CAN FULL OF GOLD FOUND YEARS AGO

(Journal Special Service.)
Salem, Dec. 16.—A suit was argued in the supreme court yesterday afternoon that in of more than passing interest and involves the ownership of a treasure found years ago.
Nine years ago two boys, brothers, named Danielson, while cleaning a chicken coop for Roberts & O'Neil of Jacksonville, discovered a can filled with gold. They showed the can to the proprietors of the place and these men claimed the money. Now, after nine years, the boys, grown to manhood, have decided that the money did not belong to the men claiming it and they brought suit against Roberts & O'Neil for the money. The plaintiffs were non-suited in the trial court and their suit dismissed and they appealed to the supreme court. If the trial should be reversed, the defendants claim that they can show a good title to the money; in other words, they can prove that the money was their own property. The defendants are money-lenders and have been for many years engaged in that business and are wealthy.

Murderer Spert Arrives.
Egbert, better known as Jack Frost, the Harney county murderer, was received at the penitentiary yesterday afternoon last night. Sheriff Tom Allen and one deputy delivering him to the prison authorities. The prisoner came in heavily ironed and was placed in the receiving cell and today he will probably be placed in the death cell, where he will soon have the death warrant placed over him, after which time he will be kept under the closest surveillance until the date of his execution, which has been set for the 29th of January next.

From Moran, convicted in Umatilla county of obtaining money under false pretenses, was also received at the penitentiary yesterday to serve a term of one year. Sheriff Taylor brought the prisoner down.
Board of Agriculture.
Governor Chamberlain yesterday appointed two members of the state board of agriculture to fill vacancies caused by the resignations of two of the members of the old board that has done so much for the Oregon state fair in the past few years since that institution was placed under the control of the state. The men appointed were W. H. Downing of Shawnee county, who will succeed to the vacancy created by the resignation of Mr. W. H. Wehring of Hillsboro, president of the board, and Frank Lee of Portland, who takes the place of J. H. Settlemier of Woodburn, resigned.

The terms of these two appointments will expire as follows: Frank Lee, March 4, 1904, and W. H. Downing, March 4, 1907.
The state board will meet this afternoon for the annual meeting, when officers for the next year will be elected, and steps taken to prepare for the next year's exposition at the fair grounds. At this meeting a secretary will be elected to succeed the present incumbent, M. D. Wisdom, one of the ablest and most successful men ever in that position. It is stated that Mr. Wisdom will not be a candidate for re-election and there is expected to be as great a field of candidates for this position as there were candidates among the racers at the fair last fall for the big end of the $2,000 purse, and the outcome of the election is as eagerly awaited as was the result of the races in question. Among the candidates favorably mentioned for the position, and with some show of success is Wylie A. Moore of this city, who for a number of years has been Mr. Wisdom's assistant and right-hand man. He is thoroughly familiar with conditions at the fair grounds and in fact is thoroughly informed on the plans of the board for the future, an expert accountant and a thoroughly reliable and competent man, and among his backers for the place are some of the best people and warmest friends of the fair. Mr. Moore resides in this city and should be elected he will, it is said of him, make an excellent secretary. He, however, will be a candidate if Mr. Wisdom should reconsider his determination to retire and again become a candidate for the place.

Poultry Show.
The poultry and pet stock show, which opens here tomorrow for a three days' season, promises to be a great success. The show of fine poultry and pet animals of all kinds exceed in number the brightest hopes of the most enthusiastic supporters of the enterprise. In connection with the show of poultry and pet stock there will be a bench show, under the auspices of the Salem Kennel club and already made dogs, with pedigrees as long as the moral law, have been entered to compete for prizes, many of them coming from Portland.

There is greater interest manifested in this show than anything of the kind ever before in Salem, and the indications are that the show will be one of the successes of the year.

ASHLAND VOTES TO KEEP TEMPERATE

(Journal Special Service.)
Ashland, Or., Dec. 16.—The city election passed off quietly yesterday. A fairly good vote was polled though short of that cast in the general election. H. S. Evans was elected mayor and with him the candidates for council on the Citizens' non-partisan ticket.

The Republican ticket headed by Applegate for mayor was badly defeated, running third in the race. The advisory vote on the question of liquor license was against license by 74 majority. As all the candidates were pledged to abide by the vote on the question this means that Ashland is to be a dry town for the ensuing year. Four important proposed amendments to the charter looking to the extension of ownership of public utilities were carried with practical unanimity. The councilmen elected are: T. F. Smith, C. C. Chappelle and William Fox. The defeat of the Republican managers here in what has been considered the party's stronghold in Jackson county is complete and overwhelming in this election.

TWO SOLDIERS WHO STONED A SALOON

Vancouver, Wash., Dec. 16.—Privates C. Block and C. D. Cunningham were brought before City Justice Sparks yesterday and fined $50 and costs for smashing glass windows, and in default of payment of fine and costs were sent to the county jail for 18 days.
Some time ago, it is alleged, the two men entered the Fuller saloon, formerly known as the Williams saloon, and after becoming involved in a dispute with the bartender went out and threw stones through the window into the saloon, doing considerable damage. It is said that when they first went into the place they got a few drinks on credit and then wanted the bartender to treat again. This he refused to do, and for this cause they went outside and assaulted the place.

The reason that the culprits were not tried by civil authorities sooner is that there were several matters to be settled with them by the military authorities. They were turned over to the civil officers yesterday and trial was had immediately. There is a strong sentiment felt against the offenders by people who claim to know about the affair. These say that the men did not get what they deserved, as their behavior was very malicious at the time and might have resulted in serious injuries to the many occupants of the barroom.

The Bratton Case.

The case of Mary Bratton vs. George J. Bratton et al. was before Judge A. L. Miller for hearing yesterday and decided in favor of the defendants. The action was the result of a dispute over certain land that was divided between Mary Bratton and the heirs of William Bratton. The parties sought to make a partition of the property out of court. Quit-claim deeds figured in the transaction to quite an extent, and these Mrs. Mary Bratton sought to have set aside and have the court make a division of the property on what she calls "a more equitable division."

Bushwell Wants Divorce.

Robert Bushwell seeks a divorce from his wife, Flora A. Bushwell, and to obtain which he has petitioned the superior court that the bonds of matrimony may be declared no longer binding. Mr. Bushwell also prays for the care, custody and control of five children, as well as the ownership of the real and personal property.

MONTANA DELEGATES TO THE CONVENTION

(Journal Special Service.)
Helena, Dec. 16.—Governor Toole has appointed J. C. McNamara, William Lindsay and A. J. Davidson as Montana's delegates to the seventh annual convention of the National Live Stock association and thirty-ninth annual convention of the National Wool Growers' association which are to be held in Portland, January 11 to 15 next. The delegates are prominent live stock men and all have expressed their intention of visiting the metropolis of Oregon during the conventions.

Pe-ru-na in Use in Thousands of Homes.

Congressman H. Henry Powers, of Vermont, writes from Morrisville, Vt.:

"Peruna I have used in my family with success. I can recommend it as an excellent family remedy and very good for coughs, colds and catarrhal affections."—H. Henry Powers.

John L. Burnett, Member of Congress, Seventh Alabama District, writes:

"I take pleasure in testifying to the merits of your Peruna. At the solicitation of a friend my wife used it, and it improved her condition generally. It is a remarkable remedy. I can cheerfully recommend Peruna as a good, substantial tonic, and a very good catarrh remedy."

EUGENE

NEW HIGH SCHOOL BUILDING ACCEPTED

(Journal Special Service.)
Eugene, Or., Dec. 16.—Eugene's fine new high school building has been formally accepted from the contractors, Welch & Maurer, of Salem, by the board of directors. The contract price was $24,255, exclusive of the heating and ventilating plant, and the workmanship of the best throughout the building. The structure was built of brick and it is one of the handsomest high school buildings in the Northwest. It will be occupied about January 1, 1904.
Two new teachers, Miss Maude Kerns and Mr. Myron Hackenberry, have been added to the corps of instructors of the public schools. Miss Kerns is at present teaching in the Corvallis public schools, but has resigned her position there to teach in her home town. She is a graduate of the University of Oregon. Mr. Hackenberry, who is a graduate of the University of Pennsylvania, is recently from Eastern Oregon, and will take the chair of physics at the high school.

FIFTEEN HUNDRED FOR A MAN'S LIFE

(Journal Special Service.)
Oregon City, Dec. 16.—By the payment of $1,500 the Crown Paper company of this city has compromised the suit pending in the United States court brought by the administrators of Roy P. Sunderland to recover $5,000 damages for the accidental killing of Sunderland in the company's mill nearly a year ago. Sunderland had gone under a machine to repair a broken part when the belt was thrown on and the machine started by a fellow-workman, who, it is alleged in the complaint, was incompetent. The suit was brought in the circuit court of Clackamas county by George W. Bibe, administrator, and G. B. Dimick was the attorney in the case. At the instigation of the paper company it was transferred to the United States court.

The Cheney Creek Mine.

H. J. Hill returned yesterday from the Cheney Creek mining district. Mr. Hill was absent with a party several weeks doing assessment work on six mineral claims situated on Still and Zigzag creeks. Other parties interested in the Cheney creek claims are Captain Anderson, Mayor Dimick and Mr. Rambo. The ledge on which the claims are located is of colossal proportions, its width being as far as ascertained, 60 feet, and perhaps more. It is a ridge of copper ore, base from the grass roots. Portland parties are developing a claim on Cheney creek, assays of which give a large percentage of silver. Cheney creek is in this county, almost due east from this city, and parties who are working claims there believe that prospects in that section are fully as good as those on Ogle creek.

Growth of Oregon City.

An evidence of the growth of Oregon City is shown by the new buildings which are under construction. A new building for an ice plant is being erected in the north end of town and is rapidly nearing completion. Albert Knapp has begun grading for a new business block on his lot, corner Tenth and Main streets, and, it is said, will be one of the best business blocks in the city. A new business block will be erected within the next few months on the Barclay property, between Seventh and Eighth streets, while a number of new residences are under way or construction. Altogether the town is growing at a rate greater than in any years past.

Senator Brownell in Doubt.

Senator George C. Brownell left this morning for Salem to be in early at the opening of the session of the state legislature, Monday. The senator is under the impression that the special session will be short, but whether it will confine itself solely to the repeal of the tax laws he is very much in doubt.

Oregon City Notes.

Last night there was a grand ball at the Woodmen hall, given under the auspices of the Fraternal Brotherhood of America. The hall was filled with a brilliant assemblage. Dancing was indulged in until a late hour.

Leighton Kelly returned this morning from Baker, Wash., where he has been in the employ of the United States fish commission. Mr. Kelly will remain over with his parents during the holidays.

The Knox-Kantner concert company gave an entertainment at the Methodist church last evening. The entertainment was attended by a large and select crowd and the performances by Eugene Knox were exceptionally well rendered.

Henry Hedges, one of the prominent Democrats of the Barlow precinct and Democratic committeeman from his district, was in Oregon City yesterday. Mr. Hedges states that his party in his opinion of the county is in exceptionally good condition, notwithstanding the inroads made in the ranks by the Socialist movement in recent years. He says there are 55 new voters in his district, and the great majority of them will vote with the Democrats next year.

Hon. George W. Grace is a very sick man at his home on Fifth street. Mr. Grace is suffering from an attack of rheumatism and has been in bed several days.
The Oregon City merchants are pleased with the fact that it is raining. The past two weeks of sunshine has had a tendency to keep the farming class at home at work and business, as a consequence, has languished. Heavy business is expected from now on until Christmas.

CELEBRATE BERLIOZ CENTENNIAL.

(Journal Special Service.)
Paris, Dec. 16.—Not to be behind the musical centers of Europe and America, which this week have been celebrating the hundredth anniversary of the birth of Hector Berlioz, the little town of Cote-Saint-Andre, where the distinguished composer was born, today held a notable celebration of the centennial. A delegation of well-known musicians and artists of Paris attended the celebration and for the first time the little town heard the performance of one of its distinguished son's works. One of the interesting features of the celebration program was the reading of a collection of reminiscences of the composer in the room where he first saw the light of day.

DO NOT WEAR A LONG FACE.

It is a Great Handicap in All Business and Social Relations.

The man who looks as if he had lost his last friend is in no danger of being crushed by the jam of new ones unless he "cheers up." People are not going out of their way nowadays to associate with the man of mournful and melancholy appearance. They are afraid he will bring them his troubles and they steer clear of him as they all have plenty of their own.

The most universal cause of forlorn and hopeless appearance today is dyspepsia. It unfits a man for every duty of life and causes him to become despondent and gloomy and necessarily his looks do not belie his feelings. He appears cast down and dejected and becomes a burden to himself and humanity in general.

Stuart's Dyspepsia Tablets are the dispenser of pure relief. They do the work that his stomach is unable to do and by relieving that organ of its burdens, permit it to regain its health and strength and again become active and useful in its functions. They contain all the essential ingredients that enter into the digestive and secretory processes of the stomach and they actually take up the work and do it just as a healthy, sound stomach would.

By this means a man can go right ahead with his work and eat enough to keep him in proper working condition. His system is not deprived of its necessary nourishment as it is in the case of the "starvation cure" or the employment of some of the first-class chicken foods now on the market. Starvation, even if it were a good thing, could not be continued long enough to effect a cure; for a disordered and worn-out stomach is not going to become strong and healthy in two or three days.

Stuart's Dyspepsia Tablets act naturally because they contain no alien ingredients. The principal component parts are aseptic pepsin, malt diastase and other ingredients with like properties that do the work regardless of the condition of the stomach. There is no unnatural or violent disturbance of the digestive organs as the result of their action. In fact, the existence of the stomach is entirely forgotten as soon as they have had time to begin their operations. They also possess very curative and healing properties and assist the stomach in getting well while relieving it of its work. They perform the duties of both nurse and physician.

Stuart's Dyspepsia Tablets are for sale by all druggists at 50 cents a box and there is very little danger of any drugist trying to sell you something else in its place that is "just as good." They are so well established and have done so much good in the world that their name has become a household word; so the usual warning, "Accept no substitute," is unnecessary. In the case of Stuart's Dyspepsia Tablets.

CHRISTMAS PLANS AT THE WHITE HOUSE

Old Fashioned Christmas Will Be Observed by President and His Family—Selecting the Presents.

Washington, D. C., Dec. 16.—At the White House, as in nearly all the homes throughout the land, the principal theme of interest is the selection of Christmas gifts and the preparation for the holidays. President Roosevelt believes in keeping the holiday in the good, old-fashioned way and as a consequence Christmas is always a joyous occasion for all the members of his family. It is strictly a family celebration. The children are home from school and for two weeks the executive mansion resounds with their shouts and laughter, the president himself often taking part in their romps.

Of course the strictest secrecy is maintained as to what the Roosevelt children are likely to find in their stockings Christmas morning, but the tastes of the youngsters are so well known that it is not difficult to guess the nature of the gifts they are likely to receive from their parents. Miss Ethel has not yet outgrown her doll days and a handsome addition to her family of Christmas toys will probably delight her eyes Christmas morning. Little Quintin, also, will be the recipient of a variety of toys and playthings, among them a number of the mechanical sort, of which he is especially fond. Archibald acquires a new automobile and Christmas is not Christmas for him unless he finds something alive among his presents. He has expressed a desire, it is said, for a bear or an alligator, but it is hardly likely that these additions will be made to his menagerie, which already includes poodles, dogs, sheep and a variety of other pets.

Young Theodora.

Theodora, Jr., is rapidly approaching the grown-up age. He is fond of outdoor sports, including hunting, fishing, football and boating, and his Christmas gifts will be such as to gratify his tastes in this direction. Being naturally devoted to reading and study he does not allow his taste for sports to interfere, and books are always welcome presents to him. It is not known just what Miss Alice Roosevelt is to receive, but it was noticed that Mrs. Roosevelt, during her late visit to New York, was a visitor at a large Broadway jewelry establishment. Mrs. Roosevelt is an exquisite needle woman and is also an adept in fashionable vari-colored-embroideries. She has a store of daintily initialed handkerchiefs, filmy lace collars and little articles whose values will be greatly enhanced by the fact that the work is the product of big-skilled fingers. During the present week a number of pack-

ANTI-MOSQUITO CONVENTION.

(Journal Special Service.)
New York, Dec. 16.—The mosquito is to be exterminated. Such is the fiat which went out today from the headquarters of the board of trade in Broadway, where a number of men prominently interested in the extermination of the pest assembled to discuss ways and means for bringing about the desired riddance. The necessity for the extermination was unanimously agreed upon and various methods were discussed, but the exact means by which the desired object is to be effected will probably be decided at another conference to be held later. One thing, however, was definitely decided upon: That was that the war is to be carried into Africa, or more properly speaking, into New Jersey, which is acknowledged to be the banner state when it comes to raising a crop of mosquitoes remarkable for their size, annoying propensities and powers of endurance. The fact now established that the mosquitoes transmit contagious disease is what worries the medical men and public health officials. That something must be done to bring about their general extermination is agreed upon. It is now up to the men of science to discover the means. Last year the plan of killing them by pouring crude oil over the breeding places was given a thorough trial in various parts of New Jersey, but the method proved a dismal failure.

TEA PARTY ANNIVERSARY.

(Journal Special Service.)
Boston, Mass., Dec. 16.—Today is the anniversary of the Boston tea party, which took place December 16, 1773, when tea, on which the colonists were expected to pay the hated stamp tax, was dumped into the harbor by prominent Bostonians disguised as Indians. The party organized at Cole's inn, swept down upon the ships, boarded them and threw their cargoes into the sea. This action has been regarded as one of the most provocative of the revolution, as the British officers were never able to discover or convict any man connected with the raid. Cole's inn, where the raiders assembled, is still standing and is now known as the Hancock tavern. In observance of the anniversary, today exercises were held under the auspices of the Massachusetts chapter of the Sons of the Revolution, the Old South chapter of the Daughters of the American Revolution and other patriotic orders.
