

BRILLIANT BALL GAME

IN ONE OF THE BEST CONTESTS OF THE YEAR, PORTLAND DEFEATS THE FRISCO NINE

EDITED BY J. A. HORAN

PORTLAND WINS A BRILLIANT GAME

IN ONE OF THE BEST PLAYED GAMES OF THE SEASON, THE BROWNS BAT AT THE RIGHT TIME, AND CAPTURE AN EXCITING CONTEST.

Portland 2, San Francisco 1. Batteries, McFarlan and Anderson; Cutter and Zearfoss.

Yesterday's ball game between Portland and San Francisco was one of the most brilliant exhibitions ever played on the local grounds, and the 600 spectators left the park singing the praises of the Browns.

Francis played a good fielding game, but was away off in his batting, having several opportunities to clinch the game, but didn't rise to the occasion.

The all round work of both teams was gilt edge, only an error apiece creeping into the columns, and both were excusable.

McFarlan and Cutter were opposing twirlers and the latter, while having better control, was hit harder, but was extremely lucky.

Francis was a trifle wild and walked five men, some were walked, however, from the standpoint of "good headwork."

Second—Lynch was hit by pitcher and stole second while Delmas was striking out. Zearfoss fouled out to Freeman.

Cutter singled to center and Lynch tried to score, but the old reliable Van won the sphere to catcher Anderson and "Henney" was out a block.

Arthur Anderson fanned. Hollingsworth fouled out. McFarlan flew to Irwin.

Third—Shay hit to Hollingsworth and was out at first. Meaney and Irwin made themselves acquainted with Francis' throwing ability by hitting in his direction.

Van Buren went out when Cutter speared his drive through the box. Andy Anderson hit at second. Blake fanned. Freeman tore off another single. Blake drove a nice one to right, on which Anderson attempted to score, but was out by several yards, by a perfect throw from Meaney. Result, three hits and no runs.

Fourth—Krug hit for two bases. Pabst out advanced Heiney to third, from whence he attempted to score on Lynch's hit to Hollingsworth, but the little fellow returned the ball to the plate in plenty of time. Delmas flew to Van Buren.

Francis fouled out to Zearfoss. Arthur Anderson was out at first. Hollingsworth singled. McFarlan went out.

Fifth—Zearfoss hit to Hollingsworth for an out at first. Cutter singled. Shay walked. Cutter was retired a third on Meaney's hit to McFarlan. Irwin flew to Blake.

Van Buren failed to negotiate and Anderson flew to Krug. Nadeau and Freeman hit safely. Blake flew out to Meaney.

Sixth—Krug flew to Nadeau. Pabst took the Hollingsworth-Freeman route. Lynch walked. Delmas flew to Blake. Francis, Anderson and Hollingsworth were easy outs at first.

Seventh—Zearfoss flew out to Blake. Cutter walked. Shay flew to Nadeau. Meaney received a pass, but was forced at second by Irwin's chance to Hollingsworth.

Shay's error gave McFarlan life. Van Buren sacrificed. Andy Anderson singled and McFarlan beat Krug's throw of Nadeau's fly out. Anderson taking second. Freeman secured his fourth safe hit, which scored Anderson. "Buck" was retired trying to attain two bags on the spot.

Eighth—Krug put the wood to one of McFarlan's shoots and Van Buren pulled it down after one of the longest runs ever witnessed on the local diamond. The redoubtable Krug was almost knocked off his underpinning when informed by Mr. O'Connell that he was out. Pabst went out. Lynch secured another walk, but Delmas' out retired the side.

Blake flew to Delmas. Francis followed suit to Krug. Arthur Anderson hit to Irwin and was out.

MISS FAY BUTLER. Bright and pretty 6-year-old daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Ike Butler of this city. She is one of Portland's most reliable twirlers.

DIAMOND GLISTENINGS

Two to one. Van Buren, too. Andy was quite "nifty."

He is the Freeman whom the hits made dear.

The Journal's averages are always correct and eminently reliable.

The race between Frisco, Sacramento, Seattle and Portland is a pretty one.

The Browns will surely finish well up in the first division if they keep up their good work.

Buck Freeman swatted Cutter's delivery for four good clean-out singles, sending Anderson across the pan for the winning run with the last one.

Hollingsworth's work at short was one of the features of the game. The little rabbit accepted seven hard throwing chances, nailing his man at first each time by several feet.

Van Buren came near equalling Ike Butler's record, made Sunday, of retiring the side on three pitched balls.

Butler retired Townsend, Eagan and Sheehan with but three pitched balls in the sixth inning of the first Sunday game.

McFarlan retired Shay and Meaney on the first two balls, but Charlie Irwin took a strike before hitting to Francis.

Dave Zearfoss made his first appearance in Portland with a Coast league last yesterday. Dave has many admirers in this burg who watch his work with interest.

If some one had landed on Heiney Krug's scorch with a bat he could not have been more astonished than when he was informed that Van Buren had caught his long drive. Heiney says it was bare-faced robbery and is considering the advisability of having Van arrested.

Winnie Cutter wore a pair of Mike Fisher's pantalettes yesterday. Possibly that has something to do with the hoodoo that has pursued the former Sacramento twirler of late. Get a new pair of pants, Win.

Andy Anderson was there with the stick as usual. Andy is batting as well as the best of them and his swats are always timely. If Andy was a little faster on the sacks his work would shine brilliantly.

Francis' error gave McFarlan life. Van Buren sacrificed. Andy Anderson singled and McFarlan beat Krug's throw of Nadeau's fly out. Anderson taking second. Freeman secured his fourth safe hit, which scored Anderson. "Buck" was retired trying to attain two bags on the spot.

Eighth—Krug put the wood to one of McFarlan's shoots and Van Buren pulled it down after one of the longest runs ever witnessed on the local diamond. The redoubtable Krug was almost knocked off his underpinning when informed by Mr. O'Connell that he was out. Pabst went out. Lynch secured another walk, but Delmas' out retired the side.

FIGHTERS TO MEET FRIDAY EVENING

POSTPONED CONTEST BETWEEN RUFF TURNER AND JACK MCCLELLAND TO BE PULLED OFF AT TACOMA THEATRE—GREAT INTEREST IN THE COMING BOUT.

(Journal Special Service.) Tacoma, Oct. 21.—Ruff Turner, the Seattle colored fighter, and Jack McClelland of Pittsburg, will pull off their postponed fight at the Tacoma theatre Friday evening.

These two fast fighters were on the eve of stepping into the ring when the prosecuting attorney of King county instructed the sheriff and chief of police to prevent the match. This move was reported to be the result of a fight of several months' standing between the prosecuting attorney's office and the Clancy brothers, leaders of the Seattle gambling fraternity, who were interested financially in the success of the Turner-McClelland scrap.

In order to get as much benefit from their advertising as possible anyway and to still bring the men together the management transferred the match to this city, where there will be no intervention from political or any other reasons. A smaller house was first engaged, but the sale of seats has been so large that the Tacoma theatre, the largest opera house in the city, was secured yesterday. Special trains will be run from Seattle for the fight.

McClelland is training at the Tacoma Athletic club and did some pretty boxing yesterday afternoon before an audience of admiring spectators. Ruff Turner is better known in the Northwest and is receiving plenty of backing. Still there are many who want to see him whipped and believe that the Pittsburg boy will do it. McClelland will go East the day after the fight to meet Young Corbett at Philadelphia on November 2 for six rounds. His manager, James Mason, has posted a forfeit for McClelland to meet Young Corbett for a 20-round contest later. McClelland also wants to meet either Hanlon or Britt in San Francisco after his first match with Rothwell.

Tommy Reilly and Billy Harris, a sailor from the flagship New York and a sort of second Sharkey, will put up the preliminary.

FOOTBALL MANAGER DENIES CHARGES

(Journal Special Service.) Albany, Oct. 21.—An article from the Eugene correspondent of a Portland paper intimates that Albany college has resorted to very unsportsmanlike conduct in organizing the football team. It is alleged that three men are thought to be ineligible for positions in intercollegiate games on account of being paid. When interviewed today Manager Sternberg said: "Every man on the team is a bonafide student and is taking a regular course in college. President Wallace Howe Lee of the college will certify to the standing of every member."

President Lee was otherwise engaged and could not be interviewed regarding the matter. It is said by people who are posted that Eugene realizes the hopelessness of winning the Saturday contest and is seeking a pretext to explain a crushing defeat.

CELEBRATES BIRTHDAY. (Journal Special Service.) San Francisco, Oct. 21.—Eddie Hanlon, the conqueror of Benny Yanger, celebrated his 18th birthday anniversary last week. For a mere schoolboy, Hanlon is something of a fighter. However, Eddie has probably made his last fight as a featherweight. He really fought as a lightweight when he defeated Yanger, as the boys signed articles to weigh in at 130 pounds.

Although Hanlon made this weight, it was not without trouble, and they predict that his next battle will be fought at the lightweight limit. They are already figuring on a go between the "boy wonder" and Jimmy Britt.

Although Hanlon is considered a wonderfully hard puncher at the coast, Benny Yanger says that he cannot "punch a hole in a package of butter." He says that Hanlon is in a class by himself as a regular general, but when it comes to dealing he is not there with the goods.

Yanger says that when Hanlon knocked him down it was only a glancing blow, and that he was not dazed in the entire fight.

HART IS SOLE MANAGER. (Journal Special Service.) Chicago, Oct. 21.—Sig Hart, the sole manager of George and Mike Memic, offers to match either one against Charlie Neary. George is the boy who fought Young Corbett a draw in Portland, and Mike whipped Harry Cobb at Detroit, one of the crack eastern 128-pounders.

CHAMPION HAD ADVANTAGE. (Journal Special Service.) Philadelphia, Oct. 21.—Joe Gans showed up to advantage in his six-round contest with Eddie Kennedy of Pittsburg last night.

TERRY GETS DECISION. (Journal Special Service.) Boston, Oct. 21.—Terry McGovern got the decision over Jimmy Briggs of Chelsea last night in a terrific 16-round battle.

"MEXICAN PETE" WINS. (Journal Special Service.) Hobart, O. T., Oct. 21.—Pete Everett ("Mexican Pete") defeated Oliver Ostendorf here in a seven-round go. Everett has challenged Champion Jeffries.

SATURDAY'S FOOTBALL GAME TO BE EXCITING CONTEST

The first big football game of the season will be played on Multnomah athletic field Saturday afternoon between the Multnomah club and the Oregon Agricultural college eleven. The contest should be a splendid exhibition of football, as it is played by the biggest teams in the country. The Multnomah team under the careful coaching of Captain McMullen is rounding into good form and will give the Agrios a stiff game. Last night the Multnomah team met and went through a long and vigorous practice. The halfbacks were tried in the flying start around the end, as were also the tackles and quarterback. The forwards got into the interference in good shape, but the backs were a trifle slow. Cook at full, was unable to make the required position in these plays, not getting off on the jump. The masses in tackle were effectively tried and found to be working smoothly. The speed of the men was by far the best that has been displayed this season, and if the men start with the same jump on Saturday they will certainly have a big advantage over the visitors. The Oregon Agricultural team will play its full strength Saturday, and those acquainted with its prowess predict a swift game. Captain Pilkington will be in the game, and his presence will greatly strengthen his cohorts. The splendid showing made last Saturday by the Agrios against the University of Washington eleven, considering that for 100 yards (0.09%), may retire from the cinder path at the end of the present season.

ALBANIANS WORKING HARD FOR CONTEST

VARSITY BOYS EXPECT A ROUGH GAME ON SATURDAY WITH THE STATE UNIVERSITY ELEVEN AND PREPARE ACCORDINGLY—BOTH TEAMS IN FINE SHAPE.

(Journal Special Service.) Albany, Oct. 21.—The Albany college football team has practiced hard during the past few days and will be in fine form for the game at Eugene on Saturday with the U. of O. The team will leave on Friday noon train and about 200 enthusiasts will charter a special on Saturday. New suits have been purchased and the team will present a neat appearance.

The outcome of the game is mere speculation, as the collegians have not had a game this year. The varsity laid out and defeated the alumni team, an aggregation of such players as Dr. Templeton, Angell, Waddell and others equally as strong. This gives color to the report that "Locomotive" Smith has a hard combination to go up against. Smith has had plenty of experience in the football world and knows his business. With the collegians all is different. They lacked funds to secure a first-class coach and rather than employ a mediocre man they are working out the checker-board problem themselves. Coates, who has a Northwest reputation on the track and gridiron, is captain and is the nominal instructor. He is assisted by Rupert and Englehart, both good players, yet without the experience of coaching. The Albany college team occupies this very unique position. It is the only team perhaps on the coast without a regularly paid coach, and yet the players and football "cranks" believe that it has a chance of winning the Northwest championship. It may be a dream, yet it is very pleasant while it lasts.

The next important game will be with the O. A. C. in Albany, on October 31. Coach McPadden of that team has admitted that the chances favor Albany and Corvallis people who have witnessed the local team at practice concede that there is no comparison between the two teams. A game will be arranged with Multnomah late in the season and if luck is with the college boys the club-men will face a formidable aggregation.

LONG AFTER YANZER. (Journal Special Service.) Seattle, Oct. 21.—Louis Long, the San Francisco featherweight, who recently boxed Aurelio Herrera, of Bakersfield, Cal., a draw, has received an offer to box Benny Yanger, the "Tipton Blaster," 20 rounds before a Salt Lake City club the second week in November.

MATCHED FOR TWENTY ROUNDS. (Journal Special Service.) Los Angeles, Oct. 21.—Tommy Jacobs of Salt Lake and "Kid" Solomon have been matched to box 20 rounds here within the next two weeks.

FOOTBALL GOSSIP OF SISTER STATE

UNIVERSITY ELEVEN TENDERED A RECEPTION ON RETURN FROM SUCCESSFUL TRIP—WHITMAN TO PLAY VARSITY AT SEATTLE ON SATURDAY—OTHER NEWS.

(Journal Special Service.) Tacoma, Oct. 21.—The return of the University of Puget sound football team from its victorious tour of Eastern Washington and Idaho was the occasion of an ovation given them at the chapel service in the university yesterday. The school, both faculty and student body, are enthusiastic over the eleven's success and are prophesying great things of the team and the Northwest intercollegiate championship.

The university has played but three games this season, defeating the Centralia high school, playing a 9 to 0 game with the Washington Agricultural college at Pullman, considered one of the strongest college teams of the Northwest, and defeating the University of Idaho at Moscow by a score of 11 to 0. The line is heavy, and the backs strong and fast. Under Coach Rader's direction a wonderfully effective team work has been developed and the eleven is a formidable antagonist for any of the Northwestern colleges.

Whitman college plays against the University of Washington in Seattle Saturday and unless some of the Eastern Washington men are laid out in the game they will stop in Tacoma on their return home and play the University of Puget sound on Monday. The University of Washington plays here next month and this will be the decisive game as far as the University of Puget sound is concerned.

The Tacoma high school has also had unusual success this season and has started its series of games with a better showing than any high school team in several years past. As both the university and the high school teams have been playing the same coach, the college speaks well for Rader's style of work and the men of both teams have unbounded faith in him. The high school team, which has a game scheduled with the Portland high school, is light, weighing but 140 pounds on the average, but they are fast, too, and last Saturday defeated a much heavier eleven by the overwhelming score of 23 to 0. The Puget sound navy yard team was the opposition and the sailors had no show with the Washington team.

Whitworth college also has a fast little team this year. Coach Dignap, an Iowa Wesleyan, men having taken the team in charge. The schedule as arranged to date includes a game on October 24 with the "People's" university of Olympia, the Olympia high school on October 31, Vashon college on November 7 and Centralia high school on November 14.

LONG AFTER YANZER. (Journal Special Service.) Seattle, Oct. 21.—Louis Long, the San Francisco featherweight, who recently boxed Aurelio Herrera, of Bakersfield, Cal., a draw, has received an offer to box Benny Yanger, the "Tipton Blaster," 20 rounds before a Salt Lake City club the second week in November.

MATCHED FOR TWENTY ROUNDS. (Journal Special Service.) Los Angeles, Oct. 21.—Tommy Jacobs of Salt Lake and "Kid" Solomon have been matched to box 20 rounds here within the next two weeks.

EDWIN FARNHAM. Popular and hard-working Captain of Columbia University Football Eleven.

"SIG" HART WANTED HIS POUND OF FLESH

(Journal Special Service.) Detroit, Mich., Oct. 21.—Harvey Cobb of Niagara Falls, who recently defeated Mike Memic of Chicago, was required by articles to weigh in at 128 pounds at 6 o'clock in the afternoon. Cobb weighed 128 pounds—he was one pound overweight.

It was then that Shylock, in the person of "Banty" Hart, strutted up to the manager of Cobb and said: "I claim the forfeit; it is so nominated in the bond. The manager of Cobb started as if stung, and then, turning to a big colored man at his elbow, said: "Give him his pound of flesh."

The big colored man seized Cobb and before the crowd knew what had happened he had tossed the naked form of the pugilist on a table and had begun a massaging that was simply fierce. He kneaded him and pounded him, he bounced him up and down. He had a half hour to get that pound of flesh off Cobb, for it was not nominated in the bond whether the weighing in should be by standard or city time.

In the course of 15 minutes, while the perspiration was rolling off the pugilist, the big colored man again seized him and put him on the scales. He was still a few ounces overweight. Then the fingers and ears of Cobb were cleaned, which helped some, and he was again weighed. He was very near the mark, but as Shylock Hart demanded every ounce of his pound of flesh Cobb was taken back to the table, and another attempt was made to take off the flesh.

Shylock Hart in the meantime was strutting about, and everybody looked at him admiringly. He was an up-to-date Shylock, and unlike the fellow of the "Merchant of Venice," he had enforced his claim. It was an inspiring scene.

When Cobb was weighed for the last time it was seen that he was heavier than Memic by a thin undershirt and one sock.
