OREGON CITY

PATHETIC SCENE IN OREGON CITY COURT

(Journal Special Service.) Oregon City, Nov. 21.—"We, the jury, find Robert Gardner guilty of mayhem."

Gardner received the sentence without such as the quiver of an eyelid. The sentence is regarded as a just one by all who know Gardner, and his record for crime in the past and his incarceration in the penitentiary will be a relief to the people of this city.

His Aged Mother. A pathetic feature of the trial was the presence in the courtroom of Gardner's aged mother, who remained by his side during the whole of the trial.

Gardner is a little above 30 years of age, but his criminal record extends over a period of several years.

The crime for which Gardner was sentenced was committed on the 4th day of the present month. In company with Indian Joe, better known as Susap, he went to the latter's house.

At a mass meeting at Mackburg it was decided to extend the mutual telephone line from that place to Canby and Aurora.

A "Hard Times Dance" will be given this evening at the Auditorium under the auspices of the Vancouver Barracks Social Club.

Messrs. Crawford, Marshall & Co. have brought suit in the superior court against Charles McFarlan and wife on an account amounting to $354.82 with interest from December 1, 1900.

Captain R. O. Van Horn, Seventeenth Infantry, leaves for San Francisco next Wednesday for San Francisco, at which place he will embark for the Philippines.

Messrs. Garner and Clotcheon of Yacolt are in Vancouver on important business.

Winlow Taylor, the young man who was so seriously hurt in Roper's sawmill, is reported to be making satisfactory recovery.

Mrs. M. A. Flaherty is acting as Vancouver representative of the Franco-American Hygienic company of Chicago.

At the Presbyterian church Rev. O. S. Barnum, pastor, morning services will be at 10:30, Sunday school at 11:45, Christian Endeavor at 6:30 p. m., and evening services at 7:30.

The Post Choral society will assist in the singing during the evening services.

At St. Luke's Episcopal church, Eighth and East C streets, there will be the usual services at 9 and 11 a. m. and 7:30 p. m.

At the Baptist church tomorrow, Bible school will meet at 10 o'clock; at 11 o'clock Pastor R. Yatemian will speak on the topic, "What Jesus Says About Taking Up the Cross."

At the Christian church Bible school at 10 a. m. Preaching by the pastor, A. D. Skaggs, 11 o'clock, theme, "Walking in the Spirit." Endeavor meeting at 6:30 p. m. and preaching at 7:30, theme, "The Soldier of the Cross."

At the Methodist Episcopal Bible school at 9:45; preaching services at 11 a. m.; junior league at 3 o'clock p. m.; Epworth League at 6:15, subject "Thanksgiving for Personal Mercies." Mr. Burrill leader. Preaching at 7:30 p. m., subject, "Thanksgiving and Thanksgiving." Teacher's meeting Tuesday night, Ladies' Aid society Wednesday evening at the parsonage; prayer meeting Thursday night.

Miss Edna Caulfield was tendered a party in honor of her 19th birthday Thursday evening. The evening was spent in dancing and playing whist, and a most enjoyable evening was spent.

VANCOUVER

OREGON LUMBER CO. CLAIMS SOME RIGHTS

(Journal Special Service.) Vancouver, Wash., Nov. 21.—The case of the Oregon Round Lumber company and Hosford Brothers against Herman F. Gerspah has been occupying the attention of the superior court for the last three days.

There are six sawmills along the Lewis river, and the Oregon Round Lumber company and Hosford Brothers were organized for the purpose of conducting and maintaining a boom to boom, catch and transport all ties and other timber coming down the Lewis river. In order to maintain this boom and successfully operate the same the company leased, it is claimed, certain property at the mouth of Lewis river, H. F. Gerspah, at the time, acting as agent for the company. Later, the company claims that Gerspah left the employ of the company and before the termination of the lease renewed the lease in his own name.

The parties making the lease, it is alleged, thought they were leasing to the same company and that Gerspah was still acting as agent, when, in fact, he was intending to run in opposition to the company.

Ladies' Guild Entertain. The Ladies Guild of the Episcopal church of this city will entertain their friends at Eichenlaub's hall on the evening of December 1, in a novel and unique manner.

The high school basketball team played against the team of company G. N. G. W. last night at the armory, the score standing 20 to 10 in favor of the high school.

A dispute arose between the Lovelace boys and the Gay boys yesterday resulting in the apprehension of the latter. The Peace Sparks, plead guilty and were fined $15 and costs.

SALEM

WILL TRY AND SAVE PLEAS ARMSTRONG

(Journal Special Service.) Salem, Or., Nov. 21.—Under an opinion rendered by Attorney-General Crawford Pleasant Armstrong, the Baker county murderer, will be hanged at all. The question as to whether Armstrong's case came under the purview of the new law, which provides for executions to be held in the penitentiary, was raised and Mr. Crawford, in answer to a request for an opinion on the matter, preferred by Judge Edkin, says that, as Armstrong was sentenced on March 21, 1903, and the new act did not become effective until May 22, 1903, he must be executed under the old law, as the warrant for his execution was not annulled by an appeal to the supreme court, but merely suspended until the court decided the appeal, and that the mandate of the supreme court affirming the judgment, on being handed down would be acted upon by the fixing of a new date and the execution, as though no appeal had been taken.

There is a possibility of Armstrong's attorneys taking up the matter, instituting habeas corpus proceedings and secure the defendant's freedom, even if compelled to carry the case into the federal courts, on the ground that the law under which he was originally sentenced had been repealed while the new law does not apply to his case. Defendant's attorneys hope to secure Armstrong's release by this procedure.

Dr. Parsons Returns. Rev. John Parsons, D. D., formerly pastor of the First M. E. church and who was recently appointed to the superintendency of the Methodist missions in Alaska, returned yesterday from Ketchikan City, where he attended the sessions of the international committee on missions of the Methodist church, of which he has long been an active member.

Emil Kirchgessner yesterday filed a divorce suit against Lillie Kirchgessner, in the circuit court. The couple were wedded in Lemars, Iowa, December 29, 1892, and the plaintiff alleges that October 5, 1902, his wife deserted him at Medford, Or., and has since refused to live with him.

The Young Men's Republican club met last night and perfected a campaign organization to take part in the ensuing contest for mayor and councilmen.

A committee on constitution and platform was also named, consisting of J. W. Reynolds, J. C. Goodale, Jr., and Charles Elgin. The executive committee was called to meet next Monday evening and the club adjourned to meet Friday evening, when a poll of the city will be completed by the committee.

J. T. Whistler reports there will be no more government surveys in Eastern Oregon this winter, the weather being already too severe to permit the carrying on of the work.

"I dare say the cost of living has been greatly reduced in 500 years."

"Oh, yes; in the nineteenth century, the ancient records tell us, a simple operation for appendicitis cost $200."

"These are the most wonderful springs in the world, I believe," Mr. MacPherson remarked. "There are 50 of them scattered around the rim of a large basin, and the curative properties of their waters seem to cover the entire catalogue of human afflictions. The waters of one spring is adapted to the cure of the disease, that of another some other affliction, and as a result all sorts of sicknesses are cured. And they are cured, too, it is quite comical, indeed, to see the patients, some as early as 6 o'clock in the morning, get out with their arms in hand, each one destined for his or her favorite or appropriate spring. Once in a while one will run the gamut of the entire lot, and by the time he has made the rounds his hide is as full of the elixir of life as an egg is full of meat."

"In cases of rheumatism and blood diseases these waters are simply wonderful. I believe Mr. Hellen is safe in offering to contract for the cure of these disorders or pay the penalty of treating the patient free—according to him from board, medical attention and refunding all money paid for railroad fares, etc. And there is not a case of catarrh on the face of the earth that can withstand the course of treatment that is given at Tuscan Springs. In fact one may send to Mr. Hellen for the salts prepared at the springs and cure himself at home. I have some bottles I brought home with me. They cost 50 cents each, and I firmly believe that one or two of them will permanently cure any ordinary case of catarrh that afflicts the human race. It is a great remedy for this disease."

"It is a charming ride from the railroad to the springs, and as a health resort they have probably no equals in America. I saw a paralytic while I was there who had been at the Arkansas Hot Springs without beneficial results. He came to Tuscan and within 10 days was able to walk with a cane, and was one of the happiest mortals I ever saw. He has since been entirely restored. This, however, came to be a common thing while I was there. It is no rarity at all, so I was told. Indeed I believe that no one can abide at Tuscan long and still be sick. Disease and these waters do not go together."

Mr. MacPherson says that the accommodations are first-class, and that there is no doubt but that Mr. Hellen's company will derive a profit from its investment. Mr. Hellen's company is a general and attentive to his guests that the popularity of the place cannot otherwise than increase so fast as it becomes known.

DRIFTING AT MERCY OF THE TEMPEST

(Journal Special Service.) Astoria, Or., Nov. 21.—After being at the mercy of a veritable hurricane for three days and three nights, the little two-masted gasoline schooner Della was towed into port yesterday by the tug Tootoosh. The Della left out Monday noon for Neahucca with a cargo of general merchandise, but returned without having reached her destination. Instead, the vessel was tossed about the ocean, helpless and drifting, engine inactive and sails useless. The crew of three men recall their harrowing experience with a shudder, for every moment spent upon the tempestuous sea was a nightmare to them, and when rescued they were ready to drop from sheer exhaustion.

Everything went well with the Della until Tuesday forenoon when she attempted to enter the Neahucca river. Then a gale, blowing from the east, struck her full force, and the little vessel, helpless against the fearful wind, was whirled 70 miles out to sea. The freight on deck that was not lashed firmly was lost, together with all the drinking-water on board.

Crased With Thirst. Thereafter the men, crazed with thirst and loss of sleep, labored with the tiny craft trying to make headway in the face of elements that seemed to combine to deal them destruction. The engine was in every way inadequate for the service demanded of it and it was not until late on Wednesday that the wind changed so that the sails could be hoisted, and the little craft was spread and the Della managed to head north.

Thursday morning at 2 o'clock the vessel attained a point off the mouth of the Columbia river, after having lost part of her canvas. To enter the river was impossible, so the anchor was cast, and there the Della strained and tugged until yesterday morning when the tug Tootoosh hove in sight and took her in tow. How the small cable ever held the vessel in its position off the bar for so long a time is a mystery, and as one of the crew put it, "God held the anchor, for the rope couldn't have done it."

A box of oranges was on the vessel, and with these the men managed to allay thirst until rescued.

The Ocean Spray is a total wreck. Eugene, Or., Nov. 21.—Word reached this morning that the schooner Ocean Spray, which went ashore inside the bar at the mouth of the Siuslaw river Wednesday, is a total wreck. It was expected to float the vessel, but the bay became so rough that the vessel was abandoned. All freight was taken ashore in lighters, but was badly damaged and is nearly a total loss. Florence merchants lost over $3,000. The captain sold the wrecked vessel for $150. The rigging will be torn off and the hull left on the sands.

David Rice Dead. David E. Rice, a well-known liquor dealer of Eugene died last evening from dropsy after a long illness. He was 59 years old, and was single. He leaves a father, mother and brother in Kansas and a sister in the state of Washington. He was a civil-war sea soldier, having served in an Illinois regiment.

FRANK HELLEN ALL RIGHT

His Friends Are Invited to Enjoy With Him a Taste of One of America's Most Glorious Winter Climates.

Frank Hellen, formerly of this city, but now manager of the Tuscan Mineral Springs, nine miles northeast of Red Bluff, Cal., invites all Portland friends desirous of exchanging a section of this winter for a section of eternal sunshine to visit him at his delightful resort and spend a season of joy where health-giving waters ever bubble from the generous earth. P. A. MacPherson, who, with his family, spent a couple of weeks at Tuscan Springs, says that the invitation is as cordial as human lips speak it, and that Mr. Hellen is well prepared to care for all who may call upon him.

PRESIDENT ELLIOTT HERE ON SUNDAY

(Journal Special Service.) Portland, Nov. 21.—President Elliott and his party will arrive in Portland Sunday afternoon at 5 o'clock from Vancouver on a special trolley train.

The local office of the Northern Pacific received word from Asst. Gen. Pass, Asst. A. D. Charlton concerning the itinerary of the party, which left Seattle this morning and is today visiting Grants Pass, E. C., and Intermediate territory. The telegram from Mr. Charlton stated that Mr. Elliott would be pleased to meet local business men informally at the Portland hotel Sunday evening, and that the president and party would probably leave Portland Monday morning.

The following constitute the president's party: Pres. Howard Elliott, Gen. Mgr. Cooper, Second Vice-Prest. J. M. Hannaford, Gen. Supt. F. W. Gilbert, Controller H. A. Gray, Land Commissioner W. H. Phipps, Commissioner of Real Estate G. S. Fernald, Chief Eng. E. J. Pearson, Geologist L. S. Storrs, general manager Northwest Improvement company, H. J. Horn, Supt. of Motive Power, A. E. Mitchell, Secretary to Pres. E. N. Easton, E. H. Ford, chief clerk to Vice-President Hannaford; M. H. Dugan, chief clerk to General Manager Cooper; W. Ray, chief clerk to Superintendent Gilbert; G. W. McDougall, chief clerk to Engineer Pearson.

REPORTS PROGRESS OF ST. LOUIS FAIR

(Journal Special Service.) Washington, Nov. 21.—President Carter of the Louisiana Purchase exposition has submitted his report to President Roosevelt showing the progress as a result of the expenditure of $15,000,000, contributed equally by the United States government, the exposition company and the city of St. Louis.

The report shows everything exceptionally favorable. The total amount up to date of the foreign display is $7,000,000, being $1,250,000 more than the entire foreign display at the Chicago fair. The United States government display will be the largest ever made by any government. The Philippine exhibit will be exceptionally fine.

SPECIALISTS FOR MEN

STRICTLY RELIABLE

Dr. Talcott & Co.

"Weakness" Affections of men, commonly described as "weakness," according to our observations, are not such, but depend upon reflex disturbances and are almost invariably induced or maintained by appreciable damage to the glands and kidneys, and together with other robust subjects in every other respect these forms of so-called weakness are very amenable to special treatment.

Contracted Disorders From statistics compiled from our practice, covering over 7,000 cases, we find that 90 per cent have recovered in seven days or less. This successful treatment prevents all complications, such as stricture, inflammation of the bladder and prostate gland and kidneys, and together with our extremely low fees, should induce all in need of treatment to consult us.
