

CHARGED WITH KENNEDY ROBBERY

WALTER HAYS AND JOHN UNDLIN ARRAIGNED IN POLICE COURT—EXAMINATION SET FOR FRIDAY—DAVID WATTS SAYS HE WAS ROBBED OF $110.

On the charge of robbery, Walter Hays and John Undlin were arraigned in the police court this morning. They entered pleas of not guilty and asked for an examination, which will be held Friday.

The arrests were due to the work done by J. M. Kennedy, their alleged victim, who followed clues until he came across the men he says took his money. He swore out a complaint and Detective Lou Hartman took the suspects into custody.

Held Up in a Fog.
The robbery occurred Monday evening between 7 and 8 o'clock during a dense fog. Kennedy was walking home, when he was accosted at Park and Court streets by two armed highwaymen. He was forced to give up his purse, containing $225. The matter was not reported to the police until late yesterday afternoon, and by that time Kennedy had satisfied himself who his assailants were. In the case of Hays, Kennedy is positive he has the highwayman who had no mask. The other, whom he believes to be Undlin, had his face concealed. Hays resides at 763 Borthwick street, and carries a business card which identifies him as a distributor of advertising matter.

Says He Was Robbed of $110.
David Watts, a miner from near Colledge Grove, claims to have been robbed of $110. He came to Portland to have a good time and does not know exactly where the robbery occurred, but thinks it was in a lodging house near Second and Flanders streets. He does not know in what manner he was relieved of his savings. Chief Hunt states that no report of the case was made to him.

PATHETIC FEATURES IN WATERS' DROWNING

The funeral of Robert Waters, the boy drowned in the river yesterday while watching the French bark (German unloading cargo, will take place tomorrow morning. The procession will leave Dunning & Campion's undertaking establishment at 8 o'clock and will proceed to St. Mary's church at Stanton and Williams avenue, where services will be held at 9 o'clock. Interment will be at Mount Cavalry cemetery.

Two pathetic features surrounded the death of the boy. He would have been 18 years of age tomorrow. After the drowning his brother, Frank, saw the crowd dragging the river and helped to hoist the corpse from the water, not having a suspicion that Robert had met with an accident. When the body was laid on the dock Frank turned his head, not wishing to view it, but his curiosity got the better of him, and when he found it was that of his brother he was so overcome that friends assisted him home.

My kidneys, liver and bladder are in a healthy condition since I used 'SAFE CURE,' and now I never have a pain in my back. I am 92 years old, and enjoy the very best of health."
Rebecca Smith, Westfield, N. J.

MASONS' "AT HOME" IN NEW BUILDING

The members of the A. & A. S. R. Masons are greatly interested in their "At Home" to be given this evening at their cathedral, Morrison and Lowndale streets, and preparations are perfected for suitably entertaining everyone. This is the first "At Home" given by this popular order in their new building, and a very enjoyable evening is assured.

The first order of the evening will be showing guests over the building from 8:30 to 9, and those who dance will be provided for by Parsons' orchestra. Those musically inclined will be entertained in the parlor, the intention being to provide suitable entertainment for all.

Members are specially requested to take admission cards, thus facilitating admission at the door.

Extravagant assertions to the contrary notwithstanding, there is but one place in Portland that is in position to sell and is selling the very choicest high-class pianos for less money than can be obtained elsewhere.

Dealers who have to get their instruments by assignment from San Francisco houses, or have to pay a royalty to jobbers on every instrument they sell, cannot possibly hope to furnish the values in pianos that can be obtained at Eilers Piano House.

WARWICK PERPLEXED

turb either of the Republican factions. Of course there are individual members of each organization who may not relish the prospect of being flayed by the Oregonian, but it has happened before and they have survived. It has been suggested that Scott might try to organize a machine of his own, but this would certainly end in disaster. He has no personal following and could not hope to make even a respectable showing at the primaries. He is without friends and nothing but a guerrilla warfare is left for him.

The fight at the primaries next spring promises to be hot. The Simon Republicans seem to display more confidence than their opponents. It is likely that the Mitchell organization will carry the county precincts of Multnomah county, with the exception of Troutdale, where some dissatisfaction exists because of the refusal of the present county board to make desired expenditures for roads, but in the city the fight will be close. The Mitchell faction is disappointed by the fact that there is much criticism of the present city administration, and though only county officers are to be elected next year, it is impossible to wholly sever county from city politics. The gamblers are expected to line up to a man with the Mitchell machine, on the other hand, the policy which Mayor Williams has pursued, but this may result in arraying the church people on the other side. The Mitchell faction has, however, a strong card in the good records made by some of the present county officials, and this is expected to appeal strongly to the conservative, business element of the voters.

Of course Sheriff Storey is marked for decapitation, for his renomination might carry the whole ticket down to defeat. He comes to his friends and that he will be renominated and re-elected, and that after serving a second term in the sheriff's office he will be governor. Nobody but Storey attaches the slightest importance to these dreams.

MOODY AGAINST WILLIAMSON, MAYBE.

Outside of Multnomah county there will be no general fight between Simon and Mitchell Republicans, although it is expected that Malcolm Moody may enter the lists against Congressman Williamson in the Second district. Moody has been classed with the Simon Republicans and it was on this ground that the Oregonian opposed him in the last campaign. "Anything to down Simonlam," was then the Oregonian's cry, and both Moody and Geer were attacked relentlessly because of their adherence to that faction.

Moody's strength has undoubtedly been greatly increased by the result of his recent trial in the federal court, and one of the anomalies of the political situation is the fact that the Oregonian is now apparently his warm friend and supporter, and is plainly hostile to Williamson. This newspaper turnout may achieve another change of front, however, before the next congressional contest.

BUYING THANKSGIVING DINNERS

Something Tasty and Invigorating Gives a Feast.

No one denies himself the pleasure of getting something extra for Thanksgiving dinner. You know it as well as anyone that a little wine or a taste of good liquor gives a zest to the bounteous repast. Neuberger's Full Measure House, 108 Sixth street, between Washington and Stark, has proven itself to be just about the best place in town to buy these goods for family use. From the most elaborately conducted household, to the most modest home in the suburbs, the housewife, and the head of a family, is attracted to the offerings put forward by the Full Measure House. Mr. Neuberger buys for cash in large quantities, and thus can sell the very finest quality of every brand at the lowest prices. No man or woman is averse to saving a little money in such purchases, and one can be sure to save considerable at the Full Measure House. Another thing that is important, and attracting much attention, is the fact that the Full Measure House is precisely what its name implies. It gives full (really full) measure. When you buy a quart you buy a full quart, and this makes a difference of at least 20 per cent on the quantity usually served out at liquor stores. You get more at the Full Measure House than anywhere else in Portland, and you get better quality for the price. When you make holiday purchases it is well to remember these things and give the Full Measure House a trial.

The most delightful trip across the continent is via the Denver & Rio Grande, the scenic line of the world. Apply at 124 Third street, Portland, for rates.
