
COLORED BOXER RESERVES THE IM-PUTATION THAT ME DID NOT FIGHT AS HARD AS HE COULD-STILL AFTER JEFFRIES AND IS-SUES DEFI.

(Journal Special Service.) San Francisco, Dec. 17.—The Johnson Ferguson fight is still a matter of animated conversation among lovers of fisitenes, "Big Sandy" left Saturday evening for Chicago, where he is to box "Klondike," another colored aspirant for heavyweight honors. Before Perguson left the city the receipts of the Colma bout were cut in two. There was not much money—only about $900 apiece to offset all expenses. Ferguson disappointed everybody, but those who have seen him fight elsewhere say that ever made in his life. He was considerably worked up over the caustic comments of the fight critics, and has declared that he does not care to try coast bouts again.

Johnson is especially sore because of the insinuations that he did not try to fight and could have knocked his man out in four rounds had he chosen to do so. Ferguson only had a "look-in" in the seventh round. He showed poor judgment in distance fighting and his much-talked-of right was seldom in evi-

Johnson is still talking Jeffries and has actually sent on a defi. Johnson's friends point to his record and try to smooth over the Ferguson fall-down by showing that it is not such an extraordinary step for the colored man to take to go after the big fellow from Los Aneles. Johnson has decisions over Jack McCormick, George Lawler, Jim Scanlan, "Mexican Pete," Sam McVey, Joe Butler, Frank Childs, George Gardner, Fred Russell, Jack Jeffries of Denver, and Ed Martin. Draws have been fought with Joe Choynski, Billy Stift, "Klondike" and Hank Griffen.

Cordell and Seiger. A ring battle that is exciting consid erable interest is that which will take place some time about the middle of January, when Jack Cordell and Charlie Seiger will meet before the Reliance club of Oakland in a 15-round go. Cordell has had some talk with Jimmy Britt for a match to follow, should he prove the victor over Seiger. Cordell is a very man, with an inclination to im prove in fast work, and those who have watched him train say that he ought to win easily from the Italian. The ne gotiations are also on between Frankie Neill and Abe Attell for a 20-round go about January 20. The San Francisco club will get the fight, unless Neill depick up same of his eastern offers and speed away from the coast, Merrers and Meary.

A Milwaukee correspondent writes that J. J. Taylor has completed arrangements for Aurelio Herrera to box Charlle Neary 20 rounds at 130 pounds in that city on January 28.

"The Village Blacksmith."

Bob Fitzsimmons is not the only follower of the ring who can claim to have been an honest village blacksmith, for there is a clever little lightweight in Boston named Jimmy Briggs who is horse this afternoon and wouldn't known all over the bean city as a com-ing ring wonder and a smashing good man at the forge. Jimmy Briggs is an exceptional young man. Were it not known that he is a tover of the ring sport and a careful student of the tricks of boxing, he might be taken for a clergyman's son. His case is a good example of what can be done by a pugillst who abstains at all times from drink and tobacco. Jimmy says he is not a temperance lecturer, but he has a firm belief in good habits and lots of healthy sleep.

"I learned my trade as a blacksmith After that I opened a shop for myself in Chelsea and made a specialty of turning out fine work. I have found that in

was no decision, but the two men expect to meet again some time next month, and Jimmy's arguments as to how to train and keep strong will have oppor-tunity for demonstration.

TEN YEARS MORE

(Journal Special Service.)

Cambridge, Mass. Dec. 16 .-- In the opinion of Dr. Dudley A. Sargent, Harvard's famous physical expert and authority, Jim Jeffries, the pugilist, has 10 years before him of active service in the ring. Jeffries, in company, with Joe was absolutely without foundation. He Kennedy his sparring partner, and Kid also announced definitely that the the Hemenway gymnasium last week and was examined carefully by the crimson authority.

Dr. Sargent noted two peculiar things the first that Jeffries' right arm has decreased in measurement from 16.5 inches three years ago to 15.9 inches, and that his "terrible left" has grown to a crooked position which it is impossible to straighten out. The cause of the first of these changes is a puzzling one, for Jeffries is stronger than ever so far as his right arm hitting capacity is concerned.

The cause of the latter is easier, resulting from the knitting together of the tissues about the elbow, due to the the home grounds. Its curved rigidity, however, has a most beneficial use, for it enables the big giant to get all the force of a straight blow into a hooked drive. Dr. Sargent today was much pressed with Jeffries' general condition and pronounced him 'a marvelous man.' figure in Tad's cartoon is Hank sitting In his opinion the fighter's greatest danbetween his teeth, and lead pencil and ticeably, weighing 247 pounds now, score card in hand.
