HOW SULLIVAN ONCE REFEREED A FIGHT

"TOUS TRULY, JOHN L." WAS DETERMINED TO GIVE THE ENGLISHMAN THE WORST OF IT UNDER ANY CIRCUMSTANCES—INTERESTING STORY OF INCIDENT.

There were four in a recent party, including John L. Sullivan and "Brooklyn Jim" Carroll, and the conversation turned to old-time fistie encounters. John L. was in good spirits, and one of the party asked the ex-champion for a story.

"Ever hear of a fight I once refereed at Harry Hill's years ago?" replied John, clearing his throat. "It's a peach. No? Well, in those days the game was all to the good. There were plenty of corners all anxious to get a crack at me. I don't exactly remember who the fellow was, but I think he was an Englishman who had come over the pond expressly to put the gloves on with me. He was a husky-looking guy, with big muscles, and had the reputation of being a killer in his own country; that is, he had a beard of a right hand that could cure all kinds of insomnia with just one dig if it landed on the right spot.

"Well, everything was arranged for us to meet. I was feeling fine that night, and I was ready to give that duck all the fighting he wanted. Somehow the English pug got cold feet and wouldn't go on. All the persuasion in the world had no effect, and he flunked. I was so sore that I made up my mind to knock his block off, even if I did not do it in the regular old-fashioned way.

"The Guy Showed Up."

"The guy showed up all right. He came to the place and made a grandstand play that he was in no shape to meet me. He said he wanted time to train, but was ready to show what he could do if a substitute could be had. Well, I thought I'd better let him have a chance. So another big man, a fellow about the Englishman's own weight, was paired against the mug from over the sea. They were to have it out for four rounds. I promised to meet the Englishman if he showed any kind of form. The crowd was a bit sore because the Briton refused to meet me, but I squared matters by consenting to act as referee.

"In the first round the Englishman started rough-house tactics and had his man on the go. In the second he was gritty and stood the wallowing fine. The third was a hummer. They punched each other all over the ring. The Englishman was floored twice, but got up gamely and hung on till the end of the round. I took a shot at him for his courage, but as my heart wished his opponent would eat him up.

"Started Right Off."

"The fourth started off with a jump, with the foreigner having all the better of it. He nailed his opponent with both hands and it was a cinch that I would be forced to give him the decision. While the second was at its height, I saw something would happen so that I could give the local man the fight. And something did happen. Quicker than it takes to tell, he both went down from right-hand counters. I started to count 'em out, hoping the local guy would get up in time. He didn't move. His muscles neither did the Britisher. The 10 seconds were up and both were still dead to the world.

"I was in a fix, and in my mind I was figuring what to do. Fifteen minutes passed and neither fighter showed any signs of coming to. Well, I was puzzled, and—

"What did you do? What did you do?"

"What did I do?" returned the big fellow, with a grin. "Why, I gave the decision to the fellow who got up first. It wasn't the English mug, either."

Carroll said that two battles with similar endings occurred which are now fistie history. One was between Frank Rosworth and Denny Killen at Philadelphia, and the other between Jack Flies and Tommy Chanler at Chicago.

"And how did the referee decide in those scraps?" Carroll was asked.

"Just as John L. did. The first man who scrambled to his feet prepared to continue was the winner."

Specialists for Men

STRICTLY RELIABLE.

Dr. Talcott & Co.

"Weakness"

Affections of men, commonly described as "weakness," according to our observations, are not such, but depend upon reflex disturbances and are almost invariably caused by indigestion, which in turn leads to the prostate gland. Where occurring in robust subjects in every other respect these forms of so-called weakness are very amenable to proper treatment.

Contracted Disorders

From statistics compiled from our practice, covering over 7,500 cases, we find that 90 per cent have recovered in seven days or less. This successful treatment prevents all complications, such as stricture, inflammation of the bladder and prostate gland and kidneys, and together with our extremely low fees, should induce all in need of treatment to consult us.

QUAKER CITY SPORT SHOOT LIVE DECOYS

Among the local sportsmen who have leased duck shooting preserves, are Capt. Jesse Baker, U. S. A., and Leo Thibau. A friend of the captain's, who hails from that lively city of Philadelphia, was given an invitation to participate in the regular Sunday excursion, which was eagerly accepted by the visitor, who wished to particularly impress upon his army friend the fact that he could handle a shooting iron quite well. The party left down on the regular "hunter's special," and Sunday morning in the "wee sma" hours, the friends betook themselves to their different localities from which they were to pot the wily duck. Now Sunday a. m. was quite chilly and a heavy cloak of fog overhung the marsh, which added to the discomfort of the visitor, who had not acquired the patience of his friends, who were used to this sort of thing, as they went duck shooting every week. After some little time spent in the blinds without having sighted so much as a sea-gull, Captain Baker and Mr. Thibau heard the report of a distant gun. The sound was repeated quite often and when the birds were decided to change locations, a flock of mallards flew in their vicinity, which kept them busy and caused them to forget all about their companion. At noon the shooters assembled at the cabin to compare notes and as each one, including the Philadelphian, had a goodly number of birds to exhibit as the result of their skill as marksmen, they were satisfied with the day's work, and returned to the city with their game. Yesterday Messrs. Thibau and Baker were informed by their watchman at the preserve, that all the live decoys were missing, except one which was found with a load of buckshot in its wing. It did not take the hosts many minutes to come to the conclusion that their guest was a very good shot, when shooting at captive game. The next time that any Eastern tenderfoot goes shooting to "The Willows," iron or wooden decoys will be used. The funny part of the incident is the silence that has prevailed since then among the friends of the Philadelphian, to whom he presented his ducks on his return from the trip.

SATURDAY'S GAME TO BE GOOD CONTEST

Everything is shaping itself for the Saturday game between Multnomah and the Chemawa Indians. Captain McMillen's leg, that was injured in the Washington game, is getting well slowly, thanks to the curative effects of the orange liniment that he got while on his last southern trip. McMillen may play right tackle. If Cook does not play, Kerrigan and Corbett will play the halves and Dolph will play full again. Eastman may also be used at tackle.

This evening the Multnomah team will not practice, the members having been let off by Captain McMillen to attend the ladies' night at the club. The boys who went to Astoria and called themselves the Multnomah team received a frost when they returned home. It is not likely that they will repeat the trick. The Indians will arrive here Saturday morning.

FOOTBALL IN GRANT COUNTY.

For the first time in Grant county a football game will be played on Christmas day. The Chemawa Indians and Canyon City will contest on the gridiron at this city, and it is certain to be a most interesting event.

The nucleus of the John Day team is composed of schoolboys, but the line will be strengthened by the addition of some of the largest and strongest business men of the town. Practice is had on the Trowbridge field every evening, and the candidates for the various positions are working out under the direction of Coach Chandler.

It is pretty well recognized that the team will be outmatched in weight, and if it wins it must be by snapper playing. The past record of the boys in practice leads to the belief that they will put up a good game.

The Canyon City team is likely to prove more formidable by reason of superior weight and experience. Elmer Overholt, George Tracy, Henry Kuhl, Jake Blank and Lynn George have enviable records on the football field, and it is understood that they will be in the team as it lines up for the game on Christmas. The team is practicing under the direction of Coach Blank, and should prove one of the strongest in Eastern Oregon. The boys are lacking neither in mettle nor ambition, and the game is sure to be a fine exhibition.

As football is the champion of all outdoor games, and as this will be the first ever witnessed by a large number of people in this community, the Christmas game will prove the athletic event of the season.

There is also talk of the winner challenging Burns for a game New Year's—Grant County News.

TERRIFIC RING BATTLE.

Huddled in a stable off Coney Island, the other night, about 50 dyed-in-the-wool followers of a fistie game saw one of the most vicious bare-knuckle fights that has ever been pulled off in New York City since the "steadies" have to have their sport away from the eye of the police.

Tommy Cody of St. Louis and Billy Treuman of New York were the principals. The fray went nine rounds, Cody winning with a terrific right hand smash to the heart that rendered Treuman unconscious for half an hour. Both pugilists were so badly battered they needed identification cards after the brutal bout was over.

In the final session even the most savage of the assembled wished the thing was over. Treuman was so weak his seconds had to shove him into the arena. There, almost blinded, he tottered about vainly trying to swing on his foe. Cody, with his right ear hanging, swung his right to the head, and Treuman fell helpless into his arms.

Thereafter the spectacle was disgusting to his feet three times, but each time one of Cody's smashes sent him reeling to the mat again. A stinging right to the heart, that brought a groan from even the heartless spectators, ended the battle.

GRANEY MAY REFEREE TONIGHT'S CONTEST

It looks very much as though Eddie Granevy would referee the 15-round go between Billy Woods and Tommy Reilly over in Oakland tonight. It is known that both principals are in favor of the little blacksmith and it is more than likely that Granevy will be the man. The men were to have met last night to decide on the referee, but Reilly did not want to take any chance on catching cold on the eve of his fight by venturing out in the cold, damp night air.

There is considerable interest shown in this match and many of the wise sports predict that it will be one of the greatest battles of mix-ups ever seen in California. Reilly favors an aggressive system of attack and he seldom steps back. Tommy is on the move, stepping in all the ways and he shows an inclination to mix at the slightest provocation and he likes the fast heavy fighting better than sparring at long range. He figures he will have Woods bested at this particular style, and he says he will win the battle with short blows delivered while in close and at but a short distance. Tommy has a faculty of hitting fast with both hands when he steps in close and it may be that he will worry Woods a good deal in this manner. When Reilly fought Al Neill in this city some few months ago he showed himself to be a great body fighter and his style impressed the sports as a whole lot and it was freely admitted at that time that he would make a great hit for himself in the Queensberry world. Tommy is in good shape for the battle with Woods and he promises to make things warm for the Los Angeles lad.

DIAMOND GLISTENINGS

Walter McCredie has not been signed by any Coast league as yet. The "Judge" wants to play out here, but refuses to play with Oakland, which club has first claim on him.

It is currently rumored that James A. Hart of Chicago is entrusted with full authority to grant the demands of this league in order to get them into the association. If they come to an agreement the coast magnates would do well to see that the said agreement does not cover a period of over one year, for there may be later developments should they take place which would be detrimental to their interests.

Who among the baseball fans of today remember the first time a baseball team from Philadelphia played in New York? It was June 2, 1862. The visiting team completely demolished the home team, pitcher; Moore, Paul and Johnson on the bases; Wilkins, shortstop, and Loughery, Auspach and Crossdale in the outfield. The New Yorks were: Cohen, catcher; McKeever, pitcher; Yates, Howe and Van Cott on the bases; Wright, shortstop, and Squires, Sloat and Davies in the outfield.

Jimmy Collins of the Boston Americans, is quoted as saying: "We will have the same team next season. I don't see where I can make any improvement in a single position except, possibly at third base. What a play for the gallery! Well, Jimmy, is there any other third baseman for whom you would exchange yourself?"

RHEUMATISM

Kidney, Stomach and Nervous Troubles are positively cured with Oil of Eden and Sweet Spirits of Eden.

Many who have tried, but in expensive cure. $5 will buy the lot. Sold by all first-class druggists.

Completely cured after fifteen years of suffering, and expected to be a cripple for life.

Cal Co-op. Medical Co.,

Gentlemen: I had the bone in my leg from the knee to the ankle badly bruised from a heavy hammer coming from the inside. I could not walk and had a terrible leg, so bad that the leg came out and some of the bone cut out. The wound was closed and healed, but I did not get any better. I was in great pain in the hip and ankle and was finally induced to use Oil of Eden, which I did, and can truly say the use of Oil of Eden cured at least two recurrences of poisonous matter and corruption to come to the surface through the pores of the skin, and am completely cured. I would suggest and insist in any one using Oil of Eden not to despair, but use it for a few days, and if the bones get sore stop for two or three days and commence again and continue in this way till no more matter comes to the surface. When this has been done the disease has been cured and the Oil of Eden will have no more effect on your leg than olive oil.

Oil of Eden is a most wonderful remedy and capable of benefiting and curing thousands of people for whom it is recommended. I can't speak enough praise for it, and strongly recommend it to all sufferers for any dormant condition of the body, such as Rheumatism, Wounds, Tumors, Gout, bruised and hardened spots, etc.

HARVARD STUDENT STRONG ATHLETE

FRESHMAN LE MOYNE RIDS FAIR TO BE ONE OF THE GREATEST ATHLETES EVER TURNED OUT BY THE CRIMSON—HIS BRIEF HISTORY.

In Le Moyne Harvard possesses an athlete who will probably be the greatest all-round man ever turned out from any college. This is his freshman year, still he has already gained great reputation as a shot putter, an oarsman, a swimmer, a broad jumper, a baseball and football player of the highest and most enviable character.

Although but 20 years of age, the product of interscholastic coaching only, and following rules for training that only he himself laid down, Le Moyne is a wonder in almost any game or sport that requires strength, pluck or skill. He has hurled the 16-pound shot the phenomenal distance of 45 feet 9 1/4 inches, pulled an oar in a four-oared shell that was nearly equal to the force of the other three, covered 9 feet 4 inches in a standing broad jump, played a star game both in the field and at the bat on his school teams, outplayed any man pitted against him on the scholastic gridiron and swam 60 yards in world's record time.

Field Sports His Forte.

Le Moyne is by no means a star football player as yet, nor can it be expected when his greenness is taken into consideration. His game against Yale, so far as kicking is concerned, was his worst of the year, but too much coaching seems to have been the cause.

His other accomplishments have not as yet been tried out at Cambridge, but it is safe to say that they will improve as his football game has done. His great work in the outfield and his strong batting will no doubt, be brought to the front next spring, when the baseball candidates begin their season's work.

It is, however, in field sports that Le Moyne will particularly shine. As a shot-putter and hammer-thrower he should be in a class by himself. Less than a year ago Le Moyne knew nothing of his ability with the weights, and it remained for Herbert Holton of the Boston Athletic association to bring him out.

Le Moyne one day picked up the 16-pound shot and threw such a distance without using any other muscles than those of his arm that Mr. Holton decided to make a shot-putter of him.

WRONGED MAN FREE FROM PENITENTIARY

(Journal Special Service.)

Helena, Mont., Dec. 15.—Governor Toole has granted an unconditional pardon to Camille Peres, who is serving a five years' sentence after having been convicted at Great Falls two years ago of having criminally assaulted 15-year-old Adrienne Baquet, a French girl. A short time ago the girl returned to France, and it was largely because of a letter she wrote to Governor Toole, that Peres was pardoned. In this letter the girl admits that she gave perjured testimony against Peres. She said she was soon to be married, but that before that event took place, she wanted to right a wrong she had done an innocent man. Peres' former neighbors also united in vouching for his good character, which had saved him from a much severer sentence.
