. A. auditorium last night. Mr. Perry is in Portland under the auspices of the City Press club, and will speak tonight on "Homes and Haunts of American Authors." He will close his series in this city tomorrow night with "Authors I Have Known."

Mr. Perry is noted as a collector of volumes, and is considered one of the best versed men regarding books in the country. His address last night was very pleasing, and was listened to by an interested audience. Mr. Perry has a collection of rare books on exhibition at the Hotel Portland today.

NEW ARCADE OPENS.

It has come to pass that the name Edward Shields, coupled with a Portland attraction, is enough to fill any house, and when at 7:30 o'clock last night the doors of the new Arcade, at Seventh and Washington streets, were thrown open for the first time there was an immediate rush for seats. Vaudeville is the attraction. There were three performances, each of 60 minutes' duration, and at no time during the evening were there seats enough for all. The little theatre has a seating capacity of 500.

The performance opens with the polyscope. Francis Bryant follows, with some Irish monologue, singing and clever dialect. Raynor and Melbourn sing and dance well. The Taylor quartet, composed of three little boys, the oldest 14, and their wee sister Lena, sing exceptionally well. E. K. Taylor as a soloist captivated the house. Nellie Hillyer sings the illustrated songs. She has a good, clear voice, and her turn is as popular as ever. Traville and Landers, with shadowgraphs and crayon work, are very entertaining.

This is the first 10-cent theatre opened in Portland.

"SHERLOCK HOLMES."

"Sherlock Holmes," the dramatic success employed by Herbert Kelcey and Miss Effie Shannon for this season, is being presented on every continent of the globe. Two companies in England, one in South Africa, one doing the drama in India and the English settlements of China and the Panang peninsula. It has been translated into French and is now touring the interior departments of that republic. Germany and Denmark have not been overlooked, as it has been produced there with considerable success. This record for a drama has never been equaled, with the possible exception of "Uncle Tom's Cabin." It will be played at the Marquam Grand Oct. 22, 23 and 24.

"IN OLD KENTUCKY."

"In Old Kentucky" is a thoroughly enjoyable melodrama, and there is no denying the popularity which the production still enjoys in this, its 12th road season. The play opened at the Marquam last evening for a three-nights' engagement with Wednesday matinee.

"The Pickaninny Band" is the feature of the show. The cast is generally pleasing. Prices, $1 for all seats better than the last three rows on the first floor.

THE EMPIRE THEATRE.

Four holdovers and a small house characterized the opening night at the Empire. Henry Clive repeats his magic, Belle Williams her funny turn, and George Austin and a "super" continue to make business for the second-hand hat man. Lewis and Lewis change their turn to a scarecrow act. Among the new ones are Cross and Holden in a singing and dancing turn, and Lew Welles, eccentric monologist and saxaphone player. The Morrisseys do a clever act on the trapeze, but their talk is a little off color, and covered here and there with verdure. Marsh and Saratella sing and dance.

ROYAL ITALIAN BAND.

Channing's Royal Italian Marine band will give four performances at the Armory commencing next Friday night, with a Sunday matinee concert. Prices, 75 and 50 cents.

BAKER THEATRE.

Stock production of "The Lost Paradise." Good for the money. Prices, 15 to 50 cents.

Children will take Piso's Cure without objection, because its taste is pleasant. At druggists. 25c.

WHY?

Does this great reliable store offer thus early in the season such really wonderful bargains? BECAUSE they'll do the people more good now than later. We bought out stocks for a larger store—expected our new annex ready ere this. "Too much Johnson," alias merchandise for this size ship to hold. Some of the cargo must go by the board. Stand under and get your salvage. If you don't "get next" to this store this week you'll miss the bargain warmth—prices like these on standard goods can't last always. The word of the RELIABLE STORE for it. Better hurry—don't you think?
