BOY STRUCK BOTTOM OF ELEVATOR SHAFT

(Journal Special Service.) Vancouver, Wash., Jan. 15.—William Munger met with a serious accident last night while attending to his duties at the Hotel Columbia, by falling down the elevator shaft. The first that was known of his mishap was through Mr. Hadden, the proprietor. Mr. Hadden states that a board had been dropped down the shaft and went to investigate the cause. On approaching the place he heard a groan and hastened forward to find that young Munger lay at the bottom of the shaft in an unconscious condition. Dr. Chalmers was called immediately, and after a hasty examination, entertained hopes for his recovery.

MARVELOUS CURE

Scott's Mills, Or., Jan. 6, 1904.—Mrs. J. W. Gilstrap, Portland, Or.—May I say to the afflicted, through you, to not be discouraged. I had cataracts on my eyes of so severe a character that a Portland oculist said they were incurable, and that within a short time I would lose my sight entirely. He said that if they could be removed at all it would necessitate the use of a knife. I was treated for six weeks at the Gilstrap Healing parlors, 212 Alisky building, and am rejoiced to say that the cataracts have entirely disappeared and my sight is as good as could possibly be expected for one of my years.

I was likewise a severe sufferer from rheumatism, and while being treated for my eyes was so greatly benefited that whereas I could not for years raise my hands to my head, I can now do so without the least suffering. I consider Mrs. Gilstrap one of the most WONDROUS women I ever met. Her treatment has been a priceless boon to me, and I earnestly entreat all sufferers from eye or rheumatic afflictions not to rest until they have placed themselves in charge of this great healer. During all the time I was treated by Mrs. Gilstrap I was not given any drugs or medicine at all. My advice to sufferers is not to be prejudiced, but go to Mrs. Gilstrap and see what she can do for you. It will cost nothing to see and chat with her. One of her treatments will convince the most skeptical.

MRS. M. U. WHITE.

Scott's Mills, Or., P. O. Box 65.

Mrs. Gilstrap is one of the most noted American druggists. She came to Portland after a long career of success in the East, but to locate here. Relatives persuaded her to become a resident of this city, and within two months she had perfected some of the most WONDROUS cures ever known here. Mrs. White was almost totally blind. Her rheumatism was so severe that she had not raised her hand to her head for 35 years, and these amazing cures effected by Mrs. Gilstrap are the astonishment of the community in which the aged lady resides.

MRS. GILSTRAP CAN CURE YOU AS WELL AND AS PERFECTLY AS SHE HAS CURED SCORES OF OTHERS SINCE SHE OPENED HER PARLORS HERE.

FARMERS WILL WORK FOR NOMINATION LAW

(Journal Special Service.) Oregon City, Jan. 15.—Tualatin camp, K. O. T. M., held its regular semi-annual installation of officers at its hall in this city last evening. Past Master William H. H. conducted the installation. The following officers were installed: J. Joseph Black, commander; D. H. Courtney, lieutenant commander; Ed E. Taylor, recorder; Millard Hatt, finance keeper; J. W. McNulty, chaplain; Dr. E. A. Sommers, physician; Professor Betts, musician; A. J. Wynan, sergeant; Ira Lawrence, master-at-arms; J. Barry, first master of the guard; F. Darling, second master of the guard; D. Jones, sentinel; C. C. Cole, picket.

Democratic Enthusiasm.

Since the Democratic banquet on last Friday night the Democrats of this county have been so enthusiastic and so much impressed with the idea that they have a chance to win a part, if not all, of the county officials to be elected this coming June, that they have been looking around for suitable timber out of which to construct a Democratic county ticket.

Primary Nomination Bill.

The Pomona grange of Clackamas county took decided steps at its meeting at Oswego this week in favor of the nomination of all candidates for office by the direct primary election method.

The River Rising.

The heavy rains of the past two or three days and the rapid melting of the snow in the mountains has brought a sudden and very rapid rise in the Willamette river at this place. All day yesterday and all last night the waters were creeping up the banks of the river and stretching out into the low places. If the rise continues for another 24 hours some parts of the Willamette mill and the Crown paper mill will have to close down on account of the high water. The island below the falls is entirely under water this morning. The river below the falls is a turbulent, angry stream and is carrying a great deal of driftwood in its current.

INDEPENDENCE

(Journal Special Service.) Independence, Or., Jan. 15.—In the suit of J. L. R. K. Morgan, which was tried in Dallas, a decision was rendered by Judge Boise granting a decree to the plaintiff. The case was over two acres of land which both parties claimed through defects in a deed of transfer, and the suit was brought to have the deed rectified and the plaintiffs placed in possession of the same. Considerable interest has been centered in the case over the fact of the county records and deeds showing a transfer of the whole of the property, but the court decided that the intention of the parties was to transfer but one-half of the property, although the deed showed the whole. Easements were shown on both the deed and mortgage, but this was construed to be a misconstruction in the makeup of the deed and was decided to be unintentional error, which was explained in the trial, but that the intentions were for the north half of the property only.

Death of Mrs. Iff.

Mrs. Nancy J. Iff, who died here the first part of this week, was the wife of Mr. William J. Iff, who has been a resident of this place but a short time. The children are Mrs. Rice of Mouth, the wife of the principal of the state normal training department; Miss Maude Iff, in the Independence public schools as teacher, and two sons, Harry and Charles, both in business here.

Local Briefs.

Mr. John Johnson, who has been here from Eugene, returned to his home Saturday.

Mr. E. E. Paddock returned from Corvallis this week.

J. C. Hayer of Dallas, proprietor of the Dallas Observer, was visiting here this week on business, mainly in connection with the case of the Independence in Marion county, has been quite low for several days. While up the river a log rolled and crushed his foot badly, and he will be unable to be out for some time.

K. C. Eldridge, proprietor of the creamery here, was in Jefferson this week on business connected with a like plant at that place.

It is reported here that a movement is on foot for the organization of a stock company to operate a sawmill. The matter is not public as yet, and the location of the site not known. The mill will be built by local parties and cost about 30,000 feet of lumber per day. It is understood the logs will be brought by rail from Falls City.

OF FAIRVIEW INTEREST.

(Journal Special Service.) Fairview, Or., Jan. 15.—Welcome Turner and wife left Tuesday for McMinnville; where they will make their future home. Mr. Turner disposed of his house and property to Mr. John Piper.

Frank Ellison and wife of Hood River visited his brother, Will Ellison, and friends in Fairview Tuesday and Wednesday.

The Ladies' Aid society of the Methodist church met Thursday afternoon with Mrs. J. H. Snover. The meeting was purely social and no mission work was done.

Governor is Entertained.

The reception given by the Eugene Commercial club to Governor Chamberlain yesterday afternoon was largely attended by prominent business and professional men and instructors at the university. After an hour or so of handshaking and conversation the governor became engaged in a bowling contest and he proved to be an adept at the sport, running up a big score against his opponent, President P. L. Campbell of the university.

In the evening the governor acted as one of the judges at the debate between the University of Oregon and Whitman college.

"A Fight for Life."

Spokane, Wash. Jan. 15.—The romance of a young couple of Colfax has been suddenly cut off by the prompt action of the young lady's grandfather. A marriage license has been issued in Whitman county and the couple will be married at home. The groom is J. P. Lightfoot and the bride Dora Salta, who is less than 15 years of age. Tuesday Lightfoot telephoned the young lady from Spokane to come here and meet him and they would be married. The girl confided to a friend that it was their intention to take an ocean voyage and to be married in mid-ocean on the steamer. The grandfather, hearing about it, made Lightfoot secure a license and they will be married at home.
