TOWN TOPICS R

Manager Reed of the Lytle Townsite company, in Portland today, feels greatly delighted over the arrangement to begin work on the 60-mile irrigating ditch and flume beginning at Lytle and ditch and flume beginning at Lytle and ending away over at Hay creek, Crook county. His sewmill at Lytle is contracting to sell the company 1,000,000 feet of lumber for the flume, and as the water is taken from the river at Lytle, the irrigating company is to erect its offices and have its headquarters there. There are many fine business openings in Lytle, which the townsits company will be glad to have persons seeking such things take advantage of.

The civil service commission yester day finished the marking of applicants for positions as sidewalk inspectors with the following results: S. H. Jack son, 100; S. Shrake, 100, and Peter Merges, 20. These men have been serv-ing under temporary appointments. It was also decided to hold another police examination on February 25.

OFFICER WEO HAS CHARGE OF STRICKER BALTIMORE WAS STA-TIONED AT PORTLAND-HIS CA-REER AS REGULAR AND VOLUM-THEE A GOOD ONE.

Maj. Edward Burr, who has just been sent to Baltimore by Secretary of War Taft to take charge of the pulling down of dangerous walls and to assist the authorities of that city generally is well known in Portland.

He was in the United States englneer's office in Portland for about a year, in 1885 and 1886, and was later stationed at Vancouver barracks, Wash. for a short time, and from there he was sent to take charge of the government work at Cascade locks, where he remained five years.

He became acquainted with his wife. formerly Miss Katherine Green of Port-land, daughter of the late H. D. Green, while she and her sister, now Mrs. C. J. Reed, were attending school in New York city. This acquaintance was fol-lowed by a courtship which was consummated by their marriage in Portland June 24, 1886,

Mrs. Burr received her education in New York city. She is an accomplished musician; her performance on the piano denoting great talent, improved by care-ful culture. She has been a society eader and a great favorite at the different posts at which her husband has been stationed and is said to be very popular at Washington barracks, though her delicate health has prevented full participation in the social life of the capital.

Major Burr was born at Booneville, Major Burr was born at Booneville.

Mo., May 19, 1859. His parents were William E. and Harriet Holly (formerly Brand) Burr. After a common-school education he entered Washington university at St. Louis, Mo., in 1874, but left before graduating to enter the United States military academy at West Point, in 1878, to which he received an appointment July 1, 1877. He was grad-uated in 1882, standing first in his class, and was assigned to the engineer corps, with the rank of second lieutenant, on June 11, 1882, and stationed at the finishing school for engineers at Willett's Point.

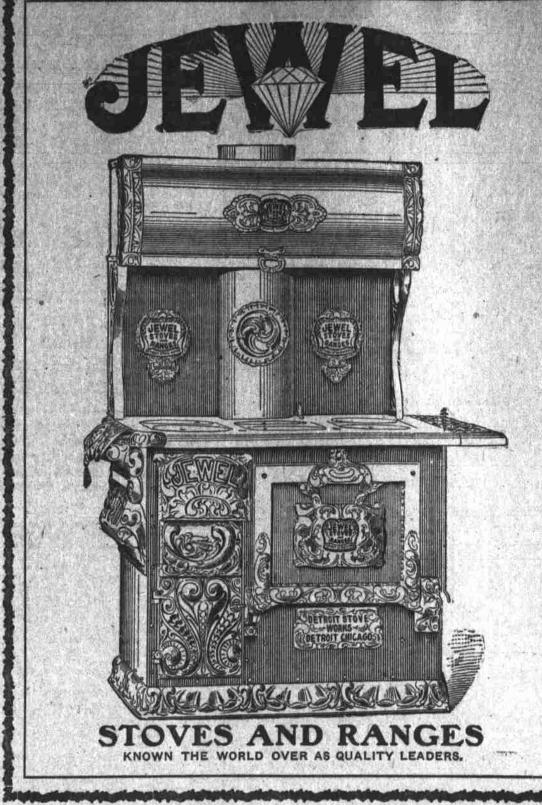

He was appointed first lieutement March 26, 1883, and was stacioned at Portland and Vancouver barracks in 1885 and 1886.

April 12, 1894, he was made captain, and June 7, 1898, after the beginning of the Spanish-American war, he en-listed in the 2d volunteer engineer corps and was appointed Heutenant-colonel, July 12, of that year. He commanded the hattalion of engineers, 5th army corps, in the campaign against Santiago de Cuba in June and July, 1898, and was mustered out of the volunteers May 16, 1898, and resumed his station in the regular army, in which he reached the rank of major on May 3, 1961.

He is a member of the Society of Civil Engineers, the Metropolitan and the Army and Navy clubs in Washing-ton. At present he is commandant at ton, At present he is commandant at Washington barracks, D. C., and is an instructor in the war college which has been established by former Secretary of War Root.

VOLUNTEER MEETINGS

At the Volunteers of America hall, corner Second and Everett streets, a large audience last night listened to the of Evangelist Luther Robinson and to the preachings of Evangelist C. W. Ruth, who took his text from Romans vili:1, "There is therefore now no condemnation to them who are in Christ Jesus." He said that men could live without condemnation and that they would be as conscious of this as they were once conscious of sin. That Christ can keep men clean and that his people would be more than conquerors. Rev. Ruth interested his' congregation and 300 persons listened to the sermon for an hour and a half. At the close of the sermon last night he made an altar call and about 20 responded. At the close of this service the evangelist still exhorted others to come and repent and said that it was his business to preach and he would gladly stay and pray until morning to see sinners converted. These meetings are held every evening at 7:30 p. m. and at 2 p. m.
