

CROSSING THE BAR AT COQUILLE RIVER'S MOUTH

The picture of the schooner Onward entering the Coquille river in tow of the tug Triumph. It was taken December 15, 1902. The vessels are on the crest of the bar, and provide a fair illustration of the difficulty which is experienced in crossing rough bars.

Even when a bar has an average depth of 30 feet for instance, and a freight carrier is only loaded down to 23 feet, there is still great danger of her bumping on the bottom and springing a leak if the breakers are high. The water surging to and fro leaves shoal places, where the vessel is likely to strike.

NEW YORK GOSSIP ON MANY THEMES

BIG METROPOLIS QUICKLY RECOVERS FROM STRIKE OF ELECTION AND TAKES UP EVERY-DAY MATTERS—HORSE SHOW OPENS MONDAY.

Questions of Interest to People of the Country Discussed Briefly in Weekly Letter to the Editor—Political, Social, Industrial and Educational Matters—Bad Year Announced for Football—Market Investments Profitable.

Journal Special Service.
New York, Nov. 7.—It is remarkable how quickly New Yorkers recover from great celebrations. Although the municipal election has been settled only four days there is almost no sign whatever of the strenuous campaign held here this fall. Even the banners of the Fusionists and Tammanyites which could be seen in every part of the city have been torn down and the advertisements on the billboards and trolley cars has disappeared to be replaced by the publicity of other forms of business. Indeed much of this was done on Wednesday. The "I told you so's" have also ceased prating, and everything and everybody have settled down to a busy winter.

Horse Show Monday.
The horse show opens Monday and it promises to be the most interesting exhibition ever held in Madison Square garden. The dog show under the direction of the Kennel Association of America, which precedes it this week has also been a great success and many valuable rainies from all over the United States were brought here to be placed on exhibit. Next to the horse show the dog show attracts more fashionables than any other public exhibition of the season.

To Reclaim Marsh Lands.
The board of health has decided to spend many thousands of dollars in reclaiming marsh lands. The work to be undertaken is of a character that no other city has yet taken in hand and as an initial step the marsh lands of Staten Island will be reclaimed. Other marshes are to be drained after the work on Staten Island is completed and great progress is expected toward the entire abolition of the mosquito and malaria.

Collection of Bibles.
It is not generally known that New York, among very many valuable art treasures possesses the largest collection of Latin Bibles in the world. This collection belongs to the General Theological Seminary of the Protestant Episcopal church and was completed at great effort and expense by the late Dean Hoffman. There are now in the Bible room at the seminary 1,206 different editions of the Bible, in 2,396 volumes. Of these 555 editions are in Latin, in 1,055 volumes. The remainder includes 59 editions in English, about 100 in Hebrew and other languages, 33 in polyglot or in more than one language, 202 of the new testament, mostly in Greek and 96 of the Hexapla, Codices, etc.

Seek New York as Home.
Ex-Speaker of the House of Representatives David B. Henderson is the third man who held that exalted position to make his home in New York. The first of the trio was John G. Carlisle. Mr. Carlisle has been not only speaker of the house and a senator from Kentucky, but also a most astute and successful secretary of the treasury. The late Thomas B. Reed was the second and although a comparatively poor man when he came to live in New York, where he had practiced at the bar three or four years, when he died he left an estate valued at $350,000. Ex-Speaker Henderson's career will doubtless equal that of his two distinguished predecessors. He is not only an eloquent orator of the impassioned order, but he is a sound lawyer and ripe scholar. He enjoys the unique distinction of having had a statue of himself erected and dedicated during his lifetime. It was unveiled in Iowa only recently.

The Price of Pie.
The mournful news that there is to be an increase in the price of pie has spread consternation in certain quarters. The pie factories, the only source of non-spiritous quick lunch pies in the city, have been forced to increase wages. The brand, therefore, which has hitherto been purchased for five cents will now cost six cents, and mid-day lunches will approach in consequence the munificent sum of 11 cents.

Milk Is Pure.
There is a notable absence nowadays of impure and low grade milk in the immense quantity of lactical fluid that is consumed here. Never before probably in the history of the city has the system of inspecting and supervising the milk been so thorough as it is today. Every discovery in the science of sanitation has been taken advantage of, the number of inspectors is being increased as swiftly as possible and the board of health is beginning gradually to get the sale of milk under its control.

Musical Season Begins.
The musical season has begun and it is more apparent than ever that Gotham has a plethora of talented foreign artists who have been attracted to these shores to display their genius and gather in our dollars. A violinist who has received a great deal of favor and aroused more furore than Jan Kubelik did a few seasons ago is Jacques Thibaud, the Frenchman, who made his debut at Carnegie hall a few evenings ago. Thibaud is the possessor of a most charming and magnetic personality and his playing reminds one, at once of the great Belgian, Ysaye. He will make a tour of the large American and Canadian cities.

Ice on the Walls.
In order to avert a recurrence of last winter's storm troubles on the elevated railroad, the officials of the Interborough Rapid Transit company have equipped the electric motor cars of the Manhattan system with an invention for freeing the contact rails of ice and snow. The apparatus is the same as that which has been tried with success in Chicago for three seasons past. It consists of a number of steel blades, which may be pressed down with whatever force is necessary to clear the electrically charged contact rail, commonly known as the third rail. It is because of an accumulation of snow or sleet upon this rail that trains are blocked in the winter storms. The blades scrape off the accumulation without difficulty.

Dr. Hanson Leaves.
Dr. Hanson, who has become famous as pastor of the Hanson Place Baptist church in Brooklyn and who goes next week to Boston's Tremont temple, will be greatly missed here, where he has made his work felt. Visitors to the city have flocked to hear him and he has aroused much in demand for his ministrations in Philadelphia and Chicago, where he was pastor before coming here. Tremont temple is regarded as one of the greatest preaching places in America. It has had a long list of eminent men as its pastors and has an extensive and valuable property and large membership.

Football Outlook.
Not in many years has the football outlook been so doubtful as this season. The scrub games of last year have evidently left no eggs to be counted in this year's nests and to compare the scrub results of two years is simply whistling snow opportunities for profitable investment seem that there was a tremendous amount of work to be done before Thanksgiving and even at that it seems to be a case of the best team of a bad year, rather than what is generally understood as the "best" team.

Theatrical Complaints.
Complaints, too, are being heard from theatrical managers. They claim that the bright prospects of the early season are not being materialized. Many of the new theatres and old ones, too, have rows and rows of vacant seats these nights and it would seem that the supply is exceeding the demand for once.

Investments Good.
Bond dealers, the nature of whose business makes them almost pre-eminently the best judges of market conditions are unanimous in the expression of the opinion that rarely have there been such opportunities for profitable investment as those which are now offered. The best of these properties are being gradually absorbed and the market supplies are therefore diminishing. Indeed the tone of the market is considerably improved.

LESLIE FINDS HIS WITNESSES

"Jerry" Leslie, accused as one of the murderers of Max Calof, on the night of June 22, Thursday found witnesses near Troutdale by whom he hopes to establish an alibi.
Leslie says that on the morning of June 23, he commenced work with a railroad crew, and yesterday men were found who readily verified his statement. He also says that June 22 he asked for work and food at various places near Troutdale. When he appeared at these places yesterday, the people remembered him and offered to testify in his behalf.
Leslie's case is set for Monday, November 9, in the circuit court.

HEPPNER VICTIMS ARE BURIED HERE

A ghastly reminder of the terrible Heppner flood, June 14, was given Wednesday at Riverview cemetery, when the bodies of Mrs. Isoria M. Hynd and her two children, Lucille J. Hynd, aged 8, and James Gilbert Hynd, one year old, were laid to rest. The mother and her little ones were among those who went to their deaths in the terrible cloudburst which almost wiped Heppner from the earth and resulted in many deaths. The bodies were temporarily interred at Heppner but were brought here this week and laid to their final rest in the graveyard overlooking the Willamette.

INDIANS WILL GET A FAIR HEARING

Washington, Nov. 7.—Advices from the Pine River agency this morning say that all is quiet. Attorney General Knox has instructed the United States district attorney of Wyoming so that the Indians will have a fair trial.

CARRIE NATION, ACTRESS.

(Journal Special Service.)
New York, Nov. 7.—Over in Jersey, in the little town of Perth Amboy, Carrie Nation and her hatchet are to make their stage debut tonight. The time-honored "Ten Nights in a Barroom" has been chosen as the vehicle which is to carry Carrie to fame and fortune and incidentally give aid to the cause of temperance. No outsiders have been allowed to see Mrs. Nation in her rehearsals; but the active press agent is authority for the statement that worse players have been seen on the stage. The piece is to be staged with effective realism and the climax will be reached when the crusader from Kansas does her smashing act with a real hatchet, and real glass.

HONOR AUSTRIAN LIBERATOR.

(Journal Special Service.)
New York, Nov. 7.—At Liederkranz Hall tonight a notable banquet is to be given in honor of Dr. Hans Kudlich, who took a prominent part in the Austrian revolution of 1848, and is known as the liberator of the Austrian peasants. The affair is in celebration of the 50th birthday of Dr. Kudlich. A number of persons of prominence have signified their intention to be present and among the speakers will be Carl Schurz and Dr. A. Jacob.

SKILL BEYOND COMPARE PRAYS RELIEF FROM DETECTIVES

A Marvelous Woman Does Marvelous Things Gradually for the Happiness of Her Own and the Opposite Sex.

From the Goodness of Her Heart She Gives Free to the World Knowledge Acquired by Patient Study and Research.
For years she was a faithful student of such eminent dermatologists as Dr. Hebra, Dr. Schmitt, Dr. Casenave, Dr. Monin, Dr. de Waterville, Dr. Vigien, Dr. Hardy and Dr. Augagneur.
Today Madame Holmes, owner of the Oriental Beauty Parlors, 233 Morrison street, near Park, is giving free to her friends and callers the wealth of knowledge she acquired while for years a faithful pupil of these celebrated men. During her long period of study she was a hard-working and remarkable woman who so indefatigably industrious that her most intimate friends were denied the pleasure of her society, and by them she was denominated a confirmed recluse. But this latter judgment was an error. It is true that she secluded herself for a time from the world, almost, but when she became furnished with the wisdom she so earnestly desired the bright young woman emerged from seclusion and society's arms were open to receive her. She had paid the price and possessed a treasure. She was herself every whit as proficient as were her teachers, and from that moment to the end of her existence was entitled to a place of honor and prominence in the scientific and professional world. This was the height of her young ambition. It had been achieved. She was proud and she was happy. She thereupon entered upon a career of usefulness, which has not been tarnished from then till now.

Arriving in Portland several years ago, this lady first became known to the patrons of Olds, Wolfman & King. In that large store she gave daily demonstrations of her ability to beautify the face and remove blemishes of various kinds. In plain view of every spectator she gave the most convincing evidence that it was not necessary to grow old and ugly. Wrinkles that had defaced beautiful countenances for years were speedily removed, skin eruptions were cured, small-pox pittings effaced, superfluous hair destroyed, moles were banished, and all other hateful disfigurements were speedily dispelled. This work brought the madame into immediate touch with most of the exalted set, and the fruits of that early acquaintance are ripening still.

And now a new departure has been adopted by this skilled woman. With her accustomed generosity she said to the writer:
"You may tell the public that I am going to give free lessons on the treatment of the face, and if any reader desires to know the secret of perfectly caring for her or his countenance the knowledge may be acquired without a cent of expenditure on the caller's part. It will only be necessary to visit these parlors the requisite number of times, say half a dozen or so, and with the instructions I shall freely give, all my 'dress' their own faces—keep them pictures of youthfulness—at comparatively no expense at all. I will also present each caller with a sample of my wonderful complexion cream, a preparation that is used by the wealth and beauty of America, and the distinguished aristocracy beyond the seas. I am determined that all shall know the value of my skill and the beautifying goods I sell, and to impart this knowledge I will cheerfully make the sacrifices I have named."

Madame Holmes is well known in Portland. She is a woman of distinguished bearing and of evident culture, and the work she is doing here has justly won for her most valuable renown.
She does her work so perfectly that her clientele is multiplying every day.

MRS. NANNIE N. STARR HAS FILED PETITION IN SPOKANE COURT ASKING TO BE FREED FROM HUSBAND'S SPIES AND ALLOWED ALIMONY PENDING DIVORCE.

John Logan, counsel for Mrs. Nannie N. Starr, has filed in the superior court of Spokane a petition for temporary alimony, in which he alleges that Starr has removed to Spokane for the purpose of obtaining a divorce, and dependent upon her own exertions to secure support, that she is employed at a salary of $20 a month, irregularly earned, and that he is possessed of evidences of loans he has made to the sum of $10,000 and of other property amounting to $20,000; that she is ill, and that a judgment rests against him in the circuit court here in Portland, and which Judge Cleland ordered him to pay towards her support $25 a month. The petition prays that the judgment be paid before he be permitted to proceed with the divorce case he has filed. The petition of Attorney Logan also sets forth that Starr has kept Thiel's detective agency employed for a year past to harass her with distasteful espionage, and that only by the intervention of the court may she obtain the relief to which she is entitled.

Detective Agency Watched.
The Thiel agency admitted, so says Mr. Logan, that it had been employed to carry on the espionage, and that they found nothing that reflected upon the defendant's personal character.

Under a statute, not commonly reported to, Mrs. Starr's attorney brought suit to compel Starr to contribute towards her support. Judge Cleland rendering judgment in her favor, the order standing now against him, with accumulations of $650 not paid. Suit was brought by her also to enforce the support order in the court here and levy was made on the home property to satisfy it. The property, a modest home, was secured in Mrs. Starr's name, as the result of these proceedings, although it still remains partly in his possession, since she is his wife and cannot sell it. Starr once brought suit against his wife in the Oregon City court for a divorce, the case being transferred to the court here. It elicited an order from Judge Cleland that he pay $100 attorney's fees, which she was liable for, rather than pay the $100, he dismissed the suit.

Judgment in Montana.
Another suit was filed against him in Anaconda, Mont., to compel payment of the amount ordered by the Montana circuit court—$35 a month—and now rests against him.
Still another suit was brought against him here to set aside his transfer of property to another person, the court here ruling that the transfer was fraudulent, and for the purpose of defrauding his wife. On appeal the supreme court affirmed the decision.
A discrepancy appears in the voluminous court records, in the fact that Starr swore before Judge Cleland that he was possessed of only about $1 of property, and the filing in Spokane an affidavit that he owned $15,000 worth of property in Multnomah county, and that therefore it was not competent for him to be attached in Spokane.

Mrs. Starr Settles.
When seen today, Mrs. Starr replied to questions as follows:
"My friends know that I have been unjustly dealt with, and the great big world probably does not care much about my troubles that do not concern them."
Mrs. Starr is employed as cashier in the Merrill cycle repair shop.
