"Even now the mills have all the trade they can handle and if a war should occur and last about six months the demand will be increased, as there is always a lot of flour ordered for emergencies Japan has been a very heavy buyer of flour in this market during the past year and a war of less than six months' duration will have but little effect on the market here as that country has plenty of stocks to tide them over for that length of time.

Corn 1 Cent Down.

The corn market is about 1 cent lower. The action was much the same as in wheat. It received less help' from the short interest and there was enough liquidation in view of the uncertainty of the eastern situation to lose the advance. On the whole, a good part of yesterday's advance was lost. There were a good deal of switching of long May over into July. Receipts are still moderate. The cash situation is strong.

It looks as if corn too would require a pretty constant stimulant. Fatten Sells Oats. In oats there was heavy selling by Patten houses and the supposition is that they were selling his oats. In any event the market is heavy under large offerings. There is not much talk of 17.6 any increase in the movement from first hands. Local speculative conditions are still likely to control prices. The provision market opened firm on Baltim war news and closed weak on liquidation and poor support. BROKERS' OPINIONS ON NEW YORK STOCKS

(Furnished by Overheck, Starr & Cooke Co.) Logan & Bryan, New York: There seems to be a little proppet of any settling conditions or any immediate resumption of scrive bulk spreulation in the stock market pending further developments in connection with the war situa-tion or until a proper resultations has been affected. These influences, together with the new $50,000,000 Pennsylvania losa and bond issues by other companies have had a very disturbing effect on the general run of traders. Stragging liquidation of profesional and various pools has been the features of the trading and prices have alumped under the con-tinuation of this pressure.

Country store and dairy grades are weaker than weak.

Activity Among Mop Dealers.

There is renewed activity among hop dealers and some additional sales at 29 cents were reported yesterday and the 30 cents mark now looks within a few days' sight. Contracting continues un-abated. It ff now estimated that there are only about 1,000 bales of 1903 hops remaining unsold in the hands of the growers.

Apples Active, Oranges Lower.

The apple market is very active, with the receipts quite liberal and the demand showing a constant increase with better prices being obtained. The duliness in oranges is becoming more pronounced and quotations dropped about 25 cents a box today. Stocks in the local commission houses are larger than in many
