

SOCIETY

and Mr. George Clark. Mrs. Philip Geurtz and Mr. W. W. Shinn took the consolation prizes. Music and dancing concluded the program for the evening.

The "500" club met Monday afternoon, January 25, at the home of Miss Lauer, 474 Everett street. The prizes were awarded to Mrs. J. A. Hazeltine and Mrs. H. J. Houghton. The next meeting of the club will be at the home of Mrs. Leonard.

The Fortnightly Clink club met Thursday evening with Mr. and Mrs. F. S. Doerflinger at their beautiful home, 8 East Twelfth street. The first prizes were given to Mrs. B. H. Brown, Mr. O. H. Fitcham and Mrs. E. S. Brown. The club will give its next party some time in March.

The home of Mr. and Mrs. W. A. Brown was crowded by their friends Saturday evening, January 23, the occasion being a surprise party in honor of Mr. Brown's birthday. The invitation to the Brown residence was totally unexpected, but that did not mar the pleasure of the evening.

The Girls' Clink club was entertained Monday afternoon, January 25, at the home of Miss Ethel Shea, 562 Glisan street. Miss Fairbrother of the Hobart-Curtis assisted Miss Shea in receiving.

The Indo-American Woman's league met Monday afternoon at the home of Mrs. Ollman, 405 Stark street.

A collection of the Whistler etchings are on exhibition in the west room of the Portland Art association in the library building.

Miss Ethel Shea was hostess at an at home given Friday evening, January 22, at her home, 562 Glisan street. Clink was played at the table. The bride and groom will be at home in Cottage Grove after April 1.

William S. McPhee of North Yakima, Wash., and Alberta Murray of Denver, Colo., were married on Tuesday, January 26, at 11 a. m., at the home of the Calvary Presbyterian church. Rev. William Gilbert officiating. After spending several days in and about Portland Mr. and Mrs. McPhee will live at North Yakima.

A quiet wedding occurred Thursday afternoon at the home of Dr. Littlefield, 700 Burnside street, when Miss Francis W. Dupuy and Robert Bryan were married. Rev. J. Bowersox, pastor of the Second United Evangelical church, performed the ceremony, which took place at 3 o'clock. The bride was gowned in blue silk. She was unattended. After the service the guests, numbering about 15, spent a very enjoyable time and shared the luncheon which was served. The wedding cake was baked by Mrs. M. L. Jones.

The members of the Prohibition alliance gave an entertainment Monday evening, January 25, at the hall, East Thirty-fourth and Taylor streets. The Seattle Woman's quartet furnished pleasing music.

The Clinkers club gave its closing party Thursday evening, January 28, at Parsons' hall. The hall was pleasantly decorated. Parsons' orchestra rendered a pleasing program of 15 numbers. The prizes were very elaborate. Many of the season's debutantes were present, appearing in dainty evening gowns of tulle, organdie, crepe de chine and chiffon. Some carried flowers, huge bouquets of roses, violets and carnations. A punch was served between the dances and supper was served at a late hour. The patronesses were: Mrs. J. Wesley Ladd, Mrs. Richard Koehler and Mrs. William McMaster.

A most delightful and interesting program was rendered Saturday evening, January 23, at Foresters' hall, corner Sixth and Washington streets, under the auspices of the Railway Freight Handlers' union, No. 334. The entertainment, which was thoroughly enjoyed by the large audience, was followed by a dance, which continued until midnight. This was the first of a series of entertainments which will be given by the union and was very successful in every respect.

Mrs. S. Livesley gave a delightful reception on Tuesday afternoon in honor of Mrs. Dr. Weil of La Porte, Ind., who is the guest of Mrs. Colonel Bowen of East Alder street. Her pretty new home is artistically arranged and prettily decorated with laurel and ivy, and her guests, some 25 in all, united in declaring it one of the most unique and enjoyable entertainments of the season. Different games were indulged in during the afternoon, some of which were new to the ladies as they were brought by Mrs. Livesley from her old home in Brooklyn, N. Y. Beautiful prizes were awarded to those holding the highest scores, the winners being Mrs. White of S. L. Laks, Mrs. C. L. Ross and Mrs. Dr. Weil. The hostess, Mrs. Livesley, was assisted in receiving by Mrs. W. C. McBride and Mrs. C. L. Boss, Miss Ethel Webb assisted in keeping score, while Mrs. E. L. House, Miss Caldwell and Miss Doerflinger assisted with the refreshments.

The Cavaliers gave another of their delightful parties last evening at Parsons' hall. These young hosts are highly popular and receive much praise for the originality of their entertainments.

The hall was beautifully decorated for the occasion. In the center was a great tower of evergreens studded with electric lights. The cross beams were twined with evergreens and the chandeliers were almost hidden by sprays of Oregon grape and willow branches. The corners of the hall were banked with the branches and the sides of the hall were decorated with ropes of evergreens and willow branches. The stage on which Parsons' orchestra was stationed, the members of which are four young ladies. There were about 120 invitations issued, thus insuring an even number of young men and women, and plenty of room for dancing. Parsons' hall had been artistically decorated for the occasion. In the center of the hall was a huge bell formed of ropes of evergreen. At the end of each rope was a tiny electric light bulb, and one of these served as a clapper for the bell. Tall palms were placed on the stage, where Parsons' orchestra was stationed. The music was excellent, as usual. The programs were made after an original design by Mr. William Sandercock. On the cover of each was a sketch of a summer girl gathering daisies in a meadow. Some of the pieces played were "The Blue Bird," "Laughing Water," "Uncle Sammy," "The Flower Gardener," "Soul of the Rose" and "Soko." A pretty effect was produced by turning off the lights, giving the effect of dancing in the moonlight. The hostesses were all attended in becoming evening gowns. Miss Bertha Butler's gown was of red garnished with velvet and carnations. Miss Rosa Brown wore black, decollete, ornamented with point lace. Miss Hazel Butler appeared in a becoming gown of black and white material, trimmed with black velvet. She carried pink carnations. Miss Helen Sundt wore a pretty gown of pale blue, with trimmings of swansdown. The patronesses were: Mrs. M. E. Butler and Mrs. E. S. Brown. The club will give its next party some time in March.

The home of Mr. and Mrs. W. A. Brown was crowded by their friends Saturday evening, January 23, the occasion being a surprise party in honor of Mr. Brown's birthday. The invitation to the Brown residence was totally unexpected, but that did not mar the pleasure of the evening.

The Girls' Clink club was entertained Monday afternoon, January 25, at the home of Miss Ethel Shea, 562 Glisan street. Miss Fairbrother of the Hobart-Curtis assisted Miss Shea in receiving.

The Indo-American Woman's league met Monday afternoon at the home of Mrs. Ollman, 405 Stark street.

A collection of the Whistler etchings are on exhibition in the west room of the Portland Art association in the library building.

Miss Ethel Shea was hostess at an at home given Friday evening, January 22, at her home, 562 Glisan street. Clink was played at the table. The bride and groom will be at home in Cottage Grove after April 1.

William S. McPhee of North Yakima, Wash., and Alberta Murray of Denver, Colo., were married on Tuesday, January 26, at 11 a. m., at the home of the Calvary Presbyterian church. Rev. William Gilbert officiating. After spending several days in and about Portland Mr. and Mrs. McPhee will live at North Yakima.

A quiet wedding occurred Thursday afternoon at the home of Dr. Littlefield, 700 Burnside street, when Miss Francis W. Dupuy and Robert Bryan were married. Rev. J. Bowersox, pastor of the Second United Evangelical church, performed the ceremony, which took place at 3 o'clock. The bride was gowned in blue silk. She was unattended. After the service the guests, numbering about 15, spent a very enjoyable time and shared the luncheon which was served. The wedding cake was baked by Mrs. M. L. Jones.

The members of the Prohibition alliance gave an entertainment Monday evening, January 25, at the hall, East Thirty-fourth and Taylor streets. The Seattle Woman's quartet furnished pleasing music.

The Clinkers club gave its closing party Thursday evening, January 28, at Parsons' hall. The hall was pleasantly decorated. Parsons' orchestra rendered a pleasing program of 15 numbers. The prizes were very elaborate. Many of the season's debutantes were present, appearing in dainty evening gowns of tulle, organdie, crepe de chine and chiffon. Some carried flowers, huge bouquets of roses, violets and carnations. A punch was served between the dances and supper was served at a late hour. The patronesses were: Mrs. J. Wesley Ladd, Mrs. Richard Koehler and Mrs. William McMaster.

A most delightful and interesting program was rendered Saturday evening, January 23, at Foresters' hall, corner Sixth and Washington streets, under the auspices of the Railway Freight Handlers' union, No. 334. The entertainment, which was thoroughly enjoyed by the large audience, was followed by a dance, which continued until midnight. This was the first of a series of entertainments which will be given by the union and was very successful in every respect.

Mrs. S. Livesley gave a delightful reception on Tuesday afternoon in honor of Mrs. Dr. Weil of La Porte, Ind., who is the guest of Mrs. Colonel Bowen of East Alder street. Her pretty new home is artistically arranged and prettily decorated with laurel and ivy, and her guests, some 25 in all, united in declaring it one of the most unique and enjoyable entertainments of the season. Different games were indulged in during the afternoon, some of which were new to the ladies as they were brought by Mrs. Livesley from her old home in Brooklyn, N. Y. Beautiful prizes were awarded to those holding the highest scores, the winners being Mrs. White of S. L. Laks, Mrs. C. L. Ross and Mrs. Dr. Weil. The hostess, Mrs. Livesley, was assisted in receiving by Mrs. W. C. McBride and Mrs. C. L. Boss, Miss Ethel Webb assisted in keeping score, while Mrs. E. L. House, Miss Caldwell and Miss Doerflinger assisted with the refreshments.

CHURCH ENTERTAINMENTS

The Ladies' Pleasant Afternoon society of the Central Baptist church met Wednesday afternoon at the home of Mrs. Fitch, 27 East Seventh street. There was a large gathering. Mrs. Riggs addressed the meeting.

The Women's Missionary society of the Missions Presbyterian church held a meeting Wednesday afternoon in the church parlors.

A reception was held by the officers of the Ladies' aid of the First Presbyterian church, Wednesday afternoon, January 27, at the home of Mrs. E. B. Coman, 156 North Eighth street. The house was beautifully decorated in white and green. White hyacinths and smilax were combined with pleasing effect. The receiving hours were from 3 to 5. The following ladies poured coffee and tea in the dining room: Mrs. Booth, Mrs. Van Duyn, Mrs. Wilbur and Mrs. Wendling. Misses Beattie Cohan, Julia Coman, Klosterman, Helen Coman and Mrs. Van Duyn served the refreshments.

The Mary and Martha society of the Missions Presbyterian church gave an all-day Tuesday evening, January 26, in the church parlors. A large number of young people were present. Refreshments were served during the evening.

An entertainment will be given Sunday afternoon at 2 o'clock by the pupils of the Jewish academy, Chinuch N'orim, in the school rooms, corner Third and Harrison streets. After the entertainment refreshments will be served.

There was a meeting of the mission study classes of the First Presbyterian church Monday evening, January 25, at the home of Mrs. H. C. Campbell, 315 North Twenty-second street. About 30 ladies and their friends were present and discussed. The circle will meet again the fourth Monday in February at the home of Mrs. George W. Bate, 161 North Twenty-second street.

The Girls' Clink club was entertained Monday afternoon, January 25, at the home of Miss Ethel Shea, 562 Glisan street. Miss Fairbrother of the Hobart-Curtis assisted Miss Shea in receiving.

The Indo-American Woman's league met Monday afternoon at the home of Mrs. Ollman, 405 Stark street.

A collection of the Whistler etchings are on exhibition in the west room of the Portland Art association in the library building.

Miss Ethel Shea was hostess at an at home given Friday evening, January 22, at her home, 562 Glisan street. Clink was played at the table. The bride and groom will be at home in Cottage Grove after April 1.

William S. McPhee of North Yakima, Wash., and Alberta Murray of Denver, Colo., were married on Tuesday, January 26, at 11 a. m., at the home of the Calvary Presbyterian church. Rev. William Gilbert officiating. After spending several days in and about Portland Mr. and Mrs. McPhee will live at North Yakima.

A quiet wedding occurred Thursday afternoon at the home of Dr. Littlefield, 700 Burnside street, when Miss Francis W. Dupuy and Robert Bryan were married. Rev. J. Bowersox, pastor of the Second United Evangelical church, performed the ceremony, which took place at 3 o'clock. The bride was gowned in blue silk. She was unattended. After the service the guests, numbering about 15, spent a very enjoyable time and shared the luncheon which was served. The wedding cake was baked by Mrs. M. L. Jones.

The members of the Prohibition alliance gave an entertainment Monday evening, January 25, at the hall, East Thirty-fourth and Taylor streets. The Seattle Woman's quartet furnished pleasing music.

The Clinkers club gave its closing party Thursday evening, January 28, at Parsons' hall. The hall was pleasantly decorated. Parsons' orchestra rendered a pleasing program of 15 numbers. The prizes were very elaborate. Many of the season's debutantes were present, appearing in dainty evening gowns of tulle, organdie, crepe de chine and chiffon. Some carried flowers, huge bouquets of roses, violets and carnations. A punch was served between the dances and supper was served at a late hour. The patronesses were: Mrs. J. Wesley Ladd, Mrs. Richard Koehler and Mrs. William McMaster.

A most delightful and interesting program was rendered Saturday evening, January 23, at Foresters' hall, corner Sixth and Washington streets, under the auspices of the Railway Freight Handlers' union, No. 334. The entertainment, which was thoroughly enjoyed by the large audience, was followed by a dance, which continued until midnight. This was the first of a series of entertainments which will be given by the union and was very successful in every respect.

Mrs. S. Livesley gave a delightful reception on Tuesday afternoon in honor of Mrs. Dr. Weil of La Porte, Ind., who is the guest of Mrs. Colonel Bowen of East Alder street. Her pretty new home is artistically arranged and prettily decorated with laurel and ivy, and her guests, some 25 in all, united in declaring it one of the most unique and enjoyable entertainments of the season. Different games were indulged in during the afternoon, some of which were new to the ladies as they were brought by Mrs. Livesley from her old home in Brooklyn, N. Y. Beautiful prizes were awarded to those holding the highest scores, the winners being Mrs. White of S. L. Laks, Mrs. C. L. Ross and Mrs. Dr. Weil. The hostess, Mrs. Livesley, was assisted in receiving by Mrs. W. C. McBride and Mrs. C. L. Boss, Miss Ethel Webb assisted in keeping score, while Mrs. E. L. House, Miss Caldwell and Miss Doerflinger assisted with the refreshments.

The Cavaliers gave another of their delightful parties last evening at Parsons' hall. These young hosts are highly popular and receive much praise for the originality of their entertainments.

The hall was beautifully decorated for the occasion. In the center was a great tower of evergreens studded with electric lights. The cross beams were twined with evergreens and the chandeliers were almost hidden by sprays of Oregon grape and willow branches. The corners of the hall were banked with the branches and the sides of the hall were decorated with ropes of evergreens and willow branches. The stage on which Parsons' orchestra was stationed, the members of which are four young ladies. There were about 120 invitations issued, thus insuring an even number of young men and women, and plenty of room for dancing. Parsons' hall had been artistically decorated for the occasion. In the center of the hall was a huge bell formed of ropes of evergreen. At the end of each rope was a tiny electric light bulb, and one of these served as a clapper for the bell. Tall palms were placed on the stage, where Parsons' orchestra was stationed. The music was excellent, as usual. The programs were made after an original design by Mr. William Sandercock. On the cover of each was a sketch of a summer girl gathering daisies in a meadow. Some of the pieces played were "The Blue Bird," "Laughing Water," "Uncle Sammy," "The Flower Gardener," "Soul of the Rose" and "Soko." A pretty effect was produced by turning off the lights, giving the effect of dancing in the moonlight. The hostesses were all attended in becoming evening gowns. Miss Bertha Butler's gown was of red garnished with velvet and carnations. Miss Rosa Brown wore black, decollete, ornamented with point lace. Miss Hazel Butler appeared in a becoming gown of black and white material, trimmed with black velvet. She carried pink carnations. Miss Helen Sundt wore a pretty gown of pale blue, with trimmings of swansdown. The patronesses were: Mrs. M. E. Butler and Mrs. E. S. Brown. The club will give its next party some time in March.

The home of Mr. and Mrs. W. A. Brown was crowded by their friends Saturday evening, January 23, the occasion being a surprise party in honor of Mr. Brown's birthday. The invitation to the Brown residence was totally unexpected, but that did not mar the pleasure of the evening.

The Girls' Clink club was entertained Monday afternoon, January 25, at the home of Miss Ethel Shea, 562 Glisan street. Miss Fairbrother of the Hobart-Curtis assisted Miss Shea in receiving.

The Indo-American Woman's league met Monday afternoon at the home of Mrs. Ollman, 405 Stark street.

A collection of the Whistler etchings are on exhibition in the west room of the Portland Art association in the library building.

Miss Ethel Shea was hostess at an at home given Friday evening, January 22, at her home, 562 Glisan street. Clink was played at the table. The bride and groom will be at home in Cottage Grove after April 1.

William S. McPhee of North Yakima, Wash., and Alberta Murray of Denver, Colo., were married on Tuesday, January 26, at 11 a. m., at the home of the Calvary Presbyterian church. Rev. William Gilbert officiating. After spending several days in and about Portland Mr. and Mrs. McPhee will live at North Yakima.

A quiet wedding occurred Thursday afternoon at the home of Dr. Littlefield, 700 Burnside street, when Miss Francis W. Dupuy and Robert Bryan were married. Rev. J. Bowersox, pastor of the Second United Evangelical church, performed the ceremony, which took place at 3 o'clock. The bride was gowned in blue silk. She was unattended. After the service the guests, numbering about 15, spent a very enjoyable time and shared the luncheon which was served. The wedding cake was baked by Mrs. M. L. Jones.

The members of the Prohibition alliance gave an entertainment Monday evening, January 25, at the hall, East Thirty-fourth and Taylor streets. The Seattle Woman's quartet furnished pleasing music.

The Clinkers club gave its closing party Thursday evening, January 28, at Parsons' hall. The hall was pleasantly decorated. Parsons' orchestra rendered a pleasing program of 15 numbers. The prizes were very elaborate. Many of the season's debutantes were present, appearing in dainty evening gowns of tulle, organdie, crepe de chine and chiffon. Some carried flowers, huge bouquets of roses, violets and carnations. A punch was served between the dances and supper was served at a late hour. The patronesses were: Mrs. J. Wesley Ladd, Mrs. Richard Koehler and Mrs. William McMaster.

A most delightful and interesting program was rendered Saturday evening, January 23, at Foresters' hall, corner Sixth and Washington streets, under the auspices of the Railway Freight Handlers' union, No. 334. The entertainment, which was thoroughly enjoyed by the large audience, was followed by a dance, which continued until midnight. This was the first of a series of entertainments which will be given by the union and was very successful in every respect.

Mrs. S. Livesley gave a delightful reception on Tuesday afternoon in honor of Mrs. Dr. Weil of La Porte, Ind., who is the guest of Mrs. Colonel Bowen of East Alder street. Her pretty new home is artistically arranged and prettily decorated with laurel and ivy, and her guests, some 25 in all, united in declaring it one of the most unique and enjoyable entertainments of the season. Different games were indulged in during the afternoon, some of which were new to the ladies as they were brought by Mrs. Livesley from her old home in Brooklyn, N. Y. Beautiful prizes were awarded to those holding the highest scores, the winners being Mrs. White of S. L. Laks, Mrs. C. L. Ross and Mrs. Dr. Weil. The hostess, Mrs. Livesley, was assisted in receiving by Mrs. W. C. McBride and Mrs. C. L. Boss, Miss Ethel Webb assisted in keeping score, while Mrs. E. L. House, Miss Caldwell and Miss Doerflinger assisted with the refreshments.

The Cavaliers gave another of their delightful parties last evening at Parsons' hall. These young hosts are highly popular and receive much praise for the originality of their entertainments.

WATER PAGEANT PASADENA, CAL.

Pasadena, Cal.—Never rose the sun more gloriously over the fair city of Pasadena than on the morning of January 23, 1904. A clear, bright day with a broad expanse of blue; sunshine was everywhere. So soft and balmy was the air that wraps were a superfluity and summer costumes the rule. The majestic Sierra Madre mountains, which bound Pasadena on the northeast, and of which Mount Lowe forms a prominent peak, jutted out in bold relief, and formed a magnificent setting for the brilliant scene of which the city was the center.

All during the night of December 31 drift hands were busy at work. People the following morning looked out upon a Pasadena transformed. A veritable fairyland had arisen in their midst. American flags alternating with pennants of red and white, the tournament colors, spanned the streets and floated from arched windows and doors. Millions of blossoms filled the air with their soft fragrance, and color, life, motion, sunlight, music, laughter and the spirit of the carnival were on every hand.

Beginning with the first streaks of dawn and continuing until late in the afternoon, crowds of eager humanity poured into Pasadena from all directions. On and on they came, an eager, animated, expectant throng, the prospect of a festa in mid-winter being a magnet stronger than the average individual, at least, could resist. The immense crowds were handled by the transportation companies with not a single accident, but the "light-fingered genius" did a prosperous business. Many losses of money and jewels were reported to the police.

About 10:30 o'clock the procession began to move, and for nearly an hour one gorgeous spectacle after another passed in review, and left the beholder wide-eyed and open-mouthed with admiration and delight. Automobiles, trolleybuses, surreys, phaetons, turnout and drags of all descriptions, so buried in flowers and greenery as to be floating things of beauty, were in bewildering evidence. Not the least attractive feature was the scores of sleek, high-stepping horses which daily caparisoned and carried golden ornaments, mounted by "knights of olden times," danced proudly and seemed in spirit with the occasion.

One of the most artistic floats, which was awarded the prize of the particular class to which it belonged, was that of the Helen of Troy. The color scheme was magenta and yellow, and the decorative idea was ingeniously carried out. The bed of the float, the wheels, back and dasher, were a solid mass of bougainvillea, a flower of a deep magenta color, having a center of cream yellow. A bevy of fair maidens, gowned in fluffy yellow and with large picture hats of the same tone, posed as the heart of the flower, while the vehicle was drawn by six magnificent bays, wearing collars of bougainvillea, and with their heads lowered in submission to the young boys, garbed in white with yellow decorations, and wearing Panama hats, served as outriders, and added the last touch of completeness to this beautiful creation.

Other floats specially worthy of mention were those of the Pasadena high school, which carried out the idea of the New Year, and was a perfect symphony in pink, blue and white; the Throop polytechnic school embodying the idea of a Greek temple and presided over by maidens in Greek costumes and in various statuesque poses; and the Hotel Green, a six-in-hand trolley, gorgeously massed in blossoms of crimson and green.

An Indian float attracted much attention, owing to its exceeding realism. Underneath stunted trees surrounding a tepes, with war paint upon their faces and stumpy tresses of war and the chase dangling from their belts, were grouped in menacing attitudes typical "sons of the forest," whose yells were repeated from time to time. One of their diversions was to swoop down upon some unwary "paleface" among the throng of spectators, drag him by main force to their float and make him fast to a tree, with the apparent deliberate purpose of "scalping" him. Always just in the nick of time to prevent the carrying out of the fiendish plot, the curtain of the tepes would lift and a figure personating the Great White Spirit emerge therefrom; whereupon, overcome by superstitious awe, the Indians would drop upon their knees and give way to supplications weird and wild in the extreme. Their intended victim, meanwhile, made good his escape. One of the features of this float were its outriders, whose feats of horsemanship were simply marvelous.

Tournament park was the scene of the second chapter of the day's entertainment. The most important event of the afternoon was the chariot race there, participated in by four chariots each drawn by four horses pulling abreast and driven by chariotiers in the sandaled shoes and flowing togas of ancient Rome. There were two trial heats and a final heat between the winners. By the time the third heat was called the interest was intense. A silence so deep as to be almost felt was only broken by tumultuous cheers as, after two successive rounds, the winning chariot, amid a cloud of dust, and to the accompaniment of flying hoofs, swung swiftly into view around the curve and came to a dead halt at the reviewing stand. It was a superb contest, and it set the pulses tingling. The picturesque chariots, the magnificent horses, pawing, tearing, plunging and snorting; the chariotiers in flowing robes and with tenses faces and knotted muscles formed a picture not soon to be forgotten.

A fitting finale to this day of splendor was the ball given in the evening at the Hotel Green. Tournament day in Pasadena, 1904, will long linger in the memory.

ANNIE BLANCHE SHELBY.

WEDDINGS

The wedding of Miss Olga Markley of Cottage Grove to A. D. LeRoy of the LeRoy Mining company of Bohemia, will take place this evening in the parlors of the Hotel Imperial. The bride and groom will be at home in Cottage Grove after April 1.

William S. McPhee of North Yakima, Wash., and Alberta Murray of Denver, Colo., were married on Tuesday, January 26, at 11 a. m., at the home of the Calvary Presbyterian church. Rev. William Gilbert officiating. After spending several days in and about Portland Mr. and Mrs. McPhee will live at North Yakima.

A quiet wedding occurred Thursday afternoon at the home of Dr. Littlefield, 700 Burnside street, when Miss Francis W. Dupuy and Robert Bryan were married. Rev. J. Bowersox, pastor of the Second United Evangelical church, performed the ceremony, which took place at 3 o'clock. The bride was gowned in blue silk. She was unattended. After the service the guests, numbering about 15, spent a very enjoyable time and shared the luncheon which was served. The wedding cake was baked by Mrs. M. L. Jones.

The members of the Prohibition alliance gave an entertainment Monday evening, January 25, at the hall, East Thirty-fourth and Taylor streets. The Seattle Woman's quartet furnished pleasing music.

The Clinkers club gave its closing party Thursday evening, January 28, at Parsons' hall. The hall was pleasantly decorated. Parsons' orchestra rendered a pleasing program of 15 numbers. The prizes were very elaborate. Many of the season's debutantes were present, appearing in dainty evening gowns of tulle, organdie, crepe de chine and chiffon. Some carried flowers, huge bouquets of roses, violets and carnations. A punch was served between the dances and supper was served at a late hour. The patronesses were: Mrs. J. Wesley Ladd, Mrs. Richard Koehler and Mrs. William McMaster.

A most delightful and interesting program was rendered Saturday evening, January 23, at Foresters' hall, corner Sixth and Washington streets, under the auspices of the Railway Freight Handlers' union, No. 334. The entertainment, which was thoroughly enjoyed by the large audience, was followed by a dance, which continued until midnight. This was the first of a series of entertainments which will be given by the union and was very successful in every respect.

Mrs. S. Livesley gave a delightful reception on Tuesday afternoon in honor of Mrs. Dr. Weil of La Porte, Ind., who is the guest of Mrs. Colonel Bowen of East Alder street. Her pretty new home is artistically arranged and prettily decorated with laurel and ivy, and her guests, some 25 in all, united in declaring it one of the most unique and enjoyable entertainments of the season. Different games were indulged in during the afternoon, some of which were new to the ladies as they were brought by Mrs. Livesley from her old home in Brooklyn, N. Y. Beautiful prizes were awarded to those holding the highest scores, the winners being Mrs. White of S. L. Laks, Mrs. C. L. Ross and Mrs. Dr. Weil. The hostess, Mrs. Livesley, was assisted in receiving by Mrs. W. C. McBride and Mrs. C. L. Boss, Miss Ethel Webb assisted in keeping score, while Mrs. E. L. House, Miss Caldwell and Miss Doerflinger assisted with the refreshments.

The Cavaliers gave another of their delightful parties last evening at Parsons' hall. These young hosts are highly popular and receive much praise for the originality of their entertainments.

The hall was beautifully decorated for the occasion. In the center was a great tower of evergreens studded with electric lights. The cross beams were twined with evergreens and the chandeliers were almost hidden by sprays of Oregon grape and willow branches. The corners of the hall were banked with the branches and the sides of the hall were decorated with ropes of evergreens and willow branches. The stage on which Parsons' orchestra was stationed, the members of which are four young ladies. There were about 120 invitations issued, thus insuring an even number of young men and women, and plenty of room for dancing. Parsons' hall had been artistically decorated for the occasion. In the center of the hall was a huge bell formed of ropes of evergreen. At the end of each rope was a tiny electric light bulb, and one of these served as a clapper for the bell. Tall palms were placed on the stage, where Parsons' orchestra was stationed. The music was excellent, as usual. The programs were made after an original design by Mr. William Sandercock. On the cover of each was a sketch of a summer girl gathering daisies in a meadow. Some of the pieces played were "The Blue Bird," "Laughing Water," "Uncle Sammy," "The Flower Gardener," "Soul of the Rose" and "Soko." A pretty effect was produced by turning off the lights, giving the effect of dancing in the moonlight. The hostesses were all attended in becoming evening gowns. Miss Bertha Butler's gown was of red garnished with velvet and carnations. Miss Rosa Brown wore black, decollete, ornamented with point lace. Miss Hazel Butler appeared in a becoming gown of black and white material, trimmed with black velvet. She carried pink carnations. Miss Helen Sundt wore a pretty gown of pale blue, with trimmings of swansdown. The patronesses were: Mrs. M. E. Butler and Mrs. E. S. Brown. The club will give its next party some time in March.

The home of Mr. and Mrs. W. A. Brown was crowded by their friends Saturday evening, January 23, the occasion being a surprise party in honor of Mr. Brown's birthday. The invitation to the Brown residence was totally unexpected, but that did not mar the pleasure of the evening.

The Girls' Clink club was entertained Monday afternoon, January 25, at the home of Miss Ethel Shea, 562 Glisan street. Miss Fairbrother of the Hobart-Curtis assisted Miss Shea in receiving.

The Indo-American Woman's league met Monday afternoon at the home of Mrs. Ollman, 405 Stark street.

A collection of the Whistler etchings are on exhibition in the west room of the Portland Art association in the library building.

Miss Ethel Shea was hostess at an at home given Friday evening, January 22, at her home, 562 Glisan street. Clink was played at the table. The bride and groom will be at home in Cottage Grove after April 1.

William S. McPhee of North Yakima, Wash., and Alberta Murray of Denver, Colo., were married on Tuesday, January 26, at 11 a. m., at the home of the Calvary Presbyterian church. Rev. William Gilbert officiating. After spending several days in and about Portland Mr. and Mrs. McPhee will live at North Yakima.

A quiet wedding occurred Thursday afternoon at the home of Dr. Littlefield, 700 Burnside street, when Miss Francis W. Dupuy and Robert Bryan were married. Rev. J. Bowersox, pastor of the Second United Evangelical church, performed the ceremony, which took place at 3 o'clock. The bride was gowned in blue silk. She was unattended. After the service the guests, numbering about 15, spent a very enjoyable time and shared the luncheon which was served. The wedding cake was baked by Mrs. M. L. Jones.

The members of the Prohibition alliance gave an entertainment Monday evening, January 25, at the hall, East Thirty-fourth and Taylor streets. The Seattle Woman's quartet furnished pleasing music.

The Clinkers club gave its closing party Thursday evening, January 28, at Parsons' hall. The hall was pleasantly decorated. Parsons' orchestra rendered a pleasing program of 15 numbers. The prizes were very elaborate. Many of the season's debutantes were present, appearing in dainty evening gowns of tulle, organdie, crepe de chine and chiffon. Some carried flowers, huge bouquets of roses, violets and carnations. A punch was served between the dances and supper was served at a late hour. The patronesses were: Mrs. J. Wesley Ladd, Mrs. Richard Koehler and Mrs. William McMaster.

A most delightful and interesting program was rendered Saturday evening, January 23, at Foresters' hall, corner Sixth and Washington streets, under the auspices of the Railway Freight Handlers' union, No. 334. The entertainment, which was thoroughly enjoyed by the large audience, was followed by a dance, which continued until midnight. This was the first of a series of entertainments which will be given by the union and was very successful in every respect.

Mrs. S. Livesley gave a delightful reception on Tuesday afternoon in honor of Mrs. Dr. Weil of La Porte, Ind., who is the guest of Mrs. Colonel Bowen of East Alder street. Her pretty new home is artistically arranged and prettily decorated with laurel and ivy, and her guests, some 25 in all, united in declaring it one of the most unique and enjoyable entertainments of the season. Different games were indulged in during the afternoon, some of which were new to the ladies as they were brought by Mrs. Livesley from her old home in Brooklyn, N. Y. Beautiful prizes were awarded to those holding the highest scores, the winners being Mrs. White of S. L. Laks, Mrs. C. L. Ross and Mrs. Dr. Weil. The hostess, Mrs. Livesley, was assisted in receiving by Mrs. W. C. McBride and Mrs. C. L. Boss, Miss Ethel Webb assisted in keeping score, while Mrs. E. L. House, Miss Caldwell and Miss Doerflinger assisted with the refreshments.

The Cavaliers gave another of their delightful parties last evening at Parsons' hall. These young hosts are highly popular and receive much praise for the originality of their entertainments.

PERSONALS

Miss Claire Holmes, who has been visiting in this city, has returned to her home in Salem.

Miss Mary Rogers of Ashland is visiting friends here.

Mrs. Fry Woodcock, who has been visiting in Salem, has returned to her home in this city.

Hon. John Minto of Salem is here visiting his son, J. W. Minto.

Hugo Brash spent a few days with his sister, Mrs. Montague N. A. Cohen, in Tacoma, last week.

Mr. and Mrs. W. Y. Solomon of New York City are visiting in the city.

E. A. Guert of San Francisco is visiting his brother-in-law, I. Lowengart, in this city.

H. Blackman, one of Heppner's enterprising citizens, is here for a short time.

Mr. and Mrs. W. S. Drake have gone to El Paso, Tex., to visit Mrs. Drake's brother, Mr. Black, formerly of this city. Mr. Drake will return in a fortnight, while Mrs. Drake will remain longer in the hope of benefiting her health.