THE OREGON DAILY JOURNAL, PORTLAND, THURSDAY EVENING, FEBRUARY 4, 1904.

The young woman does not know where the relatives of her husband live. She says he appeared to have an abundance of money. He told her he was a telegraph operator. He informed her that whenever he needed it his rich father sent him money.

The steamer Lurline, plying between Portland and Astoria, is being fitted up with a $2,000 electric light plant. When completed it will be one of the finest plants that any of the steamers is equipped with in the northwest. The searchlight is now being used. It has a 3,000 candle-power capacity. This is just twice the size of the one with which the steamer Hassalo is provided. Heretofore she held first place in this respect. For a radius of almost a mile the searchlight will illumine the darkest night so that objects within a reasonable distance become easily discernible. The Lurline runs during the night on the return trip from Astoria, and the improvement will prove of vast benefit.

Mrs. Dearborn's letter is as follows: "To the Honorable Mayor and Common Council-Gentlemen: In regard to the remonstrance against the saloon, please note this: The list is made up of property owners, taxpayers and voters and not signed by children, as alleged by Mr. Linnardt, and the senti-nent in the immediate neighborhood is strongly against a saloon. "Secondly, to start this saloon Mr Linhardt wishes to mortgage his home, which was given to his wife by her parents at the time of her marriage, and her people oppose such a proceeding and have signed the remonstrance against the saloon. "The mother begs with tears that this license be not granted.

"Third, the land adjacent to the pro posed location of the saloon is owned by women, 269 consecutive feet in one block, and they object to the saloop with all possible and positive energy.

"Trusting that our wishes in this matter be not disregarded and that our homes may be protected, I am most sincerely.

A Helping Hand Extended to Many Old People in Portland.

Be considerate of the aged; lend them helping hand. Make life easy for them.

Make fire easy for them. The infirmities of age are many. Most old people have a bad back. The kidneys are weak; Are worn out with years of work. Backache makes days of misery; Urfhary troubles, nights of unrest. There's a ray of sunshine for the red.

aged. Doan's Kidney Pills will make life easier. They are doing so for old and young. Portland people are learning this. Many are testifying to it. Read the following local endorsement: Mrs. J. D. Kennedy. 70 years old, who resides at 780 Corbett street, says: "I have been afflicted with kidney trouble for thirty years and for the past twenty years I have never been entirely free from it in some form or other. I suf-fered terribily from backache and could hardly stoop over and get up again. Trouble from the kidney secretions ex-isted. At times I was greatly bloated my feet swelled to twice their natural size and I was seldom without a plas-ter on my back to ease the pain. I doc-tored a great deal and used more medi-cines than any one person could carry. I had read so much about Doan's Kid-ney Fills that I concluded to give them a trial and got a box at the Laue-Davis Drug Co's store, corner of Yamhili and Third streets. I was a good subject, with a case of such long standing, and I thought if they helped me I could safely recommend them to others. I used them faithfully and the results were satisfactory in every way. Doan's Kidner Fills are a wonder. They did me more good than any other remedy I ever used."

FABLEY SAILS FOR ROME.

(Journal Special Service.)

New York, Feb. 4 .- Archbishop Farley sailed for Rome today and considerable interest is manifested in his mission owing to the reports that he is the bearer of the decision of the American hierarchy regarding the project for the creation of a primacy in the United States. The archbishop himself declined to discuss the matter but persons in his confidence declared that his trip to Rome at the present time is merely in accordance with the custom of the church requiring new bishops and archbishops to visit the Holy See soon after their elevation. Archbishop Farley is accompanied abroad by Father P. J. Hayes, chancellor of the archdiocese, and Father James V. Lewis, secretary to the archmonths. bishop.
