WORK OF THE INFORMATION BU-REAU-S4,000 EXPENDED AND 104 RESIDENTS BEOUGHT INTO THE

The first annual report of the Oregon information bureau has been made pub-ic by Assistant Secretary G. G. Birrel. It shows the work of the bureau for 12 months ending January 1, 1904. The preliminary steps of organization and purchase of furniture were taken before the present attaches took charge, which was in last April, when Dr. LeRoy and Mr. Birrel were chosen to push the work of the bureau.

The object of the bureau is to develop and settle Oregon, and for this object 98 subscribers have pledged $16,000. State organizations have been formed to co-operate with the home bureau. Gradually the officers have gathered extensive exhibits of the products of the state and a great amount of literature. The report says that 861 letters have been written and 378 received, 3,104 bleces of literature have been mailed and 17,968 otherwise distributed, and 4,918 visitors have registered at the bureau.

Among other visits of the year, the board of trade and promotion committee of California at San Francisco were in-terviewed and their methods studied. The report adds:

"To carry on our bureau on lines simi-lar to those of our sister state's promotion committee would necessarily mean a larger expenditure of money for advertising and entertainment, as the large bulk of this work is relegated to that committee for handling." Already 104 persons have been located in the state directly through the work of the bureau, and hundreds of others have doubtless been first attracted by the dis-plays and literature of the bureau. One of the settlers has invested in the state $20,000, and, averaging the remainder of the 104 settlers to represent $1,000, the wisdom of the investment in the bu-reau is already believed to be shown. The total expense of the year, much of which was contracted prior to the beginning of the actual work of the bureau in April, is $4,029.63, to which should be added $257 donated in merchandise, printing and telephone service. The executive committee and board of trustees of the bureau have full management of its affairs. The board is as follows: Charles E. Ladd, chairman; W. M. Killingsworth, secretary; W. H. Beharrell, T. D. Honeyman and R. C. Judson. The executive committee numbers the following members: W. H. Be-harrell (chairman), R. C. Judson, T. D. Honeyman, Ladd & Tilton's bank is treasurer of the bureau. BIE MONTES IN JAIL.

NERVOUS DELEGATES SAILING THE BAR

It was storming and the waves were dashing high as the tug Tatoosh, bearing President F. J. Hagenbarth and several other members of the National Livestock association and their wives, steamed over the bar at the mouth of the Columbia river Saturday afternoon One of the worst seas he ever encountered was the way the captain of the tug described the water, and before the little vessel had taken half a dozen dips. Secretary Martin and several of the women nervously agreed with the skip-per. The seas became so rough that out of consideration for his passengers the captain put back to calmer water.

Those who made the trip to the mouth of the river and to Seaside Saturday were: Mr. and Mrs. Hagenbarth, Mr. and Mrs. Martin, Major and Mrs. E. C. Hoghton of Mexico, Mr. and Mrs. Jesse Smith of Salt Lake City, Mr. and Mrs. C. J. Mellis of Portland, Mr. and Mrs. Ernest Bross of Portland and Hon. Jerry Simpson of New Mexico.

LABOR GATHERING NEXT MONDAY NIGHT at the last annual election of the or-

A movement is now on foot to have several of the building trades unions to join the American Labor union in a body. Many of the individual members of the unions are in favor of the plan, but others are strenuously opposed to it. Those having the matter in hand state it to be very probable that the proposal will be submitted to the labor organizations at an early date. A referendum vote will then be taken.

An A. L. U. meeting is called for tonight. It will be held in the painters' hall, and several speakers have been chosen to deliver addresses, Among them are B. R. Welch and J. W. Shrader, wage earners with the principles and doctrines of the American Labor union.

LICENSE QUESTION

OF THE OPINION THAT LOCAL BRANCH OF PACIFIC COAST SEA-MEN'S UNION WILL HAVE TO SE-CURE LICENSE.

J. Pearson, local agent for the Pacific Coast Seamen's union has had a conference with Deputy District Attorney Spencer on the subject of whether or not he will be required to take out a license. Mr. Spencer gave it as his opinion that a license would have to be procured, but advised Mr. Pearson to get the advice of his attor-ney before deciding upon what steps to take in the matter.

Charles F. Hammarin arrived Saturday from San Francisco to take the place of Mr. Pearson as agent of the He succeeded to the position

The license proposition will also be submitted by the local agent to the headquarter officials at San Francisco. In the event that the sum of $500, which is the amount of the license specified by law, has to be procured, representatives of the union state it to be very probable that the Portland branch of the organization will be done away with. They are of the opinion that the bene-fits accruing from the organization would not justify the outlay of such a large sum of money.

union was strongly opposed to the sailor boardinghouse bill at the time it was introduced at the state legislature. While they admitted at the time that it was being put on the statute books for the ostensible purpose of curbing the crimps, they also expressed the belief that the law would be given a liberal interpretation so as to include them in the same class as the sailor boardinghouse keepers. As they explain it they are in an entirely different class. While they are engaged in the business of shipping sailors no fee is exacted for furnishing crews, and they conduct no boardinghouse.

NEW BOAT BOILERS ARE BEING INSTALLED

A new kind of boiler, the first ever used on the Willamette and Columbia river steamers, is being built by the Astoria Iron works for the steamer Jordan, owned by the Calendar Trans-portation company. One of a similar de sign is also being manufactured by the Willamette Boller works for the steamer Sadie B., which is now being remodeled at Supple's shippards. They are known as the "Two Shell" or "Hopkin's patent boilers." Although a comparatively new invention the boiler has been in successful operation for sometime past in the steamer Sprague on the Mississippi river. Its advantage lies in the fact that it is much less in diameter, but possesses the same heating surface. By marine engineers it is claimed that the invention is a great improvement over the boilers now in use.
