MORE MYSTERIOUS ESCAPES FROM JAIL

ONE MAN DISAPPEARS DURING THE NIGHT AND OFFICERS ON STATION DUTY ARE NONPLUSSED—TWO TRUSTIES LEAVE MOBS AND ACQUIRE LIBERTY.

That life in the city prison is not one continual round of pleasure is evident from the number of "trusties" who are making their escape. Since Sunday three men serving time in the dingy city bastille have escaped. Two of them were trustees, who left while cleaning up the prison, and the other man disappeared as if swallowed up by the earth.

The number of escapes again illustrates the fact that the city jail is not adapted to the purpose for which it is at present used. Escapes have been frequent during the past six months, but conditions are more to blame than the officers on duty at the station.

The prisoners who eluded the officers this week are S. C. Hendricks, G. Williams and George Woods. The first two were serving time for minor offenses, while the detectives investigated their records, believing that other charges of a more serious nature would develop.

Hendricks was arrested by Detectives Hogeboom and Vaughn in company with Fred Love, a suspected highwayman, who was identified by a victim of a holdup three weeks ago. As a good case could not be shown against either man, Hendricks was sentenced to 20 and Love to 30 days, on charges of being out after hours.

Hendricks was not a "trusty" but was serving his time in the jail cell. His time would have been up the latter part of the present week, but when Jailer Ben Branch tried to find him Monday morning the prisoner was not to be seen. He disappeared during the night and none of the other prisoners knew what became of him. The escape still remains a mystery and the police cannot figure out how he eluded them.

Williams and Wood took advantage of the jailer's absence Monday afternoon. They were trusted prisoners and were taken from their cells by Jailer Branch to mop out the courtroom and halls on the second floor. The jailer was summoned to the jail office to lock up a prisoner, and while he was away the two men quietly disappeared.

Williams was also arrested by Hogeboom and Vaughn and had just begun a sentence of 20 days. The detectives suspected him of being wanted in Chicago, and were in communication with the department of the Windy City regarding the man. Until word was received the officers had him sentenced for 20 days for being out after hours.

Woods was serving 20 days for begging, but his time was almost up. The police are not very deeply grieved over the escapes, as they believe the city is now rid of several undesirable characters.

HOM YOUNG NARROWLY ESCAPES

UNITED STATES CIRCUIT JUDGE BELLINGER DECIDES THAT A MAN ONCE IN THIS COUNTRY HAS A LAWFUL RIGHT HERE AND DISCHARGES THE PRISONER.

Ordered deported by United States Commissioner E. D. McKee; ordered deported then ordered released by United States Circuit Judge Charles B. Bellinger—that in brief is the history of Hom Young, as told by the federal court records.

"I hold," said Judge Bellinger, "that any man found in this country is presumed to be lawfully here. He should have been stopped when he landed, and I will discharge him."

After eight years' continuous residence in the United States, Hom Young, a young Chinese, stood in peril of being sent back to the land of his fathers, and all because he could not produce a certificate showing his legal right to remain in this country. But Judge Bellinger this morning decided that the celestial was entitled to make the land of the eagle his home and renounce forever the protection of the yellow dragon.

The defendant declared he visited China several years ago with his father, and returned in 1895. Since then his certificate, which the elder Hom carried, has been misplaced, and when the local inspectors pounced upon him he had nothing to prove his right to remain.

Hom Young was represented by L. H. Tarpley, and before the commissioner the Chinaman was ordered deported. The case was appealed, and while Mr. Tarpley was in San Francisco, Assistant United States District Attorney Edwin Mays secured an order from the court directing Hom Young's deportation. When Mr. Tarpley returned and learned of the matter he asked for a rehearing, with the result that his client was discharged.

NEW CREAMERY FOR PORTLAND

HAZELWOOD CREAMERY ESTABLISHING ONE OF THE BIGGEST PLANTS IN THE COUNTRY AT FIFTH AND OAK STREETS—PRODUCTS WILL BE STERILIZED.

"The new creamery which the Hazelwood Creamery company has begun to establish in Portland will be one of the largest and best equipped in the United States," said President David Brown today. "The four-story, brick Heywood block, at Fifth and Oak streets, has been leased and a force of men is already at work making it ready for the business. The new plant is expected to be ready for operation about April 1, next. It will have a capacity of about 20,000 pounds of butter a day.

"The new establishment will have the advantage of machinery patented by the company itself. All the cream and butter will be pasteurized by a new process. Even the air will be sterilized in the departments where butter is made and exposed. This is done by causing it to pass through antiseptic, absorbent cotton.

"The company's new plant is backed by abundant capital. Cream will be shipped to the Portland creamery from a radius as high as 800 miles." The Hazelwood Creamery company has plants at Spokane, Topeka, Kan., Lincoln, Neb., and Sioux City, Iowa. The last named being the largest of the kind in the world.

Local capitalists own stock at Spokane, Topeka, Lincoln, Sioux City and Portland. The new plant in Portland will cost between $50,000 and $60,000. It will be about one half the size of the Sioux City creamery, which has 800 men on its payroll. A part of the Heywood building has been sub-let by the Hazelwood company to other tenants.

INTERSTATE LAUNDRY PEOPLE AT TACOMA

(Journal Special Service.) Tacoma, Wash., Jan. 20.—The second semi-annual convention of the Interstate Association of Laundries of Oregon and Washington concluded its session here Monday night by a banquet at the Tacoma hotel. The convention was opened by an address by Mayor Campbell, after which the members adjourned to pay a visit to the Pacific Starch company's plant. Papers were read in the afternoon on important subjects, in which laundries of both states are interested. The association was organized in Portland last summer, with the following officers: President, John T. Portland; vice-president, F. H. Kilbourne, Seattle; secretary and treasurer, Frank T. McCollough, Spokane; executive committee, John Tait, Portland; A. Jacobsen, Seattle; John F. Robinson, Pendleton, and E. H. Freeman, Spokane.

Charged With Murder. The body of Chris Olson, a longshoreman, was found yesterday at the foot of a 30-foot embankment, dead, and Charles Thompson, the companion of Olson, in a spree the night before, is under arrest, charged with drunkenness, but suspected of murder.

Judging from the stiff, prostrate form, the man had been dead several hours. Two ugly gashes on his head pointed toward foul play. Another theory is that he was either pushed or that he fell over the railing from a platform above. Charles Thompson, who is under arrest, is mate on the barkentine Robert Sudden, which is loading lumber at the Tacoma mill for California. Olson was a big fellow, about 45 years of age. He was a member of a Tacoma longshoremen's union.

Fatal Elevator Accident. Carl Bohneke of Enumclaw, a little town in this county, was perhaps fatally injured in an elevator accident here late yesterday afternoon. The elevator in the Bernice office building was in charge of the janitor at the time, and had three other passengers beside Bohneke. The latter had asked to be let off at the sixth floor, while one of the other passengers asked for the fifth. At the fifth floor landing Bohneke tried to follow the other out, but was caught just as the janitor was closing the door. In trying to open the door again, the janitor moved the lever slightly and the cage shot up, pinning Bohneke's shoulder between the door and the elevator framework. He was in terrible agony and is still lying in an uncertain condition.

A VETERAN OF THE CONFEDERACY

COLONEL D. M. WEST.

The portrait of Colonel D. M. West here reproduced is from a war-time photograph in the possession of his family. Colonel West died last Friday in Good Samaritan hospital of Bright's disease. He was 73 years old and earned his title in the Confederate army in which he served under Gen. "Joe" Wheeler and later under General Longstreet. His only remaining relative, J. H. West, lives in Woodland, Or., where the colonel's body was buried.

FIRE AND GAME PROTECTORS MEET

(Journal Special Service.) Portland, Me., Jan. 20.—The North American Fish and Game Protective Association began its fourth annual meeting in this city today with delegates present from various parts of the United States and Canada. The association, as its name implies, is to aid in the enforcement of laws for the protection of the denizens of forest and stream and sportsmen and other ruthless slaughterers of game. An interesting program of papers and discussions has been arranged for the present meeting which is to last through two days.

WEDS FRENCH COURT.

(Journal Special Service.) Paris, Jan. 20.—Miss Constance Livermore, daughter of the Baroness Sillmore and of the late Charles F. Livermore of New York was married in Paris today to Count Odon de Lubersac. Count Odon is the brother of Count Guy and Count Jean de Lubersac and is a noted duelist. Last year he fought a serious duel with Baron Henri de Rothschild. Though the de Lubersac family is not wealthy it possesses a fine residence in Paris and several country places.

PORT OF PORTLAND TAX LEVY HIGHER

NECESSARY TO INCREASE IT TO 2.3 MILLS AS COMPARED WITH 1.5 MILLS FOR 1903—BONDED INTEREST AND DRYDOCK EXPENSES MUST BE PROVIDED.

Owing to additional expenses which have to be defrayed the Port of Portland tax levy has been increased this year to 2.3 mills, compared with 1.5 mills last year. Payments on several outstanding interest-bearing bonds have to be made, and the running expenses of the port incidental to the building and completion of the drydock will be considerably higher than at any previous period.

It is also the expressed intention of the commission to put the harbor in better condition than it has ever been. The levy has been divided into three parts, the first consisting of 1.5 mills on the assessed valuation of the property within the boundary of the Port of Portland. The taxable property amounts to $4,907,795, and a tax of 1.5 mills will produce $74,261. This sum is to be used for general purposes—to operate the dredges, the drydock, etc., and to pay the accrued interest on $350,000 of bonds. These are the original Port of Portland bonds, and are drawing interest at the rate of 5 per cent. The interest on them each year is $17,500, hence there will be available for the operation of the plant the difference between $74,261 and the first named sum, which is $56,761.

A second levy of one mill is made to pay the interest on refunding bonds and to retire $200,000 of the same on June 1, 1904. The refunding bonds consist of $300,000 and draw 4 per cent interest. It is made to pay the interest on outstanding drydock bonds of $155,000, which are drawing a rate of 4 per cent. The interest, therefore, amounts to $7,450. The tax of .3 of a mill will bring $14,825.

SAW THE IROQUOIS THEATRE CATASTROPHE

Charles J. Gray, traveling agent for the Chicago, St. Paul, Minneapolis & Omaha railroad, returned Saturday after a three weeks' visit in the East. Mr. Gray was in Chicago on the fateful afternoon when the hundreds of men, women and children met their death in the Iroquois theatre fire. Speaking of the fire, Mr. Gray said: "I heard the general alarm and went to the scene soon after. From the front of the theatre no one could have suspected what the loss of life was, for during the whole fire not a wretch of smoke nor a crashing window nor scarcely a groan was seen or heard. The crowd jammed traffic for a mile around the theatre until late at night, but until next morning no one believed that more than 50 lives had been lost.

"When the Chicago Journal, on the night of the fire, said that 200 people were killed in the fire, the city smiled. After the fire was over, the front of the theatre did not appear different from what it always had been, since only one small window was broken and the white stone of the building was not stained or blackened.

"I am glad to get back to a warm climate. It was 6 below zero at Toronto, 12 below at St. Paul, and about as bad everywhere else in the East. Business seems to be very good, and our head office at St. Paul has an immense amount of work piled up in what is usually the dull season."

The Sociologist Answered. Are suicides more alarmingly frequent nowadays, or are the newspapers more efficient in chronicling them? Thus asks a distinguished sociologist. Both.
