GARDNER GETS A DRAW WITH HART

LOWELL MAN AND THE WELL-KNOWN KENTUCKIAN MIX IT LIVELY FOR 15 ROUNDS AT BOSTON LAST EVENING, NEITHER GETTING THE BEST OF IT.

(Journal Special Service.) Boston, Mass., Jan. 5.—After a 15-round bout between Marvin Hart of Louisville, Ky., and George Gardner of Lowell, Mass., the referee declared the fight a draw.

The fight was a success from the spectators' standpoint, as the crowd was worked up to an enthusiastic stage on several occasions during the bout.

The showing of Hart was a great improvement over his previous performances in this city. During the early part of the contest he had decidedly the best of the bout, and on one or two occasions almost had the Lowell man out.

Gardner Goes Down Twice.

In the second round Hart got in two terrific rights in rapid succession and Gardner went down for the count, arising only to immediately go down again from another punch from the Kentuckian's terrific right hand.

The Lowell man came up strong in the third, but was not able to land on his opponent effectively. Hart, however, was strong, and landed cleverly several times on his adversary's head and neck.

In the fourth and fifth rounds both men mixed it lively, landing and receiving some hard knocks, which served to keep the crowd in good humor.

Gardner's Turn.

Gardner landed a couple of terrific swings toward the end of round six, which left the Kentuckian quite groggy as the going sounded. Hart proved game and came back strong in the next round, bringing the fight to its opponent, and in the eighth he forced the Lowell man to cling to him in order to save himself (Gardner) from being knocked out.

After this round there were only occasional exhibitions of fast fighting, until the 13th, as both men appeared to tire.

In the 13th both men went to boring in, each working for a knockout, but neither was successful, as they appeared to be weakening.

Both men, although tired, fought gamely through the last two rounds without any apparent advantage to either man, and Referee Buckley declared it a draw.

MACKE WANTS MCGOVERN.

(Journal Special Service.) Brooklyn, Jan. 6.—Willie Mack, the local featherweight, is looking for a match with any of the men in his class, Young Corbett or Terry McGovern preferred. Recently Mack issued the following statement:

"I have frequently been asked to fight McGovern to meet me for $1,000 a side before any club offering a suitable purse. I have offered a Philadelphia boxing club to meet McGovern on these terms: McGovern to receive $1,000 win or lose, and I, if I win, $200 to pay training expenses. If I lose I do not want one cent of the money fought for. Sam Harris is not inclined to let his man meet me in the ring."

FOOTBALL PLAYER DEAD.

(Journal Special Service.) Ann Arbor, Mich., Jan. 6.—One of the players who participated in the hard fought Minnesota-Michigan games last fall, Cecil Gooding, died at his home in this city yesterday. Gooding was severely injured in the game, and it is thought that he had weakened his constitution causing his death.

LOCAS AND DUGDALE PLANNING A LEAGUE

(Journal Special Service.) Spokane, Wash., Jan. 6.—The Pacific National league officials are actively at sea regarding their plans for next season. President Locas is said to be planning a league to comprise Spokane, Salt Lake, Butte, and another Montana or Utah city to make up a four-club circuit.

A league of that kind seems quite possible, and should be a paying venture, as the railroad jumps are not large, and with towns like Spokane and Butte to depend upon, the league should be a success.

The formation of a league of those dimensions would freeze the rotund Seattle magnate out entirely, unless he should consent to move to one of the towns in the proposed new circuit.

This could refuse to do, and states emphatically that he cannot be driven out of the city of hills and home of his friend Lou Cohen.

Mr. Dugdale has evolved a scheme of his own which he hopes to have adopted by the Locas faction. His plan is to form a league to comprise the following towns: Seattle, Spokane, Salt Lake, Butte, Helena or Great Falls, and Bellingham.

Bellingham is the newly consolidated cities of Whatcom and Fairhaven, and is a town of no mean size, and the Seattle magnate thinks it capable of supporting a baseball team.

A league comprising these cities would be free from extra long railway jumps and in the opinion of the Seattle magnate would be a success.

The desertion of Tacoma has enhanced the chances of Bellingham being given a franchise, as it is desirable to have two towns on the sound represented in the league, to even matters up when the clubs go West.

Just what action the league will take on the proposition is not known at present, but something will be done at the league meeting to be held here shortly.

RACING RESULTS

(Journal Special Service.) San Francisco, Jan. 6.—The surprise at Oakland yesterday was the defeat of the six-furlong handicap. Arcade won out by a neck from Martinmas. The Don captured the show money. Kenilworth was the best on the muddy track. Namtor was the favorite in the race, but finished a poor third. Stuyve leading all the way. Summary:

CONTESTS AT WORLD'S FAIR.

(Journal Special Service.) St. Louis, Jan. 6.—Much has been said and written about the intercollegiate athletic games that are to be a feature of the approaching world's fair, but it has remained for William L. Ransom, president of the Cornell university debate council, to suggest that contests of college brains as well as college brawn might be made an interesting feature of the exposition.

Mr. Ransom's idea, which has been favorably received by the exposition directors, is for a grand intercollegiate debating contest in which the leading colleges and universities of the entire country might be represented.

At the present time there are debating leagues composed of groups of colleges such as Yale, Harvard and Princeton in the East, Wisconsin, Iowa and Minnesota in the central states and University of California and Leland Stanford on the Pacific coast. Mr. Ransom points out that the type of speaking, thinking and debating done in these various sections differs a great deal and he suggests that it would be an interesting presentation to the leaders of the various leagues to meet in St. Louis in a grand contest to determine the national championship. The scheme has been communicated to the heads of the various colleges and awaits their endorsement.

MURROE MAY WRESTLE ROONEY.

Jack Murroe is to be matched in a handicap wrestling bout with John Rooney, a local man who is anxious to meet him. The final arrangements will be perfected today.

HUNT CLUB CHANGES PROGRAM.

The Portland Hunt club cross country ride scheduled for January 16, has been cancelled and a point to point race substituted. The same course will be followed as on New Year's day.

WILL CORBETT MEET BRITT?

POSSIBILITY OF A MATCH BEING ARRANGED BETWEEN THE DEFEATED AND THE CALIFORNIA LIGHTWEIGHT NOW AGITATING FUGGOM-BRITT IS WILLING.

There seems to be a possibility of a match being arranged between Young Corbett, the featherweight champion, and Jimmy Britt, the claimant of the honors in the lightweight division.

Corbett's well known dislike to strenuous training exercises, that are necessary on every occasion that requires him to make the featherweight limit, has caused the little champion to think seriously of entering the heavier class.

In case he, Corbett, should so decide, the most logical opponent that could be selected for him would be James Britt.

Both men are real fighters, and a match between them would be a genuine treat to the pugilistic fans throughout the country.

When questioned regarding the proposed match, Young Corbett was non-committal regarding his own opinion as to the possibility of such a match being made. He thought it a trifle too early in the season for a discussion on the subject, as he intends to take a rest for awhile, and is not anxious for any fights in the near future.

As for Britt, he is quite satisfied to await Corbett's pleasure in the matter. He stated in an interview recently:

"I am not hunting Corbett. I did not challenge the winner of the Hanlof-Corbett fight, and I will only agree to box Corbett on rational terms. I certainly do not propose to make a present of the match before entering the ring. I understand he has refused to meet me at 130 pounds, weigh at 6 o'clock, and I want to say that if he insists on 125 pounds there will never be a fight between us. I kept after Corbett for 15 months, making all kinds of propositions, but I am not pursuing that course at present. I think the weight that suits me is suitable to him, and I am not going to make any sacrifices."

Judging from Britt's stand on the affair, it remains with Corbett as to whether a match will be arranged or not. Corbett has announced his intention of taking life easy for a few weeks, and until he announces his readiness to talk business nothing will be known as to a satisfactory arrangement being made between the two.

From a San Francisco standpoint the match would be the best possible drawing card that could possibly be selected. Meanwhile, the sporting fraternity all over the country await the outcome of this interesting proposition.

COULD NOT STAND FOR "OLD ENGLAND"

(Journal Special Service.) The California horse, Old England, Representative Timothy "Dry Dollar" Sullivan's well known racing horse, is no more. He isn't dead, but he has a new name. Henceforth he will be known as Old Ireland. Under the rules of the Jockey club it cost $100 to change a horse's name, but Sullivan's horse's value has increased five times that amount. Last year Old England ran second in the Metropolitan handicap.

"If he had a good Irish name," said Sullivan, "he would have had first place easy. There's more in a name than money, as that old saying would say, expect of a good horse bowed down with Old England?"

If a man wants to change his name all it costs him is to submit a good reason and a formal petition to the proper authority, and the thing is done. Sullivan declared yesterday that respectable horses ought to have the same privilege. "There's something wrong with our constitutional law," said he, "when a horse who is Irish by every tradition and instinct must cough up $100 to get rid of an English name, but, after all, it's worth the money, as that old saying will show. Why, bless your soul, the nag actually appreciates the honor. He brightened up like a boy out of school when I first called him 'Old Ireland.'"

Somebody started the story that Old Ireland was to be given a new outfit of green blankets to go with his new name, but Sullivan said that was not true. He is very sure, however, that the horse now has a great future.—San Francisco Bulletin.

SIX-DAY RACE A SUCCESS.

(Journal Special Service.) Chicago, Jan. 6.—The recent six-day bicycle race in Madison Square garden, New York, was a financial success and the promoters cleared up $51,000, despite the fact that it cost them nearly $20,000 before the starting gun was fired.

There is talk of holding a race like it in Chicago in 1905, and negotiations will be started soon to get the Coliseum in the Windy City for the purpose. This event will follow the next New York six-day, and all the men who compete in the Madison Square garden contest are expected to come on to Chicago.

In speaking of the recent race one of the contestants said:

"The race wasn't such a strain as you might think and the riders were not doped."

TO DO WITHOUT PROFESSIONALS.

(Journal Special Service.) Annapolis, Jan. 6.—A movement is on foot at the academy whereby professional football coaching is to be dispensed with in the future.

BLOOD

On account of its frightful hideousness, Blood Poisoning is commonly called the King of all Diseases. It may be either hereditary or contracted. Once the system is tainted with it, the disease may manifest itself in the form of Scrofula, Eczema, Rheumatic Pains, Stiff or Swollen Joints, Eruptions or Copper-Colored Spots on the Face or Body, Little Ulcers in the Mouth or on the Tongue, Sore Throat, Swollen Testicles, Falling out of the Hair or Eyebrows, and finally a Leprosy-like Decay of the Flesh and Bones. If you have any of these or similar symptoms, get BROWN'S BLOOD CURE. Immediately this treatment is practically the result of life work. It contains no dangerous drugs or injurious medicines of any kind. It goes to the very bottom of the disease and forces out every particle of impure blood. It restores the system to its normal condition, completely and forever. The blood, the flesh, the bones and the whole system are cleansed, purified and restored to perfect health, and the patient prepared to meet the duties and pleasures of life. POISON

CASE SETTLED IN SUPREME COURT WHICH GIVES THIRD OF $150,000 TO A MAN SERVING 10 YEARS IN A CALIFORNIA PENITENTIARY—SERVED TIME ELSEWHERE.

(Journal Special Service.) Spokane, Wash., Jan. 6.—By a decision of the United States supreme court handed down today William L. Tull, now confined in the 10-year sentence in the California state penitentiary, is entitled to a one-third interest in over $150,000 worth of property located in Spokane. He has only a few years yet to serve. Tull has served time in the state prison of Montana and also in the San Jose County, Cal., jail.

The property in question is the Tull, or Marion, blocks, one of the largest buildings in the city.

The case has been fought through the state courts and the United States court, and the litigation with the exception of an accounting as to rents and profits that now amount to $30,000. In 1887 F. M. Tull lived in Kansas, but became tired of his wife and sent her to California on a visit while he sold out his property and came to Spokane. He then returned to Kansas and secured a divorce. When his wife discovered the fact of the divorce she came to Spokane and started suit to set aside the divorce. Tull caved and a settlement was reached and in July of the next year the two were married. He started to make arrangements to borrow a large sum of money and give a mortgage on the Tull block. The wife died and Tull had his brother appointed guardian of the three children of the couple.

Sold Children's Interests.

The brother secured an order to sell the children's interests in the property and he sold it to Tull and gave a mortgage back on the property. The brother later released the mortgage. Tull then sold the property to the German Loan & Savings society, and the brother placed a release on record of the mortgage. Since then the property has increased enormously in value, and is now worth over $150,000. When the heirs became of age they started suit to have the deed set aside and a one-half interest turned over to them.

The supreme court of Washington decided that the Kansas divorce was a fraud and the sale of the property by the guardian was a fraud, and that the three children were entitled to one-half of all the property and its rents and profits. This was three years ago and since then the case has been in the United States courts. The heirs have separated, one of them, Dora May Dormitzer, lives in Chicago. Ernest Tull is living in Cedar Rapids, Ia., and the third is a confirmed criminal and now in the California state prison.

MINING WAR GETTING WARM IN MONTANA

(Journal Special Service.) Helena, Mont., Jan. 6.—The inquiry being held to determine the cause of the fatal explosion in the Michael Davitt mine at Butte, January 1, was profligate in incident last night and several times it looked as if it would break up in a quarrel between the two attorneys.

Both attorneys have been continually objected to questions but it is thought Evans, representing the Amalgamated, and the latter finally remarked that if the county attorney did not want to listen to him he might go home. This brought Breen to his feet with a statement that he would not allow outsiders to bring mining litigation into this inquest in which he was probing only for criminal causes. Mr. Evans persisted and the two attorneys would have come to blows but for the coroner's intervention.

It had been rumored that Heinze was going to produce a witness who had been a miner in the Pennsylvania mine who would testify that large blasts had been set off on orders from that company's officers for the purpose of destroying the workings and that this had been done without warning to employees in Heinze's Rarus mine. Allen was this witness and his testimony was sensational in the extreme. The Rarus people have claimed that the explosion December 12 was a result of these orders, and Allen fixed the date of his testimony at that time. He was certain that 10 boxes of dynamite had been used and so frequent and awful were the blasts that miners were unable to work that shift. County Attorney Breen questioned Aleck McDonald and practically accused him of being in the employ of the Pennsylvania company, and continued by asking if he had not suggested to a miner named Harris that there would be $2,000 in it if he would come to the inquest and testify that powder had been carried from the Rarus to the "raise" on the night of the explosion. This was denied and when Harris followed he denied that he had ever heard of such an offer.

When Thomas Knight was asked to stand he remarked that Amalgamated Superintendent Winchell was a liar. From Thomas C. Faull, Mr. Evans brought out the information that two quarreling factions of men in the Pennsylvania workings, near the scene of the explosion December 12, were working on practically the same stopes, that they were leasers and were trying to extract the same ore.

WILL FIGHT OLD SCHOOL DENTISTS

(Journal Special Service.) Spokane, Jan. 6.—The dentists in the Northwest are going to organize a league for the purpose of fighting the dental law in the different states of Oregon, Washington and California. The new organization is to bind together the "commercial" or advertising dentists to enable them to defend themselves against the "old school" or ethical dentists, who it is claimed are now trying to cripple their rivals or drive them out of business by means of unjust laws, unfair boards of examiners and trumped up damage suits intended to frighten away customers.

Dr. Henry White of Spokane is one of the chief promoters of the new organization. He has just returned from a trip to the East, where he has conferred with the managers of the advertising dentist firms in every state of the union except Maine. He says: "I find that the feeling is general that the time has come for the modern up-to-date dentists to organize and declare for their rights. The progress of the United States along commercial lines has been of such a nature that it has become necessary for a man in order to make a success in dentistry to be in harmony with modern business principles. I find that the feeling is general that the modern up-to-date business dentists must organize and fight the old organization that now has control of affairs."

Alleys Must Go.

Justice Hinkle of this city has announced that he is going to close the alleys that have made Spokane notorious for years. They are the alleys where the immoral women of the city resort. For years the women have paid a regular monthly fine of $10 to $15 a month and have been allowed to ply their trade unmolested. This is all to end and the women will be hauled up and fined until they cannot afford to stay longer. The pulp of the city has been agitating the matter for several weeks and public sentiment has gradually changed to that of hostility against the alleys.

CHRISTENING A KITTEN.

(Journal Special Service.) Paris, Jan. 6.—M. Pierre Loti, whose novels are as well known in America as in Europe, has had baptized in the Bosphorus, with mock pomp and ceremony, his ship's kitten. The affair took place on board the French guardship Vautour, which the novelist commands as Captain Vland. Flowers covered guns and guns, and the grand priest of Odin, all robed in white, baptized the kitten "Belkis," which, being interpreted, means "pretty girl."

POULTRY SHOW AT DES MOINES

Des Moines, Iowa, Jan. 6.—The poultry show which opened in Des Moines today under the auspices of the state association is one of the largest exhibitions of the kind ever held in the West. The exhibits are both numerous and of the highest class and include prize-winning chickens, ducks, turkeys and other varieties of domestic fowl. The judging and award of prizes was begun today under the direction of A. L. Fodrick and W. S. Russell, well known judges of Ottumwa. The exhibition is to continue until the middle of the coming week.

RICH MEN ARE NOT ALL HAPPY.

Croesus, King of Lydia, Had Troubles of His Own, and There Are Others.

Croesus, the John D. Rockefeller of the kingdom of Lydia, was very well-to-do in worldly goods and chattels. As rich as Croesus is a saying about 2,500 years old. He had his troubles, however, and some of them were full grown. He was taken captive once by Cyrus and only saved himself from being burned alive by quoting a saying of Solon, the Sage. He finally had to flee his kingdom for parts unknown.

Many of the rich men's troubles today come from high living and could be avoided. They are brought on by eating all kinds of rich, heavy foods at irregular times, lack of proper exercise, undue mental strain, unnatural stimulants, etc., and are commonly known as indigestion, dyspepsia and weak stomach. They are serious troubles all right, but not only can they be avoided, but can also be cured, and that without loss of time or proper food and nourishment.

Stuart's Dyspepsia Tablets are the certain relief of dyspepsia, rich and poor alike. There is no such thing as stopping their onward progress now. A great nation has placed its stamp of approval upon their noble work. The thousands and thousands of cures they have effected and the happiness resulting therefrom have made their name a household word throughout the land.

The story of Stuart's Dyspepsia Tablets can be told in a word. They actually do the work that the weak and wasted stomach is unable to do and allow it to recuperate and regain its strength. They contain all the essential properties that the gastric juice and other digestive fluids do, and they digest the food just as a sound and well-stomach would. They relieve the stomach just as one rested and refreshed workman relieves the one on day duty that is tired and worn, and Nature does her own work of restoration. It is a simple, natural process that a child can understand. You can eat all you want without fear of results. Stuart's Dyspepsia Tablets are for sale by all druggists at 50 cents a box. Druggists all know better than to try to get along without them, as the demand for them is great and universal.

Wheat of The Dalles.

That it is a fact that a great amount of wheat is grown around The Dalles is shown by the following: During the past year 689,841 bushels of wheat have been brought to The Dalles. During 1902, 559,448 bushels were received here, making a decided increase in the amount of grain grown in 1903 of 110,245 bushels.

A Displeased Wretch.

Chief of Police Wood yesterday placed under arrest a man—if he could be called such—by the name of Will Riley, and he was brought before City Recorder Tillson under a charge of vagrancy, having no visible means of support, he having landed in The Dalles about two days before with a puny, weakly looking woman who he claimed to be his wife. He placed her in a house of ill fame and was compelling her to support him. When brought before the recorder, Mr. Tillson told him he only wished there was a state law whereby such low cure could be liable to a whipping post and be publicly flogged. Riley was given 30 days at hard labor on the streets.

THEY SAY MARIE IS RATHER OLD

(Journal Special Service.) The Dalles, Jan. 6.—Marie Wainright and "Twelfth Night" have come and gone. It is the general opinion that Miss Wainright would have pleased play-goers more had she been 30 years younger, but the play was better than many shown here. Miss W
