SHERIFF SEIZES A NEWSPAPER PLANT

(Journal Special Service.)
Salem, Or., Jan. 26.—Sheriff Colbath last evening seized the newspaper and job plant of the Salem Sentinel for taxes for the year 1903, and is now holding the plant for the same, the amount involved being only $25.40. This plant has not paid taxes for some years, In 1902, on March 1, when the assessment was made, the plant was in the name of a man who had a short time before that purchased it, but being unable to pay for the same, he allowed it to go back to the original owner, Claire B. Irvine, and when taxes were due, the plant being personal property and out of the hands of the party to whom it was assessed, the sheriff was unable to secure payment. Now it stands on the tax roll as the property of Mr. Irvine who recently purchased a paper at Ocean Park, Cal., and the entire plant was packed up ready for shipment to that place when the sheriff

The plant will not be released, Mr. Colbath says, until the taxes are paid. New Odd Fellows' Lodge.

Next Saturday evening a new Odd Fellows' lodge will be instituted at Aumsville, in this county, and a large number of the members of the order in this section of the state expect to be present on this occasion. Away back n the early '70s an Odd Fellows' lodge-Fidelty lodge, No. 36—was instituted in Aumsville, the little town at that time being one of the most thriving villages in the Willamette valley. For years the lodge existed there and prospered, but when the town went down the lodge was removed to Turner and there it is to this day. Now the little town is again picking up, a number of members of the order live near it and a new lodge will be instituted with a charter list of about 25. The Salem degree team, composed of picked members of the two lodges here, will confer the de-grees on 18 new members at the institution of the little lodge at Aumsyille, and the work will be witnessed by a number of Odd Fellows from every part of the valley.

A High Order Function.

A backwoods picnic and old-fashioned dance, given by Valley lodge, No. 18, A. O. U. W., and Viola lodge, No. 28 Degree of Honor, last evening, was the social event of the season in lodge circles. The function was only for mem-bers of the two lodges and their familles and was therefore in the nature of a family affair. There was a good crowd feeling resulting in one of the most enjoyable affairs of the winter. The cosmes were all in backwoods style, and old-fashioned red bandanas entered largely into the makeup of the girls. while overalls, stogy boots and hickory shirts were among the articles of wearing apparel affected by the mon.

The crowd enjoyed the pleasures of the evening until a late hour, when a substantial pienic lunch was served and thoroughly enjoyed by all especially as the refreshments were served on table cloths spread on the floor around which the happy company gathered and finished the evening's sport.

The prizes for best odd costumes were:

Gentlemen, Fred McIntire, first; George Mason, second. Ladies, Mrs. W. R. Anderson, first; Mrs. Ed Ristine, second. Liberty Good Roads.

The Liberty Good Roads club south of this city has taken the first steps toward securing the co-operation of the several good roads leagues of the county to hold a county good roads convention at an early date and the proposed venture promises to be a succe Already the matter is being favorably discussed, and a call for a convention of this kind will be issued at an early date. Road building is being seriously discussed and studied in every part of this county since County Judge Scott has taken so active an interest in this matter and the county court has dem-onstrated that good roads can be built here at comparatively small cost, and the movement promises to take definite shape and result in the construction of many permanent roads in this county.

Already there are a number of good roads in Marion county and more will be built in the spring. These are not the old dirt roads that have been plowed up in the spring, used in the summer and found to be bottomless in the winter time. On the contrary, these highways

(Journal Special Service.)
Albany, Or., Jan. 26.—The Lyons

Lumber company, now located at Lyons, a station on the Corvallis & Eastern railroad 40 miles east of this city, will move its mill to Albany if the citizens will purchase a tract of land adjoining town and give a cash bonus of $1,000. The mill has a capacity of 30,000 feet per day and a large box factory and planer will be added. About 50 hands will be employed in the new institution and a rate has been secured from the railroads. The logs will be leaded on cars in the timber and hauled to this city. N. H. Wheeler, who is president frequently made violent attacks on the and manager of the company, is an experienced lumber man and has control of a large body of fine timber within easy reach of the railroad. He informed The Journal correspondent last evening that the company expected to double the capacity of the plant and had orders enough in sight to insure a steady run for many months. The commerce committee will take charge of the project, and as the citizens are en-thusiastic over the proposition, the necessary funds will probably be raised at once. It will mean another large addition to the city's payroll, which is of no mean size at present.

SHE WANTS PRICE OF HUSBAND'S LIFE

Vancouver, Wash, Jan. 26,-Mrs. Wolf, widow of the late Charles Wolf. who was accidentally killed at a railroad crossing the latter part of August last by an engine running into his convey ance on Fruit valley road, has brought suit against the W. & O. Ry. Co. for $40,000. The company in control of the road at that time was the W. & O. Ry. but the road has since become a part of the Northern Pacific system, and is now known as the Northern Pacific railway. Messrs. Rands & Hopkins are acting as attorneys for Mrs. Wolf, and the complaint alleges that the train was running unnecessarily fast and was carelessly operated in that no whistle was sounded in nearing the crossing. thereby giving any alarm that the train was approaching. This, together with many other nar rowly-escaped accidents, has caused much commotion among the settlers in that part of the county, and has re-sulted in the laying out of additional roadways and the contemplated construction of a bridge across Salmon creek. The county surveyor is now engaged on drafting plans for the new bridge, which will give a roadway over the newly-constructed branch of railroad which now has to be crossed When the plans are completed, the county commissioners, it is said, will request the railway company to con-tribute their share of the expense the construction of the same This liability of the railroad company to share in the expense of a bridge of this nature is granted by statute of the state: that is where it is necessary to be constructed, in order to avoid danger. Whether the company will take the view that it is necessary to construct a new bridge for this purpose is questionable. It is hinted at by persons well versed in the affairs of the company that the bridge is an old one and that the county is under obligations to construct a new one whether of higher or of the same elevation. And for this reason it is thought that the railroad company may see a fighting chance and refuse to contribute toward the expense.
