its final session yesterday afternoon.

There was the ratification of the new corps of officers elected by the new executive committee that came up.

Then, too, there was the most excelnt address by the Hon. J. R. Anderson, deputy minister of agriculture of British Columbia, entitled "The Evils of Cross-bred or Scrub Sires," which appeared in yesterday's Journal.

Mr. Ferguson of Iowa asked the privilege of saving a few words. He reminded the convention that Jim Hill had seen fit to denominate the proposed Panama canal as a ditch for the passage of baanas, or something of that sort. Notwithstanding this most awful condemnation by the Great Northern magnate, Mr. Ferguson hoped that he would yet present, on a return railroad ticket readvia the Northern Pacific.

W. W. Banks has been appointed assistant United States district attorney and his commission is now on the way from Washington. A telegram was received early this afternoon, announcing that Banks was to have this position. He had the unanimous endorsement of the Oregon delegation and was strongly recommended by prominent members of the bench and bar. It was expected that he would go into office about January 1, but for some unexplained reason the appointment was delayed. It is said that the delay was due to the friction which arose between the Oregon senators and Attorney-General Knox over the latter's selection of C. A. S. Frost, to aid in prosecuting the timber frauds in this state. Knox is reported to have been much irritated over the public criticisms of Frost by the senators, regarding them as reflecting upon himself.

While Banks had the support of the entire delegation, Senator Fulton has been especially insistent in demanding his appointment. In the last senatorial contest, Banks, who was one of the rep-resentatives from Multnomah county, Banks has never been forgiven for his refusal to vote for Harvey Scott and it was argued that his political preferment would be exceedingly distasteful to the editor. In spite of Scott's emphatic declaration that he "would not be the wheel horse to drag the Mitchell wagon out of the mire," Carey still en-tertained hopes that the Oregonian might be induced to give its support to the Mitchell campaign, and he therefore deprecated anything which would cause ran: Harney, E. In advising the postponement of the Banks appointment, Carey may have been actuated also by friendship for Edwin Mays, the incumbent of the office, whose had already done all that could be expected of him to placate Harvey Scott, and would do no more.

W. W. Banks is 27 years of age, and has been a resident of Portland since he was 13. He has never held any public office except that of representative in the state legislature, to which he was elected June 2, 1902. He was married nine days later, June 11. He is well known in this city where he has been actively engaged in the practice of law for several years.

CELESTIAL ROBBED AT PISTOL'S POINT

At the point of pistols two highwaymen compelled Sam Long, an aged Chinese laundryman, to diagorge $25.60 of his hard-earned wages Thursday night. The holdup has since been kept quiet, but Detectives Day and Keiner are investigating the case, and today Sam Long visited the city jail in an effort to dentify a prisoner as one of the thieves. The man in question was declared not to be one of the thugs by the Chinaman. Sam Long's laundry is at 631 Front street, between Sheridan and Baker streets. It was after 10 o'clock at night when the Chinaman, who was still working at his washing, was awakened from his reverie by the entrance of two strangers. One was tall, the other short. The larger man held a pistol to Sam's head on the stove. I was sitting about four and made him understand that money feet away on a bench. I saw the cartand made him understand that money was wanted. This man had a white handkerchief tied over his eyes as a the translation of which mean: 'Unity mask, but the shorter wore no mask, After a hurried search the smaller thug All I had time to do was to fall off the found Sam's money box on the counter

The Chinaman is very anxious to find the pair of thugs and he states he does not care for the loss of the money. The laundry is near the Front-street bridge and it is thought that the robbers made their escape by going below the bridge.

VERDICT AGAINST CHIEF OF POLICE

After nearly two hours' deliberation

the jury in the damage case of Edward C. Lewis against Chief of Police Charles H. Hunt returned a verdict in favor of Lewis in the sum of $50. The verdict carries with it the costs of the suit, which were not very heavy, and the statutory attorney's fee of $10. The case was submitted to the jury at 3:40 half of the First Cathedral class, with an oil painting of Mr. Malcolm. It was formally accepted by Col. John damages were only exemplary. They McCracken.

The following 45 members took all three degrees: James F. Mahon, Burns; Frank J. Habelt, Ione; C. E. Cochran, Union; W. A. Thatcher, Gelser; George to detain Lewis 17 days in the city jail care a cent for the damages or the costs.

All I wanted to establish was the principle that the police had no right to detain a man for 17 days without bringing him before a committing magistrate.

I and Watta made our fight contains the police court this morning A. L. McFadden was held to the grand jury in $1,000 boil. McFadden was arrested at Toledo.

Or., several days ago on a charge of forgery preferred by J. B. Tilleton.

two days' work in establishing a prin-Henry E. McGinn, senior attorney for Chief Hunt, said: "I hardly think an appeal will be taken, for the amount of damages awarded is so small that it is hardly worth while to go to further costs. The evidence did not show that Lewis had been in any way injured by his confinement or by his shackles, but the jury found that there had been a technical violation of the law in regard to the detention of prisoners and that he was entitled to damages."

TAX LEVY SET AT FORTY MILLS

The board of county commissioners at a meeting this morning decided upon a tax levy of 40 mills, and apportioned it, as predicted by The Journal Tuesday evening, as follows:

County . . . . . . . . . . . 6.7 Road 2.1
County library 2
Port of Portland 2.8
City of Portland 9.5
School District No. I. 6.5

mills in school districts where no levy has been made in the Port of Portland district, and a school tax outside of a Port of Portland district of 21.2 mills EMPLOYER PLACES

CHARGE OF FORGERY

After a preliminary examination in the detain a man for 17 days without bringing him before a committing magistrate. I and Watts made our fight on that line without hope of reward, simply to prevent the establishment of a precedent of illegal detention. The jury took our view of the case and so we wen. The costs will amount to about $150 and the statutory attorney's fee will be $20, $10 for each of us, but poor pay for money advanced to McFadden by him.
