

MAY ROOT OUT THE CALL SYSTEM

FIRE DEPARTMENT MADE UP OF FULL-SALARIED MEN INSTEAD OF PART-TIME VOLUNTEERS WILL BE ESTABLISHED NEXT YEAR IF THE MONEY CAN BE SPARED.

It is almost positive that Portland will have a full-paid fire department next year. All of the city officials have expressed themselves in favor of the improvement.

It is believed that every official will make a fight for a full-salaried fire department. The members of the executive board, the city council, Mayor Williams and the department superintendents have frequently signified their willingness to make the change the moment the city finances warranted, and now is said to be that time, for there will be no expense for a fireboat as there was last year, and the full-paid standard can be established for about the same amount of money as was expended last year.

Mayor Williams recently has stated more than once that he believed Portland's fire department should be placed on a permanent basis. An individual canvass of the members of the city council shows that they are in favor of the full-paid department, with the proviso that the money is available. If they can be convinced that the receipts next year are sufficient, the full-paid system is a certainty.

There is a growing and widespread sentiment that in its appropriations for 1904 the council should by all means provide for the permanent department. The difference in cost is thought to be too small to deter the municipal legislators from taking the desired action, as the benefits from a full-paid department, it is claimed, will more than make up for the extra cost.

A MOST MAGNIFICENT PIANO DISPLAY

Xmas week should be piano week for the family that ought to have one and can afford the small installments upon which we are willing to sell you one. The bringing of a piano into the home on Xmas day not only celebrates and makes happy the day, but celebrates the installment of a new influence that will be felt in the home for years to come. A piano is not a luxury, it is a necessity; an educational necessity and education means—EVERYTHING.

Call and see our magnificent stock of pianos and let us explain to you the workings of our plan of purchase. We give you our word to make it easier for you to own a piano than any other house in the Northwest.

Davey's absence and silence. I haven't heard a word from him since a week ago last Sunday at Whitney. He is usually very regular in writing to me. I heard from him this trip every day till suddenly his letters ceased altogether. We have telephoned to Whitney and find that he left there December 13, a week ago last Sunday, but nobody seems to know where he went.

DRINK HIS CURE, BUT HIS UNDOING

CHARLES BRADLEY SAYS HE'S TIRED OF HELPING TO BUILD SIDEWALKS IN PORTLAND, BUT CONTRIBUTES $30 MORE — HIS WITNESS WAS DRUNK, TOO.

Strong drink as a medicine was the novel defense advanced by Charles Bradley when he was on trial for drunkenness before Judge Hogue this morning. When I came out of Alaska I had a slight accident and I got a beautiful Irish brogue. "I took to drinking again to cure me, and I know I was not drunk for at the time I was arrested Sunday night I knew more than I do now. I had just looked at the clock before going home, when the officer came in."

"It's a pity you didn't look five minutes sooner," said the court. "Well, I've been paying fines here and helping to build sidewalks in this town for 22 years," said Bradley in disgust. "I have to pay any more fines I hope I will do it in a smaller town where they need the money. I expected to eat my Christmas dinner on blue water, but—"

"No, you won't," interrupted the court, "$30 fine for you." So Bradley was led away to begin his 10 days' imprisonment. The prisoner was in poor luck, for his own witnesses went back on him. Bryan Burke, a longshoreman, was called, but he said:

"Sure, judge, I couldn't tell if he was drunk or not, for I was drunk myself."

John Allen, a bartender, by whom Bradley hoped to prove his innocence, said that Bradley had been drunk for several days prior to his arrest.

LAWMAKERS MAY FINISH TOMORROW

Senator Mulkey came to the rescue of the Clackamas brother by delivering an oration on the beneficial influences of the caucus. He was of the opinion that the meeting was a good thing and resulted in forming a basis for the bringing to light bills that had been prepared for introduction and in that manner the wheat could be separated from the chaff and some intelligent idea of the work on hand could be arrived at. In conclusion he said he was glad to grasp the hand of the man from Clackamas with whom he agreed on the point of taking time to pass bills, and leave them right.

Working for Both Booth and Thomson. Washington Bureau of The Journal. Washington, Dec. 22.—The retention or rejection of Receiver Thomson of the La Grande land office and Register Booth of Roseburg, Senator Fulton says, is now up to President Roosevelt. Secretary Hitchcock has called on the Oregon senators to name a successor to Booth and says that he will not re-appoint Thomson.

Senator Fulton and Mitchell have appealed to the president in both cases and have been advised, by him that he will probably direct that investigation be made, pending which, further action will not be taken. Senator Fulton says the Oregon delegation will stand by Thomson and Booth so long as practicable, believing that neither has done anything to merit dismissal from the service, although their opposition to other appointments to these places would not go to the extent of opposing confirmation.

Prominent New York Woman is Killed. Pomona, Cal., Dec. 22.—Miss Elizabeth Cooper, a sister of Henry Cooper of Siegel-Cooper & Co. of the monster department store of Chicago, was killed this morning in a runaway accident. She had been living with her brother in his beautiful mansion in Pomona valley. While out driving to town with her brother behind a fast blooded horse the animal took fright at a passing train and ran away, the buggy being hurled against a tree. They were both thrown out. Miss Cooper's skull being fractured. She was 51 years old and was a very prominent woman.

Chinaman Marries Young White Girl. Helena, Dec. 21.—Rather than stand trial on the new law recently passed by Leto McCormick, a pretty 15-year-old white girl, under promise of marriage, Charles Kam, a Livingston Chinaman, who sought to escape before the authorities could act on his case, concluded today to marry the girl.
