BIDS OPENED TO SUPPLY FUEL OIL

CONTRACT WILL NOT BE AWARDED UNTIL NEXT MEETING—POST OF PORTLAND COMMISSION MEETS AND TRANSPORT ROUTINE BUSINESS—HOW TO BUILD JETTIES.

Bids for supplying oil for the dredge Columbia were opened yesterday afternoon at the regular monthly meeting of the Port of Portland commission. There were but three bidders. The National Oil and Transportation company agreed to furnish all the oil required for a period of from one to three years at 99 cents a barrel. The Standard Oil company offered to supply fuel for the same period at 90 cents a barrel. The Union Oil company's figures were 95 cents a barrel for supplying the fuel for one year or 90 cents if given a three years' contract. The matter of awarding the contract was referred to a committee which will report at the next meeting.

Some necessary repairs in the dredge Portland were reported by Superintendent Groves, and he was authorized to make them. A communication was read from Robert McIntosh, superintendent of the drydock, relative to the investigations he is making in the operation of drydocks in New York. A telegram was forwarded, instructing him to inquire thoroughly into the manner in which eastern drydocks are handled. Additional funds were wired him. Mr. McIntosh will probably remain in the east about 10 days longer.

Several inquiries were received as to the capacity of the drydock, and when it will be ready for operation. Among those asking for information on the subject were French Consul Labbe and M. C. Harrison & Co., marine brokers. The clerk was instructed to supply them with the desired information. It was intimated that the Northern Pacific ferryboat, running between Kalama and Goble will very likely be the first vessel taken on the drydock.

It appears there are various ways to construct a jetty at the mouth of the Columbia river, and George Melvin Miller sent a letter to the commission giving in detail one of the proper methods to pursue. It was decided to refer the matter to Major Langfit.

The clerk was authorized to advertise for bids on $215,000 worth of drydock bonds, the bids to be opened on March 24.

FEDERAL OFFICERS WILL EXAMINE TRIO

John Bell, George Booth and Frank Wilson, under arrest at The Dalles charged with robbing the store of Black & Harriner at Blalocks on the night of January 23, will be turned over to the federal authorities to be prosecuted for robbing a postoffice. The Blalocks postoffice is in the store and the suspects will be given preliminary examination before a United States commissioner within a few days.

About $25 in money was secured by the burglars. They were located by a railroad detective who was trying to catch thieves who had been breaking into cars and he was following them on the night of the burglary.

RECEIVES UNIQUE BOX OF ORANGES

Mark Levy, a local commission merchant, is in receipt of the most unique box of oranges he has ever seen, although he has handled many thousand boxes while in business in this city. A few years ago a personal friend of Mr. Levy sent him a letter and told him he was to be given a present of a fine box of oranges that would arrive from St. Augustine, Fla. When the time arrived Mr. Levy inquired at his home as to whether the present had come, and being told that it had he hid himself to the cellar in search of it.

"This was the place that I supposed they would put a box of oranges, so after looking all around and not finding the present I went upstairs and asked my little daughter about it. 'Oh, yes,' she said, 'the box arrived and I put it on my mantle.' This is a queer place to put a box of oranges, I thought, so I looked it up and found the box to be about 4 1/2 in dimensions and after being opened was found to contain eight little oranges or Kunquots. They were about the size of a small plum and were to be eaten rind and all. The Kunquots is a native of China and is packed in moss to preserve its flavor. It is called the golden orange in Japan."

DUTY TREBLES COST OF TUNICS

ATTEMPT TO PROVIDE HISTORICALLY CORRECT UNIFORMS FOR THE KILTIES BAND RESULTS IN EXPENSIVE ENCOUNTER WITH THE CUSTOMS OFFICERS.

After more than a month of struggling with the customs laws the Kilties band will appear in its new uniforms in Portland. Its tunics bought in Glasgow paid the preferential duty which Canada levies against imports from England, amounting in this case to $47. Crossing the line at Sault de Ste. Marie with their uniforms on their backs the members of the band were arrested as smugglers.

George W. Griffith, owner of the band, who is in Portland, today said: "Those new tunics have cost to date just $759. Their actual value is about $375. For 40 men that makes $240. The Canadian duty is $47 and we had to pay $472 to the United States government as duty, so that the customs offices have collected a little more than twice the value of the red coats in revenue taxes.

"We claim exemption from duty on the ground that the coats are part of the men's personal clothing. We couldn't buy them in Canada or the United States because nobody but a Glasgow regalia maker can turn out a historically correct Gordon tunic. The military Scotchmen everywhere were laughing because we pretended to wear the Gordon Highlanders' dress, and had blue cuffs instead of yellow for the tunics. "By the way, our band will be the first from Canada to visit England, although we have with us four Dundee dancers and a piper who has played before Queen Victoria."

A New Racket.

Portland men and women will be interested to know that the latest way to make money is by saving it while spending it. If you want to get rid of your cough without spending too much money go down to Clemenson's drug store, corner Second and Yamhill streets, and get a bottle of "Rum and Pine," the remedy that cures while you are thinking about it. It costs only 50 cents and is in bottles which others would charge $1 for, and goes as far as 22 bottles of any other medicine. If you have rheumatism too there also, and get a bottle of Barke Tonic. It cures in 4 to 10 days.

PAVING BIDS NOT TO BE RESTRICTED

City Auditor Devlin explained a new plan of awarding street improvement contracts that was unanimously adopted by the executive board street committee yesterday and it will be tried in the case of Twenty-second street. By this plan the resolutions of intention to improve will leave out the specified kind of pavement and there will be no restrictions as to bidding.

"This is the plan adopted in Seattle and other large cities," stated the city auditor, "and it has given general satisfaction. The councilmen were quick to see the advantages that it possessed and the executive board has also manifested its pleasure at the proposition. I believe we can secure better results by widening the field of competition."

Some discussion was given to the proposition of improving thoroughfares to and from the site of the Lewis and Clark fair. It is desired to have hard-surface streets for the traffic that will follow, preferably one street leading to the grounds from the business district and one returning.
