HIGH SCHOOL IS HONORED BY HUSTON

(Journal Special Service.) Eugene, Or., Jan. 12.—First Lieut. R. S. Huston of company C, Second Oregon Volunteers, has presented the Eugene high school with a complete file of "La Republica Filipino," General Aguinado's official newspaper, from the time the paper was established, several months before the beginning of the insurrection, until the Filipinos were driven out of Malolos, where the paper was published, that place being Aguinado's headquarters. The gift is appreciated very much by the school and the students are brushing up on their Spanish so as to be able to read the papers.

The new high school building was occupied this morning for the first time. The formal dedication will take place in a few days. It is expected that Governor Chamberlain, State Superintendent Ackerman and other prominent persons will be here and deliver addresses for the occasion.

Booth-Kelly Reaching Out. The Booth-Kelly Lumber company, which has heretofore confined its timber land buying operations to the Cascade mountains east of Eugene, is reported to have cruisers in the vicinity of Blanche and Lake creek in the Coast range in the western part of Lane county, for the purpose of estimating the amount of timber there with a view of purchasing a large tract. In the event that the purchase is made, it is said, the company will erect one or more large mills at the mouth of the Blushaw river and ship their lumber by water to California points. This step may be made necessary if the railroad company continues its present high tariff on lumber from here to California. At present the Booth-Kelly mills are nearly all idle on that account and their once extensive business has been almost ruined.

Modern Woodmen. The Springfield lodge of Modern Woodmen of America, which was organized over a year ago, but which, on account of lack of interest, was allowed to disband, has been reorganized by State Deputy Simmons of Portland with the following new officers: S. E. McEee, V. C.; Ira T. Young, W. A.; P. M. Gossler, banker; Ernest Kester, clerk; C. O. McEee, escort; J. H. Bidwell, secretary; Jesse Cook, watchman; Nat Blair, W. M. Sutton and J. E. Lathrop, managers.

Mrs. White's Eyesight Restored. Marvelous Cure.

Scotts Mills, Or., Jan. 6, 1904.—Mrs. J. W. Gilstrap, Portland, Or.—May I say to the afflicted, through you, to not be discouraged. I had cataracts on my eyes so severe a character that a Portland oculist said they were incurable, and that within a short time I would lose my sight entirely. He said that if they could be removed at all it would necessitate the use of a knife. I was treated for six weeks at the Gilstrap Healing Parlors, 213 Alisky Building, and am rejoiced to say that the cataracts have entirely disappeared and my sight is as good as could possibly be expected for one of my years.

I was likewise a severe sufferer from rheumatism, and while being treated for my eyes was so greatly benefited that whereas I could not for years raise my hands to my head, I can now do so without the least suffering. I consider Mrs. Gilstrap one of the most WONDERFUL women I ever met. Her treatment has been a priceless boon to me, and I earnestly entreat all sufferers from eye or rheumatic afflictions not to rest until they have placed themselves in charge of this great healer. During all the time I was treated by Mrs. Gilstrap I was not given any drugs or medicine at all. My advice to sufferers is not to be prejudiced, but go to Mrs. Gilstrap and see what she can do for you. It will cost nothing to see and chat with her. One of her treatments will convince the most skeptical.

MRS. M. V. WHITE, Scotts Mills, Or., P. O. Box 65.

Mrs. Gilstrap is one of the most noted American druggists doctors. She came to Portland after a long career of success in the East, but to locate here. Relatives persuaded her to become a resident of this city, and within two months the lady has perfected some of the most WONDERFUL cures ever known here. Mrs. White was almost totally blind. Her rheumatism was so severe that she had not raised her hand to her head for 35 years, and these amazing cures effected by Mrs. Gilstrap are the astonishment of the community in which the aged lady resides.

MRS. GILSTRAP CAN CURE YOU AS WELL AND AS PERFECTLY AS SHE HAS CURED SCORES OF OTHERS SINCE SHE OPENED HER PARLORS HERE.

THE GILSTRAP HEALING PARLORS Suite Entrance 213 Alisky Building, Third and Morrison. Office phone, Black 3687; residence, Scott 4257. Office hours 10 to 12, 1 to 4.

MADE TOO CHEAP A PRICE FOR HIS HOPS

(Journal Special Service.) Salem, Jan. 12.—In the circuit court yesterday the case of Benjamin Schwartz & Sons, the New York hop buyers, with offices here, against Lim Gow, a Chinaman and several others, came to trial before a jury. The suit was brought to enforce the sale of a crop of hops, bargained by the Chinaman to Schwartz & Sons, but which he later refused to deliver. A number of witnesses were examined, when the question of the present price of strictly prime hops was sprung, expert hop dealers testifying that hops of that grade were now worth 26 to 28 cents, while testimony was introduced showing that the hops were bargained for on December 2, 1903, at 17 cents. The defense at this point, asked for a continuance, in order to secure material testimony to answer this phase of the case. The hearing will be continued today.

The Marion county court yesterday afternoon appointed the election judges and clerks for the June election, three judges and three clerks being named for each precinct, except in three of the larger precincts, where double boards were appointed.

Today the court is preparing the jury list for the year 1904, and it is expected that adjournment will be had this evening.

County Judge Scott expects to leave tomorrow on a trip to Washington, D. C., where he will meet with delegates from the various states, appointed by the National Good Roads association, to appear before congress and urge the passage of the Brownlow good roads bill that is now pending. He will be absent for several weeks.

Estate of John Lichty. The estate of the late John Lichty, the sawmill man who was drowned at Silverton on the first day of January, was yesterday brought to court near that city, where it was admitted to probate, upon the petition of a number of the heirs, and L. J. Adams was appointed administrator. Mr. Adams is an attorney of Silverton. The estate consists of real property valued at $38,000, and personal property worth $7,000, and the administrator is in possession of $20,000. There are 11 children, heirs of deceased, six of them of lawful age.

Mr. Lichty was a prominent man in the Silverton section, and owned one of the most important industries there, his sawmill being of great value to that community. The estate will be administered upon at once, and it is the intention to continue the business founded by deceased.

They Plead Guilty. L. D. Massey and Lee Jeffries, two residents of Mill City, who were last week indicted in the circuit court for selling liquor at retail without a license, on three separate charges, yesterday afternoon, withdrew their pleas of not guilty in one case, and pleaded guilty. This was done with the understanding, had with the district attorney, that they would be allowed to go on their own recognizance on the other two charges, until the next term of court. The plea was accepted and the men will be sentenced today.

These two men have before this engaged in the liquor traffic, and some time ago were indicted in Linn county, on several charges of selling whiskey without a license. There they pleaded guilty to one charge on the condition that the other charges be dismissed, the district attorney agreeing to this on the promise of the defendants that they would in future refrain from violation of the liquor law. The purpose of holding the two indictments over the defendants is to compel them to live up to their promise to refrain from selling liquor in violation of the law. The district attorney, in presenting the case to the court, stated that the two cases still on the docket would be continued, with the court's permission, pending the good behavior of the two defendants.

Banks Have a Score. The two Salem banks—Ladd & Bush and the Capital National—received a scare yesterday afternoon, as the officials of the two institutions were for a moment excited. The Capital National bank of Portland, to verify its order for $15,000 to be sent up by the evening train, but an order had been sent to Portland the request was a mistake. A few minutes later the Ladd & Bush bank was asked by Ladd & Tilton of Portland to verify its order for $20,000. This caused excitement, for no money was needed by Ladd & Bush. The officers of the two banks conferred, and fearing that a holdup of the evening train was intended, the two Portland banks were warned not to forward the funds, and the express company put on its guard.

Later it was found that the bank at Dallas, finding it impossible to open its vaults, had borrowed money from the bank at Independence for use during the night, and had sent orders to Portland for money for both institutions, and the messages were said to have been changed in transmission, though this seems almost incredible.

SHE WAS A WOMAN AND NOBODY KNEW (Journal Special Service.) Vale, Or., Jan. 12.—An individual known as Joe Monahan, and aged about 45, died suddenly at the home of a neighbor, Barney Malloy on Succor creek, January 6, 1904. After death it was discovered that deceased was a woman, who for 20 years had lived in the southern part of Malheur county in the masquerading garb of a man; performing nearly all kinds of labor belonging in a stock country, such as fence building, hay cutting and hauling and sheep herding. Deceased had also worked in the quartz mills of Silver City and had served as a juror in the district court in Malheur county. The deceased had a homestead and a band of cattle valued at about $1,500. Her antecedents and her history previous to her coming to this country are unknown and the postmasters said that in all these years she had never received a letter, except a notice of taxes or of some local nature. The motive which prompted her to such a course will probably always remain a deep mystery.

Clergymen Take Notice. Applications for clergy certificates for the year 1904 are now at the office of A. L. Craig, passenger agent of the Oregon Railroad & Navigation company, and those entitled to permits will please call at room 2, Worcester building, for the same.

DEMOCRATS FORM AN ACTIVE SOCIETY
(Journal Special Service.) Oregon City, Or., Jan. 13.—As an aftermath of the Jackson day banquet the enthusiastic Democrats of Clackamas county are today circulating petitions and getting signers to form a Democratic club in Oregon City. It is proposed to organize the club within the next few days and to make it the rallying point for the Democrats in this county for the June and November campaigns. There are some 300 or 400 Democrats in Oregon City who are legal voters, and they are all to be brought in close touch and worked up into a lithe cohesive fighting army. The purpose of the club are to distribute literature and for the members to become more closely acquainted and get the party in the county in better shape for the summer and fall campaigns. The club will meet at least once a month and at each meeting it is proposed to have an able speaker from away from home to entertain the boys. After the club is organized and running nicely in Oregon City it is the intention to proceed at once to organize a club in each voting district of the county and for the Oregon City club, with its best speakers, to visit each local club at least once during the campaign, and in this manner to bring the Democracy of the city and country precincts into more harmonious connection.

SOLDIERS HAVE TO STAND PENALTIES
(Journal Special Service.) Vancouver, Wash., Jan. 12.—The reviewing authority has made known the findings of the general court-martial in the cases of Private William H. Coles, hospital corps, U. S. A., and Private Lawrence Reilly, Co. A, 18th infantry. In the case of Coles, the court found him guilty of absence without leave, repeatedly, using insulting language to a fellow soldier, and willfully disobeying the orders of a sergeant of the hospital corps. There having been four previous convictions taken under consideration, Coles was sentenced to be confined at hard labor under charge of the post guard for six months and to forfeit $60 of his pay, but the sentence was mitigated to three months' confinement at hard labor and $30 forfeiture of his pay. In the case of Private Reilly, the court found him guilty of larceny of a pair of shoes, the property of a fellow soldier, and two previous convictions having been considered, was sentenced to be dishonorably discharged from the service of the United States, to forfeit all pay and allowances due him and to be confined at hard labor at such post as the reviewing authority should designate, for the period of six months.

DELICIOUS FLUX FUDGING.
One cup of granulated sugar and half a cup of butter beaten to a smooth white cream. Add half a pound of sweet chopped to a powder, five beaten eggs, a cup of milk and a tablespoonful of orange juice.
Put in a cupful each of seeded and unseeded raisins, cleaned currents, and a half cupful of minced citron. Mix fruits well together and dredge with flour. Then stir into the batter, add a greater teaspoonful each of powdered cloves, cinnamon and nutmeg. Stir lightly in at last a quart of flour. Turn all into a well-greased mould and steam six hours.

HILLSBORO SCHOOL TAX.
Hillsboro, Or., Jan. 12.—The special school tax levy for this district has been made. The tax this year, in addition to the levy made by the county, is 5 mills. The county levy will be large enough to make a fund of $6 per child of school age. Last year the special tax in this district was 10 mills. The district will have money enough to keep the eight grades in session for nine months, pay incidental expenses and pay a $1,000 bond for indebtedness. The district will then owe only $4,000 drawing 5 per cent interest.

Graves Designs.
Officer Graves, who was recently appointed on the police force of Vancouver, resigned last night for the purpose of accepting a better paying position, and M. Thiede has been appointed as police officer in his place.

It is Surely Astonishing
At the immense crowds that fill the Merrill Cyclopedia building, Sixth street, near Washington, to get a share of the royal bargains at the Merchants' Fair Sale. It is no boast nor idle talk when we say it is the largest and finest stock of suits, overcoats, pants, hats, shoes, underwear, shirts, sweaters, boys' and children's clothing, etc. Some lots are sold as low as 15 cents on the dollar of value and in no case is the price over half value. The store is open till 9 p. m., every evening, in order to give all an opportunity to buy. Don't miss it. If you do, you miss a royal bargain that you'll not get again in years.

over the Willamette falls, the judge overruled the demurrer of the defense to the complaint. Five days were allowed the defense in which to make answer. The fish ladder was ordered constructed by the last regular session of the legislature and $5,000 appropriated for that purpose. The work was begun and actively under way when the complainant filed his injunction suit, asking that the work be stopped and the construction of the fish ladder permanently enjoined, claiming that its construction would materially interfere with some fishing rights or privileges belonging to the complainant.

between the laborers and the contractors. The laborers are not members of unions, and while there was some controversy and they threatened to strike for higher wages, only a few did so. It is further stated that the story of the laborers, who are members of the union, was to strike in sympathy, was caused by two or three of the laborers falling to go to work just about the time the trouble occurred with the laborers. The laborers say that the contractors must settle their own troubles or join the union before they can ask aid from that organization.

Some of the cement finishers who have been engaged in the government work asserted today that the laborers never intended to take up the trouble of wages
